

THE PEEVISH CHILD NEEDS TREATMENT

When a child sulks drowsily, or is fretful, it is usually due to some slight disorder of the digestive organs, and a mild laxative is very often all that is necessary to restore cheerfulness and buoyancy of spirits.

In cases where the use of a gentle, effective laxative stimulant is indicated, many of the best physicians are now prescribing Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This preparation is admitted to be the perfect laxative, being mild, yet positive in its action on the bowels, and far preferable to violent cathartics and purgative waters. It is very pleasant to the taste and is an ideal remedy to regulate and strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels. Its easy, natural action makes it especially desirable in the case of children, a dose at bed-time being sure to have the desired result next morning, with no attendant unpleasantness or discomfort.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold by druggists everywhere in 50c and $1.00 bottles. If you have never tried this splendid remedy, write to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 201 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., for a sample. He will be very glad to send a trial bottle with out any expense to you whatever.

Trouble never attempts to dodge those who are looking for it.

If testimonials received from those using Gardfield Tea are of any value, Gardfield Tea does what we claim for it. Enough said.

Going Further Back.
A man who had suddenly become very rich went to live in New York and began to spend money with a lavish hand. He decided that his name needed advertising, so he visited a genealogist.

"I suppose," he said, "if I pay you enough you can trace my family back to Adam."
"My dear sir," replied the genealogist, "if you're willing to put up the money we can prove by evolution that your family existed before Adam."—Lippincott's Magazine.

Warm Compliment.
A fancy-dress ball was held in a certain garrison town recently, at which many military officers and men attended. A soldier attired as a lady was spoken to by the regimental chaplain.

"Well, young man," said the parson, "you are very well got up. Did you win a prize?"
"Yes, chum; I got second prize. Did you get a prize?"
"Me? Oh, no; I—"
"Well, now, that's rotten bad luck I call it," said the Tommy, warmly "for you are about the best get-up of a parson I've seen lately."—London Tit-Bits.

Willing to Do Square Thing.
Brand Whitlock, who doubles as mayor of Toledo and as a literary man, had a Chicago career. He was a reporter on the old Herald when Pete Dunne and Charley Seymour were his side-kicks. Charley Chaplin was one of his city editors.

Chaplin is now city editor of the New York Evening World, and this story was told to Whitlock lately by a correspondent who had him under interviewing fire:

A new reporter had been hired on the Evening World, and he went to work on a Wednesday. The pay day on the paper is Thursday. In the course of a week, when the recruit received his first envelope, he found that he was a day short. He went to Chaplin and complained, only to get this:

"Oh, well, never mind. When I fire you, I'll fire you a day earlier and that will make it come out even."

OUTDOOR LIFE.
Will Not Offset the Ill Effects of Coffee and Tea When One Cannot Digest Them.

A farmer says:
"For ten years or more I suffered from dyspepsia and stomach trouble, caused by the use of coffee (Tea contains caffeine, the same drug found in coffee), until I got so bad I had to give up coffee entirely and almost give up eating. There were times when I could eat only boiled milk and bread; and when I went to the field to work I had to take some bread and butter along to give me strength."

"I doctored steady and took almost everything I could get for my stomach in the way of medicine, but if I got any better it only lasted a little while and was almost a waking skeleton."
"One day I read an ad for Postum and told my wife I would try it, and as to the following facts I will make affidavit before any judge:

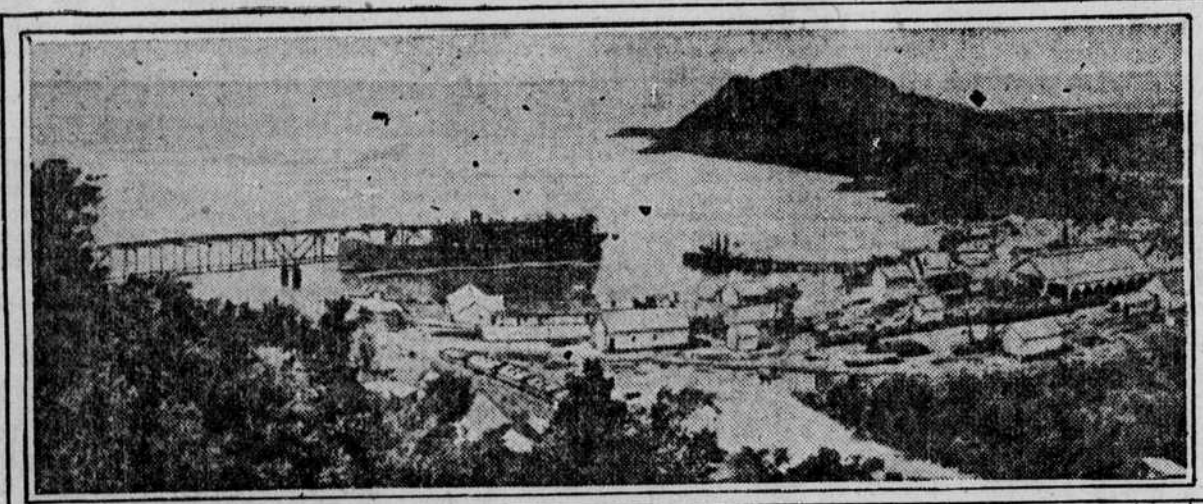

"I quit coffee entirely and used Postum in its place. I have regained my health entirely and can eat anything that is cooked to eat. I have increased in weight until now I weigh more than I ever did. I have not taken any medicine for my stomach since I began using Postum."
"My family would stick to coffee at first, but they saw the effects it had on me and when they were feeling bad they began to use Postum, one at a time, until now we all use Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

FIRST PHOTOGRAPHS OF THE FUNERAL OF LATE DANISH KING.

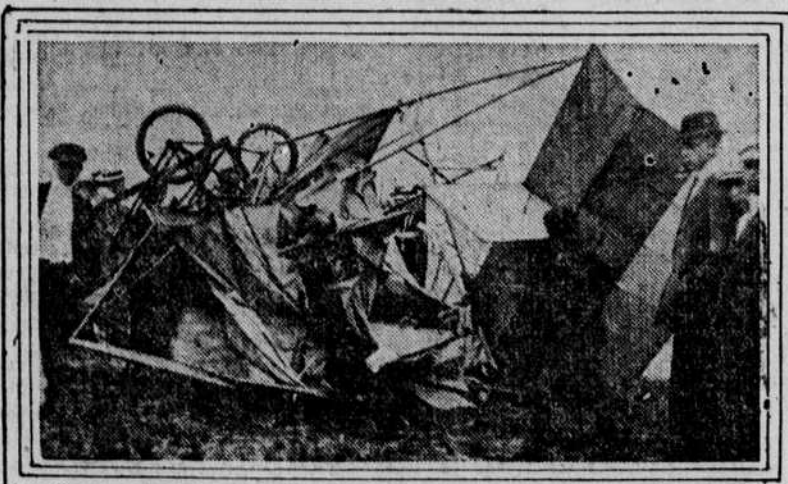

Herewith are published the first photographs received in America depicting scenes attending the funeral in Copenhagen of King Frederick VIII. of Denmark. Many royal personages were present at the funeral of the monarch, whose death alone in Hamburg was peculiarly pathetic, he having passed away unrecognized in a street while taking a stroll alone after dinner.

REBELS, DEFIANT, CAPTURE AND BURN A CUBAN TOWN

DAIQUIRI, CUBA, WHERE AMERICAN FORCES LANDED IN 1898. Cuban rebels are reported to have captured and burned the town of La Maya. Incidentally encounters between the regulars and the rebels are reported to have taken place near Daiquiri, and at other places without decisive results. The general forward movement of the Cuban troops apparently is still deferred, pending completion of the disposition of the troops ordered by General Montegudo.

AVIATOR NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH WHEN HIS AEROPLANE IS WRECKED

OLIVER SHERWOOD'S WRECKED BIPLANE. Oliver Sherwood, a young aviator, narrowly escaped death at the Kuhnert aerodrome, at Hackensack, N. J., after making a flight over the meadows.

In landing the right aeroplane wing buckled as the front wheel struck the ground, and, after bounding along for fifty feet, turned a complete somersault. As it capsized Sherwood was shot from his seat and was caught in the wreckage as the aeroplane settled.

While women screamed and men ran to his assistance Sherwood rose from among the wreckage unhurt.

The aeroplane is a wreck.

Experiments of United States Army Experts Result in Remarkable Results.

From the Chicago Tribune. Photographers create much amusement with photographs they make of themselves in various attitudes, but it has remained for the experts of the United States army to train 12-inch projectiles from the heavy coast defense guns to make pictures of themselves as they go through the atmosphere so fast the ordinary eye can hardly trace their flight.

The first trials were made on the gun carriage with the recoil mechanism operating the camera. This was found to be unsuccessful because of certain unevenness of work in the mechanism necessarily produced in the recoil. Another difficulty met was in the blast of the discharge. Finally, after repeated attempts, it was determined to make the projectile itself operate the camera.

Electrical connection was made between the camera and the bore of the gun, so that the series of resulting photographs would show the various steps in the discharge from the time the charge of powder is exploded until the projectile is clear of the gun and well on its way to its

IMPRISONED TURKEY LAID HER OWN FOOD

Trapped Under a Haystack She Produces Egg Every Day and Eats It.

Reading, Pa. Special: Thomas Brossman, a prosperous farmer of Sinking Spring, drove into the city carrying with him a turkey which he does not tell to everybody, because he fears it will put him in the "nature faker" class.

Brossman owns a flock of turkeys. Two months ago one of them disappeared and he supposed it had returned to the wild state. This morning Brossman was digging around an old haystack when he heard a faint noise. He dug into the stack and eventually reached an emaciated turkey which he recognized as the missing member of his flock.

Scattered around the turkey were the shells of 42 turkey eggs. Brossman says he craned them. When the turkey became hungry she simply laid an egg and ate it. According to Brossman's version this particular fowl could have gone on living forever through the perpetual motion she had invented.

The turkey got into the haystack through a small hole made by chickens and once in was unable to turn around or eat her way to the other side. Then she began to lay her daily egg.

Changed His Vocation.

"Willie," said the helress, cheerfully. "I have been thinking."

"Thinking of me, my precious?" asked Willie.

"In a way—yes," replied Eunice. "I have been thinking that were you to marry me everyone would say you only did it for the sake of my money."

But Willie was not abashed one whit.

"What care I for the base, unthinking world?" cried he, gallantly, adjusting his immaculate gloves.

INCREASE IN CITIES ADDS TO LIVING COST

Consumers in the United States Are Increasing Faster Than the Producers.

Washington—Special: Census figures now at hand show that between 1900 and 1910 the city population of the United States increased from 31,610,000 to 42,622,000, a gain of 34.8 per cent. During the same period the rural population increased only 11.2 per cent, or from 44,385,000 to 49,349,000. Thus it appears that in ten years the population which consumes farm products increased 11,013,000, while that which produces such products increased only 4,964,000.

It is also to be noted, as even more important in its bearing as an economic factor, that in 1910 the urban, or consuming population, was 15,775,000 persons less than the rural or producing population, while in 1910 it was just the other way about to the extent of 6,726,000 persons. Then, too, all people classed in the rural population are not engaged in agricultural pursuits.

During the decade under consideration the total population of the United States increased by 15,978,000, or 21 per cent. In the same time the improved farms of the country increased in total acre from 414,498,000 to 478,452,000 acres, or 15.4 per cent. The cereal crops for 1909 were grown on 184,982,000 acres. For 1909 the acreage in cereal crops was 191,396,000 acres, an increase of only 3.5 per cent. In the same time the yield of the cereal crops increased only 1.7 per cent.

For 1909 the per capita production of cereals was 49 bushels, or more than nine bushels less than it was ten years before; but comparing the two years the total value of the cereal crops jumped from $1,482,600,000 for 1899 to $2,665,500,000 for 1909, a gain of 80 per cent. This reflects on the cause of the higher cost of food supplies.

Relatively short crops last year intensified the situation as between consumers and producers of food products.

In 1901 flour sold at $3.45 per barrel, on May 1 last it was $10.10, both being wholesale prices. Taking the same dates for comparison, wheat is up from 81 cents to $1.22 per bushel, corn from 50 to 86 cents, oats from 33 to 63 cents per bushel. Beef carcasses have gone up from $3.50 to $11.4 cents per pound, hog carcasses from 7.1 to 11 cents and mutton from 8.7 to 15 cents per pound.

GERMAN OFFICER IN THE ROLL OF FIREMAN

New York—Special: Sergeant Richter, of the German cruiser Statin, returning from Brooklyn to his ship with a number of other German sailors early today, sprang from a street car when he saw flames coming from a building and not only assisted the firemen in checking the blaze, but did good work in aiding the rescue of a number of persons.

The fire was in a stable, but it quickly spread to a dwelling house adjoining. Richter took off his outer garments and groped his way among the smoking flames, carrying out members of the family of John Wagner, who were trapped inside.

This is the last full day of the German warships in New York. Cornelius Vanderbilt's dinner and reception to the officers was not concluded until long after midnight, but Rear Admiral von Reuber-Paschwitz was up early today, preparatory to going aboard C. Leidy Blair's yacht Diana for a trip to Scarborough-on-the-Hudson, there to be privately entertained by Mr. and Mrs. James Speyer. Other German officers with a few prominent New Yorkers completed the guests.

Dinner will be served aboard the Diana this evening, after which the German admiral and about 40 officers, accompanied by Rear Admiral Winslow and a like number of officers, will be entertained at "Kommers" under the auspices of the Deutschen Vereinigung, of the city of New York. The visitors will depart tomorrow.

The German naval visitors scored great successes yesterday in entertaining American guests on the warships in the Hudson. All of the ships trimmed their decks with evergreen and beneath canopies of canvas and gay bunting there was music, dancing and refreshments for hundreds who were invited aboard after Mayor Gaynor and his committee had been officially entertained on the Moltke.

While the entertainment aboardship was going on, 500 of the German sailors took a boat trip to Coney Island. A private dinner given by Cornelius Vanderbilt to Admiral von Reuber-Paschwitz and other officers at the New York Yacht club was a feature of the entertainment last night.

REASON WHY ONE BOY QUIT FARM FOR CITY

Philadelphia—Special: "Just the other day I met a stalwart young fellow whose every appearance would indicate he was a 'son of the soil,'" says a writer in Farm and Fireside.

"Six years ago he left the old home. At that time he had very little education, but by steady, industrious labor he has 'won out,' and today is a promising young lawyer. He told me that the first year he left the farm he obtained employment in a machine shop at what seemed to him a small sum of money, $12 a week. He worked hard for nearly three months, when one day he received a telegram from his father asking him to return at once.

"Having left a delicate little mother, he rushed home with all haste, fearing to find some trouble at the end of his journey. His father met him at the station and calmly explained that his hired man had left and he could not get his hay in alone. My young hero, not daunted in the least, informed his father that he had given up his job to return home and asked what pay he was to receive for his work. The father promised a certain small sum. After two months' hard work the son asked for money to buy a suit of clothes and received it. At the end of the season, when the young man was to make his final settlement, he was put off from time to time, and at last went away to the city with an empty pocket and a heart full of resentment."

GAS IN BOTTLES, NOT IN METERS, IS NEW SCHEME

Kansas City—Special: Bottled gas will be manufactured in Kansas City within the next year for distribution in western Missouri and Kansas, and will be offered in competition with the natural gas in Kansas City. If the prices here are increased, as planned.

A $3,000,000 southwestern corporation, with a West Virginia charter, is considering the purchase of one of six sites in Kansas City for the manufacture of bottled gas. It is one of eight similar corporations organized to build plants in different parts of the country.

The principal directors of the entire scheme are Theodore N. Vall and Elbert H. Gary, of New York, and Frank B. Hastings, of Indianapolis.

HARD FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

It's hard enough to keep house if in perfect health, but a woman weak, tired and suffering with an aching back has a heavy burden. Any woman in this condition has cause to suspect kidney trouble, especially if the kidney action seems disordered.

Doan's Kidney Pills have cured thousands. It is the best recommended special kidney remedy. Mrs. John Robinson, 908 Burney St., Modesto, Cal., Says: "My back was so lame and sore I was practically helpless. My feet and ankles swelled, puffy spots appeared beneath my eyes and I became so dizzy I had to grasp something to keep from falling. Relief quickly followed the use of Doan's Kidney Pills and it was not long before I was enjoying good health." "When Your Back Is Lame, Remember the Name—DOAN'S." 50c., all stores. RECORD OF A GREAT MEDICINE

Doctors Could Not Help Mrs. Templeton—Regained Health through Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Hooper, Nebraska.—"I am very glad to tell how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped me. For five years I suffered from female troubles so I was scarcely able to do my work. I took doctors' medicines and used local treatments but was not helped. I had such awful bearing down pains and my back was so weak I could hardly walk and could not ride. I often had to sit up nights to sleep and my friends thought I could not live long. At my request my husband got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I commenced to take it. By the time I had taken the seventh bottle my health had returned and I began doing my washing and was a well woman. At one time for three weeks I did all the work for eighteen boarders with no signs of my old trouble returning. Many have taken your medicine after seeing what it did for me. I would not take $1000 and be where I was. You have my permission to use my name if it will aid anyone."—Mrs. SUSIE TEMPLETON, Hooper, Nebraska.

The Pinkham record is a proud and peerless one. It is a record of constant victory over the obstinate ills of woman—ills that deal out despair. It is an established fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored health to thousands of such suffering women. Why don't you try it if you need such a medicine?
