The Frontier is pleased to note that steps are being taken by local musicians who can blow a horn to reorganize the O'Neill band. We are informed that it is the intention to provide the town with the best band it ever had. There are enough musicians here to make up a first-class band and only a little encouragement is needed on the part of the business men of the community to get the boys started. Many occasions arise where a band is an indispensable feature and as long as the talent is here a permanent organization should be maintained.

A warmly contested guardianship case was tried in county court last Thursday. Orin Orwill Edington, a 16-year-old lad, petitioned the court to have Charles A. Peterman of Atkinson appointed as his guardian, and made sufficient showing to have the prayer of his petition granted. L. C. Chapman appeared in court in behalf of the defendant, George Edington, the boy's father. It appears from the petition and cross petition filed in the case that young Edington's mother died when he was three years old and the father placed the child under the care of David and Sophia Mather in Rock county, with the understanding that they were to raise the boy as their own son. Recently the boy left the Mather home and has been living with the Petermans. The boy's father resides at Humphrey, Platte county. He filed an answer to the boy's petition, alleging that the Mathers have always treated his son well and expression his desire that the boy should be kept under their care.

The McGreevy case that was to come up for trial in the district court of Rock county on Monday was deferred a few days on account of other cases not yet completed. Some eight or ten witnesses were subpoenaed at O'Neill to report Tuesday but word was telephoned down by County Attorney Mullen for them not to come before Friday. It is expected the trial will begin Friday.

Lincoln Trade Review: There ought to be among the local business men in every town in this state a better appreciation of their local newspaper. The local business men ought to appreciate the fact that in meeting the outside competition which has made serious inroads on their business, there is no more efficacious remedy at their command than the columns of their home papers. The Trade Review noticed this last week that the business men and members of the Commercial club in one of the western cities of this state passed a resolution asking their local papers to change their date of publication from Fridays to Thursdays, that the advertising of the business men might reach the farmers before the big trade day of the week, which in the country districts is Saturday. The papers of that place were as prompt in meeting the request of the business men as could be asked, and as a result the business men will use more publicity and the newspapers will put that publicity more effectively before the entire people of that locality. The newspapers in every locality in the state can be counted upon to more than go half way in helping their local business establishments in getting more and more of the home trade. If the business men will show the same spirit of co-operation and support, they will find results coming faster and faster their way.

For the Children

To succeed these days you must have plenty of grit, courage, strength. How is it with the children? Are they thin, pale, delicate? Do not forget Ayer's Sarsaparilla. You know it makes the blood pure and rich, and builds up the general health in every way.

The children cannot possibly have good health unless the bowels are in proper condition. A sluggish liver gives a coated tongue, bad breath, constipated bowels. Correct all these by giving small laxative doses of Ayer's Pills. All vegetable, sugar-coated.
