Hogs sold on the O'Neill market last Friday and Saturday for $8.00 per hundred. This is the highest price ever paid for hogs on the local market.

M. Dowling of Omaha, president of the O'Neill National bank, was in the city Tuesday to attend a meeting of the stock holders of that institution.

Gotlieb Reichert, who is one of the largest farmers and stock growers in the Mineola country, left yesterday for Omaha with a car load of corn-fed steers.

J. B. Berry of Paddock was in the city yesterday, leaving for Valentine on the evening passenger to spend a few days visiting his daughter, Mrs. George Lamoureux.

Harry Bowen, who moved to Omaha last fall, has returned to O'Neill and will make his home here again, having become a partner with his brother George in the pump and well business.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Killian of Redbird were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Hansen Tuesday. Mr. Killian leased Mr. Hansen's farm on Eagle creek for a period of five years while in town.

Regular preaching services will be conducted at the Presbyterian church on Sunday, the 16th, inst. morning and evening at the usual hours of service. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

The Burlington passenger train changed time last Monday morning. The passenger for Sioux City now leaves at 6:20 a. m. instead of 7 a. m., as formerly, and arrives here at 11:35 p. m. instead of 10:50.

YES I CAME BACK. My office is over Gallagher's store. I can get you money on your farm, sell your farm or get you an exchange for any kind of property. Come over or write, 30-1 Lyman Waterman, O'Neill.

Alfred Anson, Robert Hanson, Frank Losier and John Schroeder of Creighton, C. Anderson of Blake, Garfield county, J. E. Buoy of Butka, Rock county, were in the city Tuesday, having business before the land office.

T. T. Waid, one of Grattan's hustling and progressive farmers, was a caller Tuesday renewing for the "old reliable." Mr. Waid said it would be impossible to keep house without The Frontier and while it is always an enjoyment to read it the pleasure is twofold when he has it paid in advance.

W. W. Bethea, ex-county clerk, was up from Ewing Friday last and favored this office with a pleasant call, renewing his subscription to the old reliable. Bill had not been in O'Neill for over a year and said he noted many evidences of improvement in the city since that time.

Yesterday was the twenty-second anniversary of the memorable blizzard of January 12, 1888, and the way it started snowing yesterday morning, made many believe it would be a repeater. But after a few hours it ceased snowing and turned out to be a fairly decent winter day.

F. M. Addison yesterday entered into an agreement with the county board to lath and put in the windows and doors in the lower story of the county jail. This will complete the lower story all but plastering and painting. The mason work on the upper story will be completed when the weather permits.

During the year 1909 County Judge Malone issued 108 marriage licenses and performed twenty-eight ceremonies. In 1908 the Judge issued but 104 licenses and performed but twenty-two ceremonies. This year those matrimonially inclined have not put in an appearance so far but the judge is hopeful that as spring approaches the "rush" will be on.

Superintendent Snyder, of the water department of the Burlington railroad was in the city last Friday and made arrangements with the city to secure water for their engines the coming year, the water plant at the round house not being able to supply sufficient for their needs. Mr. Snyder says that as soon as the weather moderates they will commence laying track to the gravel pit northwest of town.

At the regular meeting of Ash Camp Woodmen of the World, held last Tuesday evening, the following officers were installed for the ensuing year: Charles Davis, consul commander; James Davidson, advisor lieutenant; David Stannard, clerk; L. G. Gillespie, banker; Frank Howard, escort; D. N. Murphy, sentry; Dr. J. P. Gilligan, physician; O. O. Snyder, F. C. Gatz and S. L. Thompson, managers.

W. C. Grant, one of the leading merchants of Lynch, was an O'Neill visitor yesterday. Mr. Grant is a large land owner in this county, having about 1100 acres near Dorsey, 480 acres near Anncar and a few weeks ago closed a deal for a large tract of land in the Scottville neighborhood. He says all northeastern Holt needs is a railroad so that the enormous crops raised in that section could be put on the market and that then it would be an ideal spot.

A. E. Wikel, for many years a resident of the county but who now lives in Ohio, was in the city Monday renewing old acquaintances. Mr. Wikel still owns his land near Inman and says that things look so good to him in "old Holt" that he is going to hold on to it. He left this country a little over ten years ago and says that while he understood, from correspondence with old friends here, that things had greatly improved in this section he was not prepared for the evidences of prosperity evident upon every hand, which was a pleasant surprise.

J. F. O'Donnell, J. J. Thomas, Arthur Ryan, M. F. Kirwan and John Hiber went to Omaha last Friday to attend the athletic carnival put on in that city that evening by James J. Jeffries and Frank Gotch. Jeffries was, of course, the star attraction as his coming fight with Jack Johnson for the heavyweight championship of the world is the main topic of conversation in sporting circles the world over. The O'Neill delegation were not very favorably impressed with the present condition of Mr. Jeffries and were unanimous in the opinion that he would have to improve considerably during the next six months if he expects to win the championship from the colored man.

The annual meeting of the stock holders of the First National bank was held in the banking rooms Tuesday. The First National is one of the largest and most prosperous banking institutions in western Nebraska and the year just closed was one of the best in the history of the bank. The usual semi-annual dividend of 8 per cent was declared and $10,000 was added to the surplus fund, bringing this fund up to $45,000. This addition to the surplus makes $20,000 that has been added to it this year, $10,000 having been placed therein on July 1, which shows the prosperity of this institution. The old officers were re-elected for the ensuing year, as follows: T. F. Birmingham, president; J. P. Mann, vice president; Ed F. Gallagher, cashier; J. F. Gallagher, assistant cashier. These gentlemen, with J. A. Mann, constitute the board of directors.

A local implement dealer got in a pair of bob sleds Tuesday and fifteen minutes after they were unloaded he had a dozen purchasers for them. There has been a great demand for bob sleds this winter but it has been impossible for local dealers to get them as all factories are over crowded with orders owing to the heavy snows throughout the country, and the factories were not prepared for such an unusual demand. The pair received here Tuesday was the only pair received in O'Neill this winter, although dealers say they could have sold seventy pair if they had been able to supply them.

Farmers living in the neighborhood of Dorsey met last Thursday and organized the Dorsey Cheese company with a capital of $5,000 and they will build a factory at Dorsey. The contract has been let for the machinery to be installed before April 1, 1910. R. L. Wyman, a practical cheese manufacturer, has been engaged to superintend the factory. Directors were elected as follows: M. T. Elliott, F. B. Pine, Roy Pilger, John Movak and Scotia Stevenson. They elected the following officers: M. T. Elliott, president; O. O. Newman, vice president; Fred Pilger, secretary, and Scotia Stevenson treasurer.

Harry Dowling was up from Grand Island Tuesday attending a meeting of the stockholders of the O'Neill National. Harry is one of the democratic state bank examiners—having been appointed by Governor Shallenberger last April—but so far has failed to get on the salary list as the law creating the board of examiners, to which he was appointed, was knocked out by the supreme court. Consequently republicans are still doing the work and drawing the pay and will probably continue to do so during the balance of the present state administration. But Harry has a little satisfaction in the fact that he succeeded in getting the appointment anyhow.

The stockholders of the O'Neill National bank held their annual meeting at the banking rooms last Tuesday evening. The regular semi-annual dividend was declared and the surplus fund was increased to $10,000. This popular banking institution had the most successful year in its history in the year just closed, which speaks highly for the financial ability of its cashier, S. J. Weekes, and was highly gratifying to the stockholders. The total footings on January 11, this year, were $307,000, as compared with $233,000 on January 11, 1909, which clearly shows that the O'Neill National is rapidly taking its place as one of the giant financial institutions of northeast Nebraska. The old officers were all re-elected and are as follows: M. Dowling, president; O. O. Snyder, vice-president; S. J. Weekes, cashier; C. P. Hancock, assistant cashier; E. T. Quinn, bookkeeper. The president, vice president and cashier with Dr. J. P. Gilligan and Harry Dowling constitute the board of directors.

A rather amusing story is told of a man who went into a hardware store in a neighboring town and wished to purchase an ax, says an Ohio paper. Being shown the article and informed that the price was $1.15, he said, "Why I can get that same kind of an ax from a mail order house for 90 cents." "Very well," said the hardware man; "I will give it to you for the same price provided you will do the same with me as you will do with it." All right replied the customer as he handed over a dollar bill, the merchant giving him back 10 cents in change. "Now," said the hardware man, "I want 25 cents more to pay express charges," which the customer gave him. "How much did your ax cost you?" "One dollar and fifteen cents," the man answered. "Very good. Now give 6 cents more for money order fees and postage," which the purchaser had to hand over. "Now," how much did your ax cost you?" "One dollar and twenty cents," said the customer. "Not so cheap, after all," said the merchant, whereupon he picked up the ax, tossed it back on the shelf and told the customer to call for it in ten days, as that would be as soon as he could get it if he had ordered it from the mail order house.

Last Tuesday night was a gala one for the woodchoppers of O'Neill, or at least those who were fortunate enough to belong to the Modern Woodmen of America. It was the regular meeting night and after two candidates had been adopted into the mysteries of the order, the officers for the ensuing year were duly installed. The initiation and installation ceremonies were conducted in the opera-house, the lodge rooms proper being filled with tables and loaded down with tempting viands to refresh the woodchoppers after their arduous labors. At the conclusion of the camp meeting the Woodmen were joined by many members of the ladies' auxiliary order, the Royal Neighbors, and sat down to the "big feed" on the floor above and the way some of the "boys" stowed away food would make a novice believe them to be genuine "lumber jacks" from the forests of Wisconsin or Minnesota. At the conclusion of the spread the lower floor was again pressed into service and, with Miss Loretta Sullivan presiding at the piano, the boys of thirty years ago tripped the "light" fantastic to their hearts content. Such old-time dances as the "barn dance" and the "three step" were supplanted by two of the latest dances known to swell society, entitled "Old Dan Tucker" and the "Virginia Reel." Between dances clogs by J. P. and P. J. McManus and the singing of that familiar German song, "Die Wacht Am Rhein" in German by William Meyers and Henry Zimmerman were loudly applauded and thoroughly enjoyed. About 1:30 all departed for home happy because they had been present and enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

The county board met Tuesday afternoon and organized by electing J. D. Grimes of Chambers chairman. The chairman then appointed the following committees for the ensuing year:

- Court house jail and judiciary—Kelly, Kramer and Sievers.
- Printing and supplies—Nilson, Hunter and Prussa.
- Financial and official bonds—Prussa, Nilson and Kramer.
- Tax and tax titles—Kramer, Sievers and Kelly.
- Claims—Seivers and the entire board.
- Settlement—Hunter and the entire board.

Sullivan-Langford Mill Prohibited

A Pittsburgh, Pa., dispatch to the daily press, under date of January 10th, has the following to say regarding the Sullivan-Langford six-round bout, mentioned in The Frontier last week and which was to be pulled off next Tuesday night: "After a month of scouting in an endeavor to find a man willing to meet Sam Langford in a six-round bout here, the Empire

Athletic association had its work undone today, when Director of Public Safety Morin declared he would not issue a permit for a fight between Langford and "Montana Jack" Sullivan.

"It now seems probable that Langford may not be seen here at all. "Director Morin declares there are but six men at present who have any chance with Langford and that to secure a permit the club must match the negro with one of the six. The six men designated are Kaufman, Ketchel, Papke, Jeffries, Johnson and Jack O'Brien."

Teach the Children to Save Money

It is often and truthfully said that a penny saved is a penny made. The foundation of the greatest fortunes was begun by saving a penny. The habit of saving is one of the best that can be formed. Every child should be taught to save something every week. The satisfaction of counting these pennies when the bank is emptied is one of the pleasures that we never forget; perhaps every one of us can remember the thrill of joy we had when we emptied the contents of the bank on the table and counted and recounted this mountain of wealth; how eager we were to tell our little friends the amount of our great fortune, and raced with them in refilling the bank.

To bring this pleasure within the reach of every child and help the forming of the penny-saving habit, Messrs. Scott & Bowne, 409 Pearl Street, New York, the manufacturers of Scott's Emulsion, are offering to send to any address, for 10 cents, a beautiful little Savings Bank; each bank contains a new Good Luck Penny. Send 10 cents and get one.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our many friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy shown us in the death and burial of our beloved father and grandfather. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Naughton and family.

Methodist Church Items.
The usual services will be held at the Methodist church next Sunday, beginning with the class meeting at 10 a. m. and at 7:30 p. m. The subject of our morning discourse will be, "Intimacy with Christ and Its Effects." In the evening our theme will be, "The Lord's Side." To these services we most cordially invite everybody. We are always glad to welcome strangers.

Sunday school at the close of our morning service, and our friends are invited to tarry a while for the study of God's Word.

Junior League service at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, to which we cordially invite all of the boys and girls.

The extreme cold weather interfered somewhat with the meetings called for the week of prayer, but the interest manifested this week is really encouraging. Meetings every night this week, and longer if the interest warrants. Our friends are invited to come out and hear Rev. Stopford.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet in the class room on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. All ladies are invited to meet with them.

T. S. Watson, Pastor.
