STATE CONVENTION.

Pursuant to the call of the National Committee issued December 7, 1907, the Republican electors of the State of Nebraska are hereby called to meet in convention in the City of Omaha on Thursday, March 12, 1908, at two o'clock in the afternoon, for the purpose of selecting four delegates at large and four alternates to the Republican National Convention to be held in the City of Chicago, June 16, 1908, for the nomination of candidates for President and Vice President of the United States.

The basis of representation of the several counties in said state convention, shall be the vote cast for Honorable H. H. Wilson for presidential elector at the general election held November 8, 1904, giving one delegate for each one hundred and fifty votes and the major fraction thereof so cast for said H. H. Wilson, but each county to be entitled to at least one delegate. Said apportionment entitles the several counties to the following representation in the said convention:

Holt 12
 It is recommended that no proxies be allowed and that the delegates present from each of the respective counties be authorized to cast the full vote of their delegations.

Attention is called to the method provided for by the resolution of the state committee giving the republican electors in each county where desired, an opportunity to express their preference for candidate for President of the United States, when plan of expressing said preference has been forwarded to each county chairman.

Attention is also called to Section 3, of Rule VI adopted by the state committee providing for the filing of credentials and which rule is as follows: "Credentials of delegates to conventions shall be filed with the Secretary of the State Central Committee at least five days before the date of said convention."

Pursuant to said call of the National Committee and the laws of Nebraska, the several Congressional Committees are instructed to proceed in the usual manner to name a time and place for holding their respective district conventions for the election of two delegates and two alternates from each of said Congressional districts, in conformity with the requirements of the call of the National Committee, the same basis of representation being used in the several counties as is herein provided for the state convention. It is recommended that the same place and date be selected by said Congressional committee for holding said district conventions as have been selected by this committee for the state convention.

F. P. CORRICK Wm. HAYWARD
 Secretary. Chairman.
 January 8, 1908, Lincoln, Nebraska.

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION

Pursuant to the authority contained in the call issued by the republican state central committee, on January 8, 1908, the republicans of the Sixth Congressional district of Nebraska, are called to meet in delegate convention at Omaha, on March 12, 1908, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, for the purpose of electing two (2) delegates and two (2) alternates each, to represent said Sixth district, at the national republican convention, to be held in Chicago, Ill., on June 16, 1908. Also, for the purpose of transacting any business that may regularly come before said convention.

The basis of representation of the several counties of the district shall be the same as contained in the state call of said January 8, 1908, (fixed by statute under the new primary law) and based on "the vote cast for Hon. H. H. Wilson for presidential elector at the general election held November 8, 1904, giving one delegate for each 150 votes and the major fraction thereof so cast for said H. H. Wilson, but each county to be entitled to at least one delegate. Said apportionment entitles the several counties to the following representation in said convention."

Out in Oregon they think the president's recent stunning message the best yet. The Portland Oregonian is quoted as saying: "Mr. Roosevelt's special message to congress is one of the most powerful pieces of political eloquence in the English language. It contains passages which will be read with passionate approval by mature men and recited with flaming hearts by ambitious youth long after the president has ceased from his fight with the powers that prey and others have taken up the weapons for liberty and justice which he wields so potently and manfully. It breathes the spirit throughout of clear preception and undaunted courage. He discerns with unerring accuracy the meaning and extent of the struggle which is on in this country between the forces of predatory wrong and the forces of common right, and he strides into the fray without flinching. If Mr. Roosevelt has ever dreamed of compromise with those insidious enemies of the republic who endeavor to make their success an excuse for their crimes against morality and law, he has thrust that dream from his thoughts. If he ever dreaded the consequences to trade which might flow from the inflexible pursuit of justice and the unmasking of gilded wickedness he dreads them no longer."

With the characteristic modesty of a populist politician, the late fusion candidate for county treasurer, in a signed article in the last issue of the local fusion organs, pinned a few bouquets to his coat collar and bestowed upon himself the credit for the banks of the county resuming the old rate of interest for county money. If Mr. Robertson has a string on the bankers he should have "palled" it two years ago, when the county board was compelled to accept the minimum legal bid of the bank combine largely because of the inactivity of a side-stepping populist county attorney.

A Michigan fruit packing concern has run up against the national pure food law. They undertook to continue the practice of canning Arkansas fruit and labeling the cans with Michigan labels. Government authorities confiscated a large shipment en route from Arkansas to Michigan and will sell the same, the proceeds to be put in the public treasury.

"I do not for a moment believe that the actions of the administration have brought on business distress; so far as this is due to local and not world-wide causes, and to the actions of any particular individuals, it is due to the speculative folly and flagrant dishonesty of a few men of great wealth, who seek to shield themselves from the effects of their own wrongdoing by ascribing its results, to the actions of those who have sought to put a stop to the wrongdoing. But if it were true that to cut out rottenness from the body politic meant a momentary check to an unhealthy seeming prosperity, I should not for one moment hesitate to put the knife to the corruption."—From Roosevelt's special message to congress.

There is much sober sense in these few words from Governor Hughes' New York speech in which he defined his views on national issues: "I am not in favor of punishment in the shape of fines upon corporations, except for minor offenses. The burden of fines imposed upon such corporations is either transferred to the public or is borne by stockholders, the innocent as well as the guilty." Every time a corporation has to pay a fine the market of their product is manipulated so that the public pays the fine in the end. A jail sentence is the best remedy for outlawry.

The Frontier is glad to note our esteemed fellow citizen, O. O. Snyder, is a candidate to represent the Sixth district at the republican national convention. The Frontier believes every republican in the county can endorse his candidacy. He is especially well qualified to represent us in a notable gathering like the national convention and long years of consistent party service abundantly warrants republicans of this district in conferring on him the honor.

The Syracuse, N. Y., university chancellor, who takes such delight in criticising Mr. Roosevelt's messages, might arrange to settle his disputes with the president at the polls. Roosevelt and Day as opposing presidential candidates would give the 'hired man' of Syracuse an opportunity to see that public sentiment was about ten to one with Roosevelt after the votes were counted.

The appointment of D. U. Yantzi as deputy assessor for Rock Falls township is a good selection on the part of Assessor Skidmore. Mr. Yantzi has been passing through some hard experiences recently that have disabled him from resuming work on the farm in the spring, while he can easily attend to the assessing of the township.

Every republican in the county who wants to express himself for president will have a chance to do so by attending the precinct caucuses on February 21. The Frontier would like to see a good attendance at the caucuses and a full vote on presidential candidates.

A constitutional amendment is before the Maryland legislature for the disfranchisement of negroes. The amendment was drawn by a committee of democratic lawyers and its adoption is probable.

The congressman from this district should note the fact that the republicans of this county are for Hammond for the collectorship.

The surplus turned over by the county officials for 1907 seems to be hurting the fusionists.

All the Seats in That Particular Church Were Free.

At a certain church an aged usher, to save the exertion of continually marching up and down the aisle to conduct persons to their seats, used to take a stand in the center of the church and when any incomers appeared beckon to them and then conduct them to a seat.

The urchins of the neighborhood, knowing his peculiarity, used to pop their heads inside the church door and mimic his action by beckoning to him. Many times he tried to catch one and one Sunday morning nearly did so. But the boy rushed away from the church and ran into the arms of a policeman.

"What have you been up to?" demanded the policeman.
 Thought the boy, "I'm caught," but he said, "Oh, sir, there's a disturbance at that church, and they have sent me to fetch a policeman."

"Very good," said the officer. "I'll step in and see about it."

So he opened the door at the west end of the church and, taking off his helmet, entered.

The moment the aged usher saw him he beckoned to him and motioned him to a seat next an old gentleman.
 Immediately he was seated he touched the old gentleman and said, "Come quiet."

The old gentleman replied, "What do you mean?"

Officer—You know what I mean, and I don't want no chat. Come quiet or I shall have to take yer by force.

Old Gentleman—I really don't understand you.

Officer—Look here! We don't want no more disturbance! You have been kicking up quite enough, and I'm going to have you out quick.

By this time the congregation were looking at the pair and wondering what was the matter, so the old gentleman said: "Very well. I have not made any disturbance, but to save any I will go with you."

So together, to the wonderment of the congregation, they marched up the aisle.

When they had passed out of the church the usher followed them, and the policeman, turning to him, said: "Now, then, you have to make your charge."

"Charge?" said the usher. "There ain't any charge. All the seats are free."—Detroit News-Tribune.

The New Cook's Way.

A new cook was in the kitchen, and the mistress was trying to be pleased with the way she served dinner. The salad was especially unappetizing, with large, coarse green lettuce leaves instead of the crisp, white little hearts the family was accustomed to.

"What did you do to the lettuce?" mildly inquired the lady of the house after dinner.

"Sure, I washed it all good," replied the new cook.

"But the small white part?" persisted the mistress.

"Oh, the core, ye mean. I threw it away, of course."—New York Press.

Happy Tears.

A good cry is a solace to many women. It steadies the nerves and, added to a cup of tea and an interesting story, forms their idea of supreme happiness. Arising from the perusal of their books with red eyes, swelled features and a sopping pocket handkerchief, they feel their time has not been wasted.—Lady Violet Greville in London Chronicle.

A Little Ambiguous.

She—So sorry to hear of your motor accident! Enthusiastic Motorist—Oh, thanks! It's nothing. Expect to live through many more. She—Oh, but I trust not.—London Opinion.

A person is always startled when he hears himself seriously called old for the first time.—O. W. Holmes.

Question of Nationality.

An Englishman, a Frenchman and a German sitting together in the smoking room of an ocean liner, the conversation turned on their nationality, and one of them asked what each of the three would choose to be if he were not of his own nation. The Frenchman said, "If I were not a Frenchman, I would be an Englishman." The Englishman said, "If I were not an Englishman, I would wish to be one." The German said, "If I were not a German, I would wish not to be a German."—Carl Peters in Deutsche Monatschrift.

On Yawning.

I have come to the conclusion that if a man yawns and you don't want to yawn, too, the only way to prevent it is to blow your nose. A man of my acquaintance boasts that he can set a whole railway carriage full of people yawning by merely taking time over it himself, and I believe he can.—Fry's Magazine.
