Some so-called useful hints are amusing, and here is one from a French newspaper. It is a method of finding the weight of a pig without weighing it, and this is how you proceed: Take a tape or piece of string, and take the chest measurement, then the length of the animal from the shoulder to the tail. Multiply the chest measurement by itself, then by the length of the body and finally by 87.5. The result will give approximately the weight of the animal in kilograms. For example, if the animal is 1.30 meters around the chest and 1.15 meters in length, this would give 1.69; multiply 1.69 by 1.15 and we get 1.943. Finally, multiply this number by 87.5 and we get 170 kilos. This will afford a pleasant pastime for country folk, especially if they try to weigh the hog alive. It will be observed that the author of this plan discards some of his decimals.

Captain Von Ermmerik, of the royal Dutch mail packet, Von Spilbergen, recently made a clever capture after a murderous assault on a wealthy salon passenger while he and Sydney from Batavia. After the alarm had been given he had the full crew of Malays lined up on deck and as he passed along the ranks he placed his hands on the bare breast of each man to feel the action of his heart. The blood coursed normally through the veins of all but one and his heart was throbbing violently. The captain arrested him on suspicion. Another man's hands were abnormally cold, but this fact was not considered as sufficiently strong to justify arrest. However, the first man subsequently confessed to the crime and indicated the seaman with the cold hands as his accomplice.

It has been stated that the Vatican had been approached with the view of selecting a patron saint for aviators, and that it had been suggested that Elijah would be an appropriate person. The originator, remarks the London Globe, of the story seems to have not taken into account that Elijah was an Old Testament character, and as such would be ineligible. No doubt, going to heaven in a chariot of fire would make an appropriate patron. Paris contemporary remarks that St. Columbo should be chosen. Her name alone has much to recommend her. She suffered martyrdom under Marcus Aurelius.

A new "cod bank" has been discovered in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, off the west coast of Newfoundland, by the Canadian government survey ship Elnor. The new bank is said to be situated about 25 miles northwest from Port Riche (the northwest point of Ingonachois bay), and is reported to be about 23 miles long and 10 to 12 miles wide. The least depth of water over the bank is said to be about 13 fathoms. Cod are reported to be in abundance.

Clothing, particularly new clothing, is a powerful mental and moral tonic, according to a medical specialist quoted in the Outlook. The specialist says that shabby or ill fitting clothes are a source of constant worry, which tends to take the keener edge off the wits of the average man. "The mere fact of being smartly dressed," adds the doctor, "is a strong mental stimulant, and the man who is shabby and knows it, is often less capable than his well dressed mental inferior."

The Germans are developing their high school at Kiao-Chau, China, with their usual thoroughness. Its scope is even larger than the proposed Hong-Kong university. Except a grant of 10,000,000 from the Chinese government the whole cost is to be borne by the German government. German text books and other works are translated into Chinese in a department of the school, says the London Times.

Fatigue of the eyes and more or less persistent ocular troubles are produced by the rapid and brief excitations of the retina by the cinematograph. A French physician has given the name of cinematopsia to the affection which characterizes this character. The troubles are not very serious and generally yield easily to simple remedies.

Was the sextant in the hands of Dr. Cook or Commander Peary sufficiently accurate to determine exactly when the pole had been reached. The Scientific American says: "The handling of the sextant is so simple a matter and the application of corrections to its readings so easy that we fail to understand how any one can seriously doubt Dr. Cook's accuracy."

Russia's copper production is increasing, amounting to 10,306, 14,554 and 16,591 tons in 1906, 1907 and 1908, respectively. Deposits of copper in the Caucasus present vast opportunities, and enormous beds of coprolites exist in central Russia, and in the Dnieper basin, the quantity in the latter alone being estimated as high as 27,000,000 tons, says a consular report.

Complaint has been made to the Ipswich (England) guardians that inmates of the workhouse infirmary were washed as early as 3 o'clock in the morning and a member protested against it, especially in the cases of the older folk. The reply was made that it would be put by the manager later unless more nurses were employed.

Among other articles for dogs, a St. Louis concern is placing on the market a dust eye shield similar in every way to the same article worn by human automobile riders. Popular Mechanics contains a picture of a Boston bull equipped with the eye shield. It is held in position on the dog's nose by straps which fasten to the collar.

Much comment was caused by the fact that at a recent exposition in Germany the American agricultural machines, while holding their own otherwise, did not compare favorably with the German machines in finish and general appearance.

The man who comes to bet on the races wears his hat well over his eyes, while the farmer who is after an automobile thinks the crown is a good enough place for his while he does the smiling stunt and writes his check.

At Tourcoing, France, five couples of working people celebrated their golden wedding the other day. Great festivities were provided for the occasion by the municipal authorities.

"Father sent me over to borrow your paper; he only wants to read it." "Tell him I'm coming over to borrow his breakfast; I only want to eat it."

Several French schools are using machines which suck dust from the leaves of books, spray them with disinfectant and dry them with hot air.

The New York aquarium during July had an average daily attendance of more than 17,000 persons.

Some motorists contend that they can make a shorter stop when traveling at a high rate of speed.

GOVERNOR SPEAKS

WITHOUT REFERENCE TO POLITICAL AFFAIRS

Delivers an Agricultural Address to Farmers Gathered at Exposition.

Holdrege, Neb. Oct. 19.—Governor Shallenberger was a visitor at the farmers' institute and merchants' fair in progress in this city.

He arrived on No. 1 of the Burlington about noon and proceeded at once to the Hampton hotel, where he lunched with a coterie of democratic friends. After lunch he was escorted to the high school, where he gave the student's a half hour's talk. Later he was driven to the opera house, where a large crowd of farmers and citizens awaited him. After a few remarks by President Erickson, of the Commercial club, the governor was introduced.

JUDGE AT PICTURE SHOW SCORES PHOTOGRAPHERS

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 19.—Because a number of the unsuccessful contestants for honor in the picture show of the State Photographers' association made decided objections, L. J. Studebaker, of Kansas City, the judge, got up in the meeting and pointedly told the photographers that they didn't know what art is or they wouldn't be kicking. He declared that he wasn't a paid expert coming here to make money, and he'd be blamed if he would stand for any abuse or censure.

"The original may be a lot of first class artists hanging around here to pick flaws in my judging, but that makes no difference," he said. "I shall not come back here to do any judging for you, but if there is any one of these critics here who wants to challenge my knowledge of pictures or my ability to judge, why let him stand up and say so. I'll show him where he fell down on making pictures."

Nobody accepted his def and the man who was kicking most strenuously got up and moved a vote of thanks to him.

CZARINA ALMOST MAD WORRYING OVER SON

Fear That Heir to Throne Will Be Killed Is Driving Her Crazy.

London, Oct. 19.—Reports from St. Petersburg continue to show that the condition of the czarina is growing worse rather than improving. The melancholia with which she is afflicted has now developed until the empress is bordering on insanity. At times she acts like a mad woman, obsessed with the idea that traitors are trying to kill her 5-year-old son. The czarina's greatest fear is that her son will be poisoned, and she has been in the habit of tasting all his food. Of late she has been too ill to attend to this duty, and the thought that her son is unprotected has almost unhinged her mind. Her condition is most pitiable.

'FRAUD ORDER' BAN PUT ON TELEPATHY CURE

Washington, Oct. 19.—"Mentipathy" and telepathy are new devices by which money is obtained from credulous people, according to a statement made by the postoffice department.

The department, acting upon allegations in a report of its inspectors, has issued a "fraud order" against John E. Braun and Kate A. Braun, conducting the "Braun Institute of Mentipathy" and the "Braun Health Institute," at Bloomington, Ill.

Persons suffering from every conceivable disease were advised by circulars sent them through the mails that they could be cured by the Brauns through the use of "mentipathy" and telepathy. The charge was $5 a month for two "absent treatments" a day. Receipts of the Brauns were discovered by postoffice inspectors to be large, as much as $100 a day being received by them in money orders at Bloomington alone.

Girl Thrown Out of Harm's Way While Woman Is Trampled by Runaway Steed.

The horse next careened into Mrs. Davison, striking her on the chest and knocking her 15 feet. The animal then trampled upon her, and his feet becoming entangled in her gown he fell heavily, both on the woman and Peck.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 14.—Practically all of the details of a profit-sharing arrangement between the city and the Lincoln Traction company, owner of all of the street car lines of the city, save a small interurban, have been arranged.

PACIFIC MUST SOON FURNISH FISH FOR STOCKING POTOMAC

Washington, Oct. 18.—In the near future the Pacific coast may be called upon to restock the Potomac river and its tributaries with shad. Only a few years ago shad were taken from the Potomac and planted in the Sacramento river, where they are now more plentiful than on the Atlantic coast.

During the last fiscal year more fish and fish eggs were distributed by the bureau of fisheries to the department of commerce and labor than ever before in its history. For the first time, the total of fish and eggs distributed passed the three billion mark. The exact number was 3,117,301,535.

Last year the total amount of the distribution was 2,871,456,280. Commissioner George M. Bowers suggested early in the year that he hoped to pass the three billion mark, but small hope was entertained that he would be able to do it. A careful estimate shows that the cost of distribution has been reduced to about $152 per million of fish and eggs distributed, which is a lower average cost than has ever been attained.

All other members of the Swenson family also take their position with him.

The state closed its case yesterday afternoon at 4:30 after Professor A. N. Cook, of the university, had testified that the powder found in the bottle in the woman's bedroom after her death was strychnine and that chemical analysis of the contents of her stomach proved conclusively that she died from strychnine poisoning. The case of the state against the defendant is regarded as weak. The jury is expected to get the case sometime tomorrow.

EXPORTS WERE LESS

DURING PAST YEAR

Foreign Trade of United States for Period Ending in June Falls Off.

Washington, Oct. 18.—Mineral oil was one of the few products of the United States which showed an improvement in its exports during the year ending June 30 last, the year being one of declining exports in trade as a whole, according to a report just issued by the bureau of statistics.

The increase in mineral oil exported during the year was more than 100,000,000 gallons, with an increase in value of nearly $2,000,000. Since the product began to be an article of export about a half century ago, more than $2,000,000,000 worth of oil has been exported.

The production of the oil in the United States has increased eight fold since 1879. In 1879 the total production of the United States was 2,400,000 barrels, less than that of the state of Texas for 1908.

Mineral oils exported during the last fiscal year were valued at $106,000,000, which was about double those of a decade earlier and treble those of 1880. Prices prevailing in 1909, however, were naturally less than those of earlier years. The value of the exports has increased 195 per cent since 1880, but the gain in quantity has been 268 per cent.

PRAYS AFTER THEFT, GETS CLOTHING BACK

New York, Oct. 18.—As Miss Anna Redmond, a telephone operator, was on her way home from work she stepped into St. Boniface's Roman Catholic church in Duffield street, Brooklyn, and prayed to St. Anthony that she might recover a large amount of clothing stolen from her home, No. 663 President st., Brooklyn, more than a week ago.

Miss Redmond barely had left the church when she saw a girl in Fulton street wearing a brown alpaca dress looking like one that was stolen. There was a torn button on the right side of the dress just as on the one Miss Redmond lost and other points of similarity.

She told Policeman Merwede she was sure the dress was hers, and the blue coat put its wearer under arrest. She said her name was Kitty Tobin and that she lived in East Fourth street, Flatbush, and also had a room in Lawrence street.

At the Lawrence street address Policemen Elwood and Woodie found other clothing, which Miss Redmond said was hers. Kitty Tobin was taken to the Bergen street station, in the precinct in which the robbery occurred. She said she had bought the dresses from a young man, not knowing they had been stolen. A hunt is being made for the young man.

FAMOUS INDIAN SCOUT REGISTERS FOR LAND

Lived With Red Men on Land Now to Be Thrown Open to Settlement.

Aberdeen, S. D., Oct. 18.—With warmer weather than has prevailed for the past three days to draw the people out onto the streets, a livelier scene has been presented at the Indian settlement district, and the registration visitors move ceaselessly about viewing the sights of the city. The cold drove them into the hotels, theaters, saloons and other public places, but now the crowds again appear on the sidewalks. The registration figures for yesterday at the various points are as follows:

	Daily	Total
Aberdeen	2,025	26,646
Bismarck, N. D.	393	4,887
Pierre	213	5,730
McBride	66	1,196
Leimon	68	1,355
Le Beau	106	1,685

Among those who made application in Aberdeen yesterday was James Daley, formerly a government scout, who in the days of the Indian troubles in South Dakota did much in the service of the United States.

Coming to Dakota when a mere lad with his parents, Daley was captured by Indians while a party was crossing the plains in their prairie schooner over the portion now forming the Standing Rock reservation. A party of Indians under the leadership of Chief Little Eagle killed all the members of the party except the boy, James Daley. He was kept a captive and grew up with the redmen. After reaching manhood he began to tire of the life of a nomad, and becoming involved in a row with a member of the tribe in which the redman was killed by Daley. He fled the camp and for the first time since a young boy, took up his life among the whites. His knowledge of the Indians served him in good stead and he was employed as a scout by the government.

He was among those who killed Sitting Bull after the memorable Wounded Knee battle, giving chase to the old Indian leader for miles over the plains.

KING SOLOMON'S YOUNGEST SCION

Baby Prince of Abyssina Beckons Among His Ancestors Queen of Sheba.

London, Oct. 18.—One of the most fascinating portraits recorded in London in many days depicts little Prince Tessaama of faraway Abyssinia in the arms of his nurse.

Tessaama is the youngest grandchild of Negus (king of kings) Menelik, who traces his descent back nearly 3,000 years direct to another Menelik, the son of King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba, who was the first king of that renowned people of antiquity, the Ethiopians.

The infant is the son of Princess Ouzero-Zodita, whose first husband was the son and heir of Emperor John, Menelik's predecessor on the throne of Abyssinia. Her present husband is Ras (a title of distinction) Gouga, governor of Begomeder, son of Ras Holle.

That part of ancient Ethiopia now known as Abyssinia, which Prince Tessaama may some day rule, has about the area of Texas and its population just about equals that of New York city.

That evening, while she lay in bed, unable to sleep from pain, Walsh, whose slumbers were ruffled by her groans, sat up in bed and lit a pipe and its odor made the collision seem like a minor matter.

Every night during their three weeks' married life he is said to have "asked for the restoration of her former name of Austin."
