While it is often impossible to prevent an accident, it is never impossible to be prepared—it is not beyond any one's purse. Invest 25 cents in a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment and you are prepared for sprains, bruises and like injuries. Sold by all dealers.

O. A. Wedfeldt, one of the old settlers of shields township died, Monday of catarrhal pneumonia. The deceased was eighty-five years of age. He was a native of Sweden, where he was born in 1826. The funeral was held Thursday, the remains being buried in this city.

A few minutes delay in treating some cases of croup, even the length of time it takes to go for a doctor often proves dangerous. The safest way is to keep Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house, and at the first indication of croup give the child a dose. Pleasant to take and always cures. Sold by all dealers.

A debate will be held at the Opera House at Atkinson, Monday evening Feb. 27. The question "Resolved that the policy of maintaining the U. S. navy at its present strength is preferable to the policy of substantially strengthening it," will be discussed in the affirmative by Otto Stratton, Harry Miller and John O'Connell of the Atkinson high school and the negative by Roddy Ryan, Walter Campbell and Lawrence Chapman of the O'Neill high school. Darley Raymer and Francis Brennan will be the alternates.

The contest case of Wyant vs Johnson was taken up at the land office today. This is the case which was dismissed by the local office some months ago and which Wyant's attorney, L. G. Gillespie, secured a remand back for trial from the department at Washington. The land involved is south of O'Neill, part of it being in Holt and part in Wheeler county. Johnson came in yesterday with eight or ten witnesses to defend his right to the entry.

A four horse hay team made a lively runaway Wednesday and smashed the wagon to which they were hitched up some. They started from down about the railroad yards and ran a block north where in turning the corner to go west one horse fell. The other three kept on at the maddened pace, stripped the harness, bridle and all clean from the horse that fell, ran a block west, then south and were finally found some two miles east all detached from the remnants of the wagon and each other. In the start off an axle was broken on the wagon and the detached wheel went spinning up against a box car. The wagon and baling rack were picked up in pieces along the route of the run-aways.

Wants Train Service Resumed.

Lincoln News: M. F. Harrington of O'Neill has filed a complaint with the state railway commission against the discontinuance of trains Nos. 5 and 8 between Long Pine and Norfolk Junction by the Northwestern railroad. He alleges that the commission granted leave to the Northwestern railroad company to discontinue the trains without giving the people interested a chance to be heard. Two years ago the commission permitted the railroad company to put on two trains. The railroad company desired to reserve the right to discontinue them if they did not prove profitable. The commission consented to this arrangement with the understanding that the commission should be the judge of whether or not the trains were profitable. Recently the company made a showing to the commission to prove that the revenue from the trains was 28 cents per train mile, which was less than the cost of operation. The railway commission has notified the Northwestern road to answer the complaint of Mr. Harrington by March 3.

Mr. Harrington also began injunction proceedings in the district court of this county to enjoin the railroad from the discontinuance of these two trains which order of the road went into effect last Sunday and the trains have not been run since. Mr. Harrington complains in this petition that the trains were discontinued without giving the public an opportunity to make a showing before the railway commission in behalf of retaining the service and that the discontinuance of the trains is a great inconvenience to himself in particular and the public in general.

LEAVES CRUEL HUSBAND

Wife of Indian Comes Back to Parental Home in Holt County.

Naper Advertiser: Last Tuesday evening Marshal Anderson was called to the phone by parties at Dallas and instructed to be on the lookout for a lady horse thief supposed to be headed this way.

The next morning a lady answering the description given rode into town on horseback with a gun strapped on to her cowboy saddle and was immediately apprehended by our marshal. Her horse was placed in the Briggs livery barn and the lady given a room at the Rosebud hotel.

Upon reaching her room the lady broke completely down and admitted that she was the party wanted, that her name was Mrs. Charles Sisson and that she was leaving her husband never to return and that he was the author of the telephone message that stopped her. She stated that the horse she was riding belonged to herself and that she was on her way to the home of her father, Isaac Mells-paugh, who lives fifteen miles south of Atkinson.

She stated further that she had been married six years, that her husband was a mixed-blood Sioux Indian and that life with him had reached the limit of her endurance. That he had beaten her and otherwise abused her until a short time ago she had made an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide, that she might free herself from her unhappy existence. She begged the marshal to return her revolver that she might end it all.

After assuring the unhappy lady that if her story proved true he would no longer detain her, the marshal called upon parties living near Atkinson who identified her and she was allowed to go her way in peace.

The Live Stock Market

South Omaha, Nebr., February, 23, 1911.—Special weekly market letter Nye, Schneider Fowler Co.

While there has been some fluctuation in the cattle market during the past week, we do not think there is much difference in values from that of a week ago; if anything they are a little lower. The packers have complained of the soft weather and poor demand all around and have also been expecting that the bad condition of the feed yards was going to force heavy supplies for this week. The cold snap now on, however, would seem to overcome these excuses, at least temporarily, and we do not look for any further slump to speak of this week. Strange as it may seem in the face of the lower prices on killers, the vigorous demand for stockers and feeders keeps up at fully steady prices. Farmers and feeders are certainly responsible for this condition which we think is out of line.

We quote:

Fair to choice beeves..... 5.25@ 6.25
Others down to..... 4.75
Oornfed cows and heifers up to 5.25
Fair to good..... 4.00@ 4.50
Canners and cutters..... 3.00@ 3.75
Veal calves..... 4.00@ 8.00
Bulls, stags, etc..... 4.00@ 5.25
Good to choice feeders..... 4.75@ 5.90
Others down to..... 4.00
Stock heifers..... 3.75@ 4.50

There has been really little change in values in hog market during the past week or two. Prices have fluctuated slightly but packers do not seem to be anxious for the hogs and the tendency seems to be toward a lower market. Bulk $6.95 to 7.05, top 7.10.
