

WOMAN SICK FOURTEEN YEARS

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Elkhart, Ind.:—"I suffered for fourteen years from organic inflammation, female weakness, pain and irregularities. The pains in my sides were increased by walking or standing on my feet and I had such awful bearing down feelings, was depressed in spirits and became thin and pale with dull, heavy eyes. I had six doctors from whom I received only temporary relief. I decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial and also the Sanative Wash. I have now used the remedies for four months and cannot express my thanks for what they have done for me.

"If these lines will be of any benefit you have my permission to publish them."—Mrs. SADIE WILLIAMS, 455 James Street, Elkhart, Indiana.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Knew It All.
An old but sturdy Irishman, who had made a reputation as a gang boss, was given a job with a railroad construction company at Port-au-Prince, Haiti. One day, when the sun was hotter than usual, his gang of black Haitians began to shirk, and as the chief engineer rode up on his horse the Irishman was heard to shout:

"Allez—you sons of guns—allez!" Then turning to the engineer, he said: "I curse the day I ever learned their language."

Too Hasty.

"That's just the way they sound."

Important to Mothers

Stiff Joints Sprains, Bruises

are relieved at once by an application of Sloan's Liniment. Don't rub, just lay on lightly.

"Sloan's Liniment has done more good than anything I have ever tried for stiff joints. I got my hand hurt so badly that I had to stop work right in the busiest time of the year. I thought at first that I would have to have my hand taken off, but I got a bottle of Sloan's Liniment and cured my hand."

Good for Broken Sinews
G. G. JONES, Baldwin, L. I., writes:—"I used Sloan's Liniment for broken sinews above the knee caused by a fall and to my great satisfaction was able to resume work in less than three weeks after the accident."

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

Fine for Sprain

MR. HENRY A. VOHR, 94 Somerset St., Plainfield, N. J., writes:—"A friend sprained his ankle so badly that it went black. He laughed when I told him that I would have him out in a week. I applied Sloan's Liniment and in four days he was working and said Sloan's was a right good Liniment."

RICH GIRL LIVING ON $8 PER WEEK TO HELP SOLVE WAGE PROBLEM

Miss Dorothy Applegate Leads Move to Assist Young Shop Employees.

THINKS THAT IS MINIMUM

Daughter of Wealthy Banker Prepares Table of Expense—Clothes Not Counted.

New York, Special: Miss Dorothy Applegate, daughter of Dr. W. E. Applegate, a wealthy physician, of No. 921 Flatbush avenue, Brooklyn, is living on $8 a week in Boston.

Not that she has to, for her father's doors and purse are wide open to her. But Miss Applegate, a very practical student of sociology, wishes to learn how to live comfortably on $8 a week, so that she can teach other young women to exist on that small income.

Miss Applegate, who is 21 years old, was graduated from Wellesley college last June. Sharing her experience in Boston are Miss Betsey Graves, a society girl of Detroit, and Miss Stone-man, daughter of a rich Bostonian. Mrs. Applegate said last night that her daughter was under the tutelage of Mrs. French, superintendent and instructor of the Woman's Educational league of Boston.

The object of the league is to further the interests of the shop girls to equip them to live more economically and to make them more efficient. Miss Applegate will have finished her life on $8 a week next October. Then she will become an instructor.

Already, Mrs. Applegate said, some

MISS APPLAGATE'S TABLE OF $8-A-WEEK EXPENSES

Rent for each girl	$2.30
Food for each girl	2.75
Light	.25
or cleaning rooms	.15
Laundry	.20
Car fare	1.00
Tuition and incidentals	1.00
Recreation	.35
This makes a total of $8 per week for each girl.

of the Boston department stores have opened classrooms and in them their shop girls are listening to the teachings of the Educational league. The department store proprietors pay these instructresses "quite well," Mrs. Applegate said.

Boston, Special: "I have no right to live on money I have not earned," thoughtfully said Miss Applegate today, "and I have no right to live differently from other girl workers until I have proved my efficiency. As for my bank account, I feel in honor bound not to touch it, for I did not earn the money."

"I am satisfied that a working girl can live very nicely on $8 a week," continued Miss Applegate. "Our food costs us not more than $2.75 a week for each of us. We average 10 cents apiece for breakfast, 15 cents for lunch and 25 cents for dinner. It is never necessary to pay more than 25 cents for dinner if you know where to go. Indeed, when we get our meals in our rooms they do not cost so much."

Omaha Pastor Picks Partners; His Business Is Flourishing

REV. CHARLES SAVIDGE.

Rev. Charles Savidge Finds Many Who Are Longing for Affinities.

YOUNG MEN TOO BACKWARD
Cupid's Lieutenant Would Find Loving Husband for Every Working Girl.

Omaha, Neb. Special: The Rev. Charles Savidge, who some time ago added a "marring department" to his church, is delighted with the progress he has made thus far. In fact, he has received so many applications for husbands and wives that he has been forced to hire a secretary and an assistant and to open an office in one of the big downtown buildings. Business is brisk. Everybody is happy.

The Rev. Mr. Savidge, it will be remembered, was the original of the many "marring parsons" of the country, the title having been bestowed upon him by the newspapers some years ago when he joined his 2,500th couple in wedlock. That he is still one of the closest co-workers with Cupid may be gleaned from a perusal of his lists.

How System Works.
Rev. Savidge has evolved what he regards as an almost perfect system. A young man, wishing to get married, writes in, describing the sort of a wife he would like to have. The minister then goes over his lists and picks a half dozen "prospects" in the young man's community answering nearest to the descriptions given. These names he sends to the matrimonially inclined young man. The minister makes it clear, however, that he does not guarantee the character of any of his prospects. He tells each applicant to be sure and look into this point before he takes any steps that will be beyond recalling.

Not Doing Their Duty.
"The young men of this country are not doing their duty," says the minister, "and a whole lot of young women are not doing theirs either. But I am sure there are hundreds and thousands who would be glad to get married if they knew just where to look. The present strenuous life of the city man or woman is not conducive to marriage. I'm going to put a stop to that condition so far as it is in my power to do so."

"Get these people together. Here's a girl in a town who would like to marry, but she has not been asked. And here's a man in a city who would like to meet that girl, but he don't know where to look for her."

"It's the greatest tragedy of this age, this single life men and women are leading."

Dr. Savidge believes that he is going to be instrumental in "placing" a large number of factory girls. "One girl at the head of a home is worth 40 working in a factory," says he. "I'd take every girl out of every factory in the land and put her in a home if I could," says he. "They don't belong in factories. That's where men belong."

Barnum's Biblical Play.

From the New York Herald.
The production of the play "Joseph and His Brethren" has not yet brought forth any charge of plagiarism against its authors. Nevertheless there are still living a few of the older generation of theatergoers who remember when a drama of the same name, and taken also from Holy Writ, was presented on the stage of a local playhouse.

The producer was the late P. T. Barnum, whose museum, at the corner of Broadway and Ann street, on the site afterward occupied by the Herald building, was in its day one of the most popular places of amusement in the town. At that time, in the early '60s, there was a widespread prejudice against the theater, and Barnum, who always catered to what he called the "moral" element in the community, called his little theater a "lecture room" and presented no dramas which could not be safely advertised as "moral and instructive." The term "uplift" had not then come into general use, or he would certainly have appropriated it.

It was with this ennobling biblical drama that Barnum edified the public that had gaped to satiety at the What-In-It, the Performing Bears, the Cherry Colored Cat and the Woolly Horse. And of those who stifled their conscience with the thought that they were not in a play-house but a lecture room not one complained when a lady in short skirts and pink tights appeared and enlivened the scene with a pleasing dance.

HOLIDAYING IN THE WINTER

AN IMMENSE AMOUNT OF MONEY SPENT BY WESTERN CANADIANS IN WINTER SEASON.

"An unusually large number of Western Canada people are leaving or preparing to leave to spend the Winter in California."

The above item of news was clipped from a Western Canada paper early in December. In the same paper were items of news conveying the intelligence that hundreds of Western Canadians were also taking a trip abroad, spending the Christmas season "at home," as they yet term the old land. The Scandinavian element participated largely in the holiday business of the railroads and the steamships, but they all had return tickets. Early in December the east bound trains and boats were loaded, and an estimate furnished by the railroad people gave upwards of twelve thousand as the number who would make the Christmas holiday visit abroad. This does not mean that these people are leaving to avoid the coldness of the winter, nor for any climatic conditions whatever. They have come out to Canada and have done so well that they can afford the hundred and fifty or two hundred dollars or more that it takes to carry them across and back. When they came to Canada they did not have that much money all told, but now they are wealthy and on their return will bring some of their friends with them.

Then there are those, too, who on their wheat farms have made sufficient money that they can afford to take a holiday, and what better winter holidaying ground could they have than California? How many in other farming districts of the continent could afford the money and the time that these people can?—Advertisement.

As to the Wedding Garb.
Colonel Watterson occasionally turns his attention from dressing down candidates to dressing up inquiring correspondents. Listen to this advice from the Louisville Courier-Journal:

"There are two reasons for being married in a dress suit, young man. It's fashionable and it's your last chance to get a dress suit."

This can be considered good advice, founded on observation and experience, even if it is a little pessimistic.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Occasional Visitor.

A notable housekeeper of the past generation, before the days of screens, had just announced with decision that she never had any files.

"But, Aunt Augusta," faltered the timid visitor, "it seems to me that I saw a few in the dining-room."

"Oh, those," replied her aunt, with a majestic wave of the hand, "were the neighbors' files. They will come in occasionally. But I was saying, we never have any of our own."—Youth's Companion.

Too Much for Him.

The elevator passed the homely man's floor.
"Here, boy," he cried, "let me out on the sixth. I thought you knew that was my floor."

"Excuse me, sah," returned the boy, stopping the elevator and returning to the sixth floor, "I ought to know your face, sah, but de trouble is I have to remember so many ob 'em, an' you's am so complicated, sah."

Sure.

"Do you think that we should have a more elastic currency?" asked the Old Fogey.
"It's elastic enough," replied the Grouch. "Why don't they make it more adhesive?"

Agreeing With Her.

"I was a fool when I married you!"
"Yes, and you married a fool!"

Art may be long, but it's different with most artists.

A DIFFERENCE.

It Paid This Man to Change Food.

"What is called 'good living' eventually brought me to a condition quite the reverse of good health," writes a N. Y. merchant.

"Improper eating told on me till my stomach became so weak that food nauseated me, even the lightest and simplest lunch, and I was much depressed after a night of uneasy slumber, unfitting me for business."

"This condition was discouraging, as I could find no way to improve it. Then I saw the advertisement of Grape-Nuts food, and decided to try it, and became delighted with the result."

"For the past three years I have used Grape-Nuts and nothing else for my breakfast and for lunch before retiring. It steadily set my stomach right and I congratulate myself that I have regained my health. There is no greater comfort for a tired man than a lunch of Grape-Nuts. It insures restful sleep, and an awakening in the morning with a feeling of buoyant courage and hopefulness."

"Grape-Nuts has been a boon to my whole family. It has made of our 2-year-old boy, who used to be unable to digest much of anything, a robust, healthy, little rascal weighing 32 pounds. Mankind certainly owes a debt of gratitude to the expert who invented this perfect food." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. "There's a reason."

Are You Subject to Constipation

Here is a Simple Way of Correcting it Instantly Before it Becomes Chronic.

Very few people go through life without some time or other being troubled with constipation. Thousands injure themselves by the use of strong cathartics, salt mineral waters, pills and similar things. They have temporary value in some cases, it is true, but the good effect is soon lost, and the more one takes of them the less effective they become.

A physic or purgative is seldom necessary, and much better and more permanent results can be obtained by using a scientific remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It does not hide behind a high sounding name, but is what it is represented to be, a mild laxative medicine. It is so mild that thousands of mothers give it to tiny infants, and yet it is so compounded, and contains such definite ingredients that it will have equally good effect when used by a person suffering from the worst chronic constipation. In fact, among the greatest endorsers of Syrup Pepsin are elderly people who have suffered for years and found nothing to benefit them until they took Syrup Pepsin.

It is a fact that millions of families have Syrup Pepsin constantly in the house, homes like those of Mrs. G. B. Pruitt, Berea, Ky., who used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin as a laxative tonic. Mrs. Pruitt writes that it so strengthened and cleansed her system that she was quickly relieved of a severe cough which had troubled her for months. The special value of this grand laxative tonic is that it is suited to the needs of every member of the family. It is pleasant-tasting, mild and non-gripping. Unlike harsh physics it works gradually and in a very brief time the stomach and bowel muscles are trained to do their work naturally again, when all medicines can be dispensed with.

You can obtain a bottle at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar. The latter size is usually bought by families who already know its value. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 203 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

COLT DISTEMPER

Can be handled very easily. The sick are cured, and all others in same stable, no matter how "poisoned," kept from having the disease, by using COLT'S LIQUID DISTEMPER. Gives a long life to the tongue of his feed. Acts on the blood and expels germs of all forms of distemper. Best remedy ever known for mares in foal. One bottle guaranteed to cure one case. 50c an 8-oz. bottle. 85c and 85c dozen of druggists and harness dealers, or sent express paid by manufacturer. Get shows how to poison horses. For free booklet gives every thing. Local agents wanted. Largest selling home remedy in existence—two million bottles.
