Mr. Harrington has been very successful in the grocery business here and The Frontier predicts success for the new firm.

Judge Welsh of Wayne held a session of district court in this city last Tuesday morning, convening at 8 o'clock and adjourned at 9:35, as Judge Welsh took the morning train for Neligh where he is holding court this week. Several equity cases, in which Judge Dickson was disqualified from acting, were disposed of by Judge Welsh. The case of Ed Thurlow of Stuart, who was arrested a couple of years ago for attempted robbery and who broke jail here and left the country, but who returned about a month ago and gave himself up, came on for hearing before Judge Welsh. Thurlow pleaded guilty and was fined $100 and costs amounting to $158.00 making a total of $258 which he paid and was released.

Suchy Brothers moved their tailor shop the first of the week to the building next to the Nebraska State bank, which they recently purchased. They have admitted to partnership Joseph Brejla of Chicago who will arrive the latter part of the week with his family to take up his permanent residence in this city. Mr. Brejla is an experienced cutter and fitter, having been employed for years in one of the leading shops of Chicago. The new firm have received a supply of samples of the latest spring and summer goods from one of the leading woolen houses in the United States and are now prepared to furnish the people of O'Neill and vicinity with the finest quality of tailor made goods manufactured in the most modern and up-to-date fashion. The Emmet Literary Association entertained about forty friends at a banquet at the Evans hotel last Monday night, it being the 134th anniversary of the birth of Ireland's martyred hero, Robert Emmet. After the tempting viands that had been prepared for the guests had been disposed of T. V. Golden, who presided as toastmaster, stated the cause of the gathering and referred in glowing terms to the life of the man whose natal anniversary was celebrated in all parts of the world by Irishmen in whose hearts was the hope that the day was not far distant when Ireland would take her place among the nations of the earth as a free and independent country. Senator J. A. Donahoe was called upon and delivered Emmet's last speech, which was delivered in the dock just prior to the passing of the death sentence upon him, and Mr. Donahoe's delivery of this classic was such as to win for himself additional laurels as an orator. Judge Carlton, E. H. Whelan and William Fallon, delivered recitations which convinced their friends that they were past masters in the art of elocution. J. J. McCafferty, Col. Neil Brennan, H. J. Boyle and Rev. Father O'Sullivan delivered addresses, the one by the latter being about the best ever heard by an audience at a similar meeting in this city. His word picture of the scenes and events in Ireland during the many years that the people of that country were struggling to throw off the yoke of British tyranny and oppression was touching and deeply moved his auditors. The banquet dispersed at 1:30 and each one felt that they had been allowed to participate in one of the finest meetings of that character ever held in this city.

Will Have Public Library.

The Annual township meeting of the electors of Grattan township was held at the court house last Tuesday afternoon and was one of the most interesting town meetings held in Grattan township for several years. There has been considerable dissatisfaction among the tax payers of the township over the way the road money appropriated for some of the districts was expended the past year and they were present in force to express their disapproval.

The meeting was called to order and T. V. Golden was elected chairman. The minutes of the last annual meeting were then read and approved. Senator Donahoe then made a motion that a levy of three mills be made upon the taxable property of the township for the purpose of supporting a public library. After the motion had been duly placed before the meeting Senator Donahoe made an eloquent and forceful address in behalf of the levy and explained to the electors the purpose of the levy. He said that Andrew Carnegie had made a proposition to donate $1,000 for every hundred voted for by the tax payers of the township for the purpose of building a public library. That if the electors voted the levy of three mills that it would raise about $1,500 and that Mr. Carnegie would donate $15,000 for the purpose of building a public library in the township. He further explained to the taxpayers that there was but two other towns in the state the size of O'Neill that did not have public libraries. He was ably seconded in his appeal for the voting of the levy by Judge Harrington and H. M. Utley, while the voting of the levy was opposed by Patrick Hughes and M. Slattery. After considerable parliamentary discussion the question of making the levy was put to a vote and the proposition carried by a vote of 91 to 25.

A special levy of three mills was then made for the purpose of grading the road south of town from the railroad south to the township line. A general road levy of three mills was then levied, the amount so received to be equally divided among the three road districts. A two mill levy was made for general purposes and a one mill levy for bridge purposes.

Considerable discussion was participated in regarding road building and a Mr. Booth, who lives north of Stuart and who has had thirty years experience building roads in the state, was present and was called upon to discuss the question of road building
