

THE FRONTIER.

VOLUME XXXII.

O'NEILL, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1911

NUMBER 17

EVERY DAY A BARGAIN DAY!

While we are in the store we expect to make every day a bargain day in all lines. This store must be closed out by January 1, 1912, and will be unless we find some one to buy the store and continue the business. Now this may happen any day so don't take a chance of paying from 30 to 50 per cent more for your winter clothing, dry goods, shoes, mittens, underwear, shirts, duck coats, hosiery, handkerchiefs, drapery goods, carpets, rugs, portiers and lace curtains.

Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Hunter went down to Wisner Wednesday morning where Mrs. Hunter will visit at the home of a sister for a few days and will then go for a visit to her former home in Missouri.

Frank Biglin returned last Thursday evening from a month's visit with relatives and friends in Pennsylvania.
While away he also visited in New York city and says that he had a delightful time upon his trip.

Wanted—Will trade O'Neill city

Mr D. J. Malone purchased our grocery stock last Saturday and took charge Monday morning. The doors from one room to the other will be left open as usual until we close the store or dispose of the balance of our stock.—J. P. Mann & Co.

M. J. Hyde, who ran the Dewey hotel here a few years ago, arrived in the city Tuesday evening for a few days visit with old time friends. Mr.
Hyde is now living upon a farm in Nuckols county, where he says he is living the simple life and is getting fat raising porkers and alfalfa.

For Sale—Not having the time to give the poultry business the proper attention I have decided to dispose of my Rose and Single Comb Buff Orpingtons, White Single Comb Orpingtons, and white Plymouth Rocks. They are March pullets, bred right and raised right. Will also sell my plo coops.—L. E. Carscallen. 17-tf.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Ott, of Joy, returned last Tuesday evening from a three weeks visit with Mrs. Ott's sister at Wayne and Mr. Ott's parents at Bloomington, Wisconsin. Mr. Ott says that they have a splendid corn crop in that part of Wisconsin this year, as they were blessed with about the average amount of rainfall.

Last Wednesday night, Thursday and Thursday night this section of the country was visited with the heaviest rainfall that has fallen here for the past four year years. While no accurate measurement of the amount of precipitation is obtainable it is estimated at between four and five inches.
Farmers say that this rainfall will put the ground in splendid condition for next years seeding and they are all feeling elated as a result thereof.

Ben Johring was a caller at these headquarters Tuesday morning and left the necessary coin to extend his subscription another year. Ben says that he always feels better when he has his paper paid for in advance.
There are several hundred more of our readers that we wish would emulate the example set by Mr. Johring.

Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Barrett and children, of Sioux City, were in the city last week visiting at the home of Mr.
Barrett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barrett. Pat thought he would put in a few days hunting but as it rained nearly every day he was here he was forced to return home without enjoying the pleasures of a chicken shoot.

Charles Stout left for Colorado Springs, Col., Tuesday afternoon in answer to a telegram announcing the serious illness of his brother James.
Mr. Stout has been in the Colorado city the past three months for the benefit of his health but the change of climate did not give him the hoped for relief and his attendants have given up all hopes of his recovery.

Mr. D. J. Malone, who has been manager of the Galena Lumber Company the past three months, purchased the J. P. Mann grocery and took charge of the same last Monday morning, and is now ready to supply the wants of the public in the grocery line.
The Frontier welcomes Mr. Malone to O'Neill's business circles and wishes him success in his undertaking.

Word was received in this city last Friday that Mrs. Peter Ryan died at Wilmington, Delaware, the day before. Mrs. Ryan went east last spring and had been visiting relatives at her old home. She was taken seriously ill about a month ago and her husband and daughter, Miss Anna Duncan were called to her bedside, and were with her when she passed away.

J. P. Gallagher is a great fisherman and when he came down to his place of business Friday morning found a good sized fish pond in his cellar. Jim says that five gallon crocks were swimming around in the pond like mud turtles in the Cottonwood. He used his fish pole to good advantage in retrieving the crocks, but did not find it necessary to use bait or fish hooks.

Mrs. E. J. Benson was called to Akron, Colorado, last Thursday by a telegram announcing the death of her brother, Ed Purdy, for many years a resident of this county. When Mrs.
Benson reached Colorado she learned that there had been a mistake made in the transmission of the message and that her brother was alive and well. He sent a message to her announcing the death of their niece, Miss Nellie Coburn, who had died there after a short illness. Miss Coburn was the daughter of William Coburn, who ran a barber shop in this city for years, and was born in O'Neill on February 27, 1887. Ed Purdy's many Holt county friends will be glad to learn that he is still in the land of the living and enjoying good health.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

I have purchased the Grocery store which has been conducted in this city for many years by J. P. Mann & Co. and will continue the business at the old stand. It will be my earnest endeavor to keep this store up to the high standard it has occupied in the past as the Leading Grocery of this city. I shall carry a first class stock of fancy and staple groceries and I respectfully solicit a share of your patronage and assure you that I will supply you with the best the market affords at the least possible margin of profit.

D. J. MALONE

Phone 307.

As a result of the exceedingly heavy rain of last Thursday night the basements of the stores of P. J. McManus and J. P. Gallagher were flooded Friday morning they found about two feet of water in both basements and it required the efforts of a bucket brigade and a few pumps to clean them up. Mr. Gallagher says that he was fortunate in that a large amount of goods that he had in the basement and that have been ruined was removed therefrom the day before and his loss therefore was very light. He is of the opinion that $20 would cover the damage he sustained. Mr. Mc-Manus has his grocery in the basement of his store and the damage to his stock was greater than to the other store, but not as great as was feared for a time Friday morning. He thinks that $100 would cover the amount of damage he sustained by reason of the flood.

Suits for $30,000 has been brought in the district court of this county against three saloon keepers of Verdigris, Knox county, and their bondsmen. The action is brought because the plaintiff in one action, so his petition alleges, bought liquor from the defendants and became intoxicated and while in that condition he was injured by being run over by an engine. There are two separate cases, the plaintiff in one case being Warren O. Withee and the plaintiff in the other his wife, Mary Withee, each action being for $15,000 and costs of suit. The defendants are Frank C.
Maly, Frank Maly, Vack Mashilar, Frank B. Pavlik, Albert Jirsek, John K. Tomsik, Bohmiel Hass and the Lion Bonding Company. Of the defendants Tomsik & Hass, Frank B.

Pavlik and Frank C. Maly were saloon keepers and the others are their bondsmen. The petition of Mary Withee alleges that on April 12 and 13, 1911, Warren O. Withee, her husband, purchased large quantities of intoxicating liquor at the saloons conducted by four of the defendants in Verdigree, Nebraska, and became intoxicated. While in that condition he got on the step of a railroad engine and fell off under the wheels and the tank of the railroad engine ran over his left arm and it was crushed, mangled and bruised so that the entire bone had to be removed from four inches above where the elbow joint was two inches below where it was and that the joint itself had to be removed. The petition further alleges that Withee was a laboring man and that the injuries has incapacitated him from earning a livelihood for his family and she asks judgment against the defendants, for $15,000 and costs of suit. The petition of Warren O.
Withee is substantially the same as that of his wife and he asks judgment for $15,000 and costs of suit.

Automobiles.

Having secured the 1911 contract for the sale of Ford Automobiles I will aim to carry a full line of supplies.
You will always find me ready to demonstrate the Ford and to show you every detail of its construction.
Write me or call for any information desired. 31-tf
