A light hail storm visited the country northwest of town this morning but so far as heard from no damage was done to crops. As has been the case for the past six years William Myers was one of those visited by the hail. The hail storm was followed by a drenching rain which made every one feel happy.

An editor works 365 days in a year to get out fifty-two issues of a paper, that's labor. Once in a while a subscriber pays a year in advance for his paper, that's capital. And once in a while some son-of-a-sea-cock of a dead beat takes the paper for two or three years then skips out without paying for it, that's anarchy.

When the stomach fails to perform its functions, the bowels become deranged, the liver and the kidneys congested causing numerous diseases. The stomach and liver must be restored to a healthy condition and Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets can be depended upon to do it. Easy to take and most effective. Sold by All Dealers. 3-4.

Stephen McGinnis left last Friday evening for Cody, Wyoming, where he will spend the summer visiting at the home of his son, E. J. Steve says he intends to have a "bully" time this summer and will go on a hunting trip into the mountains the latter part of next month when he will try and bag some big game. When he returns home we can look for some good hunting stories.

Matt Verlinden returned last week from a two weeks visit with relatives in Oregon and Washington. Mr. Verlinden says that is a great country, but a good country for a man to stay away from unless he has a good sized bank account or wants to work like a slave. He says that the price of irrigated land is so high that it is impossible for a man with limited means to purchase.

"Patronize home institutions," cries the editor from week to week. "That is right," says the merchant, "give it to those who go to some other town to buy goods." Then with his heart filled with kindness to the loyal editor, he sends his job work to Omaha or utilizes a piece of wrapping paper or a 5 cent tablet to write an order on for goods or send a statement to a customer. Funny, isn't it?

Yesterday Jack McKenna received a telegram from Arthur Ryan, dated Reno, Nevada, stating that Charles McKenna was operated upon Tuesday for appendicitis and was in a hospital in that city. He said that he was getting along nicely and that he would remain until Charley was able to travel, which would be in about ten days. This was surely hard luck for Charley as the chances are that he did not get to see the fight after going so far to see it.

For a good every day household angel, give us a woman who laughs. Home is not a battlefield, nor life one long unending row. A trick of always seeing the bright side, or, if the thing has no bright side, of shining up the dark one, is a very important faculty and one of the things no woman should be born without. We are not all born with the sunshine in our hearts, as the Irish prettily phrase it, but we can cultivate a cheerful sense of humor if we only try.

To the lovers of classical and operatic music the Signor Lombardo Symphony Band and Grand Opera Company of 44 instruments and 24 grand opera singers, 8 of whom are soloists of national fame at the State Fair, Sept 5th to 9th will present an opportunity which is seldom offered our citizenship as such organizations only make occasional visits to but two cities in Nebraska, and then at such prices of admission that the possibility of attendance is limited.

This office is in receipt of a letter from Rev. T. S. Watson, pastor of the Methodist church, who is visiting at Epworth, Iowa, in which he announces that Rev. Oscar Eggleston of Ewing will preach in the Methodist church on Sunday, July 10, both morning and evening. The fourth quarterly conference will be held at the Methodist church on Friday evening, July 15, at 8 o'clock. This is an important conference and every member should be present. Rev. E. T. George will preside. Mr. Watson says he will return home about July 14.

A young woman said she was born to be a farmer's wife because she engaged in milking when an infant, and took to cradling early. Later she often cut up and shocked her parents and filled her crib. At an early age she learned to sew, and she had cultivated her acquaintance with a young agriculturist, and as soon as she placed her affections she intended to "make hay while the sun was shining." This was too much for an impressive tiller of the soil, so he gathered her up into his arms and garnered her.

There are events occurring in every community which, if reported in a local paper, would create a commotion little dreamed of. What to report and what not to report often perplexes the editor. He is often justly accused of cowardice and favoritism, when all the time he is looking toward the good reputation of the town where his lot is cast. The local editor from necessity almost constantly finds himself between two fires, and whichever way he turns he is sure to be unjustly treated. This is one of the pleasures of the newspaper business.

A large delegation of O'Neill people attended the celebration at Stuart last Monday and report an enjoyable time. The ball game between Stuart and Newport was particularly good, being won by Stuart with a score of 4 to 1. Rhody Ryan and Ed Alberts of this city were in the points for Stuart and the spectators say that the Newport sluggers were at the mercy of Ryan all through the game. He allowed only one scratch hit and fanned a dozen and but for a bad throw in the ninth inning would have treated the visitors to a shut out.

James Davidson, L. E. Carscallen, John Davidson, Eber Leek and W. C. Templeton went out to the lakes in the southwestern part of the county last Saturday and spent Sunday and Monday fishing for the wily pickerel and bass. Jim Davidson and Carscallen returned Tuesday morning but the rest of the party did not return until Tuesday night and they had the richest catch of pickerel brought into this city for many moons. The "bunch" collectively and individually have the thanks of the Frontier family for a splendid mess of pickerel.

This county was visited with another splendid rain last Friday and Friday night. About an inch of water fell here while in the western part of the county the rain was much heavier and prospects for a splendid corn crop never looked better at this time of the year than at the present time. It is very dry in the eastern part of the state, the first rain of any consequence for three months, falling there last Saturday night. From newspaper reports the hay crop will not be very heavy this year and Holt county hay men can be reasonably sure of good prices for their crop this season.

A good country road is always to be desired and is a source of comfort and convenience to every traveler. Good roads attract population, as well as good schools and churches. Good roads improve the value of the property, so that it is said a farm lying five miles from market, connected by a bad road is of less value than an equally good farm lying ten miles away from market connected by a good road. A larger load can be drawn by one horse over a good road than by two over a bad one. Good roads encourage the greater exchange of products and commodities between one section and another.

O'Neill was nearly deserted on July 4th, most of its inhabitants going to Inman or Stuart to help these cities properly observe the great day. In addition to the delegations that visited these Holt county towns several went to Valentine and numerous others enjoyed themselves at picnic parties in several groves adjoining the city. But while there were but few left in town they proceeded to enjoy themselves during the afternoon and pulled off several foot races among the fleet-footed old folks of the town. In addition to the foot races bulletins from the famous fight at Reno, Nevada, were received at the popular anti-thirst emporiums of Jack Thomas and Billy O'Connors which helped to pass away the time and nearly all who stayed in town say they passed a very pleasant day.

A critical young lady was recently heard expiating vigorously against the silly way that women have of kissing each other every time they get together. She said: "If twenty women were to meet in the street every last one of them would have to kiss the other nineteen, and there would be let me see—380 kisses worse than thrown away, for probably in ten minutes the whole party would separate into squads and go off talking about each other. When you see one of these violent miscellaneous, kiss-every-thing-in-sight kind of a woman, it is safe to set her down as a fraud, which she generally is. If I had my way, kissing would be confined to family uses and for medicinal purposes. Now, don't you put my name to this or I will kiss you right on Douglas street the first chance I have."

The Frontier received a letter from Michael McCoy last week containing a renewal of his subscription to this household necessity. Mr. McCoy was for many years a resident of this county, but now resides at Ada, Perkins county, South Dakota. Judging from his letter Mike has not found the promised land in his new South Dakota home. He says: "Enclosed find draft for $3 for the best paper in Nebraska. It makes me feel like going back every time I read it. All we have had here since the first of March is wind. The first rain of the year arrived on June 1st, but hot winds every day. My oats is only a foot high and will have to start cutting it tomorrow. On account of the dry weather there will be no hay here this year. It keeps me busy killing rattle snakes and porkupines. I killed 4 rattlesnakes last year and six this, and a half dozen porkupines. Will go down and take a look at God's county next month." The Frontier tends its thanks to our old friend for his good opinion of the "old reliable" and would join his many friends in welcoming him back to old Holt should he again cast his fortune among us.

The fight at Reno, Nevada, on July 4 uncovered to the gaze of the sporting world the greatest joke in the history of the prize ring, James J. Jeffries. He went down to defeat before Jack Johnson in the fifteenth round of a forty-five round fight. At no time during the contest was there any chance for Jeffries to win and it looks to us as if the defeated fighter knew all along that he would go down to defeat before the nigger. He surrounded himself with a lot of "has been fighters" and refused to do much boxing, even with them. Jim Corbett was a member of his training crew for nearly a month yet during that time Jeffries did not have the gloves on with him eight rounds during the entire time. It appears that he was afraid to do much boxing as it would disclose his condition and that he preferred to allow his friends to drop their wads betting on him at long odds and that he would go into the ring take a licking and receive his share of the purse,—which was a small fortune—and retire to end his days in affluence. For the past year he has been looked upon by the sporting fraternity as an idol but that idol was smashed to smithereens by the colored gentlemen from Georgia. For defeating Jeffries Johnson won $120,000. This is the largest amount of money ever received by a fighter in the history of the game. For taking a licking at the hands of the nigger Jeffries received for his share $117,000. Who would not take a good licking for a fortune of that size?

Young Galloway Bulls.

M. W. Spry, 6 miles northeast of O'Neill, has a few fair young bulls for sale at farmers prices. They are big, fine, rugged, growly Galloways, that are so popular in the feed yard every where. Get one of these young bulls and improve your herd.—Write or call on M. W. Spry, O'Neill, Nebr. 3-2.

Advertised Letters.

The following letters remain uncalled for in the O'Neill postoffice for week ending July 7, 1910.

M. H. Whaley, Frank Owen, Mr. Harry Bumann, Mr. Mike Nudolalec, Mr. R. Waltess.

In calling for the above please say, "advertised." If not called for within fifteen days they will be sent to the dead letter office.

R. J. Marsh, P. M.

The idea of teaching every girl to thump the piano and every boy to be a bookkeeper will make potatoes worth 88 a barrel in 20 years.

The friends of this paper will please hand us in items of news while they are fresh. We prefer not to publish a birth after the child is weaned, a marriage after the honeymoon is over, or the death of a man after his widow is married again.

Take a wide-mouthed bottle of good clear glass and fill it with fresh water. Then put into it two teaspoonful of finely powdered alum. In fair weather and when it is likely to continue fair, the liquid will be clear, but at the approach of cloudy or rainy weather the mixture will become feathery looking. This barometer will indicate a change of weather 36 hours in advance.

Obituary.

Died—In this city of acute Brights Disease, Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock, Mrs. Alfred Shipman, aged 71 years, 4 months and 17 days.

Almire Durrell was born at Payson, Illinois, on February 13, 1839, where she grew to womanhood. She was married to Alfred Shipman at Eldora, Illinois, February 15, 1860. They moved from there to Conway, Iowa, in 1879, and from there to Ainsworth, Nebraska, in 1883, where they settled on a homestead and where they lived until about seven years ago, when they quit housekeeping on account of the ill health of Mrs. Shipman and went to live with a daughter at Osmond, Nebr. They later moved to Crawford where they lived until about two months ago when they moved to this city.

The deceased was the mother of seven children, four of whom, two sons and two daughters, together with a devoted husband, survive her and deeply mourn her loss. Those living are: Mrs. J. A. Davis, who lives in Canada; Thomas, who lives at Crawford; Joseph, who lives near Randolph; and Mrs. Geo. A. Miles of this city. One daughter and two sons died in early life.

The deceased has been a patient sufferer for about eight years and for the last two years has been nearly helpless, her aged husband and her children waiting on her as they would a little child. About two months ago when they moved to this city she began to grow weaker and in about six weeks was forced to take to her bed where she rapidly grew worse until Tuesday when peacefully and quietly, and surrounded by her husband and sorrowing children and kind neighbors, she passed to the great beyond to meet her savior.***

The show that was here last week, intending to stay three nights, left after showing one night owing discourteous treatment from outsiders.

Mrs. Rash Van and children, are here from Colorado where they moved this spring. They report plenty of rain and general prosperity in that section.

The celebration here Monday was one of the most successful ever held in our town. While our speakers were absent, Mr. John J. Hancock of Inman offered an address of welcome, after which he read the Declaration of Independence. This was followed by songs, and band music, rendered by a band from Battle Creek. The ball game was one of the finest ever put on at Inman, Page carrying off first money. Mr. and Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Dikeman received serious wounds, and a number of others were slightly hurt from an explosion here the Fourth. It is not definitely known but is supposed to have been a Dago bomb, which was not properly discharged. Dr. Noyse is in charge of the patients and reports all doing as well as can be expected.
