THE PACIFIC COAST TOUR

Grandest Railroad Journey in the World

There are more than one hundred different ways to go or to come, but the all-year way to California, the way in one direction at least, is through the Denver gateway, with Scenic Colorado and Salt Lake along the way.

If you desire a more southerly route in winter, go via Denver and the Santa Fe—Grand Canyon Route, through New Mexico—the way of sunshine. If this is not far enough south, go through Kansas City and Texas, returning through Salt Lake and Scenic Colorado. But to realize the maximum possibilities as to scenery, cities, agricultural landscape and "travel education" of this comprehensive tour, you should include the Shasta Route and the Pacific Northwest—the Portland, Puget Sound and Spokane regions.

In "Seeing America First" you see its mighty and magnificent half on a Pacific Coast tour. You should not only "See America First" but you should see all of it you can from a Burlington train.

the city and the city spent several hundred dollars putting in crossings and otherwise improving the streets. Now many of the residents are, thoughtlessly perhaps, doing things that will result in most of this money going to waste next spring, and that is the practice of dumping ashes and garbage in the gutters along the streets. If these gutters are not open next spring when the thaw comes the water will clog up behind the ash piles and then cut across the streets and the beautiful streets we now have will be a thing of the past. So citizens should be careful and not dump ashes in the gutters along the streets. Pile them behind your property and in the spring you can have a man haul them away for a few cents and they can be placed where they will do some good.

Addison F. Carpenter has brought suit in the district court in this county to collect $42,400 from the Chicago and Northwestern railroad company for injuries alleged to have been received while in the employ of said company at Long Pine February 2, 1911. Plaintiff alleges that he was in their employ on the above date at Long Pine, his duties being to assist in loading and unloading freight. That while performing his duties on the morning of February 2, 1911, he received the injuries hereafter complained of. Part of his duties was to seal cars after they had been loaded and on the morning in question he went to a car to seal same. That the car was on the north side of the depot and a little west of the station. That the platform around said depot was not large enough and said car door was west of the platform, but this plaintiff did not know at the time. That it was very dark on the north side of said depot and said platform was four feet above the ground, ending abruptly with four old steps leading down the west side thereof. That when he went to seal said car he walked off the end of the platform, catching his foot in an old broken step and fell to the ground. That in said fall the bones in the left ankle and foot was broken in three places and his left leg was crushed, bruised and injured. That by reason of said injuries he has never been able to walk without the aid of crutches, nor never will. That after his injuries he was treated by the local physician of the company who treated his foot for a sprain. When the injured foot did not improve the company sent him to their physician at Sioux City, who took an X ray picture of the injury and found that there were broken bones in the foot, and he refused to do anything for the injury. The company then sent him to their general surgeon at Omaha who cut into his foot in three places and drew therefrom pus and matter that had accumulated therein. This was in January, 1912, nearly a year after the injury. That on February 2, the same surgeon, cut into plaintiff's foot and ankle in many places and removed thereon rotten, diseased bone and flesh and scraped the bone thereof. That by reason of said operations the plaintiff suffered great pain and anguish and was compelled to remain in a hospital in Omaha for two months. That in December, 1912, the plaintiffs left foot and ankle were in such bad condition that same had to be amputated at the knee. For the injuries received, agony suffered and loss of time plaintiff asks for a judgment of $42,400 and cost of suit. A suit was started in this case several months ago and was removed to the federal court at Norfolk on request of the defendant in November last.
