Annual Election of City Officers Passes Off Qu'etly.

THIRD CANDIDATE WITHDRAWS

Has Clerk Enjoined From Placing His Name on the Ballots.-Tie in Third Ward.

The city election passed off quietly Tuesday. The successful candidates are: Mayor, Ed F. Gallagher; treasurer, Jas. F. Gallagher; clerk, John McBride; police judge, J. A. Golden; councilman First ward, P. J. Biglin; Second ward, Frank Campbell; J. A. Cowperthwaite and James Davidson broke even in the Third, receiving forty votes each. The official canvass may change the votes announced and elect one or the other.

The contest for mayor lay between Mr. Gallagher and D. A. Doyle, the same as a year ago. A petition was filed for Dr. Flynn to enter the race and a question arose over placing his name on the ballot, thus delaying the printing of the same until after the expiration of the time fixed by law for having the ballots ready for the inspection of the public. Under the statute the ballots are required to be delivered to the clerk at least five days before election. Dr. Flynn desired his name left off the ticket, but filed his declination two days too late and went into district court and had the clerk enjoined from placing his name on the ballots, the action delaying the printing of them until Monday.

The newly elected officials will assume their duties on Tuesday May, 7.

Rates Are Lowered.

Sioux City Tribune: Quotations on tolls over the combination bridge Tuesday. slumped again today, when the Great Northern railroad company issued a tariff providing for round trip tickets to points on the line in Nebraska. This tariff quotes the toll as low as 10 cents, while the passenger fares will be less than 2 cents a mile in many son visitors Monday.

In the past the railroad companies Sunday and Monday. using the combination bridge have collected a full 25 cents each way as cars of stock Tuesday. bridge toll. In the new traiff only 10 cents is collected each way, while the O'Neill visitor Tuesday. round trip from Sioux City to South Sioux City will be 25 cents in the future, which is 12 cents for mileage and 13 cents for two trips over the combination bridge.

Travel Grows.

The two-cent passenger rate is increasing travel on the railroads, says P. Dowling. the Fremont Tribune. The increase has been gradual, but there has been an increase, and it is beginning to reach proportions where it cannot but be noticed. A passenger agent representing a well known line while in Fremont last evening said that on trips he made this week he had never heavylocal travel as is being carried on. position in a hospital. He said that there was nothing to atrates which, now that the public has begun to appreciate thoroughly what age of it. He declared that he believed that with an increase in growth of business for a brief time, some roads would be compelled to put on more local coaches. Every Northwestern train that has gone up the main line out of Fremont this week has had a full load, and all but one or two of postmaster at O'Neill, as assistant. them have had more passengers aboard than they can seat.

Sioux City Tribune: Savage, Neb. will now be off the map in reality. For a number of years the town has maintained the name though the postoffice has been Royal since the postoffice was established there. But the Great Northern did not care to change the name, and the railroad map gave the name of "Savage." New time cards issued today give the town the name of "Royal."
