Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joyof living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such allments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

Famous Eccentric Toasts. Pitt, at Kidderminster, gave a toast in compliment to the carpet manufacturers.

"May the trade of Kidderminster," said Pitt, "be trampled under foot by all the world!"

A more audacious toast, freighted with double meaning, has been variously attributed to Smeaton, Erskine and to some others. Their after-dinner trade sentiment was delivered in this form:

'Dam the canals, sink the coal pits, blast the minerals, consume the manufactures, disperse the commerce of Great Britain and Ireland!"-Cornhill Magazine.

EXTREME SIMPLICITY NEW CARPETS HAVE IN THE SPRING SUITS

Are Very Short-Border On Cotton Goods.

The new spring suits that have been shown thus far this season are beaushown thus far this season are beau-tiful in their simplicity. The narrow, straight skirt is still to the fore, al-though not as narrow as formerly, tiny plaits at the back giving the desired fullness. Some of the skirts have a wide bias fold at the bottom that is split at the sides and has rows of buttons wide bias fold at the bottom that is split at the sideg and has rows of buttons for a finishing.

The new jackets button much higher than they did last year, but since they are very short, seaching just a triffe below the waist line, the distance from the top to the bottom button is about the same. Some models show a military collar, but this is not so practical for a spring season, though doubtless it will again be seen on next winter's coats.

Dainty Models in Silk.

Dainty Models in Silk. A great many of the new tailor mades are of silken materials and they are very dainty. Other materials shown are the soft serges, broad-cloths and voiles, the smoother weaves taking the place of the coarse ones of the early winter. Black and white check designs appear in voile and marquisette, having a border of a plain stripe of either black or white. Borders are a feature of the new linens as ers are a feature of the new linens as well as of the cottons, but attractive as they are one may well hesitate about yielding to their charms, for they are hard to handle in simple fashions despite their beauty, and are the despair of the ordinary dress-

TABLES FOR LIVING ROOM.

A living room naturally has a certain fivable look and air of homelikeness, and this in a way determines the style of table which should be used in this room.

No unstable gift affairs are allowed, no imitations of dainty inlay. Instead, mahogany, oak and other choice woods are used, and also wicker and willow. These should, of course, be in styles to narmonize with the rest of the furniture.

Be sure to choose tables that are built on good simple lines and that have a beautiful finish, not the hard, shiny and cheap looking surface.

The old-fashioned center table with its carefully arranged gift books which no one ever read, and its fancy lamp on an ornate mat, is out of date. Today, if we have a large table in the center of the room, it is for use and comfort, and the whole family naturally gathers around it in the evenings.

and the whole family naturally gathers around it in the evenings.

The chief table in the living room should be large and carefully placed so that it will give the greatest amount of use and comfort to the greatest number. A sofa drawn up to it on one side so that several can sit and read in the evening, and comfortable chairs placed near the other sides, is not only a sensible arangement, but also a well balanced and attractive one.

If you do not wish to have a table cover or runner, lamp mats made of leather, brocade, cretonne or stenciled linen may be used. If you use a table cover it should be made to fit the top of the table and edged with a gimp. Brocade, velours, velvet and heavy silk are edged with dull gold or silver or silk. Cretonne or crash looks well on this sort of table.

heroes and heroines that make them visible to our eyes. Portraits of famous persons are not within the reach of all of us and are not absolutely reliable. But one always wants to know what s historic personage looked like. Here are a few sketches taken at random from contemporary historians.

Mary, Queen of Scots, was red-headed and cross-eyed, and in spite of the encomiums of her contemporaries was far from handsome.

Queen Elizabeth had a red nose and to her looks and disliked being complimented on her intellectual powers, regarding the compliment as a slur on her lack of beauty.

Sir Walter Scott's eyes were a grayish blue and very keen. His hair was tight and he walked with a limp from an injury received in early life.

Gibbon's face was full and red. Late in life he became very stout and his features grew flabby. Only when interested in conversation did he show indication of the bright intellect that conceived and carried out what has been called the greatest historical work ever produced by the unaided labor of one man.

Addison had regular and pleasing features, unmarked by dissipation.

Chaucer looked like a dandy, the impression being intensified by his dress.

CHOCOLATE COATED RAISINS. Raisins coated with melted chocolate Raisins coated with melted chocolate make a unique confection to serve at the end of a dinner. Melt some sweet chocolate and dip fine, large raisins, seeded, into it. Let them cool and harden before serving. Small stoned dates of superior quality may also be coated with chocolate in this way. A andy dipper is a most convenient little utensils when dipping fruits or nuts into melted chocolate.

TO ENAMEL WOODWORK.

Whenever you want to apply an enamel finish, lightly rub with a medium grade of sand paper. There are several liquid paint and varnish removers on the market if the old paint is in a bad condition. Many women are able and have the time to give the finish in a room a coat of enamel paint.

Dust and dirt do not adhere to this finish, and it is a great labor saver as well as a delight to the eye.

Immediately after pudding cloths nave been used scald them, wash them thoroughly, using soda but no soap, and hang them up to dry. A great deal of trouble is saved in this way, for if left till cold it is more difficult to wash them. Let them air well before they are put away or they will have a nasty odor when next used.

FRENCH PATTERNS

The Jackets Button Higher and Designs Are Small and Colors Are Effective-Blue for Colonial Room.

Among the new carpets of the year there are some which might have come down to us from the period of Louis XIV., so dainty are the designs and the combination of shades and tints. All the patterns are small, as may be expected of these French carpets, and the borders, which have been as wide as five-eighths of a yard, are now 12 inches.

An especially pretty effect is gained in the two-toned carpets in gray, lav-ender, pink, etc. The delicate French gray, with a geometrical design in the lighter tone, is delightful, while the gray ground with a delicate lavender flower at intervals is almost too pretty

The housekeeper who does not use matting in summer will hall these light carpets with delight as her warm weather floor covering.

The two-toned effects are steadily gaining in popularity, which their beauty and novelty certainly merit. In two shades of brown they are especially pretty, while for the colonial bedroom the carpet in two shades of blue is especially appropriate.

Mayonnaise.

Take a clean, cold bowl and drop into it the yolks of two fresh eggs that have been chilled. Stir lightly with a silver fork, then add one-half teaspoonful each salt, sugar, mustard and a half salt spoon of cayenne. Mix well, then begin pouring in a little at a time, pure oil. You will need a cupful or a cupful and a half altogether. Beat steadily until it begins to thicken, then add the oil in larger quantities, increasing until you can add a table-spoonful at a time. After a little exchange the fork for an egg beater, which will do the work more thoroughly and rapidly. When the dressing is thick and glossy, add two tablespoonsful lemon juice and the same amount tarragon vinegar, alternating with the rest of the oil. If you wish to increase the amount of mayonnaise you can whip the whites of the eggs and add them at the last. If you wish to make richer add a half cup whipped creams. Mayonnaise.

A Cooked Salad Dressing, Sometimes

Called Mayonnaise. Allow to three fresh eggs three table-spoonsful good olive oil, three table-spoonsful vinegar, three tablespoonsful thin bullion or water, and salt and paprika to season. Beat all the in-gredients together with an egg beater, then put into a double boiler, having boiling water in the outer vessel. Cook, Allow to three fresh eggs three tablethen put into a double boiler, having boiling water in the outer vessel. Cook, leaving with the egg beating until thickened. Remove the inner pot from the outer hot bath, and beat a little longer until partially cooled. Finish the cooling process and it is ready for sarving.

Apple and Celery Salad. Peel and core some tart, well flavored apples, cut into eighths or narrower and then cut across the sections into thin slices. Chickory Salad.

Chickory Salad.

Select a salad that has a white heart Wash thoroughly and leave in cold water until well crisped. Put into a wire salad basket or a dry towel and shake thoroughly until perfectly dry.

Put into the bottom of the salad bowl a small crust of dry bread which has been rubbed with a clove of garlic. Ley the salad leaves on ton of this and Lay the salad leaves on top of this and set in the ice box until ready to serve. For the dressing mix well together in a bowl or deep saucer one teaspoonful chopped tarragon, an eighth of a tea-spoonful pepper, a half teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoonsful white wine or cider vinegar and four tablespoonsful of clive oil. Shake or stir until well blended, pour over the chickory leaves, remove the crust of bread and serve with game or fowl.

French Dressing. With many people the French dressing is usually hit or miss. There is, however, a set formula that insures having the proportions right every time. Put into a bowl or bottle a half teaspoonful salt and a saltspoon pep-per. Add four tablespoonsfuls olive oil, stir with a fork or shake it in a bottle. Add one tablespoonful lemon juice or vinegar, mix thoroughly and pour over

SUNSHINE AND GOOD HEALTH

Wherever Sun's Rays Penetrate Human Life is Quickened and Health and Happiness Promoted.

The sunlight, with its mellowing warmth and radiance, is one of the great essentials to good health. Whereever it penetrates, in prudently regulated moderation, it quickens human life, promotes health and happiness, and may be truly regarded as one of the best friends of man and beast. The common practice of providing blinds, shutters, curtains and other means for shrouding the windows and shutting out the sunshine, is undoubtedly a great mistake, and makes for physical weakness and ill health. More window light, more sunshine, and not less, is what we require. Let all your apartments, kitchen, sitting rooms, parlors and bedrooms, too, be flooded with sunlight as much as possible.

EYES WOULD BURN AND STING

"It is just a year ago that my sister came over here to us. She had been here only a few weeks when her eyes began to be red, and to burn and sting as if she had sand in them. Then we used all of the home remedies. She washed her eyes with salt water, used hot tea to bathe them with, and bandaged them over night with tea leaves, but all to no purpose. She went to the drug store and got some salve, but she grew constantly worse. She was scarcely able to look in the light. At last she decided to go to a doctor, because she could hardly work any more. The doctor said it was a very severe disease, and If she did not follow his orders closely she might lose her eyesight. He made her eyes burn and applied electricity to them, and gave her various ointments. In the two and a half or three months that she went to the doctor, we could see very little im-

"Then we had read so much how people had been helped by Cuticura that we thought we would try it and we cannot be thankful enough that we used it. My sister used the Cuticura Pills for purifying the blood, bathed only with Cuticura Soap, and at night after washing, she anointed her eyes very gently on the outside with the Cuticura Ointment. In one week, the swelling was entirely gone from the eyes, and after a month there was no longer any mucus or watering of the eyes. She could already see better, and in six weeks she was cured.'
