Jenness Reappointed.
 Muskogee, I. T., Daily Phoenix: Richard Jenness of Okmulgee has been reappointed postmaster at that town. He is editor of the Okmulgee Chief, the only republican paper in that city, and one of the most prominent republicans in the territory. Mr. Jenness is more than popular with his brethren of the press and his re-appointment will be hailed with satisfaction by his professional brethren in both territories.

 Mr. Jenness received the indorsement of the Republican club of his city and was elected at a special election by the patrons of the office. The latter is a most unusual proceeding.
 Mr. Jenness was receiver of the O'Neill land office previous to his removal to Indian Territory and was also formerly engaged in the newspaper business at Atkinson, this county.

 The Nebraska Telephone company are extending their line west from Ewing and now have a force of men at work in O'Neill putting in the poles. The line is to be equipped with copper wire, which is found to be the only satisfactory kind for long distance telephones.
 Will Woodruff is doing his duty to minimize the dog population of the town. The family dog recently became the mother of a litter of squealing pups and Mr. Woodruff thought it was the part of humanity and mercy to allow no more howling canine to grow up and afflict the inhabitants of the town, so last Friday he huddled the little pups into a sack and took them on the train with him on his trip to Sioux City. He weighted the sack with brick and when crossing the Missouri river threw them in.
 The managers of the Holt County Agricultural society have begun early on the plans for this fall's race meet and exhibit. The plans include many improvements on the fair grounds such as putting the race track in first-class condition, building exposition sheds and the like, and means the outlay of considerable money. The management want the farmers and stock men to understand that the fancy stock show will be no insignificant affair and want all those who have thoroughbred stock to plan on showing the same. The premium list has not yet been announced but will be made public in time. A public sale of thoroughbreds will probably be held in connection with the stock show, which will give the stock men a good opportunity to put on sale any stock they may desire.

 Mrs. B. S. Gillespie came down from Rushville last week on a visit to her son Lloyd and family. Sunday she received a telegram that her husband had been hurt in an accident and departed that evening for her home, accompanied by Lloyd. The Frontier has not learned how serious the accident may have been, but trust that the judge has not been badly hurt.
 Emma L. Hallock has begun suit in district court to obtain a divorce from her husband, George Hallock. She alleges extreme cruelty and non-support. The Hallocks live near Stuart. The plaintiff's petition states that they were married in Tennessee in 1884 and that they have six children, five of whom are minors. She asks for the custody of these with a decree of divorce, alimony, the costs of her suit for divorce and attorney's fees. She says the defendant owns real estate to the value of $3,000 slightly incumbered, and some personal property.
 A complaint of assault and battery was filed with Police Judge Simmons Monday against Peter Joyce and a complaint of disturbing the peace against Matt Mechale. Joyce was taken to the city jail and on Tuesday was brought into police court. He pled guilty to the charge and was fined $15 and cost, to stand committed until the same were paid. He was returned to jail by the marshal. Mechale also came into court with an attorney and pleaded not guilty. He claimed to have been assaulted by Joyce and did not himself fight. The latter case was continued until Wednesday, no bond being required.
 Cowperthwaite & Son have fifty of as fine fat steers as one could find in a long while. They have been feeding the bunch since last September and have them in first class shape for market. One steer among the bunch weighs over 2,100. They expect to ship them to Chicago soon and think they will bring on an average of $75 per head. This firm does a big business in cattle and hogs which affords a good local market all the year for farmers and stock raisers. They maintain a feed yard for both cattle and hogs beside buying stock ready to ship and receive and ship out hundreds of hogs and cattle every year.
 Cupid's darts are flying about without leave or apology and piercing the hearts of numerous "victims." Among those entering the matrimonial covenant are some of the prominent young folks of the community. This morning at the Methodist church was celebrated the wedding of Mr. Merritt J. Martin and Miss Clyda Lakey, two well known O'Neill young people. The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Martin and is well known throughout this community as a man of exemplary habits. He is at present located at Douglas, Wyo., where he holds a responsible position. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lakey of the Dewey hotel, this city. They departed on the 9:40 train for a visit in the eastern part of the state and in Iowa. They will be at home at Douglas after June 15.
 It is stated the business men of Chambers would not allow bills to be posted in that town announcing a coming attraction at O'Neill, regarding the said attraction as "an O'Neill graft." Of course this is very amusing to O'Neill people and demonstrates how far petty prejudices may at times be carried. We never deny Chambers or any other town in the county any such courtesies as helping to advertise their attractions and don't intend to. The newspapers of O'Neill are often asked to publish notices of coming events at Chambers and other towns and so far as this paper is concerned always complies with the request because we believe it benefits the community interested and whatever benefits one section of the county in a sense helps the whole county. Of course in this instance it is nothing to O'Neill one way or another whether Chambers refused or permitted the posting of the bills.

Hiram G. Hoggin, one of the early settlers of the Leonie neighborhood and all around substantial citizen of the county, departed this life on Friday last after a brief illness, at the age of sixty-eight years, two months and twelve days. The funeral was held on Tuesday at the Marquette chapel, Rev. Dr. Caldwell preaching the sermon and other local ministers of the community assisting in the services. Many O'Neill citizens went out to attend the funeral and participate in the last sad rites over the remains of one of our best citizens. The funeral was perhaps the most largely attended of any ever held in that community. The deceased was a native of Vermont, where he was born on March 7, 1838, but had long been a resident of this county. The deceased had not enjoyed the best of health for some time, suffering from rheumatism, but was about his usual duties until last Saturday morning, when he was taken seriously ill and died that evening at 6:30. The immediate cause of death, as stated by the attending physician, Dr. E. T. Wilson, was cerebral hemorrhage.

Society Notes.
