Moses Present is evidently a believer in the mail order houses. He is having all his campaign matter printed at an Omaha mail order house. It might be a good idea for those who believe in patronizing home institutions to allow Mose to get his votes on the sixteenth from his mail order friends in Omaha.

W. Anderson of Page was arrested last Monday upon complaint filed by John T. Walker who alleges that on July 23, Anderson feloniously made an assault upon said Walker and bit a piece out of the left ear of said Walker with the intent and purpose to disfigure him. Anderson was before the county court Wednesday and waived preliminary and was bound over to the district court.

Judge Edgar Howard of Columbus was in the city last Saturday, having come up here to make arrangements to have the hay put up on the quarter of land he bought south of Ewing at the land sale about a month ago. Judge Howard is of the opinion that he will make near enough from his hay crop this season to pay for the land. While in town the Judge favored this office with a short fraternal call.

L. B. Fuller, one of the hustling, energetic farmers of Rock Falls township, was a caller yesterday and left a couple of "cases" to apply upon subscription to The Frontier which Mr. Fuller says is "the best county paper he ever read and that it would be impossible for him to keep house without it". He says they did not receive very much rain there Tuesday night but that corn was looking splendid.

Dick Johnson was down from Stuart Tuesday. Dick is one of the most enthusiastic Dahلمان men in the county and says that the Omaha mayor will receive a majority of the democratic votes cast at the primary in this county on August 16th. If Dick is speaking by the card this will be quite a blow to Shallenberger's legal advisor, A. F. Mullen, who is supposed to see that Holt county lines up for the governor.

Have you ever heard of the Bain wagon. I have it, also Indiana and LaFayette. Hay stackers, sweeps and Acme mowers. Pumps, wind mills, steel tanks, pipes and fittings. White sewing machines, pianos and organs. I have a very fine line of buggies. If you want anything in my line it won't cost anything to see my stock. Nothing pays better than to keep posted.—Frank Campbell, O'Neill, Nebr. 7-1

George Tomlinson was in from the Minneola country yesterday. Mr. Tomlinson says they had one of the heaviest rains of the season in his section Tuesday night and that corn prospects were never brighter in that section of old Holt then they are at the present time. They have been very fortunate there this season as they have received over six inches of rain since July 4th and that section he says is Holt's garden spot this summer.

John E. Wortman of Iowa City, Iowa, was in the city the first of the week visiting old time friends. Mr. Wortman formerly resided in this county returning to Iowa about four years ago. He says that it has been very dry in his section of Iowa this year, the pastures having dried up completely and farmers were compelled to feed hay to their stock. He said that this was the best looking section of the country he had seen on his trip from Iowa.

Jim Dahلمان of Omaha was in the city last Thursday interviewing the voters regarding his candidacy for the democratic nomination for governor. It is said that Mr. Dahلمان received considerable encouragement from local democrats, many of whom say they will show the democrats of the state that the vote of the democrats of O'Neill is not carried around in the vest pocket of Arthur F. Mullen. Mr. Dahلمان was escorted around the city by Sheridan Simmons who also accompanied him for four days in his canvass of adjacent counties. Mr. Simmons says that the Omaha mayor met splendid receptions in every town that they visited and he says that Dahلمان is sure to capture the democratic nomination and the election this fall. If this should come to pass it would look to an outsider as if Sheridan would loom up as about the leader of the democracy of Holt county.
