CROWDS SEE MR. TAFT

War Secretary Pays Compliments to O'Neill People As He Goes By.

SHORT SPEECH AT THE STATION

Notes Prosperity Here and Observes That It Is Bound to "Continue Under Theodore Roosevelt."

While the east bound Northwestern Black Hills train stopped for a few moments here Tuesday, our citizens had an opportunity to see and hear William H. Taft, secretary of war, former governor general of the Philippines and a prospective candidate for president next year.

A large crowd assembled at the station a half hour before the arrival of the train, which was over three hours late. As the train pulled in the O'Neill band rendered "Cuba Independence."

Mr. Taft and party occupied the rear car. He and Congressman Kinkaid appeared on the platform and the secretary was introduced by the congressman. Mr. Taft had but a few moments in which to speak. He complimented the people, especially the ladies, on their good looks and fine "togs." He also congratulated us all on the fine appearance of the country and said the people and community bore every evidence of unbounded prosperity, which was "sure to continue under Theodore Roosevelt." A roar of applause greeted these remarks a time or two.

And the train pulled on. In the Taft party were: Major General J. Franklin Bell, chief of staff of United States army, Mrs. Bell, Captain W. M. Wright, aid to General Bell, and Wendell W. Mischler, confidential stenographer to the secretary of war; Senators R. J. Gamble, and A. B. Kittredge of South Dakota, Governor Coe I. Crawford of South Dakota, United States Marshall Seth Bullock of South Dakota; United States Senator E. J. Burkett of Lincoln, Congressman J. F. Boyd of Neligh and Congressman M. P. Kinkaid of O'Neill. Senator Burkett left the party here.

Juniors Banquet Seniors.

The juniors of St. Mary's tendered the seniors a banquet at the Academy Thursday evening, June 13. The classes met in the south school room at 8 o'clock, spending the fore part of the evening in games and amusements.

At 10 o'clock the doors of the north room were thrown open and the guests were invited into a sumptuous banquet. The room had been tastefully decorated with the class colors, green and white, and a profusion of cut flowers.

The banquet was served in five courses, after which the class will, class prophecy, and class poem were read. The members of the senior class were then presented with Swastika pins, as a token of the good will of the juniors. Many are the compliments that the seniors have paid the juniors for the banquet.

Reception for Mr. and Mrs. Weekes.

A farewell reception was tendered Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Weekes last Saturday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Gilligan. Ten or twelve couples were present and a pleasant evening was spent in social conversation and at cards. Luncheon was served.

As a token of kindly regard to this esteemed couple who leave O'Neill soon, Mrs. Weekes was presented with a handsome chafing dish and Mr. Weekes with a box of cigars.

Eddie Alberts left for Wessington Springs, S. D., last week where he has been employed to catch for their ball team this season. Ed is as good a catcher as there is in this part of the country and possesses what many good catchers lack, an arm that can shoot them to second with force and accuracy.

M. A. Ritter of Ewing, a resident of Holt county since 1884 and an old-time reader of The Frontier, was a pleasant caller Monday morning, renewing his subscription. Mr. Ritter says that while crops are backwards in his section everything looks good considering the weather conditions and he looks for the usual big crop.

Editor H. L. Peck of the Randolph Times stopped in O'Neill Sunday on his return from the annual meeting of the Elkhorn Valley Editorial association at Ainsworth, and was a guest at the home of the editor. Mr. Peck noted many improvements in the city since his last visit, some four years ago, and was particularly impressed with the amount of cement sidewalk here. He returned home Monday morning.

J. A. Cowperthwaite was aroused from his slumbers Tuesday night by a noisy rapping at his front door. In response to Joe's "hello," a voice from without inquired for lodging for the night. With an emphatic "no" Joe was about to return to bed, when he discovered that it was his brother, William Cowperthwaite, at the door. He had arrived on the Northwestern train, which got in late, from Illinois. Mr. Cowperthwaite will remain here until Friday.

The race meeting announced for Saturday will take place on Friday, the change of dates being made necessary by the at the Atkinson ball team not being able to come on Saturday. The racing program will take place is published. The ball game between the Atkinson and O'Neill clubs will be called promptly at 1:30. The "continual round of pleasure" is to be extended into the night, the base ball boys having announced a dance for the evening, the proceeds of which are for the benefit of the local club.

The proprietor of a large business house bought a number of signs reading "Do It Now," and had them hung around the office hoping to inspire his people with promptness and energy in their work. In his private office one day soon afterwards a friend asked him how the scheme affected the staff. "Well not just the way I thought it would," answered the proprietor. "The cashier skipped with thirty-thousand dollars, the head bookkeeper eloped with the private secretary, three clerks asked for an increase in salary and the office boy lit out to become a highwayman."

Senator Burkett made a decided hit with his lecture on the "New Woman and the Young Man" Tuesday evening, especially with the bald-headed men, whom he encouraged by saying that "marble tops are not put on cheap furniture." The lecture was along the line of the enlarging field of woman's activities and the demand for men of sturdy character and well directed energy. The senator believes the present time abounds with opportunities for young men and women and disapproved the idea that the "good old days" of our fathers and grandfathers were any better or as good as the present. The lecture abounded in sparkling and wholesome humor that kept the audience in a pleasant mood.

Twister at Inman. A tornado just missed the town of Inman last Sunday afternoon. The storm—a dark, twisting, roaring and foreboding cloud—moved from the southeast to the northeast. It struck just the outer edge of Inman on the north and tore away the windmill in the Northwestern railroad yards.

Moving on northeast with a mighty roar, barns were torn down and trees twisted off along the Elkhorn river. No one was hurt so far as The Frontier learns. Some injury was done live stock in the pastures by running before the storm into wire fences.

Paddock Pointers.

Mr. and Mrs. Davenport spent Sunday at Mrs. Fay's.

Miss Elsie Thomas returned from her visit in Bonesteel Saturday.

Miss Maude Ross came down from Saturday and is visiting relatives here.

Will Haynes got his leg broke some time ago while playing ball, but is better at present writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Prouty, Mrs. Geddes and little daughter and Miss May Lowery were visitors at Berrys' Sunday.

Mrs. Derby was suddenly called to Laurel, Neb., Tuesday where her father, Mr. Clark, is very ill with stomach trouble. It is thought to be cancer.

Grover Berry was down from Phoenix Saturday evening, returning Sunday, taking Mrs. Coburn and children, who have been visiting Mr. Berry the past two weeks.

One of the very interesting features of the 4th of July celebration is an old cannon of revolutionary times, of Mr. Berrys'. It was accidentally omitted from the programme.

Will Crawford's family are having the measles, two of the children coming down with them. It seems they were exposed at a school picnic. Mrs. V. M. Ross is helping them.

Mrs. Harve Coywood of Spencer is visiting her father, Mr. Lowery. Mrs. Coywood's youngest child has had a very severe attack of pneumonia, but is now somewhat better. She will remain until after the 4th.

The picnic, June 14, the last day of Mrs. Geddes school, was held in Mr. Lambs grove. It was quite well attended, a very nice "Flag Day" program was rendered. The school was given an enjoyable trip across the river on the ferry boat.

Mr. and Mrs. Walt Benjiman are home again after visiting with their daughter, Mrs. Roundy at the ditch camp, near O'Neill.

The Sunday School convention for the Dorsey district was held at Marquette chapel, Leonie, on Wednesday, June 12. The convention organized in the forenoon then adjourned for dinner. After dinner we enjoyed a very interesting program, consisting of papers and addresses by active Sunday School workers. The election of officers resulted as follows: H. R. Henry, president; W. H. Bedford, vice-president; V. V. Rosenkrans, secretary and treasurer. The music by the Blackbird choir was especially good. The next convention is to be held at Dorsey in September.—V. V. Rosenkrans, secretary.

WANTED LAND AND SHEEP

Demented Stranger Comes Back to Get Property Thinks he Once Had.

TRADED CART AND HORSE FOR IT

Wanders Into Office of County Attorney, Who Discovers His Condition and Calls Sheriff.

In hunting for an attorney to assist him recover a timber claim and a flock of sheep which he believed somewhere through this section belonged to him, John Dormady of Sioux City, Io., Monday walked into the arms of the law and was taken into charge by the sheriff as an insane subject.

Dormady, who is tall, straight and muscular looking, but appearing to have tramped the wide world over, came into town from somewhere with a few bundles tied to the end of a stick and thrown across his shoulder, went into the office of County Attorney Whelan Monday afternoon. Mr. Whelan soon discovered that he was mentally unbalanced and telephoned Deputy Sheriff Harding' who came at once and started for the county jail with the man. When in sight of the jail Dormady evidently suspected what was up and undertook to get away. He darted off on the run down past the jail and turned the corner east of the jail, running north up past Mayor Gallagher's residence, with the deputy sheriff after him. The deputy sheriff overtook him near the Birmingham place and with the aid of the mayor and some others who had been attracted by the chase the man was taken in change and the sheriff summoned from the court-house.

In the mean time Mr. Whelan had sworn out a warrant so that the man could be legally held and he was placed in jail. It was ascertained from his rambling story that many years ago he was traveling through this country with a horse and cart looking for a location for a sheep ranch. He ran across a claim holder in the Chambers county who offered to trade him his tree claim for the horse and cart. The trade was made, and then he says he started to Texas to buy sheep. He did not get so far as Texas, however, but bought twenty-two head of wool growers in the neighborhood of his claim. He thinks now that the government officials took his claim and sheep away from him, and thinks the twenty-two head should be increased into a big flock by this time.

He was able to give the name of some of his relatives at Sioux City. Mr. Whelan communicated with these, and received a telegram from T. J. Tucker there this morning directing that Dormady be sent to Sioux City on first train. Dormady claims Tucker is his brother-in-law. He will be sent to Sioux City tomorrow.
