My Hair Ran Away

Don't have a falling out with your hair. It might leave you! Then what? That would mean thin, scraggly, uneven, rough hair. Keep your hair at home! Fasten it tightly to your scalp! You can easily do it with Ayer's Hair Vigor. It is something more than a simple hair dressing. It is a hair medicine, a hair tonic, a hair food.

A New Application of Scripture.
There was rejoicing in the village at the killing of a pig. Being dead, it was cut up. A neighbor's cat stole secretly into the larder and annexed a piece of pork, which she brought in triumph to her mistress. Next day the clergyman of the parish visited the old woman, who recounted to him the remarkable sagacity of the beast. "It was quite beautiful, sir," she said proudly, "to see the way the sweet creature brought me the piece of pork. It brought to my mind what we read in the Bible about Elijah and the ravens."

Not Seeing, Not Believing.
There was a man in Nottinghamshire who discontinued the donation he had regularly made for a time to a missionary society. When asked as to his reasons he replied: "Well, I've traveled a bit in my time. I've been as far as Sleaford, in Lincolnshire, and I never saw a black man, and I don't believe there are any."—London Standard.

MARY BAKER GLOVER.

Granddaughter of the Venerable Founder of Christian Science.

It is rather a peculiar position in which a pretty western girl, Miss Mary Baker Glover of Lead City, S. D., finds herself. She is a granddaughter of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, founder of Christian Science, and with her father and a nephew of Mrs. Eddy has brought suit for an accounting of the property of her grandmother, basing this action on the allegation that the famous author of "Science and Health" is incompetent to manage her affairs. She was with her father when he visited his mother at Concord, N. H., just previous to the bringing of the suit. Mrs. Eddy at that time showed solicitude that her granddaughter should be well instructed in the tenets of Christian Science. Miss Glover is not a Christian Scientist, however. Her father was at one time, but recently has not been counted among the adherents of the sect. Miss Glover has a bright and pleasing face, and her mouth is expressive of shrewdness. She has been familiar with mining camps and the hardships of life in such regions since childhood, as her father is a mine prospector and promoter and the inventor of a divining rod which he claims to be of value in the location of mineral wealth. He is Mrs. Eddy's only son, but was separated from his mother for many years. She gave him up at four years of age when she was a young widow because she could not care for him, lost track of him and for a long time supposed him dead.

TEDDY JUNIOR AT HARVARD.

How the President's Son Won a Much Coveted Post.
President Roosevelt's eldest son, Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., is often annoyed by having to be so much in the public eye while pursuing his course at Harvard university. His position as a student is rather a trying one in view of the publicity thrust upon him by reason of his father's high station, but he is considered to have shown good sense in the main and is popular with his fellow students. This is shown in the fact that he was recently chosen assistant manager of the varsity crew. A student who wins this post has to earn the appointment. Young Roosevelt could not have obtained it simply on the ground of being the president's son. There were quite a number of candidates for the position, and all were assigned to the task of soliciting subscriptions for the support of rowing. When Teddy junior started to ask for subscriptions he got a good deal of "joshing" from fellow students, but kept at it until he had raised $600, which was $100 more than any other student raised. The contest then narrowed down to four candidates, and they were required to do odd jobs about the boathouse, such as filling the tank and running errands for members of the crew. Not even this feazed the president's son, and he finally won the appointment. In the natural course of events he will become manager of the crew in his senior year, and this is a position which carries with it much social prestige.

ARE YOU DEAF? ANY HEAD NOISES?

ALL CASES OF DEAFNESS OR HARD HEARING ARE NOW CURABLE

by our new invention. Only those born deaf are incurable. HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY.

F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:
Baltimore, Md., March 30, 1907.
Gentlemen:—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion.
About five years ago my right ear began to ring, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely.
I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.
I then saw your advertisement accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain
Very truly yours,
F. A. WERMAN, 730 S. Broadway, Baltimore, Md.
