J. P. GALLAGHER

Shallenberger Slices More Pie.
From our Lincoln Correspondent.—Towards the close of the first week in December Governor Shallenberger, no doubt with the thoughts of Christmas cheer in his mind, distributed another package to the faithful of the state. Among those named in the list of appointments given out on Thursday last were the following, each with the value of the prize awarded:

Deputy Labor Commissioner—Will M. Maupin, Lincoln; salary, $1,500 per year.

Deputy Oil Inspector, Second District—T. J. O'Connor Omaha; salary, $1,200 per year.

Chief Game Warden—Dan Geilus, Omaha; salary, $1,800 per year.

State Veterinarian—Dr. Paul Juckness, South Omaha; salary, $1,800 per year.

Colonels on the Governor's Staff—Sophus Neble, Omaha; Thomas Byrne, Omaha; E. W. Bennett, Omaha; P. C. Marshall, Omaha; W. R. Murphy, South Omaha; L. P. Utterback, Nebraska City; James H. Quigley, Valen-time; Charles Leburn, Milligan; N. H. Wells, Hebron; G. G. Thompson, Alma.

Chief Oil Inspector—Arthur F. Mullen, O'Neill; salary, $2,000 per year.

Deputy Oil Inspector, First District—E. E. Taromn, Auburn; salary, $1,200 per year.

Deputy Fish commissioner—W. J. O'Brien, South Bend, salary, $1,500 per year.

Deputy Game Warden—Isaac King, Superior; salary, $900 per year.

Deputy Food and Drug Inspector—L. J. Tuel, Lincoln; salary, $3 per day when employed.

Steward Norfolk Asylum—Herman Gerecke, Norfolk; salary, $1,500 per year and living expenses for family.

Steward Lincoln Asylum—Horace F. Bishop, Lincoln; salary, $1,500 per year and living expenses for family.

Steward Hastings Asylum—S. E. Gridley, Saunders County; salary, $1,500 per year and living expenses for family.

Present Labor Commissioner Ryder has made an important and valuable part of his duties the collection of agricultural statistics throughout the state, which has made his department of unusual value to the farming interests. The new labor commissioner, W. H. Maupin, has announced privately to friends that he expects to make his bureau more distinctly labor bureau and will give a larger attention than heretofore to the matters of interest to union labor organizations and their members. He will not discard the farm statistics section, but it is understood from this that it is to receive a briefer consideration than has heretofore been given it.

Thoroughness the Keynote to Success

The last theatrical season has witnessed the failure of more female stars, the wrecking of more theatrical organizations than any in the history of the modern stage. The great majority of these organizations that have gone to the wall are repertoire companies and the secret of it all is—not the money panic—but the rotten plays. One company that has weathered the storm and prospered, increased its stock in trade and made good where thousands failed is the Chase-Lister Theatre Company, to be seen here three nights commencing Thursday, Dec. 17th. Their secret of success, where others failed is and has been modern, clean and successful productions and a high priced competent company of actors. Big matinee Saturday of "Cinderella."
