Land+Water-Good Crops Land-Water-Failure

The Big Horn Basin and Yellowstone Valley Have an Abundance of Water for Irrigation Purposes.

The Government has made ample provision to supply each and every farmer under its canals with sufficient water during the crop growing season to cover every acre of his farm two feet deep. This is equal to twelve heavy rains of two inches each. Just think what it would have meant to your community during the crop growing season of 1911 if your farmers could have turned on twelve two inch rains at will. You can do this next year and every year thereafter as long as you are farming, if you will go with me to Powell, Wyoming, and file on one of the Government irrigated homesteads, now ready for entry.
