

FOUR GIRLS

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Read What They Say.

Lillian Ross, 530 East 84th Street, New York, writes: "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound overcame my irregularities, peevishness, nervousness, and nervous headaches, after everything else had failed to help me, and I feel it a duty to let others know of it."

Katharine Craig, 3353 Lafayette St., Denver, Col., writes: "Thank you, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I am well, after suffering for months from nervous prostration."

Miss Marie Stoltzman, of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I was in a run-down condition and suffered from suppression, indigestion, and poor circulation. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me well and strong."

Miss Ellen M. Olson, of 417 N. East St., Keokuk, Ill., says: "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me of my side ache, and established my periods, after the best local doctors had failed to help me."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

STAPLE.

F. D. Coburn, in Iowa Homestead. All admire a good looking hog, and there is no reason why good looks should not go with the highest usefulness, but neither good looks nor fancy breeding should stand for a moment in the way of the hog that combines vigor of constitution, growthiness and reasonably early maturity with a form pleasing to the eye. When we come to the final test of beauty, "pretty is as pretty does." The prettiest hog after all, is the one that is most profitable; the one that makes the most and best pounds of gain from a hundred pounds of the most inexpensive dry matter; the one that makes the largest contribution toward providing for the family necessities, toward meeting the interest on the mortgage, and toward paying the mortgage itself; for the addition to the house, the new carpet, the piano or organ, the new dresses for the girls, or their education at school.

If the breeders of any breed depart from the practical hog they make a mistake, for sooner or later the common sense farmer will demand the preference he may have for particular color or hair, curl of tail or droop of ear. If breeders of any breed depart from this for any considerable length of time farmers may say little about it, but they will buy some other breed that more nearly meets their requirements.

WIDOWS' PENSIONS

under NEW LAW obtained by JOHN W. MORRIS, Washington, D. C.

The Loom of Dreams.
I broder the world upon a loom,
I broder with dreams my tapestry;
Here in a lonely room
I am master of earth and sea,
And the planets come to me.

I broder my life into the frame,
I broder my love, thread upon thread;
The world goes by with its glory and shame,
Crowns are bartered and blood is shed;
I sit and broder my dream instead.

And the only world is the world of my dreams,
And my weaving the only happiness;
For what is the world but what it seems
And who knows but that God, beyond
our guess,
Sits weaving worlds out of loneliness?
—Arthur Symons.

Storm Left Hawk With Only One Feather.

Delaware Correspondence Columbus Dispatch.
Lightning did some queer stunts here during a storm last night, among them the knocking of all but a solitary feather from the body of a mouse hawk, which, strange to relate, still lives to bear mute evidence of the occurrence. The hawk was found under the tree which had been struck the following morning, when the hands on the I. D. Stone farm were inspecting the work of the storm. The bird was barely alive, and stripped of all but the one feather presented a sorry appearance. It was taken to the house and fed and bids fair to recover.

Getting a Good Start.

From the Youth's Companion.
"Miss Sophie," beloved benefactress of half the poor of New Orleans, sat at her desk writing when an elderly woman who had made many previous demands upon her was ushered in.
"O Miss Sophie," she said, breathlessly, "I want to borrow a dollar, please, right away."
"What do you need the money for, Ermagarde?"
"Well, now, you see, I'm going to get married, and I need it for the license."
"But if the man you are to marry cannot pay for the license, how is he going to support you?"
"That's just what I want to explain to you, Miss Sophie. You see tomorrow is Thanksgiving, and we are coming to your free dinner. Then you always give us something to take home, and in the evening the King's Daughters are going to have a basket distribution, and we shall each get one. That will keep us a week, easily, and by that time we'll be on our feet."

BED-BOUND FOR MONTHS.

Hope Abandoned After Physicians' Consultation.

Mrs. Enos Shearer, Yew and Washington streets, Centralia, Wash., says: "For years I was weak and run down, my limbs swelled and the secretions were troublesome; pains were intense. I was in bed for four months. Three doctors said there was no cure for me, and I was given up to die. Being urged, I used Doan's Kidney Pills. Soon I was better and in a few weeks was about the house, well and strong again." Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Bewildered Guest.

I was not asked if I should like to come, I have not seen my host here since I came, Or had a word of welcome in his name. Some say that we shall never see him, and some say that we shall see him elsewhere, and then they were bid. How long I am to stay I have not the least notion. None, they say.
Was ever told when he should come or go, But every now and then there bursts upon The song and mirth a lamentable noise. A sound of shrieks and sobs, that strikes Dumb in our hearts; and then some one is gone. They say we meet him. None knows where or when.
—William Dean Howells.

Where the Dogs Go to Church.

From the Florence Times.
At the Methodist district conference held at Hartsfield last month a resolution was offered by the committee on church property and unanimously adopted by the conference urging the trustees of the several churches throughout the Florence district to forbid the attendance of dogs at church during the hours of worship, such being not only a nuisance, but an embarrassing and dangerous nuisance.

FROGS HOP OUT OF THE CLOUDS

Veracious Mississippi River Captains Vouch for Phenomenon.

St. Louis, Special: That there was a rain of frogs at Alton is vouched for by George Maguire, engineer of the ferry boat "Minnie," and by Captain W. F. Fluett, Captain W. T. Ashlock and Peter Jost, rivermen, who say they couldn't nature-fake if they tried.

"If it didn't rain frogs, where did they come from?" asks Maguire. "One minute they weren't here and the next minute there were thousands and thousands of them. They came right out of the clouds."

"When the rain began to fall there wasn't a frog in sight. I thought the drops sounded pretty loud as they hit the deck, but the drops at all. It was frogs—little fellows with green backs and white fronts."

"I thought at first that they had just climbed up out of the river. But on the lower deck they were all up near the bow where it was open to the sky. I went up to the top deck, which has a roof, and they were so thick that I could hardly walk."

"Then I looked at the levee. The whole river front was on the hop. The frogs were so thick on the railroad tracks that a train couldn't have passed."

"I've seen it rain fish several times," said Captain Fluett, "but this is the first time I ever was out in a shower of frogs. Of course they came from the clouds. They just came tumbling down when it started to rain."

"My wharf boat was covered with them and they were almost up to the building line on the levee."

These statements are verified by Captain Ashlock and Peter Jost. Scientists have noted many instances of fish and frogs falling from the clouds during rain storms. The accepted theory is that they are drawn up from lakes and ponds in a funnel-shaped tornado cloud and remain in the air until the cloud breaks up and falls in the shape of rain, sometimes hundreds of miles from where they were picked up.

On the day following a cyclone at Snyder, Okla., August Melners, during a rainstorm, picked up a perch two inches long in front of 716 North Broadway, St. Louis. E. D. Evans picked up another, and on the following day, after another heavy rain, a carp weighing almost a pound was found near Vandeventer and Lincoln avenues.

Dickens' All the Year Round for 1891 says: "In South America an area 43 miles square was found strewn with fish. It extended, at a considerable distance from the sea, a pasture was found scattered over with about a bushel of fish. Herring fell in 1823 in Kinross-shire, and instances of similar falls are legion. The fish are taken up in a waterspout, borne along by the current, and dropped. It may be hundreds of miles away, just as dust containing small animals and plants is dropped on some vessel."

Now, who'll say all stories from Alton are nature fakes?

Fancy Nancy.

(A Seasonable Idyll.)
"In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns"—you know the rest. That's the thought of Nancy. Now inflame your poet's breast.

Nancy's eyes they shine like planets,
"Like a girl's hair and red lips,"
Nancy's waist—well, you could span it
Compass with your hands combined.

Nancy's skin for spotless whiteness
Challenges the driven snow;
Nancy's sea, for airy lightness
Leaves behind the mountain roe.

Nancy's heart beats true and tender,
Nancy's bosom's free from guile,
And what language e'er could render
Nancy's frank and artless smile?

Never capricious, never designing,
Never forward, never coy,
She's the girl for whom I'm pining,
She alone's my source of joy.

Only Nancy the nuptial fether
Round my willing neck could tie,
What? You say you've never met her?
'Tis no wonder. Nor have I!—Truth.

ITCHING HUMOR ON BOY.

His Hands Were a Solid Mass, and Disease Spread All Over Body—Cured in 4 Days by Cuticura.

"One day we noticed that our little boy was all broken out with itching sores. We first noticed it on his little hands. His hands were not as bad then, and we didn't think anything serious would result. But the next day we heard of the Cuticura Remedies being so good for itching sores. By this time the disease had spread all over his body, and his hands were nothing but a solid mass of this itching disease. I purchased a box of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment, and that night I took the Cuticura Soap and lukewarm water and washed him well. Then I dried him and took the Cuticura Ointment and anointed him with it. I did this every evening and in four nights he was entirely cured. Mrs. Frank Donahue, 208 Fremont St., Kokomo, Ind., Sept. 16, 1907."

England Through Other Eyes.
From the Fortnightly Review.

THE BACON HOG.

Owing to the fact that corn is not grown in northeastern Minnesota as safely and abundantly as they and peas it has been considered more profitable to raise a bacon breed of hogs rather than the lard breeds. For this reason a bacon breed (the large improved Yorkshire) has been raised exclusively on the experiment farm. It is this breed that is raised so extensively and profitably in Canada and on precisely the same feed, as is grown here in abundance, clover, roots, barley, peas and the by-product of the dairy, milk.

The brood sows on the experiment farm are wintered on second crop clover, boiled roots, skim milk and a very small allowance of grain (one-half pound per head a day). They are comfortable during the day, exercise being very necessary. They are bred in December to farrow in March, and only one litter a year. Fall pigs don't pay. Only brood sows should be carried through the winter, and when a sow has proved to be a good mother she should be kept as long as she is productive, which is generally from four to six years.

The bulletins that have appeared previously to this and a few to follow concluding the 1907 report, will be put in pamphlet form, and any one desiring this publication may secure the same upon application.

Send your name and address on a postal card to the northeast experiment farm, Grand Rapids, Minn., and it will be put on the file for all future publications.

Why Johnnie Cried.

One cannot eat his cake and have it, too; much less can one let the other fellow eat it. The Wellspring presents the greatest boy in a new incident.

"Thomas, what is the matter with your brother, Johnnie?" asked the mother of the boys.

"He's crying," replied Thomas, "because I'm eating my cake and won't give him any."

"Is his own cake finished?"

"Yes'm; and he cried while I was eating that, too."

Echo of Bismarck's Dismissal.

From the London Globe.
A new version of the events leading up to Prince Bismarck's dismissal from the post of Imperial chancellor is furnished by the Aargauer Nachrichten, which the Berliner Tageblatt regards as not improbable. According to this account, which is published in connection with the death of Dr. Roth, late Swiss minister in Berlin, the Swiss federal council in 1890 desired a workmen's conference to be held at Berne, whereas Emperor William II, convened a labor conference at Berlin, to which Prince Bismarck objected. The Imperial chancellor thereupon privately visited Dr. Roth and pressed him to insist on Berne as the seat of the conference. The emperor, hearing of Prince Bismarck's visit, himself went to Dr. Roth at dead of night and satisfied himself of the truth of the report. The following day the emperor dismissed Prince Bismarck and at the same time presented Dr. Roth with a portrait of himself, bearing the autograph inscription: "In memory of March 19, 1890."

Presidents May Have Personal Residence

Washington, Special: Once more is the question brought forward of building a new residence for the president of the United States. The idea has been in many minds for years. This year the public buildings appropriation bill contained an item of $50,000 to purchase a large tract of land in a sub-division of Washington, commonly known for park purposes, but as many people believe, with the purpose of ultimately making it a site for a private family residence for the president.

The idea is to have two residences, an official and a personal one. It is not proposed to deprive the beautiful and historic old White House of the place it retains in the traditions and the affections of the nation. Rather, the object is to preserve it as the heirloom of the nation; an official palace in which the state functions will be held, but more especially to the general public than it is now, and to be used as the official building of the president. The private residence would be two miles north, on the second plateau above the Potomac, in the midst of the finest residence section of the city, and accessible from the present White House by way of a fine boulevard.

The proposed site would be an ideal location for the private residence of the president. There is an ample area of ground, and it is peculiarly susceptible of landscape gardening and architectural adornment.

The expectation is that there will be no immediate demand for planning and new executive residence upon it, and for some time it will be held as a park. However, the idea of taking the executive family's residence away from the White House grows more certain as the years pass. In the first place, the section in which the White House stands is by no means what it was a generation ago. The growth of the city has carried the best residence section farther and farther away from the historic old location. On one side of the White House stands the treasury, and at the other the huge departments, by the state, war and navy departments.

The White House is at best a semi-public building all the time. During certain hours of the day it is opened to visitors, who may wander—provided they are equipped with the easily obtained cards—through a large part of the structure. The part of the structure in which the real privacy of a home may be maintained is restricted, and in many ways unsatisfactory. It is small wonder that the mistress of the White House should yearn, as more than one of them has done, for the privilege of a home which should be secure from intrusion and interference.

AN HONEST DOCTOR ADVISED PE-RU-NA.

MR. SYLVESTER E. SMITH, Room 218, Granite Block, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "Peruna is the best friend a sick man can have."

"A few months ago I came here in a wretched condition. Exposure and dampness had ruined my once robust health. I had catarrhal affections of the bronchial tubes, and for a time there was a doubt as to my recovery."

"My good honest old doctor advised me to take Peruna, which I did and in a short time my health began to improve very rapidly, the bronchial trouble gradually disappeared, and in three months my health was fully restored."

"Accept a grateful man's thanks for his restoration to perfect health."

Pe-ru-na for His Patients.

A. W. Porrin, M. D., 980 Halsey St., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I am using your Peruna myself, and am recommending it to my patients in all cases of catarrh, and find it to be more than you represent. Peruna can be had now of all druggists in this section. At the time I began using it, its name was unknown."

Worse Than Tipping.

From the London Tatler.
The trend of the times makes itself felt in the matter of presents and present-giving. In the days of our grandmothers these tokens of affection were few and far between, and were marked by a stern simplicity. But we have changed all that, and the up to date riot of presents means a deadly drain on our bank balances. The tipping tax is bad enough, but the burden of countless presents can give it points and a beating.

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twentytwo per cent, or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirtyseven per cent, or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium, or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse, but you must see that it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Castoria causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. A. F. Peeler, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria in many cases and have always found it an efficient and speedy remedy."

Dr. E. D. Down, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria in my practice for many years with great satisfaction to myself and benefit to my patients."

Dr. Edward Parrish, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I have used your Castoria in my own household with good results, and have advised several patients to use it for its mild laxative effect and freedom from harm."

Dr. J. B. Elliott, of New York City, says: "Having during the past six years prescribed your Castoria for infantile stomach disorders, I most heartily commend its use. The formula contains nothing deleterious to the most delicate of children."

Dr. C. G. Sprague, of Omaha, Neb., says: "Your Castoria is an ideal medicine for children, and I frequently prescribe it. While I do not advocate the indiscriminate use of proprietary medicines, yet Castoria is an exception for conditions which arise in the care of children."

Dr. J. A. Parker, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Your Castoria holds the esteem of the medical profession in a manner held by no other proprietary preparation. It is a sure and reliable medicine for infants and children. In fact, it is the universal household remedy for infantile ailments."

Dr. H. F. Merrill, of Augusta, Me., says: "Castoria is one of the very finest and most remarkable remedies for infants and children. In my opinion your Castoria has saved thousands from an early grave. I can furnish hundreds of testimonials from this locality as to its efficiency and merits."

Dr. Norman M. Geer, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "During the last twelve years I have frequently recommended your Castoria as one of the best preparations of the kind, being safe in the hands of parents and very effective in relieving children's disorders, while the ease with which such a pleasant preparation can be administered is a great advantage."
