WOMEN OPERATIONS

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The following letter from Mrs. Orville Rock will prove how unwise it is for women to submit to the dangers of a surgical operation when it may be avoided by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She was four weeks in the hospital and came home suffering worse then before than before.

Here is her own statement. Paw Paw, Mich.—"Two years ago suffered very severely with a dis-placement. I could

Should Report Tuberculosis Cases.

The National Association for the study and Prevention of Tuberculosis says that the first requisite for a comprehensive campaign for the elimina tion of tuberculosis in a state or city is well-enforced law, requiring that ev ery living case of tuberculosis be re ported to the health authorities. Such reporting is now required by law or health regulations in 25 states, while in 28 states and territories no provision whatever is made for keeping records of cases of this infectious disease. Several cities in non-registration states, as for instance, Chicago, Cleve land, St. Louis and New Orleans, have local ordinances requiring that tuber culosis be reported. In all, there are about 100 cities in the United States which have ordinances of this nature

DOCTOR PRESCRIBES CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I wish to let you know of a couple of recent cures which I have made by the use of the Cuticura Remedies. Last August, Mr. ---- of this city came to my office, troubled with a severe skin eruption. It was dermatitis in its worst form. It started with a slight eruption and would affect most parts of his body, thighs, elbows, chest, back and abdomen-and would terminate in little pustules. The Itching and burning was dreadful and he would almost tear his skin apart, trying to get relief. I recommended all the various treatments I could think of and he spent about fifteen dollars on prescriptions, but nothing seemed to help him.

"In the meantime my wife, who was continually suffering with a slight skin trouble and who had been trying different prescriptions and methods with my assistance, told me she was going to get some of the Cuticura Remedies and give them a fair trial. But as I did not know much about Cuticura at that time I was doubtful

How a Road Made a State

How a Road Made a State. From the Deadwood Pioneer-Times. The most famous highway in the sentral west was the Boon's Lick road. Surveyed in 1815 from St. Charles, 25 miles west of St. Louis, to Old Frank-lin, Mo., 150 miles farther west, it turned immigration toward central Missouri and six years later brought Missouri into the union as a state. It was the father of the Santa Fe trail which extending west from Old Frank-lin, brought commerce and immigra-tion to Kansas, Colorado and New Mexico. "The heaviest was when it upset my stomach completely, destroying my appetite and making me nervous and irritable, and sent me to my bed. After one of these attacks, in which I nearly lost my life, I concluded to quit the coffee and try Postum.

"It went right to the spot! I found it not only a most palatable and refreshing beverage, but a food as well.

"All my ailments, the 'loginess' and dizziness, the unsatisfactory condition of my blood, my nervousness and irritability disappeared in short order and my sorely afflicted stomach began quickly to recover. The Boon's Lick road was the result. It was not much of a road as roads go now. It was not macadamized or paved or graveled. Indeed it was lit-tle better in its early days than a mere "trace" or hint of the road's di-rection. The two Boones, with sur-veying parties, ran a line that followed the ridge or watershed between the Missouri and Mississippi rivers. The smaller streams were forded. On the large rivers were primitive ferrybasts Boones and their companions were the only white men in the territory west of St. Charles. mariage service may be speedily read. Nor is the reason for these things far to seek. We say in civilization that "a woman's work is never done," and far more is that true of the help-mate of the savage and the semi-savage, the woman of the Barren-grounds or of the ice-edge. She makes and breaks camp, cooks, cuts up and carries to camp her husband's kill; she dresses the skins of deer and seal (a laborious process as the skin often has to be chewed to make it soft for sew-ing); she is responsible for the fash-ioning of foot-gear and clothes: on a

Indeed, the than those which by immemorial cus-tom she must perform. Indeed, the Northland is a country calling aloud for a woman's movement, a crusade of emancipation; but such will never come, even in a thousand years, for in the wilderness the provider of food, Man the Hunter, has reigned, reigns and, and ever will reign. Having slain his deer or his bear, he will take his ease in the best place in the lodge ries again within the week, and even the Christian Eskimo widowers are with difficulty persuaded by the Mora-vian missionaries to allow six weeks to elapse between the death and re-matriage. Certain it is that on the very day after the six weeks have lapsed the hunter presents himself with a new bride, and asks that the marriage service may be speedily read.
