Methodist Church Items.

Class meeting every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. We had a very interesting and helpful service last Sunday, the attendance was good, but there was room for others. Why not come out to class next Sunday morning.

On Sunday morning at 10:30, the pastor will preach from the subject, "Christ's Love for His Own." The subject for our evening discourse will be, "Courageous Men." To these, as to all services of our church, you are cordially invited.

Sunday school at the close of the morning service. Brother McKeen is our very efficient superintendent, and is anxious to see every member of the school in his or her place every Sunday. We can find a nice place for you if you care to tarry with us. Try it next Sunday.

The Junior league will meet Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. We are inclined to say, that hereafter nothing shall interfere with our Junior league service, that it will be held every Sunday afternoon, if possible. Let the Juniors, therefore, take notice and be in their places every time.

The Epworthians should every one try to make the Devotional service, which is held every Sunday evening at 7 o'clock a splendid success, and we can do it, if every one will come out and come prepared to take an active part. This service, while especially for the young, is open to all and everybody is invited.

Prayer meeting every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. We spend a part of the time in the study of the Sunday school lesson and enjoy it very much. Should be glad to have you with us at any time.

T. S. Watson, Pastor.

Educational Notes.

We have already received word from about twenty-five teachers who will attend the Norfolk meeting. We hope to hear from as many more within the next week or two.

The Atkinson school board has given its teachers three days in which to attend the Norfolk meeting. Since Atkinson has a candidate in the oral contest the teachers from there will go to Norfolk one day early in order to attend the district contest which takes place Wednesday evening, April first.

One teacher writes that her eighth grade consisting of twenty-seven members, will enter the map contest.

Arbor day will soon be here, but don't wait for Arbor day to plant trees. If each pupil of school age in our county were to plant a tree this year, there would be five thousand planted in Holt county. Very little has been done in the rural districts of the county to beautify the school grounds. We hope a number of districts will make a beginning this spring in tree planting and general improvement of the grounds and buildings. The general appearance of the school property is a good indication of the amount of interest and pride possessed by a community.

Florence E. Zink, County Superintendent.

Nettie V. Pratt has filed her petition in the district court praying for a divorce from Chas. A. Pratt. They were married at Stuart on February 11, 1897, and plaintiff alleges that defendant deserted her on or about June 1, 1904, and has since failed to provide for her. She asks for a decree, alimony, attorneys fees and the custody of their two children, aged 10 and 4 years.

O. F. Biglin went down to Omaha last Friday to attend the funeral of Martin Welsh, an old-time resident of this county, who died in that city last Thursday.

For Sale—A team of young mares, weight about 2800, full sisters. I have also a bunch of cattle for sale, consisting of steers, cows and heifers.—P. S. Hughes. 39-3

I write insurance on farm and city property. Have some of the best companies doing business in Nebraska and rates are as low as can be given by first class companies.—S. F. McNichols. 39-10

I wish the good people who owe me would realize it is the same as lent money. I did not want to refuse them. Now I am sorry I didn't. I want all that owe me to square up or I will have to look for another job.—Con Keys.

Harvey Stocking came up from Plainview Tuesday evening to resume his old work here dealing in butter, eggs and cream. Mr. and Mrs. Stocking left here about two years ago and their old friends will be glad to learn that they expect to make O'Neill their home again.

A surprise party was perpetrated Tuesday evening by Miss Clara Gatz and a score of her friends on Miss Arelle Holden, the affair being held at the Gatz residence in the southwest part of town. Cards were the principal amusement of the evening. Luncheon was served at midnight.

The only additions to the list of candidates for city offices since our last issue are two more candidates for alderman. T. V. Golden comes out in the First against T. D. Hanley and William Froelich in the Third against J. B. Mellor.

Edward Barnard and family stopped in the city a few days last week while on their way from Pringle, S. D., to Sloan, Iowa. Mr. Barnard is a brother of Sam Barnard of this city and has been in the mercantile business at Pringle but recently sold out.

About the flour—all wheat in this state is winter wheat. Mine comes from Clay county, where good wheat grows. The flour runs even, no bad sacks. I keep it in a clean, dry place and sell it on a small profit. At present patent $2.50, straight grade $2.25, chop corn $1.35, shorts $1.35. Coal and oil meal plenty.—Con Keys.

John A. Robertson has begun action for damages in district court against M. H. Isle for the filing of a deed in the county clerk's office to the north half of the northeast quarter and the east half of the northwest quarter of section 19, township 32, range 11.

The petition alleges that the deed is "void and worthless" because the property belongs to the plaintiff in fee simple. The plaintiff alleges that this deed has detracted from the value of his title to the amount of $500, for which he asks judgment.

Since the terrible Collinwood school fire a reformation in school-house construction has swept the country. The O'Neill school authorities see the need of something being done to insure greater safety and will act accordingly. The board of education has decided to change the doors of the school building to swing outward instead of in and some additional doors will be cut through partitions. The board is also contemplating equipping the building with fire escapes. Meanwhile, the faculty is drilling the pupils in a system of marching from the building.

The leap-year tradition, whereby women are permitted to "propose" every fourth year, is said to spring out of a wild legend about St. Patrick. St. Bridget, sad because so many of her countrywomen were unmarried, applied to St. Patrick for a solution of the difficulty, whereupon he suggested the one which has lived down to present memory. The tale runs, says a writer in the Bystander, that St. Bridget, charmed with the idea, promptly put it into practice herself, her choice being no less a personage than St. Patrick, who, finding himself unable to give too cruel a rebuff, presented a silk dress in lieu of himself as a husband—hence the silk dress part of the leap-year fancy.

A complaint was filed in Justice J. A. Golden's court Tuesday by Mrs. Ellen Mackey (nee Little) against Mrs. Julia Minton charging her with assault and battery. Hearing on the complaint will be had Friday of this week. It is alleged that the assault occurred Tuesday morning about one block from the home of Mrs. Mackey, who lives near the creamery in the western part of town. Mrs. Mackey, it is stated, was on her way to church when accosted and assaulted by Mrs. Minton and that she was confined to her bed under the care of a physician the remainder of the day as a result of the severe bruises she received from the hands of her assailant, who, it is alleged, knocked her down and beat her badly in the face. What provoked the assault has not been ascertained. The two women live near each other and "bad blood" has been boiling for some time, according to statements of the neighbors. When Mrs. Mackey started for church Tuesday morning, the neighbors say, she was followed by Mrs. Minton and the assault occurred near the home of Ira Lapham. Some of the neighbors testify to having seen Mrs. Mackey prostrate on the ground after the assault and that a pool of blood was found where she lay. Mrs. Mackey is about seventy while her assailant is a young woman.

World-Herald: Augusta C. Swingle, aged 64 years, wife of Oliver H. Swingle, assistant tax commissioner of the Union Pacific, died at the family residence, 808 North Thirty-ninth street, Friday morning. She was in perfect health until a few days ago, when she was taken ill with pneumonia. Mrs. Swingle is survived by her husband, a son, Fred, cashier of the First National bank at Atkinson, Neb., and four daughters, Mrs. Francis Corey, Mrs. C. E. Niswonger, Mrs. P. F. Evans of Kansas City and Mabel Swingle. The funeral was held from the home at 4 o'clock, the Rev. Mr. Jencks officiating. The body was taken to Mount Morris, Ill., for interment.

Sister M. Hilaria, sister superior of St. Mary's hospital at Columbus, through her attorney, E. H. Whelan, has begun action against Patrick Ragan in district court to recover $880 and interest at 5 per cent per annum from March 1, 1907, alleged to be due on a mortgage executed August 30, 1904, to Peter Cassidy to secure the payment of a loan of $1,000. The petition states that the plaintiff came into the possession of the mortgage "in consideration of $1 and for food, clothing, medical treatment, nursing and other services" while Cassidy was a patient in the hospital. The petition states that $120 has been paid on the mortgage and suit is brought to recover the balance.

A crowd of young folks gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Derby last Saturday evening and gave them a jolly surprise. After passing the evening with games and partaking of a dainty lunch the young folks departed declaring Mr. and Mrs. Derby delightful entertainers.

HOTEL PROPOSITION

Project to be Revived and O'Neill May Yet Have the New Hotel.

The proposed new hotel on the corner of Fourth and Douglas street is not a dead issue and an edifying edifice may yet repose on that desirable corner.

Local business men are behind the movement to push the work along, and when a bunch of O'Neill fellows go after a proposition something generally has to "give." For this purpose a meeting has been arranged for Friday—tomorrow—evening to see what can be done. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock at the office of R. R. Dickson and every citizen of O'Neill who is interested in securing a new hotel is asked to be present.

The Markets

South Omaha, March 18.—Special market letter from Nye Schneider Fowler Co.

We quote: The activity and strong in the cattle market continue and we can record an advance of 25 to 40 cents on cattle fit for the killers since our letter of a week ago. The supply is light and we believe indicates that feed lots are pretty well shipped out. The inquiry for feeders is increasing and the big feeders are filling up their feed lots as fast as they can get suitable cattle. Good finished cattle would easily fetch $6 or better.
