

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heartburn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, etc. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medicine for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at its formula will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of the following native American forest plants, viz., Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrubark, Queen's root, Bloodroot, and Mandrake root.

The following leading medical authorities, among a host of others, extol the foregoing roots for the cure of just such ailments as the above symptoms indicate: Prof. E. H. Bowdler, M. D., of Jefferson Med. College, Phila.; Prof. H. C. Wood, M. D., of Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., Author of American Dispensary; Prof. Jno. M. Scudder, M. D., Author of Specific Medicines; Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., Med. Dept. Univ. of N. Y.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., Author of Materia Medica and Prof. Bennett Medical College, Chicago. Send name and address on postal card to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive free booklet giving extracts from writings of all the above medical authors and many others endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient of which "Golden Medical Discovery" is composed.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. They may be used in conjunction with "Golden Medical Discovery" if bowels are much constipated. They're tiny and sugar-coated.

Why He Didn't Know Him.

From the Boston Herald.
An uncourteous business man was once introduced to Abbott Lawrence.
"Mr. Smith," said Mr. Lawrence, with a musty air. "I don't think I know you, do I?"
"Well, you ought to," was the reply. "I've traded with you for twenty years."
"Always paid your bills, perhaps?"
"Of course."
"That accounts for it," said Mr. Lawrence, "I know the others."

SCIATIC TORTURE

A Locomotive Engineer Tells How He Was Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Pain that seems almost unbearable is a characteristic of sciatic rheumatism. In some cases the pain is knife-like, sharp or shooting; in others it is dull and aching. Sciatica is stubborn in resisting treatment and the patient frequently suffers for years. This was the case with Mr. Herbert E. Spaulding, a locomotive engineer on the Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific Railway, whose home is at Longview, Texas.

"While running an engine some years ago," he says, "I fell off and hurt my knee and spine and I have always considered this to be the cause of my illness. The sciatica took hold of me from my heel to the back of my head. The pain was the worst I ever suffered in my life and my leg and back were twisted out of shape. I was under a physician's care for several months and for six months could not get out of bed. I also went to Hot Springs but came back in a worse condition than when I went."

"It was when I was down in bed that I heard of the case of a Mr. Allison, a much older man than myself, who had been cured of sciatica by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I began taking the pills and soon was able to get out of bed. When I had taken six boxes I was able to work about the house and yard. I kept right on with the pills until I was cured and I have never had any return of the trouble. I have been running an engine ever since."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Over Polite.
Bellamy Storer, at a dinner in Washington, said of an overpolite person:
"He is like a waiter who looked after me in an old English chop house the other day. After I gave my order there was some delay. I said to the waiter as he hurried by me:
"Waiter, where's my chop?"
"It's on the grid, sir," he answered politely. "Will you have it now, or wait till it's done?"

Few Know This.
A well-known specialist in authority that Kidney and Bladder Troubles of all kinds are in nearly every instance readily relieved by taking a few doses of the following simple home-made mixture:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

The dose is a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime. These ingredients can be obtained at any good pharmacy, and are mixed by shaking well in a bottle. Victims of Kidney, Bladder and Urinary diseases of any kind should not hesitate to make this prescription up and try it. It comes highly recommended and doesn't cost much to prepare.

AT THE BARGAIN SALE.

From the Washington Star.
Now the women do adore one another! Ye-eh.

One of these two women (who illustrate the adoration part of it) reached the bargain lace counter of the department store about twenty-seven seconds ahead of the other one a few afternoons ago. The lace on the counter had been marked down from 38 to 14 cents, or some such matter.

The woman who got there first must have had some sort of a hunch that another woman was tagging along, bound for that counter, and so she swept the heaped-up bolts of lace with a quick and unerring eye. It didn't take her more than three seconds to take in every bolt of lace on the counter, and with fine facility she picked out the prettiest pattern.

She took the bolt of lace in her hands and examined it critically. "I think," she said, "I'll take about three yards of this."

By this time the other woman had come alongside the bargain lace counter, thus verifying the first woman's hunch.

The second woman had a hasty survey of the pieces of lace on the counter, but the piece that she was looking for she didn't find. Presently she glanced at the bolt of lace that the first woman had ordered three yards of and her glance brightened. That was the kind of lace she wanted. She stood and waited.

"Yes, about three yards," said the first woman, and she suddenly glanced back and caught sight of the other woman eyeing with a wolfish eye the piece of lace from which she was buying the three yards.

"Come to think of it," she immediately said to the saleswoman, "I believe I'll take six yards of this," and then she cast back a sort of "Well, how'd you like that?" look at the woman standing in rear of her.

The latter smiled, and pretended to be looking the other way. "Six yards?" said the saleswoman to the first woman to reach the counter. "Ye-es, I guess so," was the reply. "It's awfully pretty and cheap, isn't it? Yes, I'll take six yards."

All of this took time, and the second woman to arrive at the bargain lace counter was manifestly becoming impatient as she shifted from one foot to the other. She wanted some lace of that nice hercel and the cool insolence of the other woman was plainly grating on her nerves.

So she leaned over to the saleswoman and said: "When this er—this lady gets through will you kindly cut me a piece off that bolt?"

"Certainly," replied the saleswoman. "There'll be quite a bit left."

At this remark of the saleswoman's the other woman cocked up her ears, as much as to say: "Oh, there will be quite a bit left, will there? Well, we'll see about that!"

"Do you know," she said, with an aggravating drawl to the saleswoman, "I really believe I shall take nine yards. It's so pretty."

The woman standing behind her looked as if ready to snort in her inner wrath. But she didn't snort. She simply gazed at the back of the other woman's hat and head with the baleful light of utter hatred in her eyes. But she said nothing, and just waited.

The other woman seemed to know full well that the woman standing behind her was suffering from all of the pangs of unappreciated vengeance and hate. Consequently, at a moment later she said to the saleswoman:

"Er—by the way, how many yards are there on the entire bolt?"

"Fourteen," replied the saleswoman. "Well," drawled the woman who had got there first, but who, at the outset—until the other woman arrived—had only meant to buy three yards—"well, I think I shall take the entire piece. Yes, you may let me have the entire piece," and she deliberately wheeled around on her stool and gazed with a cool and square into the face of the woman who was standing behind her.

The other woman was simply blind with rage by this time. She glared at the woman seated on the stool. Then she extended her gloved hand and made a motion with it like the closing claw of a spitting tabby, at the same time further irritating the tabby by uttering the sound, "f-t!"

"Cat!" she said in a wrath-strangled voice to the sitting woman and then she turned and stroked down the aisle. "Ha-ha-ha!" merrily laughed the sitting woman, and then she added to the saleswoman in a tone meant for the ear of the retreating woman, "What curious persons one does meet with in the shops to be sure!"

Adore isn't the word for it!

Markham's Latest Poem.
From the New York American.
These lovers of poetry who complain that the modern magazines only use verse for "fillers" and tailpieces are most overwhelmingly refuted by a three-page poem called "The Homing Heart" by Edward Markham in the March number of the Cosmopolitan. Last August there appeared in the same magazine Mr. Markham's first love poem. It aroused more discussion in the press than any poem of recent years save the author's own "Man with the Hoe." The new poem, "The Homing Heart," is a sequel to the earlier love poem, "Virgilia." In "Virgilia" the poet sang of an ideal love that he might have known in some previous existence. In the new lyric he sings with prophetic voice of that ideal as he shall know it in future lives. In lyric fullness and ecstasy the author seems even to have surpassed himself. We quote a few stanzas from the poem:

There are more lives yet, there are more worlds waiting,
For the way climbs up to the eldest sun,
Where the white ones go to their mystic mating,
And the Holy Will is done.

I will find you there where our low life heightens—
Where the door of the Wonder again unbars,
Where the old love lures and the old fire whitens,
In the Stars behind the stars.

Perhaps we will meet where the boughs for rafters
Shelter a cliff by an ocean-stream,
As we met long ago in the light sea-laughters,
When over me went the dream.

Perhaps we will meet in some field of fairy,
Twined round by the sea and the scented vales,
To stray moon-charmed in a high-hung, airy
Dream-world of nightingales.

Foolish Women.
From the New York Weekly.
Mr. Clubb (entering a dining room)—And so you couldn't be downtown three hours without stopping to get a lunch? Cost 30 or 40 cents, I'll be bound. It does beat all how women are mether lives. By the way, you don't call this supper, do you?

Mrs. C.—I suppose it is the best the new girl could get up on such short notice.

Mr. C.—Huh! Catch me sitting down to that table. I'm going around to the club.

WOMEN IN HOSPITALS

Experiences of Mrs. Rockwood and Miss Tierney

MISS MARGARET TIERNEY MRS. CHAS. A. ROCKWOOD

A large proportion of the operations performed in our hospitals are upon women and girls for some organic trouble.

Why should this be the case? Because they have neglected themselves, as every one of these patients in the hospital beds had plenty of warning in those dragging sensations, pains at left or right of abdomen, backaches, nervous exhaustion, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, and other organic weaknesses.

All of these symptoms are indications of an unhealthy condition of the female system and if not heeded the penalty has to be paid by a dangerous operation. When these symptoms manifest themselves, do not drag along until you are obliged to go to the hospital and submit to an operation—but remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, has saved hundreds of women from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has cured more cases of feminine ills than any other remedy. Such letters as the following are constantly being received by Mrs. Pinkham to prove our claims.

Mrs. C. A. Rockwood, teacher of Parliamentary Law, of 58 Free St., Fredonia, N. Y., writes:
"For years I suffered with female trouble. It was decided that an operation was necessary, and although I submitted to a serious operation my sufferings continued, until Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended and it proved a marvelous remedy, so quickly did it restore my health. I cannot thank you sufficiently for the good it has done me."

Miss Margaret Tierney, of No. 328 W. 25th Street, New York, writes:
Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"When only eighteen years of age our physician decided that an operation was necessary to permit of my womanly organs performing their natural functions. My mother objected and being urged by a relative to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did so. I soon improved in health, the proper conditions were established and I am well and strong, thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

No other remedy has such unqualified endorsement as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. No other remedy in the world has such a record of cures of female ills.

THREE BOYS HAD ECZEMA.

Were Treated at Dispensary—Did Not Improve—Suffered 5 Months—Perfect Cure by Cuticura.

"My three children had eczema for five months. A little sore would appear on the head and seemed very itchy, increasing day after day. The baby had had it about a week when the second boy took the disease and a few sores developed, then the third boy took it. For the first three months I took them to the N— Dispensary, and they told me that the children had ringworm, but they did not seem to improve. Then I heard of the Cuticura Remedies, and I thought I would write you about my case, and when I got the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment I bathed the children's heads with warm water and Cuticura Soap and then applied the Cuticura Ointment. In a few weeks they had improved, and when their heads were well you could see nothing of the sores. I should be glad to let others know about the great Cuticura Remedies. Mrs. Kate Keim, 513 West 29th St., New York, N. Y., Nov. 1, 5 and 7, 1906."

TEN MILLION BOXES A YEAR

The most wonderful record in all history—merit made it. The great sums of money spent in advertising have only served to make CASCARETS known, but the greatest advertisement ever printed could do no more than induce a person to try CASCARETS once—a free sample, or at most, a 10 cent box.

Then comes the test, and if CASCARETS had not proved their merit beyond the highest expectations there would not today, after five years on the market, be a sale of nearly a million boxes a month. This great success has been made by the kind words of our friends. No one who has ever tried CASCARETS fails to be pleased and talk nicely about them.

CASCARETS are not only easiest to buy, to carry, to take, to give, but are also the best medicine for the bowels ever discovered. Files full of voluntary testimonials
