John had been very disobedient, and his mother, with a sad face, called him to come and receive the punishment that followed an infringement of that particular rule. "Just one minute Mother," begged John. "He knelt down beside his bed and in a very earnest voice said; "Oh, Lord, you've often promised to help us when we needed it. Now is your chance."

From reports reaching this city from farmers residing several miles from the city there will be a big crop of prairie chickens this fall. One ranchman living in the south country says he saw three coveys last Sunday with about a dozen little birds in each covey. He says, however, that he is going to keep an eye on them and will have a little hunting party of his own this fall after the season opens, or perhaps a little before.

Although it was wet, cold and disagreeable all day last Tuesday a good sized crowd was in town to attend Gollmar Bros. circus. People drove for many miles in automobiles to see the show, their being many people present from Spencer and vicinity and had it been a nice clear day O'Neill

WALL PAPER

Half Price

Our stock of wall paper was damaged by smoke and water in the fire 10 days ago and we desire to close out the entire stock now on hand to make room for our new stock, which we have ordered. Most of this paper is damaged on the ends of the rolls only, as the smoke or water did not penetrate the package, and will not show any damage when placed upon the wall. On account of its appearance we cannot carry it in stock and will offer it for sale during the next ten days at would undoubtedly have held the largest crowd ever within her gates. The circus was fairly good, some of the acts being especially fine and were appreciated by the large audience.

A certain writer has said that no newspaper which took truth for its standard would make a pecuniary success. The press might return the compliment by remarking that no minister who told the truth about his congregation, alive or dead, would occupy the pulpit much longer than one Sunday afterward. The press and clergy go hand in hand with the whitewash brush, rosy spectacles magnifying little virtues and kindly throwing little deformities into oblivion. The pulpit, the pen and the gravestone are partners in saint-making.

The Emmet base ball team came down last Sunday and met the High School team on the local diamond that afternoon and succeeded in trimming them with a score of 6 to 2. The high school boys, that is a majority of them, played as if they were attending a funeral instead of partaking in the national game and as a result suffered defeat. Will Martin pitched the high school boys and pitched for a good clever game and with the right kind of support would have been returned victor. O'Donnell was on the mound for Emmet and while touched up rather freely kept them well scattered when hits meant runs. A fairly good-sized crowd was present and seemed to enjoy the contest.

The annual commencement exercises of the O'Neill High School were held at the opera house last Thursday evening. The class this year was one of the largest ever graduated from the high school consisting of four girls and eight boys. The address to the graduates was delivered by Hugh J. Boyle and was a splendid elocutionary effort. The diplomas were delivered by Attorney E. H. Whelen. Miss Edna Bedford was the valedictorian of the class. The following was the personal of the class: Edna Bedford, Mary Cameron, Genevieve Hemingway, Gladys Baker, William McBride, Frank O'Donnell, Walter Campbell, Francis Brennan, Matt Kane, John Zimmermann, R. R. Ryan and Lawrence Chapman.

Columbus Telegram: I have a word of advice to my friends who are members of the great fraternity of the Modern Woodmen of America. I am aware that they are dropping out of the ranks by twos, fours and scores because they do not like the almost criminal conduct of the head officers of the society in arbitrarily raising the rates beyond the limit of fairness. My advice is: Don't be in a hurry. The new rates do not go into effect until next January. Perhaps before that date the fighting insurgents may succeed in bringing the head officers to terms. Perhaps they will give us a vote as to whether the new rates are right or wrong. Don't drop out now. Stay until after January. And even then hold on a while longer, if you can, so as to be able to fight the arrogant head officers. If all our fighters drop out, then there will be nobody to fight the head officers. Stay with 'em, boys. If we shall fail to whip the gang by the first of next January, then let's prepare to whip them at the next head camp. Remember, boys, that you will not have a fighting vote if you drop your membership in the fraternity.

Wednesday evening T. V. Golden let the contract for the erection of the new hotel to the Crosby Company of Kansas City and they agree to have the building completed and ready for occupancy by September 1st. The executive committee of the Commercial Club approved the plans for the building, as provided for in the agreement with Mr. Golden and the citizens who donated to the bonus fund, and thereafter the contract for the erection of the building was signed by Mr. Golden and the representative of the building company. The building will be a much larger and better building than that first contemplated. It will be three stories and basement and will contain forty-nine sleeping rooms, besides parlor, lobby, bath, toilet, and other rooms necessary in a modern first class hotel. It will be built of brick and steel and will be of fire proof construction throughout. The architect says that with the exception of an elevator it will be as modern and up-to-date as any hotel in any of the large cities. It will cost complete, exclusive of furnishings, $25,000.00. Work on the building will commence next Monday morning.

Last Tuesday evening about 5:30 Mr. McLaughlin, brakeman on the Northwestern railroad who was braking on the circus train, was held up and robbed by three employees of the circus, at the circus grounds. The robbery was witnessed by a score of persons but took place so quickly that they were unable to go to McLaughlin's aid until the assault was over. Spectators say that the little brakeman was giving a good account in the fight against his three assailants until they landed a blow that put him to sleep, when they went through his pockets, taking $14.00 and a diamond ring. After the robbery he came up town and notified Mayor Biglin who called Sheriff Grady who went to the circus grounds accompanied by Marshal Coyne and they located and placed under arrest two of McLaughlin's assailants who were identified by him and they admitted that they had been in the fight. The officers were unable to find any of the plunder upon them however. The two men arrested were placed in the county jail where they are now confined. County Attorney Whelen was then called into the case in an effort to recover from the circus management the value of the property stolen from McLaughlin. The management denied all knowledge of the whereabouts of the missing man and disclaimed liability upon their part for the assault and robbery but the county attorney informed them that if they did not pay the value of the property stolen he would attach six of their white horses and hold them for the value of the property and the costs of the case. The management then decided that they had better come across and they paid Mr. Whelen $44.88, the value of the property stolen from McLaughlin. Prior to the show three men who were suspected of being crooks were arrested and thrown into jail. They were released the next day and ordered to make themselves scarce. Crooks are beginning to learn that O'Neill is not a very healthy place to attempt to ply their trade.

The Editor.

Most anyone can be an editor. All the editor has to do is to sit at a desk six days out of the week, four weeks of the month, and twelve months of the year, and "edit" such stuff as this:

"Mrs. Jones of Cactus Creek let a can opener slip last week and cut herself in the pantry." "A mischievous lad of Picketown threw a stone and struck Mr. Pike in the alley last Tuesday." "John Doe climbed on the roof of his house last week looking for a leak and fell striking himself on the back porch." "While Harold Green was escorting Miss Violet Wise from the church social last Saturday night a savage dog attacked them and bit Mr. Green several times on the public square." "Isaiah Trimmer of Running Creek was playing with a cat Friday when it scratched him on the veranda." "Mr. Fong, while harnessing a broncho last Saturday was kicked just south of his corn crib"
