The hearing of the case of the state against Robert J. McAllister charged with adultery, set for hearing Tuesday in county court, was continued until Saturday. The information, prepared by the county attorney, is sworn to by Joseph Skidmore, Mrs. Lena Skidmore being also named in the case but not made a defendant. All concerned reside at Atkinson.

Minnie Conarro has begun suit for divorce in district court against Orlando Conarro. They were married in this state November 8, 1905, and in March of the next year the plaintiff alleges the defendant abandoned her and has since refused to live with or provide her maintenance. She asks for the restoration of her maiden name, Minnie Mryns.

Hubert Menish arrived in the city last Wednesday from Duluth, Minn., having come to see his brother Arthur who had been taken to a hospital a week previous and where he died on Friday. He was unable to get to Omaha before his brother sank into a state of unconsciousness and hence did not see him until the remains were brought to O'Neill. It is fifteen years since Mr. Menish left here as a boy of seventeen and has not been back until now.

Railroad men about the Burlington yards complain of much trouble with boys climbing on moving cars. Only for the danger in it they would not care how much the boys ride, but they express fears that some boy will yet be killed unless a stop can be put to the practice. They say they remonstrate with the boys and warn them of the danger but still every time a train pulls in a dozen or more boys congregate around and catch onto the cars as the switching is being done or a train being made up. There is always danger for old or Jess Hancock was up from Chambers last Saturday putting in the day selling nursery stock. Mr. Hancock is teaching near Chambers but finds a little time to help along forestry and orcharding.

With the passing of the water and drying of the mud it is a good time to inaugurate a clean-up about town, not only on private premises but the streets and alleys which have got into deplorable condition.

If the number of traveling men on the road indicates anything, business prospects are flattering in north Nebraska. There are anywhere from ten to twenty knights of the grip in O'Neill every day.

The girls who took part in the medal contest here about a month ago and subsequently at Page, went to Inman last Friday where a contest was held that evening. The medal was awarded to Miss Dot Wolverton.

Harry Bowen and family departed yesterday for South Omaha, where they will reside in the future. Mr. Bowen was formerly a resident of South Omaha, connected with a coal and ice company and he will re-engage in the same business.

George Bowen, who recently retired from the management of the Dewey hotel, has fitted up a moving picture show and in company with his wife start west next week for the Pacific coast country. They expect to give picture exhibitions along the route.

John Brady was down from Atkinson last Sunday. John says things will be booming in the burg upon our west this summer. The citizens there are figuring upon a new public school building and are also contemplating putting in a sewerage system.

The prize fight at Crawford on the night of March 17 between Mustain and Dewey, resulted in a victory for Dewey, the colored man. In the seventeenth round he put Mustain to sleep. It is now claimed Dewey will go after some of the top notchers in the pugilistic game.

Spring opened officially Sunday but not until Monday was the real thing apparent. The weather developed a temperature to allow shirt sleeves by Tuesday, but Wednesday a cold wave from the north put a crimp in the robin's song and reminded us that March is not over yet.

F. E. Clark, manager of the creamery, was nearly put out of commission Tuesday by a kick from a horse. Mr. Clark was just a convenient distance behind the fractious animal to receive the full force of the blow which struck him on the left leg, bruising it severely but not breaking the bone.

Minnie Conarro has begun suit for divorce in district court against Orlando Conarro. They were married in this state November 8, 1905, and in March of the next year the plaintiff alleges the defendant abandoned her and has since refused to live with or provide her maintenance. She asks for the restoration of her maiden name, Minnie Mryns.

They say they remonstrate with the boys and warn them of the danger but still every time a train pulls in a dozen or more boys congregate around and catch onto the cars as the switching is being done or a train being made up. There is always danger for old or young climbing onto a moving train but it usually takes a severe and tragic lesson to teach them of it.

The legislature continues in session but the pay for the members of the lower house stopped Tuesday and those of the senate today. It is probable adjournment will now be hastened.

The beginners' class will be formed in the public schools Monday, April 5th. Parents who have children of school age will please take notice and have them enter school at that time. —C. A. Gorby, Supt.

Are you going to buy a cream separator this spring? We have the agency for the DeLavel and can give you a good deal. If you have an old separator you want to trade for a new one call and see McGinnis Creamery Co., F. E. Clark, Manager. 40-1

W. J. Carleton of Leigh, Nebr., was an O'Neill visitor Monday. Mr. Carleton is a lawyer and real estate dealer and recently bought a quarter section of land near Amella. He went out to look as his purchase Tuesday and expects to spend a day or two among the lakes shooting ducks.

J. H. Meredith departed yesterday over the Burlington for Sioux City. Joe gave it out quietly to his friends that he was going from there to Delaware and might take a notion to float across the Atlantic on a bale of hay and pay Europe an unexpected visit.

James Coyle returned Tuesday from a trip to Bonesteel and Herrick, S. D., where he went last Sunday with the view of trading some property he owns in Bonesteel for land but did not make the trade. Mr. Coyle says there is a great rush toward the Rosebud just now.

Mrs. John Menish of Hoquiam, Wash., accompanied by her little niece, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Menish of the same place, arrived in the city last week and will spend two or three months here. Mrs. Menish is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Colbert.

Yesterday at the family home seven miles northeast of town occurred the funeral services of Albert L., the 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Carley, conducted by Rev. T. S. Watson of this city. The remains were buried in the O'Neill cemetery. The family lately moved here from Iowa.

A city ordinance forbids the discharge of firearms within the city limits. The Frontier hastens to move an amendment authorizing the bringing into action of either infantry or artillery if your neighbor's dog starts a barking carousal at night and you are just "dead" for a night's sleep.

A team of horses belonging to R. H. Mills, hitched to a light wagon, ran away yesterday afternoon, starting from Douglas street and running down Fourth and turning west toward home. No one was injured though many people were on the street and one man who tried to stop them had a narrow escape from being knocked over.

W. R. Butler went over to the Rosebud country Sunday to look over the country with the view of investing in some of the lands not filed on that will be offered for sale by the government. Extensive tracts of rough and unfillable land remain in the Rosebud country not taken by homesteaders in the country opened some four years ago and this will be offered for sale by the government to the highest bidders but not less than $1 an acre.

The lecture billed for next Sunday evening by Mrs. Marie Keough of Chicago promises to be an interesting one as she ranks among the ablest speakers in the country. The lecture will be given in the opera-house, commencing at 8:30, and no admission fee will be charged. Mrs. Keough is one of the prominent Catholic temperance workers, and was formerly a member of the board of education of Chicago. She has spoken in nearly all the large cities of the country, both on temperance and kindred subjects.

J. A. Cowperthwaite and Sam Wolf have undertaken to introduce the popular English game bird, the pheasant, in the country, and have four of the birds, three hens and a cockrel, for a start. The birds were shipped in last week from York and are now at Mr. Wolf's place where they will be kept in a yard for a time and then given the liberty of the groves and fields and it is hoped that no one will try their marksmanship on them for a few seasons until they multiply in numbers sufficient to furnish shooting. Hence people living down the river in that community want it understood that pheasant shooting will not be allowed for a season or two yet, as they are protected by a stringent game law. It is said that the pheasant multiplies rapidly and flourishes well in this climate.

The total rainfall of this country, including snow and that on water areas, was given as 215,000,000,000 cubic feet per year. Half or more is evaporated. About one-third flows into the sea. The remaining one-sixth is either consumed or absorbed. Of the 70,000,000,000 cubic feet flowing annually into the sea, less than 5 per cent is used for power. It is estimated that 85 to 95 per cent of the volume is wasted in freshets or destructive floods. There are in the United States proper 232 streams navigated for an aggregate of 25,115 miles, and as much more is navigable by improvement.

F. W. Phillips was in from Star yesterday. Mr. Phillips made a trip to western Canada in February with the view of going into a land agency proposition and returned enthusiastic over the proposition. Frank says "its fine" and that there are splendid opportunities in that section of the dominion. He will leave with his family for there next Monday. They will reside in a new town about twelve miles north of the Montana line and Mr. Phillips will superintend the cultivation of a large tract of land and become the resident agent of a land company composed mostly of Sioux City men. Mr. Phillips says he does not expect to leave Holt county permanently and will keep his holdings in the Star country, expecting to return there some day.

Arthur Menish died at the Presbyterian hospital in Omaha last Friday afternoon, the remains being brought home Saturday for interment. The passing away of Arthur is another testimony to the uncertainty of life. Naturally strong and vigorous and in the prime of manhood his taking off was the least expected previous to his illness. About three weeks previous to his death he was taken down with a severe cold in the head which developed into a serious case and he was taken to the hospital ten days previous to his death. It was found necessary to perform two or three operations and it was thought for a time that he would recover, but meningitis developed and was the direct cause of his death. Three hospital specialists worked on the case and resorted to every expedient known to medical science, but without avail.

Miss Jennie Kane of this city, who has about completed a course as nurse at the hospital, attended him throughout and both doctors and nurse say that Arthur suffered the most excruciating pain which he bore with a

YOU might be interested to know---we'd like to have you know---why we make a special feature of Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes

It's because we want to do the best we can for our own business; we're selfish about it, you see. We know that we'll do the best we can for ourselves by doing the best we can for you.

The best we can do for you is to buy what will give you the biggest possible value for your clothes money. When it comes to that we have the whole market before us; we can buy and sell any clothes we want to; manufacturers welcome our orders. We know what's in the market. We want Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes because they're the best clothes made: best for you to wear, best for us to sell.

They have style that's distinctive, different: they're made always of all-wool fabrics, they're perfectly tailored, they fit accurately. We feel that we're doing a man a favor to sell him such clothes: we're making a profit for him as well as well as for ourselves. We stand back of them, confidently knowing they'll satisfy: and ready, if they dont, to make good.

That's why we sell Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes: that's why you'll buy them. That's why we call our store the home of Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes.
