J. C. Sprecker of the Schuyler Free Lance says: "Well, this editor is for Judge Reese for the supreme bench and is against Loomis; in fact, would have been against Loomis under any conditions, for he is the rankest kind of a railroad tool. The writer served in the legislature with Loomis and knows whereof he speaks. These are bad times for men of Loomis' sort to run for office in Nebraska."

Strict integrity, impartiality to those whom he serves, attention to his official duties and always ready to do his best to run down criminals when a warrant is placed in his hands and best sheriff Holt county ever had. The majority of voters want economy coupled with efficient services in public officers and they find these qualities in our present sheriff who has given six years of faithful service.

"Honest Bill Sinar is good enough for me in the clerk's office," remarked a voter from an outlying precinct the other day. "He is a man you would not be afraid to trust with your diamonds—if you had any—and is an accommodating and efficient clerk." The majority of the voters are of the same opinion. When an official is doing the right thing by the tax payers it is useless to try an experiment with another.

Miss Zink has done more for the schools of Holt county in the two years of her superintendency than was accomplished in any four years by her predecessors. She is recognized among the prominent educators of the state as one of the foremost of county school superintendents, and Holt county today, instead of ranking at the bottom in educational matters, is one of the leading counties in the state. From the way our educational interests are being looked after now it would be folly to make a change.

The fusion political pluggers know that Holt county is in the best shape it ever was financially and that there is over $60,000 of county money lying in the banks drawing only two per cent interest, but instead of using this money to pay off some $20,000 in claims they would rather force the county to a registration of warrants that would cost the county seven per cent interest. The average tax payer knows little and cares less about the intricate technicalities of this fund and that fund, but they do know it is not good business policy to pay interest upon an indebtedness when you have more than enough money to pay the debt. Holt county is just in that position today. It has money to pay every claim and then have over $40,000 left.

Albion News: It begins to look as if the railroads were going to insist on a fight to a finish with the people of Nebraska. They have gone to the federal court for an injunction restraining the railroad commission from promulgating or putting in force any reduction in freight rates. If the commission cannot do this, then they are powerless to do anything. Gov. Sheldon is showing his backbone by saying that if the commission is tied up, and prevented from performing the duties it was created for, he will call the legislature in special session to enact special laws. If this fight has got to come, then the sooner it is begun the better. The governor will find the people are standing behind him in solid phalanx. If there is any question whether the people can govern this state, but must submit to the rule of the railroads, the people want to know it. "Lay on, McDuff, and damn'd be him that first cries, 'Hold, enough!'"

OTHERS THAT DON'T WANT CHANGE.

The supporters of Judges Harrington and Westover say that every horse thief and cattle thief wants a change in the judiciary. These two judges are held up as being a terror to criminals. That Westover and Harrington have merely performed the functions of the office for which they draw their salaries in sending certain classes of criminals to the penitentiary is nothing to brag on, nor make a noise about. If some fellow is caught stealing a $30 steer he is usually given the limit of ten years in the pen. Nobody has any objection to that and all will say he got what he deserved.

There are some other classes of criminals, however, that seem to be immune from punishment in the Fifteenth judicial district, and nobody hears them demanding a change in the judiciary. While the little fellows are being punished to the limit, the big criminals escape punishment altogether and even prosecution against them dumped out of court and sovereign citizens of the state who ask that justice be done and crime punished according to the laws are turned from court without a vestige or semblance of justice being done.

This is a matter of common knowledge to the voters of this district. They know that while a cattle thief who stole a few dollars gets ten years in the pen that bank wreckers and defaulters to the amount of thousands of dollars are not punished. They know that Barney McGreevy, president of the defunct Elkhorn Valley bank and defaulting treasurer of the city of O'Neill and O'Neill school district, was turned loose as soon as he got in court, after the county paying a reward for his apprehension and the expense of holding him several months for trial. They know that his banking partner was never arrested and brought here for trial, although his signature was obtained so a deed could be made conveying Hagerty property to the daddy of the then county attorney. They know that Pat Handley stole $5,000 of Grattan township money and because he was one of the chosen politically has never been arrested. They know that murder after murder has been committed in north and northwest Nebraska and nobody punished for it. But Oh! These things are nothing. Our judges have been sending up cattle thieves to serve ten year terms.

THE "DEHORNING BILL."

The fashion of dehorning cattle has grown up among Nebraska stockmen in recent years, the removal of the horned growths with which nature provided the bovine being for the purpose of depriving the animal of his means of destruction. Among a herd of cattle with horns the weaker ones stand no show and often sustain injury, while a big steer will constitute himself the boss of the whole herd. To prevent this their horns are removed.

The last legislature of Nebraska passed what has become commonly known as the "dehorning bill." It has nothing to do with dehorning cattle, but relates to judges of the district court. Conditions had reached such a point in the Fifteenth judicial district between Mike and his judge-brother that the "consanguinity and affinity" of relationship became a subject of legislation and the last legislature was pretty nearly as much exercised over it as the 2-cent railroad law.

Here is how the "dehorning bill" has amended the law disqualifying district judges, as taken from chapter 42, section 4747 of the session laws of 1907:

A judge or justice is disqualified from acting as such except by mutual consent of parties in any case wherein he is a party or interested or where he is related to either party by consanguinity or affinity within the fourth degree or where any attorney in any cause pending in the district court is related to the judge in the degree of father, son or brother or where he has been attorney for either party in the action or proceeding and such mutual consent must be in writing and made a part of the record, or where he has been attorney for either party in the action or proceedings, or where said judge was in co-partnership at the time of his election, in the law business with a practicing attorney in the district in which the said judge was elected and which said co-partnership continued in the practice of law in the district and occupied the same office or rooms which were occupied by the late co-partnership consisting of the residing judge and his ex-co-partner, at the time of his election, and where said judge or justice continues to occupy the same office or rooms with his said ex-co-partner the said judge or justice shall be prohibited and disqualified from acting as such in any proceedings or litigation in which (which) said ex-co-partner of said judge is retained or in any wise interested, and the said judge or justice shall be disqualified as aforesaid in all proceedings or litigations in which ex-co-partner is retained or interested so long as said judge or justice occupies the same room with his ex-co-partner which said partnership occupied prior to said judge's election.

Since the enactment of this law Mike has had to call down the judge from the west end of the district when he had a case in court.

The Markets

South Omaha, Sept. 25.—Special market letter from Nye Schneider Fowler Co.

As was generally expected after our heavy cattle receipts for the past two weeks this week is quite moderate and with cooler weather and a better eastern demand the market is taking on a much healthier tone as well as a fair advance in values. Western range beef is in small supply and this makes a much better demand for the natives. Feeders, stockers, butcher stock and all classes of cattle are selling little better than last week.

Prices will range as follows—
Choice dry lot beef..... $6.20@7.15
Fair to good..... 5.40@6.10
Common down to..... 4.50
Good range beef steers..... 4.50@5.65
Cows and heifers..... 3.00@4.00
Canners & cutters..... 2.00@2.90
Veal calves..... 3.50@5.75
Bulls..... 2.00@4.00
Heavy feeders..... 4.50@5.20
Medium..... 3.75@4.40
Stockers..... 3.00@4.25
Stock heifers..... 2.15@3.15

The bulk of the hogs has shown a good advance with tops no higher than a week ago. Range $5.70 to $6.30.

Surplus Commodities.

Bulletin No. 11 for September of the Bureau of Labor and Industrial statistics contains some interesting figures. In all lines of agricultural pursuits the figures show up amazingly large. They show the acreage of crops for 1907, the surplus commodities of the state for 1906 with orchard statistics for 1907. Holt county is right in the front in the matter of surplus commodities. According to the bulletin shipments of live stock in this county in 1906 were as follows:

Cattle, head..... 13,379
Hogs, head..... 21,289
Horses, head..... 562
Wheat, bushels..... 9,264
Oats, bushels..... 65,351
Rye, bushels..... 17,667
Hay, tons..... 41,079
Flour, pounds..... 55,100
Mill feed, pounds..... 24,550
Potatoes, bushels..... 4,540
Butter, pounds..... 57,062
Cream, gallons..... 19,580
Eggs, dozens..... 31,720
Live poultry, pounds..... 85,333
Dressed poultry, pounds..... 12,515

Holt county leads all others in the shipments of hay with 41,079 tons. Its next nearest competitor is Rock county, with 24,000 tons. Lincoln county has the third place in the shipment of hay with 21,400 tons.

SAVE FUEL

DON'T you think a range that cuts your fuel bill in half is worth more than other ranges?
THE GREAT MAJESTIC RANGE only uses half the fuel used in other ranges, and gives better satisfaction all around. There is a reason for everything. If you will stop and consider the fact that the MAJESTIC RANGE, being made of non-breakable Malleable Iron, permits the manufacturers to cold rivet all the parts together perfectly air-tight; that it is not made of cast-iron and bolted together as other ranges; that the heat cannot escape through cracks or cold air enter range; that the flues are lined with pure asbestos board (not paper), and are constructed in such a manner as to utilize every particle of heat—you will very readily see why the Majestic Range uses so little fuel.

Every user of THE GREAT MAJESTIC RANGE will confirm this statement.

Supervisor Proceedings.

O'Neill, July 19, 1907. To the Honorable County Board of Supervisor:—
Gentlemen: On the 13th day of May, 1905, Thomas Tomjack paid for me the taxes on the southeast quarter of sec. 18, twp. 26, range 10, west, McClure township for the year 1904, see receipt No. 5297. For some reason this tax payment was not entered on the tax list. I called the attention of Treasurer Harnish to this and on the day he made an entry on the tax list. On Sept. 11, 1905, A. J. Hammond paid the taxes on this same land for 1904, see receipt No. 7221. This last payment was an error and the amount paid, $7.95, should be refunded.

Therefore your petitioner prays that the sum of $7.95 be refunded to him.

A Traveling Man's Experience.
"I must tell you my experience on an East bound O. R. & N. R. R. train from Pendleton to LeGrande, Ore.," writes Sam A. Garber, a well known traveling man. "I was in the smoking department with some other traveling men when one of them went out into the coach and came back and said, 'There is a woman sick unto death in the car.' I at once got up and went out, found her very ill with cramp colic, her hands and arms were drawn up so you could not straighten them, and with a deathlike look on her face. Two or three ladies were working with her and giving her whiskey. I went to my suit case and got my bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy (I never travel without it), ran to the water tank, put a double dose of the medicine in the glass, poured some water into it and stirred it with a pencil; then I had quite a time to get the ladies to let me give it to her, but I succeeded. I could at once see the effect and I worked with her, rubbing her hands, and in twenty minutes I gave her another dose. With this time we were almost into LeGrande, where I was to leave the train. I gave the bottle to the husband to be used in case another dose should be needed, but by the time the train ran into LeGrande she was all right, and I received the thanks of every passenger in the car."
