RANSOMED FROM KIDNAPERS; HAPPY REUNION WITH PARENTS

WILLIE WHITLA

JAMES T. WHITLA

Cleveland, Ohio, March 25.—James P. Whitia and son "Billy" left this morning for their home in Sharon, Pa. They were escorted to the railroad station by a cheering crowd of people. The kidnaped youngster was clasped in the arms of his father from the moment they left the hotel until they reached

Mr. Whitia today was not inclined to discuss the matter of ransom or the plans of the family in dealing with the kidnapers.

"That will be up to the police," he said, "and as I live and breathe, I am mot worrying over their movements."
Ten thousand dollars ransom for Billy Whitla was paid to his kidnapers in a little grocery store at East Fiftythird street and Standard avenue at I p. m. Monday.

"Hayes" Takes Package. The money was received by an ordi-narily dressed workingman who gave his name as Hayes. He picked up the package filled with yellow backed bills, package filled with yellow backed bills, smiled nonchalantly and left.

Mrs. Bernard Hendrickson, temporarily in charge of the store for her mother, Mrs. Margaret Uhle, forgot to notice which way the man went.

The Hayes man stepped into the store at noon and asked if a package had been left there for him. Mrs. Hendrickson, without noticing his appearance, told him there had not been. An hour later a prosperous looking man, who said his name was Williams, came in with a small package in his pocket.

"Williams" Brought It. "Williams" Brought It.

"He said he wanted to leave it for a man named Hayes," said Mrs. Hend-rickson. "He asked if Hayes had been here. She said he had. Williams left the package and not two minutes later Hayes came in and asked: 'Is my package here?' age here?"
"I told him it was. He smiled, and without another word he took it from where it lay exposed on top of the clgar case and went away

Mrs. Uhle has conducted the store for 17 years. She was not in the store when the passage of the ransom took place. Only her daughter, wife of an employe of the natural gas company, was a witness to the transfer.

BOY TELLS THE REPORTERS

childish prattle, "I have been buggy riding, been in a big white house that looked like ours. I have been treated nice, and had lots of good things to "One man, tall and with a black mustache, came to the school house Thursday, and told my teacher, Mrs. Anna Lewis, that you wanted me at your office. I went out to a buggy with him. I got in and then he got in. We rode away. On the way down town he asked me to address a letter to you. I did this and dropped it in a mail box. He was very kind.

"We went from Sharon to Warren.

a mall box. He was very kind.

"We went from Sharon to Warren.
We had the nicest trip. The man, who was the same man who brought me to the car line tonight, was nice to me. He tucked the robe about my legs and made me comfortable. It was a nice ride, and I enjoyed it.

"When we got to a place the man said was Warren the man left the buggy in the road. Then we got on what I think was an electric car. I don't just remember what it was, but it was something like a street car.

don't just remember what it was, but it was something like a street car. I don't know what became of the horse and buggy. I was sleepy when we got on the car and I slept much of the way to the place where we were going. "When we got to a town that the man called New Castle he took me to a big building and turned me over to a woman. She was good to me. The house, or whatever the building was, was a clean place. There was a man there who I think was a doctor. He looked like a doctor, because he had

Early in the morning we went back to the hospital. I heard one of the men say. "There will be nothing doing tonight, I guess.'

SMOKING CAR TURNS

Yuma, Ariz., March 25.—Passenger train number 9, westbound on the Southern Pacific, was wrecked 300 miles west of Yuma today, but no one was seriously injured. The smoking car is reported to have turned turtle.

Ottumwa, Ia., March 25.—Walter Pitcher, aged 45, suicided at his home at Floris, yesterday by shooting himself. Drink was the cause.

MEXICAN ARCHIVES BURNED.

Three hundred thousand concrete cross ties have been ordered for the Italian state railways.

"I might have been right here in Cleveland, though, papa, for some of the town I saw tonight from the car looked like the place we went to Saturday night.

"They told me all along that I was just taking a little vacation. I was not going to be hurt, they told me. So I just acted nice and had a good ime playing around the hospital. I knew I would get back home all right and just supposed 'Mr. Jones' was one of my best friends, who was treating me nice because you wanted him to treat me that way, papa, dear."

to treat me that way, papa, dear."

The boy told the story slowly. At times he stopped and kissed and hugged the father. His father sat as if in a trance. The music of his boy's voice seemed to charm him.

DRAMATIC STORY OF BOY'S RETURN BY THE KIDNAPERS

Cleveland, Ohio, March 25.—Little Willie Whitla, who has caused the police of the entire country endless worry since he was kidnaped from school in Sharon last Thursday, was returned to his father at the Hollenden hotel here at 8:30 o'clock last night. In compliance with an agreement entered into heaven the kidnaped boy's father and between the kidnaped boy's father and an agent of the kidnapers here the boy was placed on the street car on the was placed on the street car on the outskirts of the city and started to the hotel shortly after 8 o'clock. Two boys, G. W. Ramsey and Edward Mahoney, recognized the latter on the car, and taking him in charge conducted him to his father, who was in waiting, according to a prearranged plan which he had followed at the dictation of the kidnapers. The boy wandered about kidnapers. The boy wandered about the hotel lobby unannounced for sev-Cleveland, March 25.—Willie told his story as best he could. It was not a lucid story in every way, but it was romantic from his childish lips. He could not remember every place he had been, but he gave an idea of his travels so that it would be possible for the police to cover part of the trail made by the kidnapers.

"Papa," said the boy in a tone of childish prattle, "I have been buggy guise the lad. He wore a pair of smoked glasses and a large tan cap, which was pulled down over his ears, and the father said it would have been difficult to have recognized the boy in such a garb had he passed him on the Willie is in perfect health. He says he has been well treated and ever since his capture has been constantly indoors. He believes he was taken from Sharon to Warren and thence to New Castle, Pa. In his opinion, ex-pressed in a happy schoolboy way, that he was in Ashtabula on Saturday night at the time his father was to leave his $10,000 in Flatiron park.

Shortly after noon Mr. Whitla left
Sharon for Cleveland. He was unaccompanied. His immediate family and the private detectives he apprised of the proposed secret meeting, but in-sisted that he make the trip alone. Every one of them was warned that he must be allowed to go unheeded and no attempt at the capture of the kid-napers be made.

Whitla was certain that if he spoiled the plans of his son's captors last night he would never see the lad again. His he would never see the lad again. His experience at Ashtabula served as a warning. About 2 o'clock in the afternoon he went to a candy store in the east end. With him he carried the $19,000, expecting that it would be demanded of him there. He was met by a woman, who detailed to him the terms of the kidnapers. With all the eagerness of a distracted parent Whitla agreed to them immediately. Half an hour later he returned to the Hollenden and awaited developments.

whiskers, short whiskers.

"The people in the hospital told me to do just what they told me to do. If I did not obey they said they would take me to a place called the pest house, where folks that have smallpox have to go. It was not a clean or pretty place, they told me. I would have been good, anyway, but when I thought there was a chance to go to the pest house I did not do a thing I should not have done.

"On Saturday night I was taken away from the hospital and I think away from the hospital away from the hospital and I think away from the hospital away from the hospital the told awaited developments.

Back to Hotel.

His entrance to the hotel.

His entrance to the h men and the crowds of curious people men and the crowds of curious people, who had learned that he was in the city. Emerging from his room he walked up and down the hall on the second floor with hands clasped across his breast. Then, unable to stand the suspense longer, he went into the lobby and seated himself in a chair. A few newspaper men walked over to talk with him but he refused to converse with him, but he refused to converse with them.

"In heaven's name, men, do not say anything to me; I am on the verge of nervous prostration," he said. "I expect the boy will be back tonight, but I cannot say positively whether he will be returned safe and sound. Do not ask me to reveal the alleged settlement. That right rule all of the ment. That might ruin all of the plans."

For more than an hour Whitla waited in the lobby smoking cigars and muttering to himself. Detective Perkins sat near him and pleaded with him to have patience. A friend approached and Whitia retired into a corner of the hotel and talked to him. He was very nervous. He was very nervous.

Boy Starts Home.

In the meantime little Willie, the kidnaped boy, feeling comparatively safe in the hands of his kidnapers, was be-ing prepared for his return to his father. The woman at the candy store father. The woman at the candy store had done her duty. She communicated with the captors of the boy and told them that the father had made no attempt to trap them. The kidnapers were satisfied. But Whitla, sr., declines to name the woman in charge of the confectionery store, and almost dares the police to locate her. So the boy was brought from his hiding place—where it was no one knows—to a car line in the east end of the city, which would bring him into town quickly. quickly.

The kidnaper, according to Willie, was cheerful enough. The mysterlous one and the youngster skipped in schoolboy fashion toward the trolley jesting in the meantlime. A few rods from the car line the man stopped the from the car line the man stopped the boy. Pulling a pair of smoked glasses from his pocket he adjusted them to the lad's head, with the remark: "You'll look better in these." Besides the black cap worn over the boy's ears, a slip which Willie was to hand to the conductor was put in the boy's pocket. It read: "Send this boy to the Hollenden hotel double quick."

With all arrangements made and his

the Hollenden hotel double quick."

With all arrangements made and his tracks apparently well covered, the kidnaper took the boy's right hand in his brawny left and they continued briskly along toward the car line. The lad skipped galy enough with his companion, the promise of seeing his "dad" and "ma" urging him forward.

They chatted with each other. Willie

They chatted with each other. Willie They chatted with each other. Willie says the man told him that if anybody asked him who took him to the car line to tell them it was "Mr. Jones." "Just tell them your name is Jones, too, if you want to," said the kidnaper. "All right, Mr. Jones," answered Willie

Presently a car came into view and Presently a car came into view and the mysterious Mr. Jones drew the boy closer to him.

"Well, Willie, you are going down town now, and you will see your papa pretty soon," he said.

This delighted Willie. He swung onto the car quickly according to the conductor. "Mr. Jones paid the boy's fare and then got off the car and disappeared, after waving a friendly adieu. This farewell to his little captive was continued until the car had disappeared.

This farewell to his little captive was at 9:30 o'clock a. m., on Thursday, March continued until the car had disappeared in the linky darkness of the night.

Discover the Boy.

Lighth Ward public school of Sharon at 9:30 o'clock a. m., on Thursday, March 18, by two men. The men drove to the school building. One of them asked the janitor to tell the boy's teacher that he Discover the Boy. The boy gazed about the car for a amiliar face. He saw none he knew. Presently Edward Mahoney, who is a 17-year-old boy of jolly visage, came into the car. He sat down in the seat with the boy. Mahoney, like most every other person in Cleveland last night was looking for little. William ery other person in Cleveland last night, was looking for little Willie Whitla, the kidnaped boy. So when his eyes lighted on Willie he started a con-versation eyes lighted on while he started a conversation.

"What's your name?" he queried.

"Jones," answered Willie, true to his kidnaper friend. But Mahoney was not to be soled. He colled his friend Box to be fooled. He called his friend Ramshortly after nightfall. As the hour sey over from another part of the car of the appearance of the child approached, Whitla became nervous. He disregarded the advice of the detective to keep out of sight of the newspaper slip, saying that he should be put off at the Hollenden hotel, and they were convinced they had accomplished more than all the sleuths in the country.

The boys took Willie to the hotel. He skipped through the door ahead of them and into the lobby. The boys partly lost track of him in the crowd, second to the state of the state so anxious was the youngster to catch a glimpse of a face he loved. And then again Mahoney and Ramsey were not sure of their abilities as sleuths when they got into view of a crowd. Willis did not see his father, mother or sister in the lobby. Walking over to the clerk, he asked:

"Have you seen my papa?"
"Who is the boy?" he was asked.
"Oh, I am Mr. Whitla's Willie?" he

The crowd nearest the boy who heard the words rushed in around him. The lad was shoved up against the hotel counter and the scene closely resembled a panic.

Father Claims Son.

Across the lobby the father, his eyes red with weeping, heard the piping voice of his son. Frantic with joy at the sound, he rushed through the office corridor and in a moment was fighting his way through the spectators. Plunging and squirming, knocking bystanders right and left, the frenzled parent made his way to the bewildered boy in knickerbockers standing solemnly with automobile goggles in front of y with automobile goggles in front of ly with automobile goggles in front of the clerk's desk.

The kidnaped boy saw his parent coming. He opened his lips to speak.

The words were never uttered. Grasp-ing Willie in his arms, the happy fa-ther lifted the boy and planted a score of kisses on his lips.

"It's my hoy my decling Willie" he or kisses on his lips.

"It's my boy, my darling Willie," he cried. Tears gushed from his eyes. He pressed the child to his breast and hugged him tightly. "Villie smiled a little. He was glad to see his papa, but he did not realize what all the fuss was about but he did not realize what all the fuss was about.

When the crowd realized that the kidnaped child had been returned to his parents a cheer rang out. For three minutes the handelapping and shouting continued. There were cheers for the boy and then cheers for the father. Stripping off the boy's cap and the smoked glasses white revealed his the smoked glasses, Whitla revealed his boy's bare head for the first time. He lifted the lad high above his head so that everyone might get a view of the now famous youngster who came near to rivaling the "lost Charlie Ross," of kidnaped fame.

Phones the Mother.

As soon as he could push his way through the crowd Whitla, sr., went to his room on the second floor. He carried the boy in his arms. For several minutes he was alone in the room with his schoolboy son. Then through the door came these words, spoken by the fether to the how's rother on the long. father to the boy's mother, on the long distance phone:

"Oh, mother, I have Willie here in my arms. He is safe. Glory to God, Mamma; it is the happiest night of my life."

There was a pause. The mother was pleading for the husband to return with the bov to his home at once. "I am sorry, mother," Whitla said. "I can not get a train out of here un-til 8 o'clock'in the morning, but I will come home as soon as possible. You can trust me with him, little mother, can't you?"

Detective Reed next answered the phone. Whitla praised him for his work and told him of the recovery of the child.

Five minutes after the father had Five minutes after the father had entered his room fully 2,000 persons were gathered in the hallways and lobbies of the hotel. Those who were unable to get into the hotel stood on the sidewalk and shoved for a glimpse of the boy. Again and again they called his name and implored his father to bring him out and let them look at him.

The father carried the boy on his

The father carried the boy on his shoulder down into the lobby. Mounting a raised platform in the center of the lobby Whitla gave everyone a chance to see the boy.

Speaks to Crowd.

Cries of "Speech!" "Speech!" caused Whitla to say a few words. His quavering voice was too full of joy for him to make a connected speech, but night. he poured out the happiness of his heart in the few words that he uttered. was cle With his right arm around the boy's neck and little Willie nestling in the folds of his father's coat the father said:

"This is my son. He was lost, and is found again. If I live 1,000 years I can never do enough to repay the press, the police and the people, who have done noble work in helping me to find my boy and in extending their sympathy to me and my family and relatives." elatives.

When Whitla ceased speaking there were demands for a few words from the boy. The lad for the first time showed signs of fright. Upon being restored to his father he wrapped his restored to his father he wrapped his arms around his daddy's legs and hid his face under his coat. Whitla gently drew the lad's head from the folds of the coat and told him. ly drew the lad's head from the folds of the coat and told him to say something to the cheering people. The boy turned his face upward, but he could not speak. The tears, bigger than raindrops, coursed down his cheeks. Again the crowd cheered as the boy was listed from the platform by his as lifted from the platform by his Whitla, when he returned to whitia, when he returned to his room, refused to see any one until after he had personally thanked the Maloney and Ramsey boys who brought Willie to the hotel. He made each of them a substantial gift.

HOW THE KIDNAPERS GOT

WILLIE IN FIRST PLACE Sharon, Pa., March 25.—"Willie" Whitla, 8 years old, son of James P. Whitla, law-yer, of Sharon, Pa., was kidnaped from the Eighth Ward public school of Sharon was wanted at his father's office immediately. The teacher dismissed the lad and he left the building. When the boy did not return at noon his parents made inquirles at the school. Search was begun, but no trace of the boy or man could be found.

At 2 o'cock p. m. the mail carrier delivered a letter at the Whitla home saying that the boy had been kidnaped and would be held for $10,000 ransom. The letter said the kidnapers would keep watch on all advertisements in Cleveland, Pittsburg, Youngstown and Indianapolis

The advertisement should be headed "A. A _____," said the letter, and should read: "Am ready to open negotiations." Three hours after the kidnaping the

PARIS STRIKERS VOTE

Paris, March 25.—One thousand strik-ing government telegraph and postof-fice employes today voted to resume

$15,000 FOR KIDNAPERS. Harrisburg, Pa., March 25.—The senate has adopted a resolution offering $15,000 for information leading to the arrest and con-

SOCIETY LEADER TAKES OWN LIFE

Mrs. Pierre Lorillard, Wife of Tobacco Magnate, Commits Suicide.

Washington, March 29.—Weary of the gay whirl of society and face to face, as she believed, with years of physical suffering, Mrs. Plerre Lorillard, jr., aged 49, wife of the tobacco magnate, committed suicide by asphyxiation at her home near the fashionable Dupont circle in this city vestorday. Her tragcircle in this city yesterday. Her trag-le death has shocked the first social circles of the capital as nothing else in years. The members of the Lorillard family, famous because of its wealth, are gathering here to mourn over the unexpected blow. In spite of the coroner's certificate of death by suicide, members of the family declare that Mrs. Lorillard died of neart failure

Details of Occurrence.

The death was made more dramatic by occurring only a few hours after Mr. and Mrs. Lorillard had been the guests of Mrs. Townsend, on Massachusetts avenue, at a dinner given in honor of Lady Paget. In fact, it is believed that as soon as Mrs. Lorillard arrived at her home at 2030 Hillyer place, shortly after midnight, she began to prepare for her death.

About $:30 in the morning the butler in the Lorillard residence detected an odor of gas permeating the rooms. With little difficulty the origin of the fumes was traced to Mrs. Lorillard's apartments. Opening the door of the bathroom just off her suite, the butler was horrified to behold the body of the mistress of the house stretched out lifeless on the floor. Her face was turned to the mat on the floor.

The alarm given by the butler brought
Mr. Lorillard from his apartments across the hall. Together they carried the limp body to Mrs. Lorillard's room. Panic stricken, the servant was sent for a doctor, while Mr. Lorillard attempted to revive his wife by means of artificial res-

Dr. M. E. Cuthbert, the family physician, was summoned and arrived about the same time that Dr. H. B. Deale was admitted to the residence. Both resorted to every scientific method within their power to restore life, but after an hour's shortly afterward Dr. J. Ramsey Nevitt, the coroner, was notified. He visited the Lorillard home and after an investigation ordered Deputy Coroner Glazebrook to perform the autopsy, on the completion of which Dr. Nevitt issued a certificate of suicide by gas poisoning. He said later that gas was escaping from one or more jets in the bathroom when the body was found, and the lungs indicated death by gas poisoning.

When Coroner Nevitt notified the police of Mrs. Lorillard's death an officer was sent to the residence to investigate, but he was denied admission, being referred to the coroner for such information as the #### police department might desire. Husband Saw Her Last.

The last person to see Mrs. Lorillard alive was Mr. Lorillard. He bade her goodnight as they separated to go to their apartments after returning home about midnight from the Townsend residence. Mrs. Lorillard was seemingly in the best of spirits. She had joined freely in the so-cial festivities of the evening at the Townsend home, where had gathered the Brazilian ambassador and Mme. Nabuco. the Danish minister and Countess Moltke the secretary of the navy and Mrs. Mey-er, Senator Mrs. Lodge, Senator and Mrs. Aldrich, Senator Root, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Endicott, of Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Endicott, of Boston; Lady Clifford, of England; Col. and Mrs. Campbell, Col. and Mrs. Mc-Cawley, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore, Hon. Maude Pauncefote, Commodore Rod-gers, Rear Admiral Cowles and Captain Archibald Butt, military aid of the presi-dent.

Mrs. Lorillard's bed had the appearance Mrs. Lorillard had disrobed after arriving home, and when found her body was clothed in a dressing gown. The dog collar of diamonds she wore at the dinner bath room, but the costly circle of diamonds that adorned her hair had not displaced. The note was found in Mrs. Lorillard's room

In Fashionable Set.

The Lerillards have lived at Hillyer place, which is only a stone's throw from Dupont circle and in the heart of the Dupont circle and in the heart of the fashionable community between Dupont and Sheridan circles, since January. Immediately preceding that time Mrs. Lorillard was in Europe, and while in France consulted an eminent physician in regard to her aliment. The family has been prominent each summer for several years past at Tuxedo park, and they have spent their winters in Washington. About a year ago they leased a fashionable resi-dence in Connecticut avenue for the sea-son, and the winter before entertained in house in Massachusetts avenue.

Mrs. Lorillard before her marriage to

Mr. Lorillard in 1881 was Miss Caroline J. Hamilton. She is survived by two sons one of them is now traveling in the orient and the other is in college in New York.
Since the Lorillards began spending the winter social season in Washington they have entertained largely. This season they came here early in the present year. Sunday evening last Mr. and Mrs. Lor-illard entertained at one of the usual Sunday night dinners. They were prominent in the social and diplomatic life of the capital, numbering among their particular friends in the latter class of society the Italian ambassador and Baroness Mayor des Planches and the Belgian minister and Baroness Moncheure, the latter being an especially intimate friend of Mrs. Loril-

SKIN GAME TOO MUCH OF A GRAFT-SUES THE SURGEON FOR $20,000

Rockford, Ill., March 29.-Dr. W. R. Franklin, a prominent physician, is named as defendant in a $5,000 trespass suit (a grafting affair in two senses of the word), instituted today by O. B. Ravnass, who in his complaint avers that while he was a patient under the care of Dr. Franklin, the physician grafted the cuticle from the complainant's thigh to his foot, and that without the constant or knowledge of the out the consent or knowledge of the patient, extra epidermis was taken and grafted on another patient of the phy-

STEAMER WITH 44 MEN. MAROONED ON THE ICE

Pictou, N. S., March 29.-Forty-four passengers have been marooned on ice in Northumberland strait on board the steamer Minto since Tuesday. How soon she will be able to work her way out could not be told today.

It is estimated by a New York builder that there are buildings under construction in the city which will aggregate in value more than $100,000,000.

TERRIBLE HARDSHIPS MET BY EXPLORERS

Shackleton's Men Nearly Died of Starvation in the Ant. arctic.

Christ Church, N. Z., March 29 .-Lieutenant Shackleton's ship Nimrod had returned here with the exploring party aboard, all of whom are well. The members of the expedition give some additional details to these al-some additional details to these already published.

Professor David and his companions recount that when they started on the journey to the magnetic pole, the weather was so het that they had to pull their two sledges in singlets.

There was half a ten of provisions on each sledge. After a comparatively easy 250 miles journey along the sea ice they had a hard and almost hopeless climb to the inland plateau. They carried their lives in their hands, fighting their way inch by inch and sufing their way inch by inch and suf-fered great privations on the return journey. When rescued by the Nimrod they were a party of gaunt skeletons; the Nimrod had almost given them up for lost.

The members of Lieutenant Shackle-The members of Lieutenant Snackle-ton's party state that when they were compelled to turn back, their bodily strength was diminishing so rapidly that their temperature went down to that their temperature went down to far below, in some cases reaching to 33 degrees and in others considerably lower than that. They nearly died from starvation before finding one of the depots and always were on very short rations. Had this party been two days later in reaching the Nimrod she would have been frezen in for another season. They declare that any future explorer attempting to reach the pole must be provided with much larger supplies of food, because there is no doubt that the seuth pole is situated on a high plateau and the coldest and stormiest weather in the world prevails there, there being 70 degrees of frost under the very mildest conditions.

ditions.

Lieutenant Shackleton declined to say anything regarding the protest made by the commonwealth of Australia, because it had received no news of the Nimrod's arrival at Stewart island, although the commonwealth had voted $25,000 toward the expenses of the expedition.

WORLD'S 1908 COMMERCE RECORD IS WAY LOW

Washington, March 29.-International commerce made a lower record in 1908 than in 1907 in practically all the commercial countries of the world.

The figures of the imports and exports

The figures of the imports and exports of the principal countries of the world in 1908, compared with 1907, show, as above indicated, in nearly every case a falling off in both imports and exports. In the commerce of the United Kingdom, for example, imports show a fall of $258,000,000 and exports a fall of $238,000,000, in the full calendar year 1908 compared with the full calendar year 1907. In the case of Germany, the imports show a fall of $102,000,000, these figures being for the full calendar year 1908 compared with the calendar year 1908. In the case of France, the imports show a fall of $25,500,000 and the exports a fall of $62,500,000. In the case of Belgium, show a fall of $25,500,000 and the exports a fall of $62,500,000. In the case of Belgium, the imports show a fall of $23,000,000. Canada's imports show a fall of $23,000,000. Canada's imports show a fall of $23,000,000 and her exports an increase of $9,500,000, while most of the other countries in the list show similar falling off, the chief exception being Argentina, which shows but a slight decrease in imports and a material transaction. Argentina, which shows but a slight decrease in imports and a material increase in exports. The average monthly importations of the 23 countries shown by the table was $997,000,000 in that portion of 1908 which they respectively represent against $1,089,500,000 in the corresponding period of 1907; and the average monthly exports $901,000,000 against $973,600,000 for the corresponding period of 1907.

SUES STATE FOR $500,000; FALSE IMPRISONMENT

Ashland, Wis., March 29.—Wm. M. French has sent a petition to the legislature in which he asks indemnity in the sum of $500,000 for alleged false imprisonment and as the victim of a conspiracy, in Ashland county jail, prison at Waupun, Northern Hospital for the insane, the Iowa county insane asylum and the insane asylum at Richland Center.

asylum and the insane asylum at Richland Center.

French was a prosperous logger and owner of a drug store, farm and real estate when, in 1891, he shet and killed nis brotherinlaw, Galvin M. Steel. He was found guilty of murder and sent to Waynung.

The supreme court reversed the case and French subsequently was declared insane and was sent to Oshkosh and to

MOUSE RAN UP THE CLOCK; GIRLS STRUCK

One Hundred Ceased Knitting and Leaped for Life-The Mouse Ran Down Again.

New York, March 29.-Hickory, chickory, dock, the mouse ran up the clock; but, instead of striking one, the clock made a noise like a hundred girls, each trying to be hysterical first. For it was the clock on Miss Mary Bloan's stocking that the mouse ran up just as Miss Bloan and 99 other girls had begun their afternoon's work in the knitting mill at 753 Lexington ave., Brooklyn. That serenity which is supposed to come from knitting was immediately dispelled, when Mary Bloan jumped with a scream. Of course, 100 other girls, with as many screams, jumped on 100 knitting machines and showed 200 stockings, which would have shamed any framer of a tariff bill who talks about ad valorem on hosiery. A dozen of the girls fainted, and so many others wouldn't quiet down that it was necessary to call Dr. Hartzell, of the Bushwick hospital, to administer restoratives all around.

The mouse escaped. KIDNAPED 25 YEARS AGO; CHICAGO POLICE FIND HER

Chicago, March 29.—After having been kidnaped from Montreal 25 years ago, Mrs. Jason Warner was found by the South Chicago police last night. She said she had been stolen when she was 5 years old and was taken to a farm. Recently Mrs. Warner appealed to the Canadian police who found her family

The Norwegian army includes a

UNDER ARREST Cedar Rapids, Ia., March 25 .- Mrs.

NOTORIOUS NEGRESS

Annie Hooley, a notorious negress who is accused of hugging pedestrians, was arrested today. The woman has the habit of hiding in the dark alleyways and seizing victims and hugging them and making proposals to them while going through their pockets. She is charged with several robberies in which much money was secured.

TURTLE; NO ONE HURT

City burned this morning. The archives and records for the past 25 years were destroyed.

DRINK IS CAUSE OF MAN'S SUICIDE

Mexico City, March 25.—The building of the chamber of deputies in Mexico

TO RESUME THEIR WORK

viction of the kidnapers of Willie Whitle