The traveling public would rather pay two cents a mile for state and three cents for interstate railroad tickets than three cents for both.

O'Neill is in the hands of the charming school ma'ams, but the home girls are sufficiently organized to spot every fellow who undertakes a flirtation with the strangers.

If the honorable secretary of war thought of finding the overwhelming Roosevelt sentiment in the west turning Taftward he returns to Washington with a woe attack of "indisposition" than indigestion.

Provision for $100,000,000 in improvements on the Union Pacific lines is another indication that the numerously circulated reports of "intrenchment" on account of "unfriendly" legislation were only bluffs.

A Florida man stole $80,000 and drew five years. Two Holt county bankers made a seventy thousand scoop and steered clear of the pen altogether, while another man in the same locality convicted of stealing nine hogs run against a five-year sentence.

The prophets of evil who predicted a famine as the result of a late spring should feel ashamed of themselves since the earth has so luxuriantly and lavishly clothed herself with the usual summer verdure. The prospects for abundance of everything the earth produces were never better.

Governor Hughes of New York is the only state executive who has had the hardhood to jeopardize his popularity by vetoing the two-cent passenger bill. The situation in New York is different than in most other states and a two-cent law there would mean a different thing than it does in Nebraska. It would mean the raising instead of lowering of rates in the most thickly populated section of the state as the passenger rate is already considerably below two cents.

Attorney General Thompson has knocked the wind out of the railroads. Threats have been rumbling from railroad headquarters ever since the adjournment of the legislature that they were going to "bust" the freight rate and passenger laws. Mr. Thompson has called their bluff and forestalled an attack upon the sovereign powers of the state by obtaining an order from the supreme court restraining four threatening companies from disobeying the freight and passenger laws, the anti-pass law and defying the railway commission. Thompson turned a smooth trick on the railroads that they were quite unprepared for.

For that Dandruff

There is one thing that will cure it—Ayer's Hair Vigor. It is a regular scalp-medicine. It quickly destroys the germs which cause this disease. The unhealthy scalp becomes healthy. The dandruff disappears, had to disappear. A healthy scalp means a great deal to you—healthy hair, no dandruff, no pimples, no eruptions.

The best kind of a testimonial—Sold for over sixty years.

Alterations in Highways Laws.
Lincoln News: The late legislature passed a number of new laws which will, it is believed, bring about a great improvement in the highways of the state. The legislation enacted is not as comprehensive as could have been wished, but it is a good start and will doubtless be followed by more far-reaching laws when the next session convenes.

A large number of road laws were introduced, most of them being of a very meritorious character, but disagreement between members from counties under the township organization brought about the defeat of some of them, although all agreed that nowhere was there greater room for improvements than in statutes relating to public highways.

One of the most important changes made was to provide that poll taxes shall be payable in cash, $2.50 per year. The old system of working out this tax on the road has always been more or less of a farce and it is thought the new system will produce double the result of the old. Another law provides that all grading shall be done between April 1st, and October 1st, when the ground is as a rule in best condition to be moved.

More revenue for road work is provided. County boards may levy road tax in cities and villages as well as in road districts, half the same to be expended on county roads and the other half by the village board or city council, within the corporate limits. Upon petition of a majority of the freeholders in a road district, the county board may make a levy of from 5 to 25 mills to be used exclusively upon the roads in that district.

An unusually important law is that which empowers city authorities to make a two-mill levy, the revenue therefrom to be known as a municipal highway fund and to be used in improving main trunk line roads leading into the city for a distance of six miles. Another law provides for use of the King road drag on all roads.

Suggests a Platform.
Apropos of the nomination by the able editors of the Louisville Courier-Journal and the Charleston News and Courier of Democratic candidates for the presidency and vice-presidency whose identity is carefully concealed within the editorial mind, we beg leave to suggest a Democratic platform suitable to those and to all other Democratic candidates who have been or may hereafter be named—a platform broad and comprehensive enough to satisfy Democrats of every shade and variety of opinion, says the Washington Herald. Such a declaration of principle, we judge, would read about as follows:

"We adhere with conviction to the principles of the Democratic party as enunciated by—?
"We reaffirm our unqualified allegiance to the time-worn Democratic doctrine that—?
"We view with alarm—?
"We point with pride to—?
"We denounce trusts as indefensible and intolerable, and favor—?
"We demand a revision of the tariff along the lines of—?
"We are unalterably opposed to—?
"We stand with unwavering feet upon the constitution of the United States, as interpreted by—?
"We hold sacred the ancient dogma of state rights, as modified by—?
"We are profoundly convinced that the success of the Democratic party is essential to—?
"Confident of the wisdom of the people, we present our candidates to the mighty American electorate, in the deep-rooted belief that they will be—?"

Danger Attends Crossing Legs.
A Philadelphia physician warns the public against sitting with one leg crossed over the other.
"This apparently harmless habit," he says, "is likely to cause sciatica, lameness, chronic numbness, ascending paralysis, cramps, varicose veins and their evils, including appendicitis. The back of the knee, as well as the front of the elbow and wrist, the groin and the armpit, contains nerves and blood vessels which are less protected than those in other parts of the body. The space behind the knee contains two large nerves, a larger artery and numerous veins and glands. It is the pressure on these nerves and vessels which is apt to give rise to the various troubles against which I give warning."

Standard Bred, thoroughbred, and Pure Bred.

A Nebraska correspondent writes Wallace Farmer:
"Will you please tell me what is the difference between Standard bred, thoroughbred, and pure bred horses? Also the different breeds of trotting stock."

Standard bred is the name applied to the American trotting horses which conform to the standard established by the American Trotting Horse Registry, and are consequently entitled to registration in the stud book issued by that association. Thoroughbred properly applies to the breed of running horses, but the term is frequently used in an incorrect way in speaking of other breeds of horses. For example, it is not uncommon to hear the expression thoroughbred Shire, or thoroughbred Percheron, or thoroughbred Short horn. This is an improper use of the term. It should be used only when it is desired to refer to the thoroughbred horse as a breed. Pure bred, or pure blood, is used when it is desired to state that the animal in question is of pure breeding and entitled to registry in the stud book or herd book of that breed. For example, we speak of the pure bred Percheron pure bred Shire, or pure bred Short-horn or Angus, meaning that the animal is of pure breeding and is entitled to registry in the herd book of the breed to which it belongs.

STUART
Mrs. Zeimer and her twin daughters, little ladies of ten years, were visiting friends in Stuart last week, returning to their homes in O'Neill Sunday.

Dr. Sturdevant and his son Charles, came up from Atkinson today, in the doctor's new automobile. It is a fine looking machine of 14-horse power, and should be able to answer an emergency call in good time.

An uncommon incident occurred last week that demonstrates the force of a flying bird. A quail flew against a large double strength window glass in John Sturdevant's house with such force as to break the glass and pass on into the house. The glass would easily have supported a fifty pound weight without breaking. The quail was slightly injured but was able to fly when released.—The Advocate.

ATKINSON
Mrs. J. M. Bennett departed yesterday morning for Atlanta, Iowa, where she will visit with friends and relatives this summer.

Maud Lumsden, who has been attending the University at Lincoln, returned home Saturday. She was accompanied by her sister, Gladys, who had gone down to witness the graduation exercises.

Mrs. Wm. Reisinger left Sunday morning for an extended outing. She will stop a short time with her son Will at Fremont, from there she will visit relatives in the east, stopping at all the larger cities in the New England states, returning some time in late summer.

Mrs. Electa Taylor recently filed on a homestead near Turner and built a residence and other buildings with the intention of making her a home. She moved her belongings out there two weeks ago and found that some one had moved away her building. After a weeks investigation she located them on another piece of land owned by Robert Hamilton. Replevin papers were secured and placed in the hands of Constable Hitchcock who served notice on the parties to appear in Justice Havens' court.—The Graphic.

One thing we distinctly aim at in this business is that every man who knows us, or who reads our ads, shall get the idea that this is the store for quality in merchandise. We'd a good deal rather be known as the right place for good stuff, than as a place where you get low prices. It's always easy to quote prices; but it's what the price buys that counts.

We sell Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes; and we want you to know it; we can't give you any better evidence of our quality standards than that; they're the best clothes made.

Whatever you buy here is good; we intend it to be.

Do Not Neglect the Children.
At this season of the year the first unnatural looseness of a child's bowels should have immediate attention. The best thing that can be given is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy followed by castor oil as directed with each bottle of the remedy. For sale by Gilligan & Stout.

Relief from Rheumatic Pains.
The average man cannot afford to employ a physician for every slight ailment or injury that may occur in his family, nor can he afford to neglect them, as so slight an injury as the scratch of a pin has been known to cause the loss of a limb. Hence every man must from necessity be his own doctor for this class of ailments. Success often depends upon prompt treatment which can only be had when suitable medicines are kept at hand. Chamberlain's Remedies have been in the market for many years and enjoy a good reputation.
Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints.
Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough.
Chamberlain's Pain Balm (an antiseptic liniment) for cuts, bruises, burns, sprains, swellings, lame back and rheumatic pains.
Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for constipation, biliousness and stomach troubles.
Chamberlain's Salve for diseases of the skin.
One bottle of each of these five preparations costs but $1.25. For sale by Gilligan & Stout.
