A Taft and Sherman club was organized Tuesday evening by O'Neill republicans, with C. E. Hall president, Dr. E. T. Wilson and W. E. McRobert vice-presidents and Sam Barnard secretary and treasurer. The club starts out with a membership of about 100.

The club has prepared Taft and Sherman headquarters in the Horiskey building a half a block east of the Fidelity bank which will be kept open during the campaign and will be the general center of presidential campaign work in this county.

It is designed to place some one in charge of the headquarters so that visitors can have access thereto at any time.

With an active set of officers, the O'Neill Taft and Sherman club will be a factor in the campaign. All republicans should enroll as members by signing the list in the hands of the secretary.

Recalls Winter of 1884.

E. Downey of Inman was in town Monday and paid this office a pleasant call, renewing for The Frontier. Mr. Downey is one of the pioneers of the county and his visit with us Monday recalled to his mind some experiences of the early days. In January, 1884, he said he came to O'Neill from the settlement over toward the Niobrara river and the day he came in several settlers along the way were plowing. The next day one of the "stem winders" from the northwest familiar to the pioneers of those days but unknown to the people of today, set in and in a short time mercury fell to 30 degrees below. The only place in town where there was any coal to keep a fire was at The Frontier office, and he, with others, found this office a heaven of refuge until the weather moderated.

The Commercial hotel, John O'Neill's popular place, now the Dewey, was the headquarters for the public in those days and Mr. Downey says the guests were froze out on this occasion because there was no coal in town only the little office had in store for its own use. Speaking of the changes since those days Mr. Downey notes that one of the most notable is the moderation in climate. Mr. Downey is one of the pioneers in hay shipping in this county, having shipped the first car of hay that went out of O'Neill.

Butte Gazette: Lee and George Henry left Wednesday for Meade, county, near Sturges, S. D., where they expect to look at land with a view of each taking a homestead. They went overland with a camping outfit, gun, fishing tackle and all the paraphernalia for a fine outing.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Mills was the scene of gaily Monday evening, when a number of young friends of Miss Ada came in and took possession. It was a linen shower in honor of Miss Ada, who is soon to be married to Mr. Ray Coffield, and some very nice pieces of linen were presented to her.

The Methodist choir, composed of some of the best vocal talent among the young people of O'Neill, furnished the music for the services at Page last Sunday evening. Two members of the choir, Ray Coffield and Miss Ada Mills, went to Page on the Burlington evening train, and the others, two carriage loads, drove over during the afternoon. The choir has sung at several churches in the county and expect to visit Chambers in the near future.

Chambers Bugle: Early last Sunday morning the residence of B. G. Hanna was discovered on fire. The flames had gained so great a headway before it was discovered that it could not be put out and the building and part of the contents were destroyed. It is supposed to have caught from a defective flue, and was partly covered by insurance. The loss falls especially heavy as Mr. Hanna has lost several valuable horses this year.

Anton Soukup of Page was a pleasant visitor at this office the first of the week when he became a subscriber to The Frontier. Mr. Soukup does not take to democratic administration of the government and is one among the many who has not forgot the distressing experiences of the American people during the last democratic administration. He says at that time he was working in Montana and had the hardest struggle of his life to hold his job, while hundreds around him subsisted on charity.

Chambers Bugle: On Tuesday morning, the 8th of September, the Chambers band of eighteen pieces started from here to fill their engagement with the managers of the Sioux city fair, followed by the best wishes of our citizens, and a feeling of pride and confidence that the boys will bring credit to themselves and a host of appreciative friends. Seldor has an organization of this kind met with such decided success as has the Chambers band. Much credit is due to the leader, H. F. Dyke, and the never failing perseverance of each and every member.

J. P. Gallagher says he can't see the object of the state paying the salaries of a force of game wardens, with the most flagrant disregard of the game laws going on right under their noses. J. P. likes to fish, but he does it the legal way. One of his favorite resorts is "mud bridge" a short distance east of town where the Northwestern railroad crosses the Elkhorn river. Last Sunday, he says, some fellows from town went down their with a seine and took out a half a barrel of fish. After a fishing hole has been dug with a seine the man with hook and line has little show. But some people are not satisfied with a mess or two at a time—they want all the fish in the river at once.

He came to this country in 1868, since which time he has cared for himself. In 1876 he returned to the old country where he remained for two years and then came back to the land of his adoption.

In 1886 the deceased united with the Swedish Lutheran church and has been an acceptable and worthy member of the same until his death. During the two months of extreme suffering he manifested great patience and never for a moment lost his faith and implicit trust in his Heavenly Father. The remains were brought to his home and the funeral service was held at the Methodist church in Mineola on Thursday, September 10, and was conducted by Rev. T. S. Wrison, pastor of the Methodist church of O'Neill. TWO PETITIONS FILED

Divisionists Start In to Dismember the Empire.

MANY SCHEMES FOR PARTITION

Ort Defeated Agitators Bob Up As Regularly As William Jennings For the Presidency.

The county division talk, emanating from the usual source, has resulted in the filing of two petitions up to date. Atkinson people have been busy for two months trying to promote a division movement, it is said, to make four counties out of the one, but they have filed only one petition, and that is to set off a chunk of the northwest part of the county as "Meadow county." It takes in the territory from just this side of Emmet west to the county line and from about six miles south of Emmet north to the river.

A petition is said to be going the rounds in the Chambers country for a new county of the territory there which Atkinson does not want. Again another petition has been circulated making a county out of all the east portion of Holt from Inman to the east line. Neither of these petitions have been filed with the county clerk and probably will not be because a petitions for a new county to be known as "Jackson county" and cutting into the territory of all the others except Meadow has been filed.

There is strong division sentiment in the towns that would expect to gain a county seat by division, but the tax payers throughout the county who have counted the cost are opposed to division on any lines. It has been four years since a division proposition was up and it was defeated then by over 800. Sentiment is now about as it was then with the probable exception of one or two localities which do not control enough votes to carry it.

Winning Out at Albion.

The O'Neill ball team won the first game in the series at Albion yesterday against Hooper, score 5 to 11. The O'Neill boys got eighteen hits off Hooper's twifler, who has been imported especially for these games.

Thursday's game was also won by the O'Neill team, score 6 to 10.

There is a purse of $100 for each of these games and it is believed the O'Neill boys will carry off all three games. The last is played Friday.

The Atkinson ball team came down last Sunday and again met defeat at the hands of the locals on the O'Neill diamond that afternoon. It was a fairly good game until the eight inning, when the locals, by hits, errors and bases on balls, succeeded in running in nine scores. There were some good plays pulled off by members of each team. Boyle got the glad hand for a good catch of a high one back of third and Sturdevant for Atkinson was applauded for a spectacular catch he made in left field. Score: O'Neill 0 0 0 2 3 0 0 9 x-14 Atkinson 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-0

Hits—O'Neill 11; Atkinson 7. Three base hits—Primley, Wilson and Brophy. Struck out—Primley 4; Kirkland 3. Batteries—O'Neill, Primley and Wilson. Atkinson, Kirkland and Coyne.
