

LOCAL MATTERS.

Dave Stuart of Stuart was in city on business last Monday.

W. K. Hodgkin went down to Lincoln and Omaha the first of the week on business.

County Clerk McNichols returned last Tuesday evening from a few days visit in Omaha.

Henry Lorge was up from Randolph last Tuesday looking after his real estate interests here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. O'Donnell went down to Omaha last Wednesday morning for a few days visit.

Hez Chambers was down from Atkinson last Monday, shaking hands with his many friends in this vicinity.

Albert L. Finley of Orchard was granted a marriage license to marry Jennie Prill of eastern Holt, last Saturday.

Peter Kaczor of Omaha, and Miss Eva Nickolicjak of Ewing were granted a marriage license by the County Judge last Thursday.

O. O. Snyder went down to Lincoln last Tuesday morning to attend the annual meeting of the I. O. O. F. grand lodge, of which he is a member.

The hay market is very good these days, considering the amount of hay on the market. No 1 hay sold for $8.50 upon the streets of O'Neill today.

Fremont Tribune: Perhaps Mr. Kinkaid's decision to stay in the congressional race in the Sixth district was for the purpose of getting married during his sixth term. That would be reason enough.

J. C. Harnish went down to Lincoln Tuesday morning to attend the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of the I. O. O. F., which is in session there this week. Mr. Harnish is one of the grand lodge officers.

The funeral of William Dixon, who was killed by lightning at Akron, Colo., last week, was held from the Catholic church in this city last Friday morning and was largely attended by relatives and old friends of the deceased.

Mike Clinton of Sullivan, Wis., has entered into partnership with Frank Valla in the hay business and the firm is known as Valla and Clinton. They expect to handle their share of the hay sold upon the O'Neill markets this season.

H. P. Kauffman, traveling passenger agent of the Burlington railroad, and H. C. Shields of Omaha, general agent of the passenger department of the Wabash railroad, are in the city today in the interests of their respective roads.

C. P. Hancock, Charles Pettijohn and Fred Alberts went down to Lincoln last Tuesday morning to attend the Odd Fellows grand lodge, the two former being the delegates from the local lodge, and Fred went along to keep the boys company.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh J. Boyle are rejoicing over the arrival of a son at their home last Tuesday morning. Mother and son are doing nicely and Hugh is so interested over the advent of the young man that he has forgotten to talk politics for two days.

The horse disease, which for a time threatened to depopulate the county of its horse supply, has died out and for the past ten days we have heard of no cases of the disease. Many are of the opinion that that the heavy frost of three weeks ago is responsible for the disappearance of the disease.

Arthur Wilson of Emmet was a pleasant caller at these headquarters last Tuesday and advanced his subscription another year. Arthur has been a democrat all his life and says that it is the first presidential campaign that he remembers when a democrat could go around with a smile upon his face, on account of the bright prospects for democratic success.

Congressman G. W. Norris, republican candidate for United States Senator, will be in O'Neill on Sunday, October 27, and at 2:30 that afternoon, at the court house, he will deliver his celebrated lecture "World Wide Peace." Congressman Norris is one of the most powerful orators in the west and he should be greeted with a crowded house, on this, his first appearance in O'Neill. Remember the date.

R. H. Mills received a telegram last Sunday announcing the death of his youngest brother, Clarence, at Dubuque, Iowa, that morning. The news of his death was a severe shock to Mr. Mills as he did not know he had been ailing. The Mills family have had more than their share of grief the past two months, as in that time he has lost a brother, sister and a niece.

By defeating New York in the eighth game of the world's series the Boston American League team secured the title of the world's champion baseball team for the year 1912. The contest between these two teams was the hardest battle ever waged in base ball for the honors and the purse that goes with the title. It took eight games to settle the contest. Each team had won three games and there was one tie when the game Wednesday was called. This game was won by Boston in the tenth inning, with a score of 3 to 2. Several local New York admirers lost the price of a few tons of coal on the outcome of the series.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT SHOT.

Progressive Candidate Seriously Wounded at Milwaukee last Monday. Will Recover.

Theodore Roosevelt, progressive candidate for president, was shot and seriously wounded at Milwaukee, Wis., last Monday evening by John Shrank who gave New York as his place of residence. After the shooting Colonel Roosevelt went to the auditorium and addressed the audience that was there awaiting him, speaking for nearly an hour and a half. He was then taken to a hospital where the bullet was located and physicians said that the injury was not serious. After the examination he was taken in a special train to Chicago where he was placed in the care of physicians, and they claimed that while the wound is serious they believe that the vitality of Colonel Roosevelt will pull him through.

The man who did the shooting, John Shrank, is now in jail in Milwaukee and will be tried for his crime next month. He claimed that he was convinced from reading the New York papers that the election of Roosevelt would be a national calamity and determined to put Roosevelt out of the way. He followed him half way around the United States trying to get an opportunity to kill him. At no other city did the opportunity to shoot him present itself, but when the attempts to kill did not present itself in Chicago, when Roosevelt was there last week, he determined to commit the crime in Milwaukee and in order to familiarize himself with the city he went to Milwaukee two days ahead of Roosevelt, looking over the city and seeking the best place in which to commit the dastardly crime. A man was stopped while trying to enter the dining room while Roosevelt was eating and it was thought that it was the same man who afterwards shot him. Roosevelt was shot while standing up in his auto, waving his hands to the cheering crowd that stood in the street in front of his hotel. The would-be assassin stood on the sidewalk right near the machine when he fired the shot. He was immediately overpowered by one of Roosevelt's secretaries and turned over to the police.

Death of William Dixon.

The News, Akron, (Colo.) William J. Dixon, age 22, was struck by lightning during the thunder storm Tuesday afternoon and instantly killed. One of the four horses he was driving was also killed.

The accident occurred near the Frank Loftiss home southwest of town. Dixon being in the employ of Mr. Loftiss. He was working in the field when the storm came up. He unhitched and started to the house, driving two of the horses to a spring wagon, and leading the other team. He had proceeded only a short distance when the fatal bolt crashed through the atmosphere, cutting short his young life. The three remaining horses broke away and fled to the house and by this the family knew something had gone wrong. The search soon revealed the body of the young man in its deplorable condition. His teeth were all knocked out, one side of his face badly burned, one shoe torn off and the foot burned.

Coroner Dr. R. M. Smith, was sent for, and an investigation disclosed the facts about as above reported. The remains were brought to the Yeaman's undertaking rooms that evening and last evening were shipped to his former home at O'Neill, Neb., for interment, they being accompanied by his nephew, Mac McDermott, who came west with him.

Mr. Dixon with Mr. McDermott, came to Washington county in August, to make settlement on his homestead which he filed on about seven months ago. He made settlement, putting up some of his improvements, and was also working out. He had been working for Frank Loftiss several weeks. He is well spoken of by all who made his acquaintance, and won the respect of all. He came of a splendid family who resided at O'Neill, Neb., but both his parents are now dead, and the remains were taken back there to be placed by the side of those of his father and mother. He leaves a number of relatives back there, as well as the nephew who came here with him, to mourn his sudden taken away.

Card of Thanks

To the many friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us and expressed their sorrow over the sudden death of our beloved brother, William Dixon, we extend our heartfelt thanks, and hope that such an affliction will never visit their homes.

Grover Mabin.

Neleigh Leader: Grover Mabin, one of the oldest settlers in point of residence, in the vicinity of Deloit, died Tuesday in an Omaha hospital from Bright's disease. He had been sick for some time but had been in the hospital only a few minutes when he died, the disease and the fatigue of the journey being too much for him, though he was taken to the hospital as a last resort to prolong his life. The funeral was Thursday at 2 p. m. from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Tiffany of Ewing.

Grover Mabin came to Deloit about thirty-three years ago and he has resided there ever since. In the early days he ranged a large number of cattle and has at all times been largely interested in the cattle business. Also at one time ran a creamery and was engaged in the merchandise business. The Mabins were at one time the largest landowners in that vicinity and though of late years he has sold considerable, he was still a large landholder. He was 56 years old. He leaves a wife and five children, Chester and Will, sons, Mrs. Catherine Downs of Iowa, Mrs. Avis Tiffany of Ewing, and Mrs. Earl Housh of Orchard.

Judge C. J. Malone was up from his ranch near Inman last Wednesday. The Judge says that he has put in a busy season in the hay fields and believes that driving a mower or a hay rake is a better occupation than holding down the judicial chair in the office of the county court, a position he held for six years. Politics is not very exciting in his section, he says, and believes that it is the quietest presidential campaign he ever witnessed.

KINKAID AGAIN IN THE RACE.

Congressional Committee Nominates Him to the Position He Resigned and He Accepts.

S. J. Weekes, O. O. Snyder, R. J. Marsh and Paul Humphrey returned last Monday morning from Crawford, where they had been attending the meeting of the congressional committee to select a candidate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Congressman Kinkaid. Twenty-seven of the counties of the district were represented and it was the opinion of the committee that Mr. Kinkaid remain in the race and that wish was wired him here, as follows:

"The republican committee of the Sixth district in meeting assembled is unanimously of the opinion that you should withdraw your declination as a candidate for congress and accept the nomination by this committee, which action is earnestly requested and cordially insisted upon by every member of the committee. Notwithstanding your impaired health will not permit of a vigorous personal campaign we believe it to be a duty to the people of the district that this be done. Please wire answer at once. Judge Kinkaid's answer was: "Will accept if it will not antagonize any county. Be regarded as political duty."

Upon receipt of Judge Kinkaid's telegram the committee unanimously re-nominated him to fill the vacancy and he will now enter the fight and now make an aggressive campaign for re-election. The consensus of opinion as expressed at the committee meeting was that Kinkaid would be re-elected and some of the committeemen believed that he would have a large majority as he had two years ago, when he defeated the present democratic candidate by nearly 5,000 votes.

Notice for Bids.

Notice is hereby given that bids will be received at the office of the county clerk of Holt county, in O'Neill, Neb., for Sheridan coal for the court house for the ensuing year. Bids will be received up to noon, November 1, 1912.

S. F. McNichols, County Clerk.

J. A. Snider of Naper, Neb., republican candidate for state representative from the fifty-fourth district, comprising the counties of Holt and Boyd, was in the city last Friday meeting the voters in the interest of his candidacy. Mr. Snider is a pleasant man to meet and created a very favorable impression among the voters of this city.

O'Neill is recognized as one of the greatest hay shipping points in the state. Agent Smith of the Burlington railroad says that his road hauls 100 cars a month from this city, which would be about 1,000 ton. The indications are that the amount shipped this season will exceed that of other years as there has been more hay put up in the territory tributary to this city than there has been in former years.

John H. Morehead, democratic candidate for governor, addressed seventy voters at the court house last Friday night. During the course of his address he never referred to any other democratic candidate, nor did he refer to the democratic candidate for president. He confined himself solely to a personal plea for votes for himself, promising the people if elected that he would give them a good business administration. His speech was so conservative that one of the progressive democrats of this city said that if he had been blindfolded and listening to the address he would have said that the speaker was a Taft man, instead of one who claimed to be a progressive democrat. A half dozen old line republicans were present to hear the speaker and it is said that some of them intend to support Morehead at the election this fall. Among the democrats his speech was not very well appreciated and we heard a couple of democrats say after it was over that he should have remained away from O'Neill as they believed that his speech lost him votes.

5360 Acres

Will be sold at the K C Hall to the highest bidder, in O'Neill next Tuesday at 10 o'clock a. m.

This 5360 acres, being the Widener land, will be sold in tracks to suit the buyer.

It is not likely that many will attend the sale from the outside at this busy time of the year. Local people should therefore inspect this land carefully and attend the sale. It is a rare chance to buy some hay land near a good market and you buy it at your own bid. Adv.
