Frank Ruch, the keeper of the ourfalo herd in the national forest of Oklahoma, is credited with this: "Once a Kansas farmer met on the hot, dusty road a homesteader pushing on excitedly toward the Cherokee strip. 'Whar ye bound?' said the farmer. 'Fer a hundred and sixty acres o' free land in the strip,' was the reply. And the man vanished in the glitter of dust and sunshine. A month or two went by and on the same dusty road the Kansas farmer met the homesteader returning: 'Hello,' he said, 'what ye done with them hundred and sixty acres?' The homesteader pointed his whip proudly toward his mule team. 'See them mules,' said he. 'Wall, I traded eighty acres of my claim fer 'em. 'What ye do with the other eighty?' 'Don't gimme away,' was the reply, 'but the feller was a tenderfoot, an' I run in the other eighty acres on him without his knowin' it.'" Frank Ruch, the keeper of the puffalo

A sentence, probably unique in this country, was recently pronounced by a magistrate in Everett, Mass. Two youngsters of 12 years had been convicted of throwing stones, to the destruction of property and the peril of passersby. Just how to deal with such youthful offenders was a puzzle for the court for a while, but after due thought the judge hit upon the happy idea of turning the youngsters' "fun" into a penalty. He ordered a police sergeant to take the boys back to the lot where they had been captured and make them spend a half hour in throwing stones as fast as they could pick them up. The sergeant obeyed orders to the letter, and the youngsters got enough of their lives.

Tolstoy's domestic life is singularly happy, in spite of the fact that his wife does not share his views concerning religion and sociology. The countess is 16 years younger than her husband, and, although the mother of 13 children, is still beautiful and charming. She is highly gifted, too—has herself written three novels. At one time she had great difficulty in preventing the count from giving away all his property. "He wished to distribute all his worldly goods to the poor," she says. "It was I, I alone, who prevented it. Heavens, what a struggle I had! But, God be pleased, I triumphed. From that day to this, I, and I alone, manage the count's affairs; everything is done by me—is in my own hands."

Dr. Macnamara, a member of the British parliament, tells of a school teacher who was endeavoring to convey the idea of pity to the members of his class. He illustrated it by a little story. "Now, supposing," he said, "a man working on the river bank suddenly fell in. He could not swim and would be in danger of drowning. Picture the scene, boys and girls. The man's sudden fall, the cry for help. His wife, knowing his peril and hearing his screams, rushed immediately to the bank. Why does she rush to the bank?" After a pause a small voice piped forth: "Please, sir, to draw his insurance money."

Professor William Frear, of the Pennsylvania State college, discussed, in Harrisburg the 83 kinds of breakfast foods that he recently tested for the government. "Most of them were very good," said Professor Frear. "The taste test, in most cases, was pleasure rather than work. To make work out of it would be to act like a little boy I know in Bellefonte. This little boy's mother went to a reception, leaving the baby in Jimmy's care. With an injured look Jimmy said on her return: "Mamma, I wish you wouldn't make me mind baby again. He was so bad that I had to cat two mince pies and a half the fruit take to amuse him."

At a dinner in New York Dr. Charles F. Aked, of the Fifth Avenue church, illustrated with a story the harm of church controversies. "There was an Argyleshire elder," said Dr. Aked, "whom I asked one day in Longon how his kir was catting along how his kir was getting along.

An Egyptian mining center—probably orked as early as 2500 B. C.—was in the eastern desert, between the Red sea and the Nile. The lately-discovered resains described by C. J. THE O'NEILL FRONTIER | WHITE CAPS BEAT BRUTAL HUSBAND

Plerce, Neb., May 19 .- Otto Huebner

Pierce, Neb., May 19.—Otto Huebner, fiving near the village of Hadar, eight miles south of here, is sore inwardly and outwardly because of the treatment received from white caps who called at his place last night and stripping him of his clothes, administered a severe switching with willow switches. Huebner is accused of giving his wife a hard beating recently and the masked men took this opportunity of teaching him a lesson.

The day previous to the action of the whitecaps, Huebner was in Pierce and consulted a local attorney concerning divorce proceedings. His explanation of his differences with his wife is to the effect that he undertook to punish an old gander that was worrying his other fowls and struck it with a stick, that his wife was incensed and struck him with a stick, whereupon he retaliated and struck her in return.

ALLEGED MURDERER TAYLOR SENDS CLUE

Minden, Neb., May 19—Deputy Sheriff Wyatt yesterday received a letter from Bert Taylor, the fugitive accused of the ravishing of his sisterinlaw, Pearl Taylor, from the effects of which she died. In the letter, which is dated April 9 and postmarked Enid, Okla., Taylor proclaims his innocence and names another man as the one who assaulted the girl. He says he has been searching for the murderer since the crime was committed. There is no doubt of the genuineness of the letter as Taylor's handwriting is known. Deputy Wyatt left last night for Oklahoma. There is a reward of $2,000 for Taylor's capture. Taylor's capture.

OMAHA PACKING PLANT BURNS: LOSS IS $500,000

Omaha. Neb.. May 19.—The old plant of the Omaha Packing company at Thirty-third and Q streets, South Omaha. Was destroyed by fire, together with 3,000,000 pounds of meat, involving a loss estimated at $500,000. The big plant of the Cudahy company adjoining was seriously threatened while the fire was at its height. The old plant of the Omaha Packing company was used principally for the storage of meat, the killing and preparing of the products for market being done mostly at the new plant. There was stored in the burned buildings 2,200,000 pounds of pork and 800,000 pounds of beef, most of which belonged to the Omaha company.

The ice plant was destroyed, which is serious in view of the shortage of ice which already exists here. The fire started in the smoke house, although the origin of it has not yet been determined. The Omaha fire department was called upon and aided in controlling the fire.

NEGRESS WANTS $25,000

FROM A PROFESSOR

Boston, Mass., May 18.—A $25,000 breach of promise suit by Anna Manley, a negress, against Phillip B. Marcou, formerly assistant professor in Harvard university, was begun today in East Cambridge.

The woman testified she first met Professor Marcou in Boston about six years ago while she was on her way to the theater with a girl friend. He storped her, she claimed, and asked her to break her engagement. She did so and took him to her home in Holyoke street. She said he gave her $2,200 to buy a new home.

Miss Manley said that six years ago Professor Marcou promised to marry her and that they were to have been married in September, 1906.

BREWERS SEEK TO ANNUL THE LICENSE LAWS

Would Manufacture a Beer With 2 Per Cent Alcohol and Avoid License Fee.

Lincoln, Neb., May 16.-What appears to be a concerted attempt on the part of the brewers and wholesale liquor dealers in Nebraska to nullify the efforts of the anti-saloon voters who in the last election imposed either prohibition or strict regulation on a majority of the towns in the state, is revealed in a number of letters that have come to the pure food commission. Should the brewers succeed in their attempt to establish a precedent, backed by high authority, for the unlicensed sale of semi-intoxicating liquors, it is not improbable that the fruits of temperance and saloon reform throughout the state would be swept away while the devotees of sobriety would have to content themselves with the dry husk of the law, its literal intent. who in the last election imposed either

ANOTHER TWISTER

VISITS NEBRASKA Hastings, Neb., May 14.—A tornado in the northern part of Adams county last night destroyed fences, trees and other vegetation, but did not damage any buildings. This is very remarkable as the country is quite thickly settled. The storm started five miles norther tled. The storm started five miles north of here, near Hansen. Its roaring was-terrific, being plainly heard in this city. It traveled to the northward about five miles, taking a serpentine course and narrowly missing several farm houses.

GOWNS TOO DARING EVEN FOR GAY PAREE

Paris, May 14.—Disturbances which threatened to become a riot arose at the Longchamps race course yesterday from the appearance among the mem-bers of the inclosure of four young: women attired in ultra fashioned

The dressmakers in Rue de la Paix frequently boom their latest creations at Longchamps, but this experiment was too daring even for Parisians. The gowns were so classic, so tight fitting and so transparent that some of the onlookers rubbed their eyes in amazement. Others blushed, others turned indignantly away, while some of themen laughed and jeered.

The girls had been sent by their employers to advertise the so-called sheath gowns. The most sensational of them have a divided skirt, showing the outlines of the lower limbs.

The excitement became so great that the police were obliged to remove the young women. A blushing policeman wrapped his cloak around the divided skirt and conducted its owner to a cab. The dressmakers in Rue de la Paix

Director Tounrey, of the municipal police, said: "It seems these dresses are the latest fashion. I think them daring, but if it is the prevailing fash ion there is nothing more to be said."

THE KIND OF GOSSIP

AMERICAN WOMEN LOVE London, May 14.—A weekly periodical called the Onlooker, which boasts that it is recognized on both sides of the Atlantic as the standard purveyor of social news, says in its "American Notes and

"If there is one thing an American wom an loves more than another, even more than candies, it is any sort of gossip that deals with marriage or the giving in mar-riage, more especially when the proposeds union of hearts causes heartburings else-
