A representative of The Frontier had the pleasure of attending the Chambers fair Wednesday and Thursday of last week. Chambers is always a good place to go to because of the hospitality and warm heartedness of the people over that way. And then they make it a point when they have a fair for everybody to get out and make the thing go. The exhibition of agricultural products, though somewhat curtailed in quantity over other years, we were told, on account of an excessively wet season, was a fine testimonial to the productiveness of the famous South Fork valley. Nearly all kinds of grains, vegetables and fruits were on exhibition and some as fine specimens as can be seen anywhere were on display. The live stock department showed that the stockmen of southern Holt are not slow in the production of high grade cattle, horses, hogs and poultry. Among the fine horse display was a 3-year-old black mare weighing 1650 pounds that was about as perfect a piece of horse flesh in that class as can be found. The fair association was unable to put on the usual number of races this season owing to the bad condition of the race track. There were some running races Thursday in which local horses were entered.

Why Colds are Dangerous. Because you have contracted ordinary colds and recovered from them without treatment of any kind, do not for a moment imagine that colds are not dangerous. Everyone knows that pneumonia and chronic catarrh have their origin in a common cold. Consumption is not caused by a cold but the cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs that would not otherwise have found lodgment. It is the same with all infectious diseases. Diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough are much more likely to be contracted when the child has a cold. You will see from this that more real danger lurks in a cold than in any other of the common ailments. The easiest and quickest way to cure a cold is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The many remarkable cures effected by this preparation have made it a staple article of trade over a large part of the world. For sale by Gilligan & Stout.

Atkinson baseball fans feel pretty frisky since they got one on us. O'Neill would be ashamed to have to import a Western League team in order to defeat Atkinson.

A Cut Rate Price. This is the first campaign in Nebraska in which political bosses cut no figure. The people will nominate the candidates and afterwards elect them. You are one of the people and should take an active interest in these primaries and elections hereafter. Politics from now on means a square deal for the masses; lower passenger rates, lower freight rates, less extortion by trusts and combinations. These things can only be accomplished by every honest voter making it a part of his business. The people can only know what is really going on by reading the newspapers. But you ought to read a newspaper that can print the truth about all the candidates; a paper that has no self-interest in politics; whose owners are not office-holders or office-seekers. The publishers think the STATE JOURNAL is such a paper and in order to prove it to you make the special offer of only 50 cents from now until after election; seventy-five cents if you want the Sunday also. The earlier you send in your order the more you get for your money. Lincoln is the news center.

To Chicago and the East. Splendidly equipped train service to Chicago daily via the North Western Line, over The Only Double Track Railway between the Missouri River and Chicago. Direct connections at Chicago with all lines east. Also excellent daily service from Nebraska points to Sioux City, Mankato, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth, and to points in South Dakota, the Black Hills and Wyoming. For rates and full particulars apply to your ticket agent. 13-4

More Than Enough is Too Much. To maintain health, a mature man or woman needs just enough food to repair the waste and supply energy and body heat. The habitual consumption of more food than is necessary for these purposes is the prime cause of stomach troubles, rheumatism and disorders of the kidneys. If troubled with indigestion, revise your diet, let reason and not appetite control and take a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and liver tablets and you will soon be all right again. For sale by Gilligan & Stout.

E. J. Mack, formerly of the Inman State bank, has returned from Allen and will again make his home in Holt county, taking charge of the Atkinson National bank of Atkinson.

New Homes in the West. Send for free copy of pamphlet containing synopsis of the United States homestead laws and information how to secure a quarter section of splendid farming or grazing land free along the railway lines of the Chicago & North Western Ry., in South Dakota, Wyoming and other states. Full information regarding rates, etc., on request to any ticket agent of the North Western Line. 12-3

For Sale. Three and a quarter inch wagon with 4-inch tire; nearly new. 13ft R. H. Mills.

Nit! The official organ of Judge Harrington at O'Neill refers to his honor as the "peoples' judge." The depositors of the defunct Elkhorn Valley bank up there, to hear them talk, take a different view. They say that when the depositors' meeting was held to ascertain their sentiment eighteen votes were cast for one man for receiver and two votes for another. Did Judge Harrington appoint the man receiving, the 18 votes?—Ewing Advocate.

For Chronic Diarrhoea. "While in the army in 1863 I was taken with chronic diarrhoea," says George M. Felton, of South Gibson, Pa. "I have since tried many remedies but without any permanent relief until Mr. A. W. Miles of this place persuaded me to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy, one bottle of which stopped it at once." For sale by Gilligan & Stout.

Improved farms in Eastern Nebraska and Iowa, also income property clear of incumbrance to exchange for ranch land. Send me a full description of your land if you wish to sell or exchange and I will find you a buyer.—Fred L. Barclay, Stuart Nebraska. 11-12

For Chapped Skin. Chapped skin whether on the hands or face may be cured in one night by applying Chamberlain's Salve. It is also unequalled for sore nipples, burns, scalds. For sale by Gilligan & Stout.

For Tailor-Made Clothing. Leave your measure with M. M. Sullivan, agent for the largest custom made clothing house in the world, Edward E. Strauss & Co. of Chicago. 15-3

Cash Paid For Poultry. Bring in your poultry to J. T. Yantzi, the O'Neill poultry man, and get the cash for them. 15-4-p

Season's End On the Diamond.

The Brunswick ball team crossed bats with Parker's Warriors upon the local diamond last Thursday afternoon and those present witnessed a nice exhibition of the national game. Charles Richter and Bill Wilson were the battery for O'Neill and Charley pitched a fine game. He allowed but three scattered singles and fanned thirteen of them. The Brunswick boys were not entitled to a score as the run they received came on a passed ball, a dead ball and a base on balls, in the first inning. After that there never was but three men faced him in one inning; in fact but twenty-nine Brunswick men came to bat in the nine innings.

Crinklaw and Cox were the battery for Brunswick. Crinklaw pitched a good heady game and held the O'Neill sluggers down to eight hits. These hits were bunched in the first and seventh innings and netted us five scores which gave us the game easily. He fanned but three men which shows he had good support. Score: O'Neill.....3 0 0 0 0 2 0 x-5 Brunswick.....1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-1 Hits: O'Neill 8; Brunswick 5. Struck out: Richter 13; Crinklaw 3. Batteries: O'Neill, Richter and Wilson; Brunswick, Crinklaw and Cox. Umpire, O'Donnell.

The boys went down to Brunswick Saturday and played the last game of the season against the Brunswick team upon their own grounds. O'Neill had defeated Brunswick two out of three games played and they were determined to win the game so as to make it an even break with the O'Neill team for the season. But they failed to "qualify" and again went down to defeat before the O'Neill boys with the following score: O'Neill 5; Brunswick 1.

Charles Richter was again on the rubber for O'Neill and was about as stingy as he was in O'Neill on Thursday as he allowed but four scattered hits and made so many of them lay down the bat on three strikes that the umpire forgot to score them. Perry and Dunaway did the twirling for Brunswick and he done fairly well as he managed to hold the boys down to seven singles. The Brunswick team is comprised of a nice gentlemanly lot of boys and they freely admit—other would be claimants to the contrary—that O'Neill had the fastest ball team the past season of any town in western Nebraska.

Dangerous Golf. One of the rules of the Weston-super-Mare (England) Golf club reads, "A ball may be lifted and dropped with the loss of a stroke when played within the railings surrounding the powder magazine." There appears to be an element of danger in this kind of golf which reminds a London writer of a certain golf course on the West African coast, where the eighth and ninth holes are always optional, as several golfers are said to have been lost there owing to the proximity of the jungle, which is known to be a favorite lair of the lion.

Wych Hazel, Not Witch Hazel. The correct name for Hamamelis virginica is not witch hazel, but wych hazel. Our plant has no connection with the magic of the water hunter. The blackthorn of England, Prunus spinosa, was the wood used in these divinations, or whatever these superstitious practices may be termed. Hazel had a very wide meaning in the olden times, and the elm as well as the nut now known as such was hazel. One of these elms, now known as Ulmus montana, was the favorite wood for making wyches, or provision chests, and was therefore known as the wych hazel. In the present day it is the wych elm. Our hamamelis received from the early settlers the name of wych hazel from the resemblance of the leaves to those of the wych hazel or elm of the old world. Language reformers imagining that wych should be spelled witch are responsible for the confusion. Wych hazel is the correct term for our plant.

Where the Difference Lay. "One of his complaints against his wife in the divorce suit," said the lawyer, "was that she smoked cigarettes." "Oh, my goodness! And whenever he comes to see me," cried the bachelor girl, "I smoke and smoke!" "Oh, he doesn't mind other women smoking cigarettes," declared the lawyer. "He likes it. It is only his wife."—New York Press.

For the Defense. Ma—I hear that you've been playing with Donald Smith again, Tommy. Now, I told you—Tommy—Playing with him! You see the black eye he's got and you'll soon guess if there was any playing about it—Punch.

Always at it. Mrs. Pease—My husband and I never dispute before the children. We always send them out when a quarrel seems imminent. Miss Sharp—Ah, I've often wondered why they're so much in the street!

Thus far, no one has made an attack upon D. B. Jenckes, candidate for district judge. We believe his record will bear inspection and that he is a man who will be a fair and impartial judge. His campaign is progressing nicely thus far and there seems to be no cloud in his political sky. The republicans of the district seem bent on electing two republican judges.—Chadron Journal.

The editor of the Long Pine Journal is out with his little hatchet after J. A. Douglas and he proposes to keep as many votes away from him as possible. In his last paper this editor accuses Mr. Douglas of being tied up to corporate interests and he states that he prefers Harrington to Douglas. We admire the editor's grit in cutting one of his party candidates but we are afraid he has gone a little wrong when he chooses Harrington in preference to Douglas. Alas! alas! Better consider, Mr. Editor. While it is true that Mr. Douglas was a railroad attorney, it proves nothing except that he is a good lawyer, that he was a man with ability to handle business. It does not prove that he is unfit to be judge or that if elected he would be unable to be fair in his decisions. As between Harrington and Douglas, the Lord deliver us from Harrington and give us Douglas.—Chadron Journal.
