

STOMACH LIVER LUNGS

Each of the chief organs of the body is a link in the Chain of Life. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, the body no stronger than its weakest organ. If there is weakness of stomach, liver or lungs, there is a weak link in the chain of life which may snap at any time. Often this so-called "weakness" is caused by lack of nutrition, the result of weakness or disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases and weaknesses of the stomach and its allied organs are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the weak or diseased stomach is cured, diseases of other organs which seem remote from the stomach but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, are cured also.

The strong man has a strong stomach. Take the above recommended "Discovery" and you may have a strong stomach and a strong body.

Paxtine TOILET ANTISEPTIC

NOTHING LIKE IT FOR

THE TEETH Paxtine excels any dentifrice in cleansing, whitening and removing tartar from the teeth, besides destroying all germs of decay and disease which ordinary tooth preparations cannot do.

THE MOUTH Paxtine used as a mouth-wash disinfects the mouth and throat, purifies the breath, and kills the germs which collect in the mouth, causing sore throat, bad teeth, bad breath, grippe, and such sickness.

THE EYES when inflamed, tired, ache and burn, may be instantly relieved and strengthened by Paxtine.

CATARRH Paxtine will destroy the germs that cause catarrh, heal the inflammation and stop the discharge. It is a sure remedy for uterine catarrh.

Paxtine is a harmless yet powerful germicide, disinfectant and deodorizer. Used in bathing it destroys odors and leaves the body antiseptically clean.

Silly Season Elegiacs.

This is the season of serpents that swim in the surf at the seaside—Hundred-yard serpents with heads crested and saucer-like eyes; Whose foreparts appear to the weather of liners, their tails on the lee side—Snakes that the sailors don't mention—people might think they tell lies.

This is the season of stories surprisingly, shockingly silly, Doped by the writers of news, too hot to obtain what is true; Scandals at Newport and wonderful doings in old Piccadilly—Smart set gone daft with the heat, nutty to do something new.

This is the season when preachers preach against peek-a-boo dresses—Then the Dear Girls think 'em bad, and make 'em more peek-a-boo still. Now comes the poisoned ice cream and the rest of the murderous messes; Stunstrokes for doctors to cure—mad dogs for coppers to kill.

August, Mad Mullah of months! is there any that chanteth thy praises? Yea, there be some, but that proves that bands have gone mad with the rest. All the world's wrong in its think-box whenever Sirius blazes, Hence by these verses our own sanity falls in the test!

—Cleveland Leader.

FORMER KNIGHTS OF THE GRIP

Among Them Were Merchants, Writers and a Great Evangelist.

Marshall Field was a commercial traveler; so were John Wanamaker and Tom Murray. So also were Dwight L. Moody, the great evangelist, and Richard Cobden, the English statesman and writer.

Ex-Governor Frank Black, of New York, followed the road with his sample cases before beginning his legal and political career. Walter D. Moody, one of the chief executives of the Chicago Association of Commerce, was for 15 years a road salesman. This list might be extended almost indefinitely.

Occasionally the commercial traveler leaves the road to enter one of the professions. According to Everybody's, Milton J. Foreman, one of the leaders of the Chicago bar, president of the Chicago Charter association, alderman, and a power in local politics, was a star hat salesman and took his law books on the road with him until he was well grounded in the rudiments of the profession.

Every Reader Will Concede the Truth of This Statement.

One who suffers with backache or any form of kidney trouble wants a cure, not merely temporary benefit.

Rev. Maxwell S. Rowland, of Toms River, N. J., makes a statement in this connection that is worth attention. Says he: "I was suddenly taken with an attack of kidney trouble, had severe pains in my back and loins and was generally run down. Doctors were not helping me so I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They brought me prompt relief, and as I continued taking them the pains in my back disappeared and the kidneys were restored to normal condition."

Remember the name—Doan's. Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Summer Hymn.

The year draws near its golden harvest, The prime of grandeur rounded into grace; We seem to hear sweet notes of joyance chime From elfin bells through many a Greenwood place.

The sovereign summer, robed and garlanded, Loaves, steeped in verdure, up the enchanted skies; A crown, sun-woven, round her loyal head, And love's warm languor in her dreamy eyes.

We quaff our fill of beauty, peace, delight; But mid the entrancing scene a stern voice saith: "If the earth, heaven's shadow, shows a face so bright, What of God's summer past the straits of death?"

Constipation causes and aggravates many serious diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Tablets. The favorite family laxative.

In overhauling the seven submarine cables between Italy and Messina several of them were found to be badly damaged by heat. The sheathing and layers of rubber being burned and in some cases the copper conductors fused. Owing to a great increase in the "floor" of the strait of Messina, one of the cables was so deeply buried that it was necessary to abandon it.

Fall Painting.

The majority of property owners are under the impression that spring time is the only painting time. But the fall of the year offers several advantages to the painter. One of the most important is that surfaces are almost sure to be dry, and there is no frost or inner moisture to work out after the paint is applied.

"What You Don't Know Don't"

From the Milwaukee Journal.

A woman came into the general store with a jar of butter. She desired to exchange it for another jar of butter. In churning her butter she had discovered a mouse in the churn.

"It didn't injure the butter," she said to the storekeeper, "and to anyone who did not know the circumstances it would taste all right."

Taking the woman at her word, the merchant carried her jar into the back room, transferred her butter to another jar, and the gratified customer took back her mouse butter with a thousand thanks for the accommodation.

OUR MIX-UP WITH A COMET.

That a comet struck the earth in northern Arizona somewhere between 5,000 and 700 years ago, is considered extremely probable by Professor W. H. Pickering, of Harvard, who contributes an article on the subject to Popular Astronomy. Calculating first the general chances of such a collision, Professor Pickering estimates that we should expect to be struck by the core of a visible comet once in about 400,000 years, and by some portion of the head once in 2,000,000 to 4,000,000 years. According to the estimate that animal life has existed on earth for about 100,000,000 years, perhaps as many as 50 collisions must have taken place during that interval, evidently without producing any very serious results. Besides these there are invisible comets with regard to whose frequency we have no accurate knowledge. Some of these are badly disintegrated—mere "star-showers." The locality where Professor Pickering thinks one of the comets may have struck is known as Coon Butte, and is about 70 or 80 miles from the Grand Canon of the Colorado.

A Present-Time Inquiry.

Oh, say, Ain't we getting too gay? Ain't we going too fast? To last? Ain't we whooping things up so much? We'll all be in Dutch? Ain't we pushing too hard? Without regret? To anything except that we must do it all immediately? Ain't we banging all records in a way that ought to prove that our energy is overwrought? Wow!

The aeroplane is on the wing And flying round like everything That any other ship has done On any trans-Atlantic run; The Hudson-Fulton show will be the greatest on this earth to see; We've reached the top notch of the earth And got the pole for all it's worth; The highest buildings scrape the sky, The fastest trains go whizzing by, The tallest ships are on the stocks, The greatest hunter fiercely hunts, The quickest autos mow us down In open field and crowded town; The biggest crops enrich the soil; The fastest thing on earth's too slow; The biggest is too small, And everybody seems to want To get ahead of all.

By gum, That we are going some Cannot be denied, But on the side, Ain't we going too fast? To last? Gee whiz, Can't somebody say where the limit is?

THE DOCTOR'S WIFE

Agrees with Him About Food.

A trained nurse says: "In the practice of my profession I have found so many points in favor of Grape-Nuts food that I unhesitatingly recommend it to all my patients.

"It is delicate and pleasing to the palate (an essential in food for the sick) and can be adapted to all ages, being softened with milk or cream for babies or the aged when deficiency of teeth renders mastication impossible. For fever patients or those on liquid diet I find Grape-Nuts and albumen water very nourishing and refreshing."

"This recipe is my own idea and is made as follows: Soak a teaspoonful of Grape-Nuts in a glass of water for an hour, strain and serve with the beaten white of an egg and a spoonful of fruit juice for flavoring. This affords a great deal of nourishment that even the weakest stomachs can assimilate without any distress.

"My husband is a physician and he uses Grape-Nuts himself and orders it many times for his patients.

"Personally I regard a dish of Grape-Nuts with fresh or stewed fruit as the ideal breakfast for anyone—well or sick."

In any case of stomach trouble, nervous prostration or brain fog, a 10-day trial of Grape-Nuts will work wonders toward nourishing and rebuilding and in this way ending the trouble.

"There's a Reason," and trial proves. Look in pkgs. for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

Pipe Smokers' Jaws.

From the Philadelphia Ledger.

There is one question I always ask a man who wants a job, I remarked the business man who has to hire several hundred men for different positions each year.

"The question I always ask them is, 'Do you smoke a pipe much?' Of course the answers are various. Some of them smoke a pipe a great deal and others not at all. Some smoke cigars, although I seldom can get a man to admit it. There seems to be a general guilty feeling when a man is a cigarette smoker. Some of them smoke cigars. My business is such that it makes very little difference to their availability to me no matter what they smoke.

"Why do I ask about the pipe? Well, not that I have the least interest in their habits, or that I have any prejudice one way or another in the matter. The reason is that I want to know whether the formation of their lower jaws is natural or acquired.

"A man with a firm lower jaw is always a man of parts and of will. I say 'always,' anyway, most always. If he does not smoke a pipe his square jaw, back near where it hinges on to the upper one, is natural. If he is a pipe smoker the looks are deceiving, and I have to judge his caliber some other way.

"Pipe smokers always have strong muscles back on the face about the place a man stops when he makes the first stroke downward in shaving. These are the muscles that hold the jaws together. They often give a square jawed effect to a man who hasn't any square jaw characteristics. My men think I ask funny questions, but there's a reason."

Blest is the man whose heart and hands are pure! He hath no sickness that he shall not cure. No sorrow that he may not well endure; His feet are steadfast and his hope is sure.

Oh! blest is he who ne'er hath sold his soul; Whose will is perfect and whose word is whole. Who hath not paid to common sense the toll Of self-disgrace, nor owned the world's control!

AFTER SUFFERING TEN YEARS

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

MARLTON, N. J.—I feel that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has given me new life.

I suffered for ten years with serious female troubles, inflammation, ulceration, indigestion, nervousness, and could not sleep. Doctors gave me up, as they said my troubles were chronic. I was in despair, and did not care whether I lived or died, when I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; so I began to take it, and am well again and relieved of all my suffering. —Mrs. GEORGE JORDY, Box 40, Marlton, N. J.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

Child a Mass of Dreadful Sores, Itching, Irritating Humor for Two Months—Little Sufferer in Terrible Plight—Cured by Cuticura.

"My six year old daughter had the dreadful disease called hives for two months. She became affected by playing with children who had it. By scratching she caused large sores which were irritating. Her body was a complete sore, but it was worse on her arms and back. We employed a physician who left medicine, but it did not help her and I tried several remedies, but without avail. Seeing the Cuticura Remedies advertised, I thought I would try them. I gave her a hot bath daily with Cuticura Soap and anointed her body with Cuticura Ointment. The first treatment relieved the itching and in a short time the disease disappeared. Mrs. G. L. Fridhoff, Warren, Mich., June 30 and July 13, '08."

MORGAN'S BIG IDEALS.

Some Famous Spot-Cash Transactions—American Croesus Quick to Decide.

From London Answers.

The sudden purchase of the Piccadilly hotel for the sum of £500,000 is a remarkable instance of a huge concern changing hands in a few moments. It was easy enough for Mr. Mallaby-Deeley to draw a cheque for £1,000,000, but the complicated nature of the deal is only apparent when one tries to realize what half a million of money really is.

But half a million down is by no means a record. There have been numerous sales of great English estates during the last 20 years, and more than £500,000 has been paid on at least two occasions. One estate alone—the Kensington—realized over £600,000, and the whole transaction did not cover two hours. Even within the past three months two estates changed hands for £250,000 apiece.

Mr. Pierpont Morgan has been associated with many big deals. Some years ago he was shown a collection of old masters, and promptly purchased the lot for £1,000,000 sterling, drawing a single cheque for the amount. Lord Amherst of Hackney's Caxtons were withdrawn from the sale because the American millionaire privately offered £25,000 for the set; and his cheque was promptly accepted.

Mr. Morgan is famous for his quickness of decision in these matters; but his promptness has not always been successful. On one occasion he went into a curio shop in Paris, where he was well known. The proprietor produced for his inspection an ancient cope, in fact, the one worn by Pope Nicholas IV. The millionaire took out his cheque book and paid £4,000 for the treasure. Later on he was informed that it had been stolen from the cathedral at Milan, and, in deference to popular desire, he restored the cope. As an acknowledgment, the pope had a special medal struck in his honor.

While the destruction of birds entails a loss of $1,000,000,000 a year to American crops, the American woman continues to wear beautiful plumage purchased abroad.
