NEBRASKA PNEILL,

Talk about the 'Making of an Amer-"Talk about the 'Making of an Amer-ican,' said a settlement worker who it occasionally called upon to run over to Ellis Island, "a while ago I happened to take particular notice of a young Polish girl who had just been released from Ellis Island with a lot of other immigrants. The girl was met by two women, one of them apparently her sis-ter. The trio crossed Battery Park just ahead of me and I soon saw that they were bound for the same ferryhouse as I. They reached the upper deck only a moment before me, but by the time moment before me, but by the time got there the shawl that covered the young immigrant's head and shoulders had been pulled off, her hair fixed a bit had been punced on, her har fixed a bit and a brand new hat and wrap put on her by the other two women, who had brought along the finery to make the newcomer fit to be seen going home with them " with them.

In 1890 the output of the twenty-sev en establishments engaged in the manu-facture of "wheels" was valued at $2,-568,326. Soon after that came the pneu-568,326. Soon after that came the pneu-imatic tire and the popular craze. The census of 1900 reported 312 manufac-turers, with a product valued at $31,-915,908. In 1900 the industry gave em-ployment to nearly 20,000 wage and salary earners in the department of production alone. It paid $10,000,000 in wages and salaries and bought nearly $17,000,000 worth of materials. Within the next five years it fell off nearly 85 per cent.

Dual efforts have been resumed for the improvement of the great semi-wildemesses which lies between New-ark and Jersey City. The chief of the bureau of irrigation and drainage of the department of agriculture has been looking the ground over with a view of reclaiming it for agricultural purposes. Also an engineer of the war department has been considering the question of constructing a ship canal from Newark to New York bay, which would make Newark a deep water port. Each plan has its advocates.

Discussing the bricklayers' strike ust ended, and strikes in general, one nember of the Union league asked another if he knew when the first strike took place in the United States. The other confessed his ignorance. "It may interest you to know," said the first clubman, "that the earliest strike of which there is any record in this coun-try occurred right here in Philadelphia try, occurred right here in Philadelphia in 1796, when 300 shoemakers struck for higher wages. It is also recorded that the strike was successful.

In 1907 they had reached a val-uation of $858,000,000. New York's gain was 79 per cent.; the gain of the country at large was about 90 per cent. The export and import business of this customs district last year was $1,474,000,000, nearly half of that of the entire country.

FINDS WIFE UNDER BED WITH THROAT CUT

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 6 .-- Residents of three counties, Lancaster, Johnson and Gage, are horrified over the brutal mur-der of Mrs. Jacob Martin, the aged wife of a wealthy stockman and cattle own-er, residing six miles north of Adams Gage county and just over the line In Gage county and just over the line in Lancaster county, between the hours of 3 and 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Jacob Martin, the husband, went to the polls, three miles from his home, to vote in the primaries, leaving his wife, aged 60 years, at home alone in the house, the hired man, C. H. Shum-way, being the only one about the farm. When the farmer returned home he found his aged wife lying in a great pool of blood under the bed in her room upstairs, her throat cut from ear to ear. The belief prevails that Shumway murdered the aged woman in an effort to secure a sum of money which he be-lieved Martin had somewhere in the house

The murder had been committed in the lower room of the Martin home and the murderer had then carried the body to the upstairs room and hidden it under a bed.

The whole neighborhood is aroused over the crime and several posses of citizens are aiding the officers in their search for the murderer. A lynching is feared if the man is caught.

industry. i The new introduction, which comes from Asia Minor, is known as the Cau-casian bee. The name is derived from its native locality, and is emphasized by maker distinctly as the white man's bee. It is civilized, dignified and bigh-toned. It rushes with reluctance into anything that smacks of warfare, hav-ing, in place of the beligerent instincts ing, in place of the belligerent instincts of others of its class, a predisposition to arbitration. It must not be inferred, however, that the Caucasian has no sting at all, as has been erroneously stated. Physically it is constituted much as are other bees, and has an equal capacity for in-flicting a wound; but its weapon is sheathed in peace and used only in cases of extreme emergency. It has been domesticated for many centuries and cut off from the commoner breeds that naturally make honey, brigand-like, in some mountain cave or tree. Through these centuries of isolation its sweet and affable disposition has been developed, until it now goes forth into the world to take the place

Ter which it has been fitted. When placed on a busy street. It place its trade in peace and interferes with no passerby, man or beast. Some of the territory traversed a year ago has been reached now a second time, and per-sons afflicted are reporting excellent progress in fighting the disease by fol-lowing the directions as to the open air treatment treatment. One of the most interesting and im-portant facts disclosed by the labors of Mr. Kepford is that tuberculosis in Iowa prevails most in the northern part of the state in the dairy district, disclosing the fact beyond dispute, that the disease is largely contracted from the bovine tuberculosis in nilk. The society, while attempting to spread the society, while attempting to spread the information as to the proper treatment of the disease by the open air method, has been endeavoring to acquire for itself all the information possible on the subject. The northern part of the state is way ahead of the southern part in dairy industry. It is also way ahead of the southern part of the state in number of cases of tuberculosis. The disclosing of this fact will re-sult in the society going before the sult in the society going before the next legislature and asking it to enact the most stringent laws possible for the the most stringent have possible for the purpose of stamping out tuberculosis in cattle. It will be necessary to conduct tests on the most extensive scale and to quarantine and kill the cattle in-fected with tuberculosis. The most hopeful discovery made by the society is that those necessary the

the society is that those persons who are following closely the open air treat-ment, and who began such treatment agent in his public lectures, are for the most part recovering.
