WOMEN SEE TIGER
BREATHE EXPIRING
GASPS IN NEVADA

Last Touch of the Life of the Old Frontier Passes Away Under Era of Moral Law.

Reno, Nevada—Special: Femininity, drawn from all sources, respectable, reputable, notable and otherwise joined with millionaires, thieves and tramps in thronging the gambling dens of Reno to watch the last whirl of the roulette wheel, give the last shake to the merry dice and copper the last bet—for at midnight all gambling licenses expired and there went into effect the law passed by the last legislature prohibiting gambling.

It was the passing away of the last of the frontier touches. Divorcees who have whiled away many a weary hour of their weary six months' wait gazing in rapture at the little white ball seeking its own particular pocket, flocked to the dens for a last little fling. Other women who have lived in Reno all their lives without crossing the threshold of a gambling house tossed their scruples aside and went to be in at the death.

Men of all nationalities and no nationalities, men of all occupations and no occupations were with them. It was the last night and as the fateful hour of midnight approached the excitement became intense.

Before every table the players banked themselves eight deep. And among them was the "Harmony Kid," a youth of unobtrusive appearance with a penchant for shaking dice and creating honest gamblers. His plan is simple. He merely substitutes his own dice for those on the table—and then wins. He was in one place but minutes and then slipped away $500 to the good.

At the stroke of midnight the gambling world of Reno ceased revolving. Over the enticing red and black were thrown white cloths. The wheels stopped going round and the crowd poured itself out, shrill feminine voices telling of winnings, others muttering of losses.

Playing Was Light. The play was not heavy. The gamblers realized that there would be no chance to recoup on the morrow and professional gamblers were given $5 and $10 limits. Full courtesies were shown, however, to the strangers and inexperienced ones, who were allowed to play as much as they liked.

There was some talk of the places being open the next day, as the state law does not go into effect until midnight Sunday and the sheriff declared that as the next day was a legal holiday on account of a bond election, they could not be renewed for the intervening 24 hours. In Carson City, Fallon and Winnemucca, where there has been gambling almost since the towns sprang up, the play ceased some days ago.

In Dissipated Quag. From the Washington Star. "They must think we are in a bad way here in New York," said Francis Wilson at the Players' club. "They must think we are as hopeless as the temperance audience in Quag." Mr. Wilson was condemning the proposed law to imprison for a year any person arrested twice for drunkenness. He resumed: "A drummer attended a Quag temperance lecture one night. The audience was enthusiastic. It cheered every point that the lecturer made. Yet the lecturer had a red nose and a shaky hand, while an unpleasant odor of alcohol made the air of the hall heavy."
"Are they all teetotalers here?" the drummer whispered to a neighbor, suspiciously.
"Yes sir," was the reply, "all strict teetotalers—between the drinks."

The Best He Could Do. From Everybody's. Up in Minnesota Mr. Olsen had a cow killed by a railroad train. In due season the claim agent for the railroad called.

"We understand, of course, that the deceased was a very docile and valuable animal," said the claim agent in his most persuasive claim-agentian manner, "and we sympathize with you and your family in your loss. But, Mr. Olsen, you must remember this: Your cow had no business being upon our tracks. Those tracks are our private property and when she invaded them she became a trespasser. Technically speaking, you, as her owner, became a trespasser also. But we have no desire to carry the issue into court, and possibly give you trouble. Now, what would you regard as a fair settlement between you and the railroad company?"
"Vall," said Mr. Olsen slowly. "Ay bane poor Swede farmer, but Ay skall give you two dollars."

In the Geography Class. From the Pittsburg Advertiser. Jimmie," said the teacher, "what is a cape?"
"A cape is land extending into the water."
"Correct. William, define a gulf."
"A gulf is water extending into the land."
"Good. Christopher," to a small, eager looking boy, "what is a mountain?"
Christopher shot up from his seat so suddenly as to startle the teacher, and promptly responded: "A mountain is land extending into the air."

Pilgrim's Progress John. From the Pittsburg Dispatch. Cornelius V. Collins, the superintendent of New York's prisons, said in Troy of a discredited penologist: "He is as ignorant of prisons as Deacon Smith was of religion."
"Deacon Smith, you know, once began a religious lecture with these words: 'Ladies and gents, there's three Johns mentioned in the Good Book. There's firstly, John the Evangelist; second, John the Baptist, and three, John the Bunton.'"

Original of a Famous Story. From the London Telegraph. There were times when Morny's pride and hauteur were rebuked, much to his own disadvantage. Being in want of money, he once visited the house of Rothschild, when the baron received him somewhat cavalierly.
"Take a chair," said the banker.
"Do you know who I am?" said the offended statesman. "You are speaking to the Comte de Morny."
"Monsieur le Comte de Morny," said Rothschild in most respectful tones, "will you please take two chairs?"

A Deadly Weapon. From M. A. P. Artist (to friend)—Yes, I use the palette knife a good deal. Knocked child's head off in the morning and sold it in the afternoon. (Nervous old gentleman gets out hurriedly at next stop.)

WHY NEW ORLEANS
CITY IS LOGICAL POINT FOR WORLD'S PANAMA EXPOSITION.

Its Geographical Position and Many Other Considerations Mark it as Most Suitable Spot for Dedication of Great Work.

Public sentiment has decided that the completion of the Panama Canal in 1915 shall be celebrated with a great International Exposition in which all the nations of the world may participate; and the question of where this Exposition is to be held will be settled by Congress at its approaching session.

New Orleans and San Francisco are contesting for the honor of holding this Exposition, and both cities have guaranteed immense sums of money as an evidence of their ability to finance so great an enterprise.

An Exposition worthy of the term "World's Fair," such as New Orleans proposes to build, will be a great educational movement. Its success as such, however, will depend entirely upon the percentage of our population who can secure its educational advantages, this in turn, depends upon its location, as the time in traveling to and from the Exposition, and the cost in railroad and Pullman fares, are the most important factors.

Considering these matters, New Orleans' claims to being the "Logical Point" for this Panama Exposition, seem to be fully substantiated by the following facts:—

New Orleans is 500 miles from the center of population in the United States. San Francisco is 2,500 miles distant therefrom.

Within a radius of 500 miles from New Orleans there are 17,500,000 people. Within the same radius from San Francisco there are only 2,000,000. Within a radius of 1,000 miles from New Orleans, there are 65,000,000. Within the same radius from San Francisco there are only 6,000,000.

At an average of 900 miles from New Orleans, there are 70 of our principal cities with a combined population of 20,000,000. Averaging 900 miles from San Francisco there are only 8 large cities, with a combined population of just 1,000,000. The average distance of all these cities to New Orleans is 792 miles,—to San Francisco 2,407 miles.

Over 75 per cent. of the people of the United States could go to an Exposition there at an average expense for railroad fare of $12.50, as against an average of $37.50 to the Pacific Coast; and for several millions of our people, the Pullman fare and Dining Car expenses alone, for a trip to San Francisco, would amount to more than all their transportation expenses for a trip to New Orleans.

This is an important public question to be settled by Congress at the session which convenes in December.

Many of our readers will wish to visit this World's Panama Exposition, and if held in New Orleans a great many more could spare the time and money for the trip than could go to San Francisco. Therefore, we urge our readers to write to the two senators from this State and the congressman from this district, requesting them to support New Orleans in the contest.

He Came by It Honestly. "Lend me your pencil, Johnny." The small boy handed it over and teacher continued to correct the exercises of the class. When she finished she suffered a sudden lapse of memory and laid the pencil away in her desk. As she stood up to excuse the class she encountered the scornful gaze of Johnny's eyes. Rising in his seat he fixed her with an accusing forefinger and uttered the single word "Graft!"

WASTED A FORTUNE ON SKIN TROUBLE

"I began to have an itching over my whole body about seven years ago and this settled in my limbs, from the knee to the toes. I went to see a great many physicians, a matter which cost me a fortune, and after I noticed that I did not get any relief that way, I went for three years to the hospital. But they were unable to help me there, I used all the medicines that I could see, but became worse and worse. I had an inflammation which made me almost crazy with pain. When I showed my foot to my friends they would get really frightened. I did not know what to do. I was so sick and had become so nervous that I positively lost all hope.

"I had seen the advertisement of the Cuticura Remedies a great many times, but could not make up my mind to buy them, for I had already used so many medicines. Finally I did decide to use the Cuticura Remedies and I tell you that I was never so pleased as when I noticed that, after having used two sets of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Pills, the entire inflammation had gone. I was completely cured. I should be only too glad if people with similar disease would come to me and find out the truth. I would only recommend them to use Cuticura. Mrs. Bertha Sachs, 1621 Second Ave., New York, N. Y., Aug. 20, 1909."

"Mrs. Bertha Sachs is my sister-in-law and I know well how she suffered and was cured by Cuticura Remedies after many other treatments failed. Morris Sachs, 321 E. 89th St., New York, N. Y., Secretary of Deutsch-Ostrower Unt.-Verein, Kemptner Hebrew Benevolent Society, etc."

WOMAN WITNESS
IN LORIMER CASE
CONFIRMS WHITE

Prosecution Seeking to Corroborate Story of Man Who Testified That He Was Bribed.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 3.—Miss Mollie Vandever, a stenographer of East St. Louis, was the first witness called in the Lorimer investigation today. She testified that about the middle of June, Representative White, who claims to have received $1,000 for voting for Mr. Lorimer, returned to East St. Louis and paid a number of accounts. He exhibited a large roll of bills, she said, in denominations of $50, $20 and $10. This was subsequent to the date when White says he received $850 from Lee O'Neil Browne.

"Mr. White paid me $50.50," said Miss Vandever. He owed me $65." "Why were you not paid in full?" "Well, Mr. White owed so much that I felt sorry for him, and compromised for $50.50. He owed so many people that I was afraid his money would not go around."

Link Tells His Story. State Representative Michael S. Link, who received $1,000 he says, after voting for Lorimer for senator, and $900 from the so-called St. Louis "jackpot," told the committee that when he received the money he thought it was for campaign expenses.

Link, who is a large, rotund man, testified with occasional bursts of bluster and in a loud voice. He was asked if he was surprised when Lee O'Neil Browne asked him if he, a democrat, could vote for Mr. Lorimer. "Well, I just passed that question," replied Link bluntly.

The senators of the committee looked at him in surprise and disapproval upon noticing which Link modified his answer:

"I was either surprised or not surprised, that is the answer."

"Beat Browne to it." He testified that when Browne asked him if he could vote for Mr. Lorimer, he, Link, laughed and replied: "Lee I've got it on you I beat you to it. I've already promised Mr. Lorimer that I would vote for him."

Witness said that he had met Browne at St. Louis at the latter's request and Browne had handed him a package, saying, "Here's a package for you."
"I opened it," continued Link, "and found $1,000 in it."
"No, I just took it."
"What did you think it was for?"
"For campaign expenses."

Similar testimony was given by Link regarding a package containing $900 which he said was given him by State Representative Robert E. Wilson at St. Louis. He considered this as campaign money, also.

Duress is Charged. Attorney Haney told the committee he would contend that the witness, Link, was under duress while in custody before he made his confession.

"After being in custody for nearly a week," Link testified, "State's Attorney Wayman, of Cook county, told me I had been indicted for perjury, and told me if I would go before the grand jury and deny my confession, the State would let me go. I could go home a free man."
Chairman Burrows asked: "Is it the truth that you received $1,000 from Browne?"
"I do not deny it," replied Link.
"Did you receive $1,000 from Browne for voting for Lorimer?" asked Attorney Haney.
"That is not the truth."

BROOKINS WINS BIG PRIZE IN HIS FLIGHT

Breaks World's Record for Sustained Time in the Air and Gets $10,000.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 3.—Aviator Walter Brookins alighted gracefully in the fairgrounds at 4:27 p. m., yesterday, seven hours and 12 minutes out of Chicago, after having sailed his Wright biplane the 187 miles with two stops. These were at Gilman, Ill., 75 miles from Chicago, at 11:30 a. m., and at Mt. Pulaski, Ill., 163 miles from Chicago, at 3:20 p. m. The first stop was for water, oil and gasoline, the second for that and because his pump had broken and the engine became hot.

Brookins in his long sail broke the American long distance continued flight record and thereby won the $10,000 prize offered by the Chicago Record-Herald which conducted the attempt.

Asked about the flight he said: "Why, it was nothing only staying up. That's all. It merely took time—more than usual—and that's about the only difference from a practice flight. I knew I could make it."

"It was one of the prettiest flights I ever made. The country between Chicago and here is delightful. Everywhere I was flying low enough—and I went as low as 300 feet several times—I could see people staring up at me from every acre almost. There must have been three-fourths of a million looking up at me."

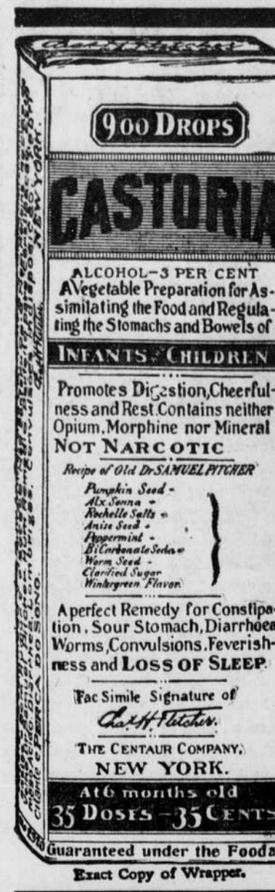

"My arms are tired, of course, and it was a strain because I had to watch all the while, but I am good for the same thing right now, if necessary."
Wilbur Wright's only comment was: "As the woman says, 'I told you so.'"

A thousand persons are homeless and destitute, but dispatches so far received indicate there were no casualties. The government is making relief plans.

Temporary Heat Quickly

Did you ever stop to think of the many ways in which a perfect oil heater is of value? If you want to sleep with your window open in winter, you can get sufficient heat from an oil heater while you undress at night, and then turn it off. Apply a match in the morning, when you get out of bed, and you have heat while you dress.

Those who have to eat an early breakfast before the stove is radiating heat can get immediate warmth from an oil heater, and then turn it off.

The girl who practices on the piano in a cold room in the morning can have warmth from an oil heater while she plays, and then turn it off.

The member of the family who has to walk the floor on a cold winter's night with a restless baby can get temporary heat with an oil heater, and then turn it off. The
