 Laura E. Davis has petitioned the district court for a divorce from C. E. Davis to whom she was married in this city on November 20, 1902. She accuses her husband of extreme cruelty toward her by absenting himself from home for months at a time without just cause and leaving her and their child without proper food or clothing. That he is now away and took what money he had with him. She asks for an absolute divorce and the custody of their child. This is the second divorce suit Mrs. Davis filed, having started suit in August, 1910, which was afterward dismissed.
 William Neilson had a narrow escape from death last Wednesday afternoon. Billy was digging a sewer trench near the new hotel and had reached a depth of eleven feet when the earth caved in upon him. He was covered to a depth of about two feet over his head. James Davidson was standing there at the time and he immediately got busy and got the dirt away from his head giving him a breathing space and a gang of workmen soon had him extricated from his perilous position. Outside of being a little lame Billy suffered no inconveniences from accidental burial, but is not anxious to repeat the ordeal.
 Last week the county board let the contract for a bridge across Dry Creek to the Western Bridge & Construction Co., of Omaha, for $2,400, they being the lowest bidders. The other bidders and the amount of their bids was as follows: Hennipen Bridge Co., Minneapolis, $2,797; Monarch Bridge Co., Falls City, Neb., $2,745; H. M. Utley, O'Neill, $3,100; H. M. Utley, O'Neill, $3,150. One of Mr. Utley's bids was for a bridge built according to the plans and specifications as drawn and submitted by the State Engineer and the other upon plans drawn by himself. The bridge is to be on the Chambers road, near J. F. Shoemaker's, and is to be of steel and concrete, 60 feet long with a 16-foot roadway, and will be of sufficient strength to sustain a weight of twenty tons every eleven feet. The plans and specifications for the bridge were drawn by the State Engineer and he is to pass upon the bridge, for the county, when it is completed. His estimate as to the cost of the bridge was $3,100.
 A telegram was received in this city last Thursday announcing the death in Cordova, Alaska, on Tuesday evening, August 20th, of Mrs. G. C. Hazelet. The remains will be brought to this city for interment leaving Alaska about September 1st, as soon as Mrs. Hazelet's sons, Calvin and Craig, who were in the interior of Alaska could return home. A little daughter was born to Mrs. Hazelet on Saturday August 17, notice of which has been received by relatives here since the news of her death was received, the letter stating that mother and daughter were doing nicely. No further information has been received other than that contained in the message announcing her death. Mr. and Mrs. Hazelet were for many years residents of this city and the family have many friends in this city and throughout the county who will regret to learn of her sudden death, and the husband, children and other relatives have the

Race and Aviation Meet a Success
 The Race and Aviation meet which closed last Friday afternoon was the most successful ever held by the local association, both in points of attendance and the success of the races. The association will come out about square on the meet.
 The flights made by Aviator Bononer the Moisant bird man, were spectacular and thoroughly enjoyed by the large crowd and there is no question but that the presence of the air ship was in a measure responsible for the splendid crowds that were present each day. The flight last Thursday evening was the best flight made during the meet. On that evening about 7 o'clock he arose from the grounds in front of the grand stand and soared away to the northwest, going probably two miles out in the country. He then turned to the south and soared over the city, going south of the Elkhorn and back over the race track, where he soared over heads of the crowd; then turned west and soared over the convent and again south of the river. On this second turn he rose to a height of 2,500 feet. It was a very beautiful sight to see him soaring and eating up space like a giant vulture. On this flight he covered about fifteen miles and when he returned to earth was greeted with a tremendous cheer by the couple of thousand, people who had assembled on the fair grounds to witness the flight.
 On Friday evening he made another pretty flight but was not as long, nor did he reach the height he did upon the night before. He had intended making two flights Friday evening, but engine troubles prevented him making the second flight.
 Following is the result of the races Thursday and Friday:
 2:20 trot:
 Gladiator, first; Patsy W., second; Welma B., third and McElmo fourth. 2:25 pace:
 Queen L., first; Dr. Jim P., second; Yellowstone third and Gretchen fourth.
 Five eight mile running race:
 Fair Fagot, first; Miss Cossett, second; Dutch Jimmie, third and Mollie Brooks fourth.
 Friday's races:
 2:13 pace:
 Sunny Jim, first; Dan Brown second; Albert Dureda, third;
 2:30 trot:
 Charles Voorhees, first; Casey W., second; Siblo, third.
 Four and a half furlong running race:
 Miss Cossett, first; Fair Fagot, second; Mollie Brooks, third.
 Quarter mile running race:
 Blue Rook, first; Gypsy Queen, second; Jessie Page, third; Queen, fourth.
 No Mail on Sundays Hereafter.
 The following order was received by the postmaster at this office August 24, 1912:
 That hereafter post offices of the first and second classes shall not be open on Sundays for the purpose of delivering mail to the general public, but this provision shall not prevent the prompt delivery of special delivery mail.
 Under this order the postmaster is directed to close and keep closed all day Sundays, general delivery, stamp and registry, money order and rural carrier windows. Mail will be collected and dispatched, also mails received will be worked and distributed.
 This order is issued with a view to allow the employees in post offices as near a complete day of rest as is allowed employees in other government departments.
 The post office lobby will remain open as heretofore.
 This order will be effective Sunday, September 1, 1912.
