NEAR RIOT OVER CO-ED RULE AT U

Nebraska Students Have Sensational Meeting to Denounce Segregation.

"REFLECTION ON MORALS" Courts May Be Called Upon to Decide Whether Males and Females May Associate at Boarding Houses.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 12.—Rioting at the state university was only averted by delaying action on resolutions denouncing the rule that male and female students reside at different houses.

Feeling is intense and two students, D. P. DeYoung and H. E. McComb who have been notified by chancellor Andrews to change their lodgings threatened to take the matter into the courts.

Objection to the segregation of the co-eds and the young men is wide spread and others uphold it. When 200 students met at Memorial hall to discuss the matter and resolutions were introduced against the rule, heated speeches were made on both sides, hissing and other interruptions coming when supporters of the plan took the floor.

The trouble threatens to disrupt the esprit de corps at the university, which was considerably jolted by the football pronouncements which placed the game on a "high moral" plane, the habits of the players being taken into account in the consideration of membership on the team.

The Rebellious Resolutions. The resolutions which caused the disturbance and on which action was delayed for purpose of law and order were as follows:

Whereas, we, members of the senior and junior classes of the University of Nebraska, believe the spirit of the university authorities in attempting to bring about a moral standard of the university commendable, but

Whereas, much dissatisfaction and complaint is made over the attempt of the university authorities to enforce rule 32 of the rules and regulations governing the students, that reads as follows: "The residence of men and women students in fraternal lodgings (rooms furnished from families) is not approved and not, as a rule, permitted;" and

Whereas, the system outlined in rule 32 is one which is of serious inconvenience to the students, instead of affecting simply the guilty individuals; and

Whereas, we believe that said rule is a reflection on the moral character of the body, and that it is an infringement on personal liberty and is exceedingly unjust to the student body as a whole, therefore be it

Resolved, That we, members of the senior and junior classes of the university of Nebraska, are not in sympathy with rule 32; and be it further

Resolved, That we will not use our influence to secure the execution of said rule, and be it further

Resolved, That we support any reasonable and just rule for the betterment of the moral standard of the University of Nebraska.

The democrats made his acceptance of the money a campaign issue, claiming that it was a holdup and demanding its repayment to the government. Pollard steadfastly refused to admit that his course had been wrong.

The train was between Ashland and Gretna when the shooting occurred. Passengers were panic stricken and started to rush from the car.

Three of the bullets hit Conductor Walters, one entering the left arm below the shoulder and the other two going into the fleshy part of the back. The man then placed the muzzle of the revolver in his mouth and fired upwards, blowing his brains out.

The body of the man who did the shooting and afterward committed suicide, is at Gretna and has not yet been identified. He was undoubtedly insane.

SHELDON WILL BE 15,000 TO THE GOOD

Republican Candidate for Governor in Nebraska Makes Gains for Party.

CONTROL LEGISLATURE Four and Possibly Five Out of the Six Congressmen Are Republican—Hitchcock, Democrat, Is Chosen.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 8.—Judge J. F. Boyd has won out in the Third district by a plurality of 331. This includes complete returns. Nebraska will have five republicans and one democrat, G. M. Hitchcock, in congress. E. M. Pollard has won in the First district by 3,155. In the Fourth Hinshaw scored 3,700, while in the Fifth Norris got 3,090.

Boyd's contest with Judge Graves was of absorbing interest. Boone county and several scattered precincts were missing, and returns indicated the election of Graves by 16. However, complete returns gave Boyd the victory and ended one of the fiercest struggles in the history of Nebraska politics. The stay at home vote was an important factor this year. Populists were indifferent and many republicans remained in the corn fields.

Sheldon will have about 15,000 to 18,000 plurality. Shallenberger carried the southwest part of the state, the fifth congressional district, by about 1,000, although Norris, republican, scored a victory for congress. The republican ticket will run well up with Sheldon.

W. D. Holbrook, of Dodge and Washington counties, was elected to the state senate by four votes. Several years ago he was elected to the senate by the same plurality. He is a republican.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 8.—Complete returns from forty-eight out of the ninety counties, representing two-thirds of the voting strength of the state give Sheldon 68,957, and Shallenberger 60,593.

In the same counties two years ago Mickey got 79,882, Boyd 77,350, indicating a net republican gain of 1,532. Indications are that Sheldon will have close to 15,000 plurality.

Revised legislative returns indicate the republicans will have ninety-two out of 133 members. Boyd, republican, for congress in Third district on returns, half of them official, has 185 majority.

HITCHCOCK TO CONGRESS. Democratic Omaha Editor Wins in His Fight for Seat.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 7.—This morning the returns show the election of G. M. Hitchcock, the democratic candidate for congress, by a plurality ranging from 300 to 400.

Sheldon ran behind the republican ticket because of the liquor vote. With two republican precincts missing from the Douglas county vote he is probably 300 below the ticket. The republican legislative ticket was elected by a safe plurality on the terminal taxation issue.

A vote on a franchise for the independent telephone companies was strongly favorable to the independents.

AMENDMENT A WINNER.

Nebraska Will Have Commission to Regulate Freight Rates.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 8.—There seems no doubt of the success of the constitutional amendment creating a commission of three for the regulation of freight rates in the state and that it carried by a large majority.

There is some doubt in the minds of many regarding the validity of the method of voting for the amendment. Deputy Attorney General Thompson gave an opinion a few days before election that a cross in the party circle voted for or against the amendment according to the stand taken by the several parties. This was merely an opinion, however, and might afford grounds for a contest by the railroads.
