sister, Mrs. J. P. Gilligan. Mr. Latta returned home Thursday morning, Mrs. Latta and children remaining for a week end visit at the Gilligan home.

Next Tuesday the annual water cart starts on its weary journey well loaded. Many of the boys who climb on full of life and hope in the morning tumble off before the first day has passed into history and before a month has passed, usually, the wagon is left without a driver.

Romaine Saunders was up from his Wheeler county ranch last Monday. Mr. Saunders will have charge of The Frontier this winter during the absence of the editor in Lincoln and our readers can be assured of a good live newspaper during Mr. Saunders' occupancy of the editorial chair.

Tom Murphy, who has been in the employ of the Omaha Iron and Structural Steel Co., the past year, returned home last Sunday evening to spend Christmas at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Murphy, northeast of town. Tom has been over a good part of the state since leaving O'Neill a year ago and says that there is no part of it that looks better to him than the Emerald Tinted city.

M. T. Elliott was over from Lynch last Monday looking after business matters and visiting his many O'Neill friends. Mose says that he has a large number of sales booked for the next two months but that he has a few open dates and anyone wanting the services of a first class auctioneer should call him at Lynch. He runs a large department store at Lynch but says that he has his business in such shape that he can get away from home at any time.

The Plainview News: The editor went to O'Neill Tuesday, returning this morning. That "emerald tinted" city is making a wonderful growth and about two dozen new residences are now in course of construction as well as several business houses and their fine, new $30,000.00 hotel. They are now making an effort to secure a fine federal building and may land it too as they are certainly "live ones" up there.

The Hotel Evans will serve a luncheon on New Year's eve, beginning at 9 o'clock and continuing until after midnight so that these wishing to watch the "Old year out and the New Year in" in may have an opportunity of doing so in this way. An elaborate menu will be prepared and tables arranged to accommodate parties of any numbers. Reservations for tables may be made now, by phoning W. R. or R. P. Evans. Adv-27-2

County Judge Carlon returned last Saturday from Lincoln where he has been attending a meeting of the State association of County Judges, which was held in that city last Thursday and Friday. Judge Carlon says that they had a splendid meeting and many matters of interest and importance to the county judges of the state were discussed. The next meeting of the association will be held in the city of Columbus in December, 1913.

Central City Nonpareil: A grave responsibility rests upon the shoulders of Dennis Cronin of the O'Neill Frontier. He is the only editor elected to the lower house of the legislature. In the last session he had the assistance of five or six wielders of the pencil and the responsibility was divided, but now it is up to him to "carry the message to Garcia" all by his lonesome. But, Denny will be there and over, because he has the ability and the fighting qualities.

Those desiring to learn stenography and typewriting will be given a splendid opportunity to do so this winter. Miss Alderson, who served for three years as principal of the Boulder Business College of Boulder, Colo., and also served as principal of the Nebraska Wesleyan Commercial College of Lincoln, announces that she will teach night classes in shorthand and typewriting after the first of the year. This is an opportunity that should not be neglected by those desiring to take up these studies.

Never has the wit of E. F. Outcault, the author of "Buster Brown," New York's musical comedy success, which will be seen at the opera house on December 28, been so spontaneous or so provocative of genuine laughter as in this play. This season the management has provided this production with a cast that is far above the average and contains voices that go near making it a grand opera production. Johnny McCabe as Buster, ably supported by D. F. Murphy as "Tige," and a large chorus of sunbursts and roses which are blessed with nimble toes as well as wonderful voices, go far into the land of fun to make the old happy in the forgetfulness of their age and the young swell with pride at their youth. Prices 50-75-$1.00. Adv.

Business in the matrimonial line has been rushing at the county judge's office during the past week, but Judge Carlon says that applicants for the official document that will allow the young people to be united in the holy bonds of wedlock, cannot come too fast to suit him. In fact if necessary, the Judge says, that he would work after hours to furnish the necessary license to the love sick swain. On Monday the judge issued licenses to E. W. Corbett and Maude Lumsden, both of Atkinson. Ray E. Illiff and Miss Minnie E. Hart, both of Atkinson, and Ray E. Kiehl of Wichita, Kansas, and Miss Crystal E. Friend of Tonic, Nebr.

"Buster Brown."

Buster Brown, the comical musical play of comedy and mirth, is booked to appear at the opera house on Dec. 28. No other comedy in recent years has achieved greater success than this attraction. For this season's tour the management has engaged a cast far above the average and as pretty, nimble and tuneful a chorus as was ever seen on tour. "Buster Brown," has been termed a positive hit during the last nine seasons wherever it has been presented. Prices 50-75-$1. Adv.

SULLIVAN-McCARTHY DRAW.

Boxing Match at Grand Island Declared a Draw at the End of the Tenth Round.

The O'Neill lovers of the fistic game who went to Grand Island to witness the fistic battle between Jack Sullivan of this city and Young McCarthy of Ravenna, returned home last Friday night and say they witnessed one of the classiest fistic exhibitions ever pulled off in Nebraska. The Ravenna man is, they say, quite handy with his dukes but was clearly outclassed by the pride of O'Neill, the latter having a big shade upon his adversary in points, although the bout was declared a draw. Arrangements are now under way for another go-between these two champions of the pugilistic art and should the event be pulled off any where near this city it is certain that a large crowd from will attend.

There was a large crowd at Grand Island and it is said that the audience was well pleased with the exhibition and that most of those present would go a good many miles to witness another contest between these two men. Last Saturday's Norfolk News contained the following special from Grand Island giving an account of the fight:

Special to The News: The Sullivan and McCarthy fight at Grand Island Thursday was declared a draw by Referee Paterson of Calro, Neb.

The first five rounds McCarthy rushed Sullivan with wild swings, Sullivan getting away from them easily with a left jab to face and jaw.

The sixth round was Sullivan's, the O'Neill man landing rights and lefts to the jaw and face repeatedly and always getting away from McCarthy's terrible swings with a block or duck. McCarthy went to his corner groggy.

In the seventh McCarthy came back strong and repeatedly swung rights and lefts at Sullivan's jaw but missed the mark wide. Sullivan repeatedly landed left jabs to the face and jaw and three right swings to the body. McCarthy retired to the corner tired.

In the eighth McCarthy came back strong and sent a left swing to Sullivan's face. Sullivan countered with left and right to McCarthy's face and jaw. This round was nobody's.

In the ninth Sullivan came back fighting like a demon, landing rights and lefts to face and jaw at will forcing the fight all the time. This was Sullivan's round from start to finish.

In the tenth both came back strong, apparently anxious for a knockout blow. McCarthy swung with left for Sullivan's jaw and missed his mark, Sullivan landed a left hook to McCarthy's jaw, and right to the body. McCarthy countered with right swing to Sullivan's jaw.

They were both fighting like demons when the gong sounded and Referee Paterson decided the fight a draw.

The New Parcels Post.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: There will be a reduction January 1, in the postage charge on parcels mailed in the United States. The rates will still be much higher than those long established in England, Germany and other countries of Europe, where the sending of parcels by mail at low cost to the people, has been an extensive part of the public service for many years. It has worked no hardship abroad to any class and is recognized there as a general advantage. The reduction at hand in this country is less than is supposed by many who are apprehensive of results. A full examination of details should be made before forming an opinion of the fairness of the new regulations and probable results. The new law was passed by congress last summer with certain provisions showing that it is at least in part, regarded as an experiment. Power is conferred on the postmaster general to investigate it, with the consent of the interstate commerce commission, to modify weight and zone distances when experience has demonstrated that a change is needed.

Within a 300-mile zone the new rates will be 7 cents postage for the first pound, five cents a pound for each additional pound, and 57 cents for an 11 pound package, the maximum weight allowed. The rates will be less for smaller zones and more for larger. For more than 1800 the charges will be 12 cents for the first pound, 12 cents for each additional pound, and $1.32 for 11 pounds. The present charges for 11 pounds anywhere in the United States is $1.76, and the weights in any parcel is restricted to 4 pounds. The new rules will make a package of 11 pounds mailable. Parcels postage in this country is not to be reduced to the foreign standard by any means. A 29-pound parcel in Germany is carried ten miles for 17 cents, twenty miles 22 cents, fifty miles 37 cents, 100 miles 47 cents, 150 miles 59 cents, and any greater distance 72 cents. Rates in Austria are the same. In Mexico the postage on an 11 pound parcel is 60 cents. The reduction in the country is not at all radical.
