

CITY ELECTION TO BE HELD NEXT TUESDAY

Old Officers All Candidates for Another Term.

2 CANDIDATES FOR TREASURER

Third Ward Also Furnishes Contest for Alderman.—Mullen Withdraws for Mayor.

The nominations having all been made by the usual petition method, another campaign for the city election next Tuesday is on. The campaign, however, is decidedly tame as there is neither issue nor fight for office. There are two candidates for city treasurer and two for alderman in the 3d ward. The nominations on file with the city clerk are as follows:

Mayor—O. F. Biglin, for reelection, Treasurer—C. P. Hancock; J. F. Gallagher, for reelection. Clerk—H. J. Hammond, for reelection.

First ward—D. H. Cronin, for reelection.

Second ward—M. H. McCarthy, for reelection.

Third ward—C. E. Hall, for reelection; J. H. Meredith.

Members Board of Education, three-year term—T. D. Hanley, Dr. P. J. Flynn.

A petition was filed nominating P. D. Mullen as a candidate for mayor. Mr. Mullen has since declined the nomination.

The following have filed applications for saloon licenses: R. J. Marsh, J. J. Thomas, W. J. O'Connor, Arthur Ryan.

The Live Stock Market

South Omaha, Neb. Mar 25.—From the Standard Live Stock Commission Co.

Cattle receipts were light at the beginning of this week, we presume partly due to the storm. Heavy beef steers were slow and a little lower. Handy weights were steady and cows and butcher stock was active and strong. There was little change in stocker and feeders values excepting the commoner grades, which were slow sale.

We quote: Choice beef.....$8.25@8.80 Common Beef down to.....7.50 Choice Cornfed cows.....6.80@8.15 Good butcher grades.....6.00@6.75 Canners and cutters.....4.00@5.90 Veal calves.....6.50@9.50 Bulls, stags etc.....6.00@7.25 Good to choice feeders.....7.60@8.40 Common grades down to.....6.25 Stock heifers.....6.00@7.25

The hog supply is rather light again this week with the market still moving upward. Bulk $8.85 to $8.90, top $8.95.

There is a moderate run of sheep with muttons about steady and lambs a little lower.

Japanese Art Sale.

April 1st is the date of the fine display of Japanese art goods. Will be in the corner of the new Golden hotel. There will be Japanese hand paintings, Lacquer paintings, vegetable colors, sepia and water colors, choice linen pieces, silk scarfs, neck-wear, and a host of other things that ladies love. The ladies of O'Neill are kindly solicited to come and enjoy the afternoon and evening with us. Will also serve Japanese wafers and tea, iced cream and cake.

FLOODS FOLLOW CYCLONES

Nebraska Metropolis Storm Swept and Eastern Cities Inundated.

The last published figures on the casualties of the Omaha cyclone last Sunday evening places the number of dead at 152. The injured are many times this number and property loss unestimable. A general account of the storms will be found on the inside pages of this issue of The Frontier.

Former O'Neill people living in Omaha escaped injury. A. F. Mullen sustained the loss of two houses which were wrecked, his place of residence being one of these, but the family escaped uninjured. It was reported early in O'Neill that some of Thos. McLaughlin's daughter's family, Mrs. Norris, were killed as T. B. Norris and daughter were reported in the list of dead. This is a brother of Mr. McLaughlin's son-in-law.

Following close upon the storms which wrought devastation and death not only in Omaha, but in various towns in Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and Missouri, comes the news of unparalleled destruction and death by floods in Ohio and Indiana. Twelve hundred are reported drowned at Dayton, O., where the water attained a depth of 30 feet in places. Nearly the whole state of Ohio and northern Indiana have been devastated to an extent that makes it a national calamity, and President Wilson has issued an appeal for contributions to be sent to the national Red Cross for aid to the many thousands who have had their homes and property swept from them.

How Nebraska Grows.

The State Board of Agriculture has been studying the increase of crop production and farm values in Nebraska for the period since the census of 1900; this study of the principal crops from 1902 to 1911 shows an encouraging increase in valuation of Nebraska products.

In this period of eight years the corn crop has increased in total value thirteen per cent; the value of the wheat crop has increased twenty-nine per cent; potatoes show eighty-two per cent of increase; the hay crop jumps to 163 per cent and the value of horses 155 per cent.

In dairy cattle there is an increase of 30 per cent in value and swine 70 per cent, while the total value of all farm property has increased 178 per cent in the ten years since the census of 1900.

When it is remembered that Nebraska now stands second in the entire Union in the per capita value of farm property it requires no gift of prophecy to predict that the census of 1920 will show this state in undisputed leadership of the agricultural column. This situation should be encouraging to every interest connected with the development of Nebraska.

Revised Figures.

The Frontier's informant of the loss of cattle in the southwest part of county during the blizzard two weeks ago was either not posted on losses in his neighborhood or careless as to the statement made. As his statements were given as verification of reports previously heard they were published on the supposition of accuracy. Supervisor Hubbell of Inez, however, says they were far from such. Instead of 110 head reported lost to one man the number should have been six, which was the largest individual loss in that community. A few others lost from one to three head, Mr. Hubbell says:

The largest single loss we have been able to learn of and verify with any degree of certainty was sustained on the A. T. ranch in Wheeler county, where out of 3,000 head 45 perished in the blizzard. These were among the herds kept at the West End and this number got into a pond hole and perished.

One Unconstitutional Joke.

The Springview Herald says of the Nebraska stallion law, which seems to serve no other purpose than to furnish jobs for the fee collectors:

"The law was declared unconstitutional by the district court in and for Howard county in the eleventh judicial district, and has been carried to the state supreme court, and until that court sustains or reverses the decision of the lower court the law is inoperative, and has been since it was declared unconstitutional by the district court and all acts under it since that time are void and without authority of law, and at the present time there is no stallion law in Nebraska, and will not be unless the supreme court should reverse the decision of the lower court. At the present time, the stallion board, in collecting fees, are proceeding without any authority whatever."

William Anderson of Chambers came up Friday from Omaha, where he had been to consult an oculist. Mr. Anderson went home Saturday.

O. O. Snyder arrived home Tuesday from a business trip to Fremont and York. Mr. Snyder says they have a foot or more of snow in the southern part of the state.

Miss Ruth Evans, who was visiting friends in Omaha, left there for her home Sunday afternoon in time to escape the tornado which wrought such disastrous havoc in the city.

G. B. Conwell writes from Lander, Wyo., that he has taken a homestead near Shoshoni, where he expects to take up his residence at once and whither he wants "the good old Frontier" sent.

Christian Spenser and Anna Bellar, both of O'Neill, obtained license to wed last Saturday. On Monday Judge Carlon issued a similar document for Albert Zlech of Boyd county and Annettie Smith of Holt county.

While Chambers people are not saying very much about it, yet it is learned from pretty reliable sources that the Burlington officials look with favor upon the report made to them by the Chambers Commercial club as to the statistics of southern Holt. The general manager of the road, in fact, looks upon the report with such favor that he will go over the country as soon as spring opens up and take the matter of extending the O'Neill line up with the directors.

Gordon Journal: Mrs. McCaskey, who has been clerking at the Coleman & Ross store for some time, has resigned her position and will leave soon for California. Miss Helen Cassidy of O'Neill, an experienced and up-to-date dry goods lady, will serve in Mrs. McCaskey's place.

Assessor Tom Coyne has been on the job the past week getting the books, schedules and other supplies in readiness for the precinct assessors to begin work next month. The assessors will have a meeting in O'Neill Friday of this week when instructions and equipment for the work will be given them.

Justus Spindler filed suit in district court Tuesday against Katherine Spindler praying for divorce. They were married in O'Neill last October. Plaintiff alleges extreme cruelty. He says that in February defendant tried to kill him by administering poison in his food. Several instances are cited in the petition wherein plaintiff alleges he had been roughly treated by his spouse, who finally drove him from the house which he says is his and was bought by him last fall. The woman is now in possession of the place, and plaintiff asks for a decree of divorce and the peaceable possession of his own fireside.

Probably the largest attendance ever at any Sunday school of the county was that present at the Easter services of the Presbyterian Sunday school in O'Neill last Sunday. The service was held in the opera house and was attended by 800 or more of all denominations and no denomination. The official count was 796, but some few got away without being recorded. The large attendance was due to strenuous efforts for victory in the contest with the Presbyterian Sunday school at Atkinson. The large attendance here last Sunday placed the O'Neill school far in advance of its competitor.

Jesse Mills and Miss Maude Snigga were married at Orchard Wednesday. The wedding took place at the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. Ray Scofield. Mrs. B. H. Mills and two daughters, Miss Elsie and Martha, were in attendance from here. The young couple came to O'Neill last night, and will set up house keeping in the near future. Both bride and groom are well and favorably known by everybody in this community, where they have always resided. Jesse is the eldest son of R. H. Mills and is one of the finest lads among The Frontier's acquaintance. His bride is the only daughter of Emil Sniggs and is a young lady of exceptional qualifications and good sense. That their union may be a means of happiness and prosperity to both is the wish of their many friends.

SLASHED WITH RAZOR

O'Neill Girl Has Unpleasant Experience With Rejected Admirer.

Word was received here Tuesday by the girls parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Meredith, who left for Omaha Wednesday to investigate the affair, that Miss Mabel Meredith had been hurt in Omaha Sunday evening and was in a critical condition at a hospital. It was reported that she had been struck by a falling timber in the cyclone-swept district after the storm. An Omaha paper, however, assigns another cause. It says:

Jealousy is supposed to have been the motive of an assault made upon Miss Mabel Meredith, a stenographer with the Burlington railroad, at 10:30 o'clock Sunday night near Eight and William streets. Two dangerous razor cuts on her back and a severe gash across her face represent the work of her vindictive assailant. Miss Meredith is now at the Presbyterian hospital, attended by Dr. Loney. She will recover. Mrs. L. Hahn, with whom the injured girl lives at 1408 South Eight street, was also slashed while attempting to save her young friend, but not badly hurt. She is at her home.

Detective Lahey, who was on his way home near the scene of the trouble, heard the shrieks of the wounded girl as the man wielded his razor, and hastened to her assistance. By the time he arrived the whole neighborhood was up and in arms, but the assailant, nevertheless, made his escape. Miss Meredith, bleeding terribly, was hurried to the hospital nearby. Mrs. Hahn was taken home.

Detective Lahey yesterday secured an admission from the injured girl that she had been keeping company with a young man whose identity is known to the police, but recently broke off with him. A few days ago he sent her a letter saying that if she did not at once resume her friendly relations with him, he would do her serious harm. She thought little of the affair and it passed from her mind.

Sunday night, with Mrs. Hahn, she attended a theater, and the couple were on their way home when the young man approached through the darkness, produced a razor and attacked her. Mrs. Hahn attempted to interfere and was cut.

An arrest is expected.

Who Owns the Ten?

Somebody over in Boyd county is wanted to claim a ten dollar bill that has been waiting the last three years for something to turn up that would disclose the owner. The tale of the bill is this:

A short time before the Northwestern railroad built into Boyd county two young men sold some hogs to Con Keys of this city. They were paid for the hogs with what money Mr. Keys had on his person at the time and a check for the balance on Hagerly's bank. They got the check cashed and lost $10 of the money they got at the bank. Though diligent search was made for the money at the time by both these young men and Mr. Keys it could not be found. About three years ago Mr. Keys was telling the incident to a friend, who said he had found the money. Con then undertook the responsibility of taking the ten into custody and locating the owners. This latter he has been unable to do, though he says he still has the ten and would like to locate the owner. He has neither the name nor address of either of the men, and the man who found the money is now dead. Con says there were some things connected with the incident that will enable him to identify the real owner should he ever show up. If he is still in Boyd county, the gentleman better come across and get the money, thus relieving our friend Con of a harrowing responsibility.

Richard Grant White in his "Words and Their Uses," says: "Transpire means to breathe through, and so to pass off insensibly. The identical word exists in French, in which language it is equivalent of our perspire, which also means to breathe through, and so to pass off insensibly. The Frenchman says 'J'ai beaucoup transpire' (I have much perspired)—in fact, transpire and perspire are etymologically as near perfect synonyms as the nature of language permits; the latter, however, has by common consent been set apart in English to express the passage of a watery secretion through the skin, while the former is properly used only in a figurative sense to express the passage of knowledge from a limited circle to publicity."

LARGE DONATIONS FOR AN ELECTRIC RAILWAY

Sioux City to O'Neill Proposition Receiving Substantial Aid.

PADDOCK PEOPLE GIVE $1,000

That Amount Contributed for Survey.—Farther East Farmers Are Liberal With Check Book.

Residents of northeastern Holt begin to feel that their time has come for a railroad. More or less confidence is felt that the electric line, plans of which are now being worked out by the promoters, Omaha and Sioux City men, will go through. The route proposed is from Sioux City to Center, Knox county, thence west and north, through the northeastern portion of this county to O'Neill. A spur is to be run from Center to Niobrara, where will be the source of power, the Niobrara river being utilized for that purpose.

Farmers along the route are donating liberally to the enterprise. Ernest Beavers tells us $1,000 was raised in Paddock township last Saturday for the survey. Jim Pinkerman says that farther east, over along the Knox county line, some large individual contributions are being made. Last week Josh Davidson, living near Stoney Butte, gave the president of the company a check for $1,000, Tom Crow contributed $350 and many others from $100 to $200 each. Jim says it is the best looking proposition for a railroad they have had yet out through that country.

A Letter From Mrs. Kane.

Emmet, March 24.—Editor Frontier: In the plea made by W. E. Scott of Atkinson, against the issuing of a saloon license to Wm. Cuddy at Emmet, Mr. Scott made the statement that the death of Dennis Kane was caused by Emmet whiskey.

I wish to say that this is a false statement and an injustice to Dennis Kane, deceased, as well as myself. I take this means to correct the false statement made by Mr. Scott and to right the character of Mr. Kane. Ellen Kane.
