For Congressman, Sixth District,
M. P. KINKAID.
For State Senator,
W. A. GOBLE.
For State Representatives,
H. A. ALLEN,
D. H. CRONIN.
For County Attorney,
J. H. MEREDITH.

The record made by H. A. Allen in the last legislature should entitle him to the unanimous support of all lovers of progressive legislation.

Joe Meredith says that his majority over Whelan for County Attorney will be so large that Whelan will not want to secure a recount of the ballots cast.

The temporary injunction granted against the recount of the ballots cast at the recent primary election in Douglas county was dissolved last Tuesday and the recount is now in progress. The recount of the first ward was completed Tuesday and in that ward Dahlman made a gain of three vote over Shallenberger. It is thought that it will take at least three weeks to complete the recount. In the meantime Dahlman is canvassing the state in the interest of his candidacy and it is generally conceded that the recount will not change sufficient votes to enable Shallenberger to secure the democratic nomination.

There is a rumor now going the rounds that Governor Shallenberger will call the legislature in special session for the purpose of submitting the initiative and referendum to the people of the state at the coming election. If this was submitted to the people Bryan and Shallenberger would then fall into line behind Dahlman and boost for his election, thus keeping themselves regular. In the event of this program going through Shallenberger will be the democratic candidate for United States senator two years from this fall to succeed Senator Brown. Those who claim to be on the inside say that is the mode of procedure now mapped out. Another faction desires to see Shallenberger stay upon the ticket as the populist candidate and make the race three cornered, believing that they can thus effectively kill all the political prestige of the Omaha mayor. By following the latter course the Shallenberger people are afraid, however, that while condemning Dahlman to political death, the governor would also be relegating himself to political oblivion. So the leaders of democracy find themselves between the devil and the deep sea.

Roosevelt on Burkett.

When Colonel Roosevelt was in Omaha September 2nd, and made a speech at the Auditorium, he was introduced by Senator Burkett. In response to the Senator's introductory address Colonel Roosevelt gave him a splendid endorsement. The former President's remarks, as reported in the Lincoln Journal, were as follows: "I am particularly pleased to be introduced by Senator Burkett," said the Colonel, "because he was one of the men on whom I especially relied while I was President, both while he was in the house and in the senate. On one occasion he paid a tribute to me which may have been entirely unmerited, in which he described what the typical American public servant must be. He said: In the great struggle of life he (the good American) must be prepared to take the side of the man rather than of the dollar. Old time methods in politics, old time ideals of governmental duty and prerogative are relegated to the junk shop of political antiquities. No man who is skeptical in his own mind of the righteousness of the advanced ground that the American people have taken socially or morally can have their confidence. No man who is fearful of popular rule, or is more afraid of the people's oppression of predatory wealth with law than of its oppression of the people without law is eligible to popular esteem.

"In my own case," Colonel Roosevelt continued, "All I can say is that I have endeavored to live up to that description and that I was able to accomplish what I did accomplish in Washington only because of the way in which I was backed by men like Senator Burkett, and as we have a guest from Iowa present, let me say, also, like Senator Dolliver.

Mrs. C. J. Malou and little daughter, Florence, who have been absent for sometime, returned from their trip through Colorado and Kansas where they have been visiting. They stopped off here a short time Sunday, before returning to their home in O'Neill.

The W. C. T. U. annual convention was held here Sept. 1 and 2. The time was principally given to the business of the different departments of the Union. On Thursday the Gold Medal Contest was given, which consisted of 5 members, all winners of Silver Medals last year, namely: Blanche Bitner, Beryl Decker, June Hancock, Lyle Butler and Mildred Clark. The first Gold Medal was awarded to Miss Butler. All of the contestants did exceedingly well and report it a rally program for Temperance and the evening was well enjoyed.

Only A Dollar Now.

The Lincoln Daily Journal has cut its price to a dollar from now until January 1, 1911, without the Sunday. The big Sunday paper will be added for only a quarter extra, therefore most people will no doubt take the $1.25 worth. This makes an exceedingly low price during a specially interesting time, as nearly every family will want a Lincoln paper during the next few months. The State Journal's reputation as a free, independent, clean newspaper will prove of special advantage during the warm campaign now begun. The paper stops when the time is up without any notice from you whatever, so that you see it is no plan to get you started and then force the paper on you.

Bixby, the poet-philosopher of The Journal, is worth the price of admission himself. State telegraph is a strong feature and sporting cranks are well satisfied. The thing above all others is the fact that when you see anything political in The Journal that its for the benefit of the people at large and not for the selfish political interest of the owners. No booze ads, no nasty medical ads, no fraudulent investment schemes. Fact is, its the kind of paper you want in your family. Why not try it a dollar's worth at this cut price?

Educational Notes.

All districts desiring to qualify for State Aid should have application for the same on file in the County Superintendent's office on or before Oct. 1, 1910. We will mail out application blanks to any one who may apply for them.

CERTIFICATES.

The power of a county superintendent to issue permits was annulled by the legislature of 1905. We are occasionally asked to grant one of these papers. The school laws of Nebraska read: "Proper certificate of qualification is essential to warrant a school board in paying a teacher from the public school funds." Sec. 1, Subdiv. IX.

CONSOLIDATION.

A 40 page bulletin dealing with the problem of consolidation of rural schools has just been issued by the State Superintendent. The bulletin emphasizes the advantages of consolidation, including an illustrated article on the Sholes consolidated school in Wayne County, touches upon what has been done in some twenty other consolidated districts in the state, explains the way in which a district should proceed to secure a consolidated school, containing a table of very interesting statistics with reference to small schools in Nebraska, and concludes with a review of the Kimball County, Nebr., high school, and a history of one consolidated district in the states of Kansas, Illinois and Ohio.

A limited edition of this bulletin was issued, but a copy will be sent to any one who will make application.

The State Fair will be held at Lincoln Sept. 5 to 9, 1910. Holt County will be represented in the educational department. Work on which prizes and diplomas were given at the county exhibit June 11, will be taken to the State Fair.
