

300 PENNSYLVANIA MINERS CAUGHT IN A BLAZING SHAFT

Most of the Doomed Men Are Americans—A Model Town.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 1.—Shortly after 2 o'clock word was received that the rescue party had succeeded in entering the mine. The rescuers were able to advance but a little way, however, and are attempting to force their way through the debris to where the miners are caught.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 28.—It is reported the mine of the Pittsburg-Buffalo Coal company at Marianna, near here, is on fire as a result of an explosion. Between 200 and 300 miners are said to be in the mine.

At 1 o'clock, an hour and a half after the accident, dense clouds of smoke were pouring from the shafts, but not a sign of a miner had been seen.

A majority of the miners are Americans. Their families are at the mouth of the mine in a state of frenzy.

Marianna was built recently by the Pittsburg-Buffalo Coal company and is said to be the most perfect mining town in the world.

Little Hope for Men.

But little hope is entertained for the men who are entombed as the fan house was partly demolished and the fans stopped for over an hour. With the steady gases generated by the explosion it is hardly thought possible the miners could survive.

Reports from Marianna say there were between 200 and 300 men in the mine. At the general office of the coal company in this city, it is said only about 100 men were in the mine.

Rushing as fast as steam can carry them, special trains from this city and Monongahela are bound for the scene of the disaster. On them are the officials of the coal company and many prominent miners who are considered experts in the work of rescue.

Latest appliances from the new United States laboratory in this city, which were recently before the foreign and American experts for saving life in mine explosions, have been hurried to the scene.

Just Inspected.

According to officials of the coal company, State Mine Inspector Louitt and Mine Foreman Kennedy had just completed a two-day inspection of the mine and had come from the mine only three minutes before the explosion occurred. The surprise of these two men was beyond description.

The force of the explosion can be imagined when it is known that the heavy iron cage which carried the men from the surface to the workings was blown 300 feet away from the mouth of the shaft.

AUSTRIAN TROOPS ROUTED BY RUMOR

Belgrade, Dec. 1.—A Servian official news agency has circulated an extraordinary story from Cetinje, Montenegro, setting forth an alleged panic and flight of a body of Austrian troops that was stationed near the Montenegrin frontier.

According to this recital, which perhaps accounts for the condition of panic observed at Cetinje, on the borders of Vienna and Budapest, the report was suddenly spread among the Austrian forces to the effect that the Montenegrin posts on the Montenegrin frontier had been attacked and routed.

The Austrian garrison at Avtovac and Gazko, totalling some 22,000 men were at once thrown into a state of panic. Officers and men lost their heads and fled in terror in the direction of Nevesinje, abandoning their artillery, ammunition and provisions.

The following day, according to the news agency, the faintly of the reported attack and the rout on the frontier was shown, the panic allayed and the troops returned to their posts.

It is added that two generals in command of troops had been summarily retired.

KAISER'S DOCTORS ORDER HIM TO TAKE A REST

Berlin, Dec. 1.—It has been decided the emperor shall go to Corfu, a Greek island in the Ionian sea, where he owns a splendid castle which belonged to the late Empress Elizabeth of Austria. He will depart as soon as possible after the Christmas festivities of the court at Berlin.

Emperor Wilhelm's cold has passed off, it is currently reported, but he is suffering from obstinate insomnia, brought on by worrying over recent events in Germany. It is rumored also that his defective ear which always becomes painful when he is run down, is causing him great suffering.

CARD SHARPS USE ATHLETIC CLUB HOUSE AS A "SHEARING PEN"

Chicago, Dec. 1.—The Illinois Athletic club house buzzed last night and today with voices of angry members. The charge that the club card room had been used as a shearing pen by a coterie of professional card sharps, who gained access through 15-day visiting cards and other means known only to a few men who were aware of the presence of professionals, raised a storm that will be long in clearing. It will break out at the next meeting of the board of directors, when the question of Manager Clarence Green's resignation is likely to come up.

MILLIONAIRE'S SON LICKS BULLY

Cincinnati, Nov. 28.—Arthur Witt, son of Walter Witt, a wealthy manufacturer, who has been at the training school for yeomen at Norfolk, Va., for six months, came home on a furlough. Glenn Corra, son of a millionaire hotel proprietor who enlisted several weeks ago, is Witt's bunkmate at Norfolk. Corra has won his spurs among his comrades, Witt says, because he beat a bully to "frazzle." Corra then hazed officers to ice water being thrown down his back and he was called a "siss." "He gave his chief tormentor a beating, and he did the job so well, he won everybody's respect," Witt says.

ROOSEVELT'S DEBUT AS OUTLOOK WRITER

President Contributes Article on "The Awakening of China."

New York, Dec. 1.—In an article entitled "The Awakening of China," in the December number of the Outlook, published today, President Roosevelt appears as a contributor to that magazine for the first time since the announcement was made that he would become its associate editor.

After stating that he recently listened to two sermons by missionaries returned from China, the president says:

"The awakening of China is one of the great events of our age. The remedy for 'yellow peril,' whatever that be, is not the repression of life, but the cultivation and direction of life. In my home, we believe that the remedy for popular discontent is not repression, but justice and education. Similarly the best way to avert possible peril, commercial or military, from the great Chinese people is by behaving righteously toward them and by striving to inspire a righteous life among them."

CATCH MAN WHO SHOT AT PRIEST

Toledo, Ohio, Dec. 1.—Joseph Majeski, a Russian 30 years old, seemingly insane, was arrested here last night on suspicion of being the man who twice fired at Rev. J. R. Fielding, of Chicago, October 18.

Chicago, October 18.—Father Fielding was shot at twice in the hallway of the Sunday school of Corpus Christi church, located in a fashionable section of Chicago, on Sunday afternoon, October 18. The stranger who did the shooting and who appeared to be a foreigner, had been seen loitering about the church all day.

His presence in the hallway aroused suspicion that he was a pickpocket. Asked by Father Fielding what he was doing there, he replied, "I'm praying."

As the priest turned his back, the stranger whipped out a revolver and fired. The bullet went wide of the mark, and the would-be assassin, knocking down many children, ran into the hallway, reached the bottom of the stairs. Here he fired again, and after a struggle with the priest, who had pursued him, ran into the street. A crowd followed the man, but he escaped. He was believed to have deliberately plotted the death of the priest.

JUST PLAIN THAW.

New York, Dec. 1.—Mrs. Copley Thaw, formerly Miss Alice Thaw, of Pittsburg, arrived here on the steamer Adriatic from Europe. She married the earl of Yarmouth, but her marriage was annulled in England in February of this year. At that time she dropped her title and took the name of Mrs. Copley Thaw.

Chicago, Dec. 1.—Samuel Shepard Rogers, one time president of the American Newspaper Publishers' association, and for many years business manager of the Chicago Daily News, died today of paralysis.

PRESIDENT AFTER "DESK ADMIRALS"

Gives Reuterdaahl His Views of What's the Matter With the American Navy.

- Do away with civilian control of navy affairs.
- Reduce the power of non-combatant admirals.
- Abolish the navy bureau.
- Let the men who do the fighting and command the ships control their actions.
- Abolish red tape.
- Increase the appropriations for target practice.
- Cut Down reckless naval expenditures inspired by politicians.
- Build more ships.

New York, Dec. 1.—There are the things that President Roosevelt advocates in reference to the sea fighting branch of the military arm of government.

Until they are done the United States will remain unprepared for war and countless thousands will be charged annually to the navy appropriation, while greedy politicians will be the sole beneficiaries.

These points were made by the president in an interview to be published in the December Pearson's magazine from the pen of Henry Reuterdaahl, the journalist who criticized the navy's style of construction and lack of efficiency.

Admirals' Must Be Quiet. Washington, Dec. 1.—That there shall be no further public discussion by naval officers concerning the Newport conference without permission of the president is the message of an order issued by Secretary Daniels by direction of the president. On October 30 the department issued a permit to officers to discuss the work of this conference except so far as it applies to changes to be made on ships to be authorized in the future.

It has now concluded that public discussion of alleged defects in battleships will not serve any good purpose.

PRESIDENT FAURE VICTIM OF POISON?

Paris, Dec. 1.—The prevailing belief in Paris today is that Madame Steinhel, deliberately had her husband and mother assassinated.

Paris, Dec. 1.—Paris, with Mme. Steinhel's confession in connection with the murder of her husband and Mme. Japy, is in the maelstrom of a national political and social scandal more exciting to the volatile populace than the Humbert, Dreyfus and Syveton affairs combined.

The mysterious death of a president of the republic, the late Felix Faure, Parisians believe, is about to be solved, and certain eminent statesmen and high government officials tremble lest the new day reveal them stripped of the last official shred of respectability, prey for the tongues of France.

President Faure died suddenly in the house of M. and Mme. Steinhel, February 16, 1898, and no arrests were made. Late Sunday night, May 30, 1908, Adolph E. Steinhel, a rich and famous painter, and his highly respected and esteemed mother-in-law, Mme. Japy, were strangled to death. The artist's beautiful and accomplished wife in the next room escaped unharmed.

At least one newspaper in Paris openly accused Mme. Steinhel with administering poison to President Faure, and certain eminent statesmen and high government officials tremble lest the new day reveal them stripped of the last official shred of respectability, prey for the tongues of France.

Dead at Steinhel Home. The president had an engagement for the afternoon at the Elysee palace, and when he did not appear, Mlle. Faure, his daughter, searched for him, finally going to Mme. Steinhel's home in the Rue de Van Gard. There she found her father seated in an armchair, dead. President Faure's hands were clenched in Mme. Steinhel's hair.

From the household maid recovered from the shock, the body of the president was conveyed from the house through the back streets of Paris to the Elysee palace, and there the formal announcement was made of death by apoplexy.

Mme. Steinhel confessed that her attempt to find the assassins of her husband and Mme. Japy, and the innumerable fantastic clues furnished the police and the newspapers, were only a desperate farce to conceal the real author of the crime, whom she knew.

Shaffer, publisher of the Chicago Evening Post, and formerly at the head of the street car system of this city, announced today that he had purchased the newspaper properties embraced in the Star league and composed of the Indianapolis Star, the Terre Haute Star and Muncie Star. He refused to state the consideration.

LAMPHERE FOUND GUILTY OF ARSON

Mrs. Guinness' Hired Man Sent to Prison for Not More Than 21 Years.

La Porte, Ind., Nov. 30.—Ray Lamphere, charged with the murder of Mrs. Belle Guinness and her three children by setting fire to the Guinness house April 28, was found guilty of arson by the jury.

Within five minutes after the verdict was reported, Judge Richter had sentenced the defendant to the state penitentiary at Michigan City for an indeterminate term of from two to 21 years.

Judge Richter expressed his thanks to the jury for its careful and conscientious consideration of the case. Prosecutor Smith also thanked the jury.

Following the withdrawal of the jurors, Judge Richter instructed Lamphere to stand up. The prisoner's face still looked haggard and his eyes were downcast. He held his hands before him, and then, just as the church bells in the city were ringing, Judge Richter asked him if he had any reasons to give why sentence should not be pronounced. He replied slowly, but distinctly: "I have none."

With that, Judge Richter sentenced him to the state prison in Michigan City for an indeterminate term of from two to 21 years, fined him $5,000 and disfranchised him for five years. The court then instructed the sheriff to return him to his cell.

Mrs. Guinness Dead. All the members of the jury made the following signed statement: "We, the undersigned jurors, impaneled and sworn in the case of the state of Indiana vs. Ray Lamphere, hereby say that it was our judgment in the consideration of this case that the adult body found in the ruins of the fire was that of Mrs. Belle Guinness, and that the case was decided by us on an entirely different proposition."

LaPorte, Ind., Nov. 30.—Before Ray Lamphere, under sentence from two to 21 years, today was taken to the state's prison in Michigan City, to begin his term, he received a visit from his aged mother. Though not with him during the trial, she came here from South Bend this morning in order to say good bye to him and to cheer him up.

The meeting of mother and son was a pathetic one, the mother breaking down and crying as she clasped her son in her arms. The prisoner bore up well, though there was a mistiness about the eyes which he could not keep back.

Attorney Worden announced this morning he would make a motion Monday before Judge Richter for a new trial, and upon the same being denied, he expected to perfect an appeal.

The transcript alone in the case will cost over $500, and as Lamphere's family has no means, his friends by subscription have provided his defense. The general opinion is that the appeal will never be perfected.

ONE MARRIAGE OUT OF EACH DOZEN ENDS IN DIVORCE COURT

Washington, Nov. 30.—One marriage out of every 12 in the United States terminates in the divorce court. Divorce is two and one-half times as common in this country as it was 40 years ago.

Illinois grants more divorces than any other state in the union. These are the chief facts set forth in a compendium of statistics of marriage and divorce which have just been issued by the bureau of census, department of commerce and labor. The statistics are the result of a full gathering of figures for every state in the union for the period covered being from 1887 to 1906.

The total number of marriages recorded for the 20-year period from 1887 to 1906 was 12,832,044. The total number of divorces for the period was 945,625.

BALKAN WAR CLOUDS AGAIN ARE "MENACING"

Vienna, Nov. 30.—Various reports, all seeming harmonious with each other, create the belief that the Balkan trouble has come to a head and that war is near. The situation is in no wise better. According to information, the government has confiscated four Vienna newspapers for reporting movements of troops, particularly at Zentia.

It is stated in diplomatic quarters that the gravest difficulties lie in the direction of the Austro-Russian disagreement and the probability of an alliance between Turkey, Montenegro and Servia.

30,000 PEOPLE ATTEND FUNERAL OF A PRIEST

Shenandoah, Pa., Nov. 30.—A most remarkable tribute to a priest was paid today at the funeral of Rev. H. F. Rely, rector of the Roman Catholic church here for 40 years. Twenty-five colliers, employing more than 16,000 men and boys, are shut down to enable the workers to pay their respects to the dead priest.

Public schools here, at Mahanoy City and other surrounding communities closed. All business in Shenandoah was suspended. More than 200 priests and fully 30,000 people attended the funeral services.

AMERICAN MINISTER TO NICARAGUA RESIGNS

Managua, Nov. 30.—John Gardner Coolidge, American minister to Nicaragua, today tendered his resignation. It is reported here Mr. Coolidge took this step because of disapproval of his government in dealing with internal affairs at Nicaragua.

Washington, Nov. 27.—It is authoritatively stated here that nothing Mr. Coolidge has done while in Nicaragua has met with official disapproval except tendering his resignation, which has been accepted with regret, for it is said at the state department he has made an excellent official.

MRS. CLARK GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Jury Returns Verdict of Second Degree Manslaughter in Clark Murder Case.

Vermillion, S. D., Nov. 28.—"We, the jury, find the defendant guilty of manslaughter in the second degree."

This is the verdict rendered this morning at 9 o'clock by the jury which had deliberated since 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Clark murder case. This is the mildest degree of crime which the jury could determine under the indictment, and carries with it a penalty from 10 days to four years' imprisonment, at the discretion of the court. The usual notice was given for a motion for a new trial.

While practically nothing is known of what transpired in the jury room during the night, the fact that the deliberations covered a period of 14 hours indicates that there was a material difference of opinion that had to be harmonized. It is rumored that a number of the jurors stood out for a heavier degree of crime, inclining to a first degree manslaughter verdict. Such a verdict would have been more in harmony with the opinion of the temper of the community in which the horrible tragedy occurred.

Story of the Crime. The crime shocked the people of Clay and adjoining counties. It occurred on the afternoon of August 19. It is undisputed that when the deed was committed, Clark sat in a chair in the home of his former wife, reading a paper of which he had given her a part, while she was lying on the couch. She got up deliberately and went to her bed room, secured one of her revolvers, and returning to the room where her divorced husband sat, shot him in the side. He made his way to a neighbors' and died there the following morning. The defense was that he had just a few minutes previous to the shooting violated her person. Clark's ante-mortem statement was that while his wife was there, there had been no restraint on her part and that the act had taken place repeatedly since his return to her home, about the first of July.

In the trial, allusions were made to insanity of a temporary kind on the woman's part, but expert testimony was not utilized to prove it. Sentiment in the locality where the principals lived and where the crime was committed has been from the start strongly in favor of the victim and against the defendant.

WAGAR UNDER BONDS FOR EMBEZZLEMENT

Sioux Falls, S. D., Nov. 28.—More trouble is in store for Anson Wagar, former United States commissioner at Dallas, who early in October was removed from that office by Judge Garland, of the United States court in this city.

Wagar at that time was charged with having used his commission as postal frank on postal cards containing printed matter of a private nature. Formal charge was made against him by the United States authorities, and he entered a plea of guilty and was compelled to pay a fine of $300 for the offense.

Wagar was re-arrested yesterday by Deputy United States Marshal Edwards on the train in the southern part of the state and brought to Sioux Falls on a charge of embezzlement of funds belonging to homesteaders in the ceded portion of the Rosebud Indian reservation in Gregory county.

Crime Against Claim Holders. The funds alleged to have been embezzled by him range in the aggregate from $3,000 to $5,000 and had been placed in his hands as commissioner for the purpose of enabling him to pay the purchase price of the land for the homesteaders and also final proof fees.

Wagar, when taken before United States Commissioner D. J. Conway this morning, waived his preliminary hearing. The bond for his appearance before the next federal grand jury was fixed at $5,000.

Wagar disclaims all intention of retaining the money placed in his hands as an official of the government, alleging that there was delay in completing the proofs and turning over to the United States district land office. He further claims that he was on his way to the land office at Mitchell with a number of the proofs when he was arrested.

EXPERT YEGGMEN TAKEN IN FIGHT

Sioux Falls, S. D., Nov. 28.—An important capture in the persons of three yeggmen was made at an early hour this morning by Night Captain Johnson and Officers Webb and Collins, of the local police department.

The prisoners refused to give their names, and their identity is yet unknown. The three yeggmen became involved in a dispute with hackmen and this attracted the attention of the police to them. It is stated that there were five of the yeggmen in all, and if this is correct, two of them are yet at liberty. The police believe they have sufficient evidence to send all three prisoners to the penitentiary for long terms.

Two of the prisoners were captured one after another, a desperate hand to hand fight with Night Captain Johnson and Officer Webb. One of the two succeeded in drawing a 44-caliber revolver, and Night Captain Johnson was compelled to beat him into submission, after disarming him. A hand to hand fight occurred just after Night Captain Johnson had turned one of his prisoners over to Officer Webb. Both men defied the police to arrest them, but met their Waterloo and were dragged to the city jail, fighting nearly every foot of the way.

The third yeggman was captured by Officer Collins just after his partner had shot at and narrowly missed hitting Chris Anderson and Bert Clopp. The man shot between these two men, the bullet and powder scattering about his face, and he fled up the alley, but was afterwards captured.

In the pockets of the prisoners were found quantities of nitro-glycerin, several dynamite caps with fuses attached, steel drills and other articles which go to make up expert cracksmen's outfit.

"SPITE FENCE" ON CHICAGO PROPERTY

Chicago, Nov. 28.—Mrs. Albert S. Tyler, 5401 East End ave., is spending several hundred dollars in the erection of an ornamental spite fence between her property and that of E. V. Witt, who is accused of building a flat on adjoining lot. As a result of the erection of the brick wall Mrs. Witt threatens to sell her property to a negro. The wall at the sidewalk is about 10 feet high and increases in height as it goes back to the rear of the lot.

CIVIL WAR HERO HONORED BY THE NATION'S LEADERS
