STUDENT SOUGHT BY OFFICERS FOR DETROIT MURDER

Opal Ring, Known to Be Worn by Dead Girl, Disappears From Her Finger.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 14 .- The police, who are investigating the murder of Maybelle Millman, are understood to be looking for a University of Michigan student, who is said to be playing base ball in a minor league in the west. The authorities, it is said, want at least a statement from him, for it is believed he can throw considerable light on the case.

Opal Ring Missing.

An opal ring which Miss Millman wore on the third finger of her left hand when she left the Cass avenue rooming house on August 27, is missing. Her friends say that the jewel was a valuable one sack in which the girl's hands were found was too securely tied to permit the explanation that the ring might have been washed away by the water. Apparently the ring was taken from the girl's finger with the purpose of removing every possible mark of identification.

Doctor Still In Jail.

When today's investigations into the tragedy began, Dr. George A. Fritch was still under arrest at police head-quarters. Miss Martha Henning and Mrs. Alice Renaud were understood quarters. Miss Martha Henning and Mrs. Alice Renaud were understood to have remained at police headquarters over night as witnesses, as Cap-tain McConnell said last night that the two women were not being "de-

PEARY NARRATIVE IS NOT COPYRIGHTED

New York, Sept. 14.—Judge Hand, in the United States circuit court, set-tled a novel legal controversy today bearing on Commander Robert E. Immediately the Times took legal steps to stop this, but has failed so far as Judge Hand's decision goes. A copy of Peary's contract, which was submitted to the court, set forth that the explorer received $4,000 from the newspaper, to be considered as a loan, which was to be repaid out of loan, which was to be repaid out of the proceeds of the Times' syndicate accounts of his discovery. Failing to reach the pole, he was to refund the full amount.

GEOGRAPHIC SOCIETY MIGHT DECIDE CASE

Washington, Sept. 14.—The members of the National Geographic society are watching with intense interest the progress of the stories of the Peary and the Cook expeditions to the north pole. Both Commander Peary and Dr. Cook are members of the society. It has been suggested, though not by officials of the society, that arbitration of the matter of the claims of the two men might well be left to the National Geographical society as well as to the coast and geodetic survey, in view of the inclusion of both men in the society membership and the generopresentative nature of those make up its rank and file.

The society, however, has taken action attesting its concurrence in the acceptibility of the arbitration by the coast and geodetic survey, which is represented on the board of managers of the Geographic seciety.

MOURNFUL SCENES IN LAST DAYS AT HARRIMAN'S HOME

Even as Death Approached, He Every Precaution Being Taken Assured Daughter That He Would Get Well.

New York, Sept. 13 .- With the passing of E. H. Harriman from the realm of business, where he had long occupied a dominant position achieved by remarkable genius and intense energy, the attention of hosts of his friends and admirers turned today to the stricken family in the silent house on Tower hill at Arden.

The magnificent courage with which Mr. Harriman faced the unconquerable enemy was characteristic of the man enemy was characteristic of the man, and stirred the emotions not only of those who had been close to the railroad financier, but elicited tributes from men who had been opponents in many a business fray.

Almost to the very last the mind of the man who had never gipen up in defeat, continued actively directing the great business he had built up. His last instructions were delivered to a subordinate only a few hours before his death.

Hoped Against Hope.

Constant vigil has been maintained at the Harriman home all during the night preceding his death, for the members of his family realized that only the stern will power of the man sus-tained him in the unequal fight he was waging. A crisis was anticipated at any moment, but Mr. 'Harriman's cheerful optimism, abundantly exhibited when he returned from Europe to take, as he said, "the after-cure," gave hope that he might yet survive the critical stage.

Ex-Judge Robert S. Lovett, vice pres-Ex-Judge Robert S. Lovett, vice president of the Union Pacific, and one of Mr. Harriman's closest associates, remained at the house all Wednesday night. Although the patient's vitality was at the low stage, and he was suffering from a high fever, he revived a trace yesterday morning and endeavored to cheer his despairing wife and children.

"Don't worry, my dear," he said to his daughter, Miss Mary Harriman, "I am going to get well."

Some hours later it became apparent that the end of the brilliant career was approaching, and the members of Mr. Harriman's family were summoned to the bedside.

Scene at Death Bed.

There, according to one of those present, the scene enacted was most affecting as the husband and father bade his wife and children goodbye. With unfaltering courage, but ebbing strength, he clasped hands with all for the left time embraced them spake the last time, embraced them, spoke words of cheer to his wife and daugh-ters, and of advice to his sons, Roland and Averill. Roland, the youngest son, who has been his father's constant companion during his illness, was shaking with sobs as his father clasped him ing with sobs as his father clasped him in his arms and whispered the farewell

Fatal News Withheld.

Mr. Harriman's death occurred at 1:30 p. m., but the fact was not announced until after the close of the stock market. About 2 o'clock Wall street heard rumors that the financier was dead, but that the statement to that effect would not be given until after the stock exchange session ended. A telephone call to the Harriman home at 1:45 brought a positive denial of the report of Mr. Harriman's death. The general opinion in financial circles this morning was that the business world is preparing for the shock of Mr. Harriman's passing. It was pointed out that the railroad builder had placed at the head of the various properties he controlled men in whom he erties he controlled men in whom he instructions to pursue the policies which had carried the Harriman enterprises to success.

It is the general belief that overwork was the cause of Mr. Harriman's death. There was some malady of the digestive organs, which it is understood was never positively diagnosed, and the pre-cise nature of which never will be known. There is to be no autopsy. The funeral service will be held at Arden on Sunday afternoon at 3:30 and will be strictly private. For Temporary Successor. While no meetings of the Harriman boards of directors have been called, it is expected that the executive committee of the Union Pacifi railway will meet next Tuesday and arrange for temporary succession to the positions hald by Mr. Harriman.

held by Mr. Harriman.

It is believed that the powers of Mr. Kruttschnitt, general director of main-tenance and operation of the Union Pacific, and of Mr. Stubbs, general director of traffic, will be increased. The Kuhn Loeb-Nationaly City bank interests are expected to continue as the chief financial agents for the Harriman properties.

Jacob H. Schiff, of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., declined to make any statement today regarding the future policy of the Har-riman lines except to say that Mr. Har-riman's plans of construction and de-velopment will doubtless be carried

The following statement was given out at the Union Pacific offices in this

'The report published today that Mr. Harriman died at 1:30 p. m., is absolutely untrue. He died at 3:35 p. m., as was immediately announced both at Arden and 102 Broadway. Mrs. Sim-mons (Mr. Harriman's sister) did not arrive until after his death, and auarrive until after his death, and as thorizes me to deny that she intended to make any statement fixing the time. "W. G. Lyle."

Sorrow in New York. Signs of sorrow at the death of Mr. Harriman were numerous in the financial district today. The flag of the stock exchange was at half mast and similar tribute was paid by other institutions and banking houses.

All the Harriman offices in New York will be closed until Monday, with the exception of the treasurers' and trans-

HARRIMAN DIES AT HIS SUMMER HOME AT ARBEN

Had Long Been in Ill Health, and His End Was Not Unexpected by Family.

New York, Sept. 10 .- Edw. H. Harriman died at his home in Arden, N. Y., at 3:35 this afternoon. Mr. Harriman had been in ill health for a long time. He was born at Hempstead, Long Island, February 25, 1848.

Mr. Harriman's death had been expected for several days. On last Sunday he suffered a serious relapse, due to an attack of acute indigestion and he was unable to rally from the critical condition which then threatened his life. With him at the time of death were all the members of his immediate family and Dr. Lyle.

Career of Harriman.

Edward H. Harriman was born at Hampstead, L. I., February 25, 1848, the son of Rev. Orlando H. Harriman. He received only a common school education, leaving his school life to become a broker's clerk in Wall street at 14. His advance came rapidly, since he showed from youth marvelous executive ability. As a young man, he became a broker on his own account and entered into the career in finance which brought him at the time of his death to the recognized position of king of the railway world. He had been a member of the New York Steck exchange since August 13, 1870. Mr. Harriman was married to Mary Averell at Ogdensburg, N. Y. They have a number of children who sur-
