sweet,
A most delicious compound, with ingredients complete!
But if as on occasion the heart and mind are sour,
It has no great significance, it loses half its power.

Something made of nothing, and never Something made of nothing, and never twice the same,
Though 'tis known in every country where love has had a name;
It is clearly meant for giving, though 'tis sometimes bought and sold,
And, like coffee and potatoes, is not so good when coid.

It oft appeases discord when words have failed to please,
Whether bestowed caressingly or given just to tease;
For a laugh will often save one from doing something worse,
And the lips that taste this sweetness are seldom heard to curse.

'Tis the strangest, oddest mixture, this something made of naught, Which is never seen or handled, although 'tis often caught;
Which will not spoil in keeping, whatever be the clime,
For this something made of nothing will stand the test of time.

What do you want 15 cents for?"
"What do I want 15 cents for?" replied the leading man bitterly. "I want it for a shave, that's what I want it for. I can't play Romeo with five days' black beard on my face." "Oh, well," said the manager, "you wen't get no 15 cents. We'll change the bill to 'Othello.'"

Money Made in Live Stock in Cen tral Canada.

It was the first week of May when I got my tent pitched, but the farmers all around had finished putting in their crops, so I only got fifteen acres broke and seeded. They advised me, as it was late, not to put in much wheat, so I put in five acres wheat and ten acres oats, one-half acre potatoes and vegetables. All kinds of vegetables grow well up there-sweet corn, tomatoes. onions, carrots, peas, beans, cabbage. My wheat yielded about 20 bushels per United acre, for which I got 76 cents, others got 80 cents; oats threshed 35 bushels per acre, for which I got 35 cents per bushel. You see I was three weeks late getting them in; still I was satis-

In fact, farmers turn their work horses out for the winter and they come in fresh and fat in the spring. Cattle live out seven or eight months. They mow the prairie grass and stack it for winter and give oat straw. My neighbors sold steers at $40 each, and any kind of a horse that can plow, from $150 up. I raised sixty chickens and five pigs, as pork, chickens, butter and eggs pay well and always a good market for anything a man raises, so I have every reason to be thankful, besides at the end of three years I get my patent for homestead. I heard of no homestead selling for less than $2,000, so where under the sun could an old man or young man do better?

Only Half Happy. During a decidedly stormy passage to New York, Israel Zangwill, the play-wright and novelist, said one night in the smoking room of the steamship: It is pleasant to cross the Atlantic, but this bad weather is mingling a good deal of discomfort with our pleasure, Life is usually, though, like that —pleasure and pain—half and half. "Words cannot describe the terrible eczema I suffered with. It broke out on my head and kept spreading until it covered by whole body. I was almost a solid mass of sores from head to foot. I looked more like a piece of raw beef than a human being. The pain and agony I endured seemed more than I could bear. Blood and pus cozed from the great sore on my scalp, from under my finger nails, and nearly all over my body. My ears were so crusted and swollen I was afraid they would break off. Every hair in my head fell out. I could not sit down, for my clothes would stick to the raw and bleeding flesh, making me cry out from the pain. Why does this being we call a "gentleman" wear around his neck a band of spotless whiteness and unbearable stiffness, at his wrists similar instruments of torture, and before his chest a rigidly starched linen plate? No one outside of a madhouse would call these articles of apparel agreeable. There is for the custom no reason at all drawn from comfort, hygiene or usefulness. There is, however, the ghost of a dead reason. Once upon a time a "gentleman" was presumed to do no work, man" was presumed to do no work, and he dressed to show this, by putting on these visible signs that he never soiled his hands, sweated his neck, or bent his noble back. It matters not that we no longer believe in this definition of a gentleman; we did believe it once; its ghost rules on. There should be no misunderstanding on the part of the student body or the general public as to the attitude of the authorities of the University of Illinois on the subject of hazing.

It is a rule of the board of trustees hat students found guilty of hazing shall be dismissed from the university Since this rule went into effect, all students who have been clearly proven guilty of hazing have been dismissed. Hazing is a violation of good manners and of the right of individual liberty. It is a provocation of public dis-order. Public opinion throughout the state has very properly set its seal of condemnation upon it. On all accounts condemnation upon it. On all accounts it must be put under the ban of the university. In its milder forms it is a nonsensical and almost idiotic form of amusement, unworthy of the support or favor of any sensible university student. It was looked upon as a comparatively slight offense perhaps 20 years ago in small institutions. It is today alto-gether unworthy of the traditions and reputation of a national institution such as this has become. In its coarser forms, hazing is a vulgar, brutal, always demoralizing and sometimes dangerous form of sport, which the university cannot countenance or tolerate. It naturally leads to reprisals and may thus become a source of serious disorder within and without the university. In its worst forms, which, fortunately, have not prevailed here, it may, not inaptly, be compared with night-riding, white-capping and other similar forms of outrageous in-

Surely these are reasons enough not only to forbid its existence at the university, but to use every legitimate means to stamp it out.
