M. M. SULLIVAN DEAD.

Business Reverses Causes Him to Take His Own Life.

M. M. Sullivan, who committed suicide here Saturday by shooting himself through the heart, was formerly a well known merchant of O'Neill, Nebr. His son, Matthew Sullivan of Butte, Mont., came to arrange for the burial.

Sullivan had been well-to-do at one time, but had lost his fortune in wheat speculation. He had been endeavoring to secure work as a commercial salesman, but had been unsuccessful. Despondent and almost without funds, he went to his room in a lodging house Saturday and after drinking the contents of a two-quart measure of milk which he had purchased, shot himself through the heart dying instantly.

He had purchased the revolver several days ago, saying to the pawnbroker who sold it that it would probably answer his purpose very well.

The above notice, under a Salt Lake City, Utah, date line appeared in the daily papers last Monday. Relatives here had notice Saturday night that he was dead but the cause of his death was unknown until the above notice was seen in Monday evening Omaha papers. Mr. Sullivan was engaged in the mercantile business in this city for a number of years and at one time owned the largest store in western Nebraska and did an annual business in excess of $100,000.00.

When the business depression, incident to the drouth period of the early nineties, reached this section he failed in business. He afterward opened up a little business here and conducted it for a couple of years and also operated a store at Spaulding, Nebr. He went west for a time after closing out his business here and returned to O'Neill some six years ago when he again opened up a shoe store. He prospered and soon put in a general stock which he conducted for some four years. A year ago last fall he became heavily involved and left the county. The stock was taken possession of by creditors and sold for their benefit. The next heard of Mr. Sullivan was a year ago this summer when the editor received a card from him, written from Spokane, Wash., which announced his marriage. His whereabouts was unknown to many of his friends here when the news reached the city that he was dead at Salt Lake City. We understand that the remains were buried in Salt Lake last Monday. Mike Sullivan was a lovable fellow in many ways and his old time acquaintances here, who knew him when the crown of a successful business career rested upon his shoulders, regret sincerely that his misfortunes became so unbearable that he took his own life. These friends will prefer to remember him as he was in the heyday of his success when he was known as "Yankee" Sullivan, when business trials and troubles were unknown and undreamed of.

Neligh Boosters Visit O'Neill.

Twenty-four automobiles gaily decorated and loaded with 104 citizens of Neligh arrived in this city last Tuesday afternoon at 12:45. They were the Neligh Boosters and were out on an advertising trip advertising their Chautauqua and race meet which will be held in that city the coming month. The boosters were met just outside the city limits by Mayor Biglin and Judge Harrington, president of the O'Neill race meet, and were escorted around the city and to the Evans Hotel where arrangements had been made by the O'Neill Commercial Club to supply the wants of the visitors. After dinner the band stirred things up by rendering several splendid selections. After the wants of the inner man had been satisfied and the band had rendered a popular selection C. L. Wattles, president of the Neligh Racing Association and one of Neligh's foremost citizens, delivered an address stating the purpose of the Booster trip and extending a cordial invitation to the citizens of O'Neill to visit Neligh and see the attractions that they would have for the edification of the public at their Chautauqua and race meet. Replying to Mr. Wattles the freedom of the city was extended to the visitors by Judge Harrington in behalf of Mayor Biglin. The judge also referred to the friendly feeling that existed between O'Neill and Neligh and informed the visitors that O'Neill would also have a race meet the week before the Neligh meeting and hoped to see a good delegation of Neligh people in the city upon that occasion. His remarks was loudly cheered and the Boosters assured him that they would be present in force. The Neligh Boosters are a fine lot of men and many had numerous acquaintances here and made many others who would be pleased to greet them in O'Neill at any time.

Mrs. Ed. Shoemaker returned Sunday from a month's visit in Oregon.
