

MATRIMONIAL TROUBLES

Decree Granted In One Case, Cross-Petition Filed In Another.

A decree of absolute divorce was entered for plaintiff and alimony in the sum of $2,000 allowed the defendant by the district court last Saturday in the suit of Cam Tinsley vs. Ethel Tinsley. Custody of the child, Louise Tinsley, was given plaintiff.

All of the files in the case, including the journal entry, were withdrawn from the clerk of the court's office and received for by plaintiff's attorney, J. A. Donohoe, but the decree of the court is entered on the trial docket.

Katherine Spindler, through her attorney, E. H. Whelan, on Monday filed an answer and cross-petition in her husband's suit for divorce in which all of the allegations of cruelty are denied and some serious counter charges are made. The cross-petition alleges that shortly after their marriage last fall Mrs. Spindler turned over to her husband $1500 in money, part of which she had brought to this country with her from Germany two years ago, the balance being her savings from earnings while working in Sioux City. She took a promissory note for the money, placing the note in a bureau drawer at home. This note, the cross-petition says, has disappeared, and also alleges that plaintiff refuses to pay back the money.

Further serious and sensational charges are made against the plaintiff, who is alleged to have attempted criminal relations with the cross-petitioner's 16-year-old daughter, May Weisgerber, now the wife of Alex Sommers, and finally accomplished it during the absence of the mother in Sioux City, by administering "medicine" for a cold which the cross-petitioner alleges was whiskey.

The cross-petitioner asks that the prayer of the petitioner be denied, that she be granted absolute divorce and petitioner directed to pay her $1,500 with interest, permanent alimony, attorney's fees and other trimmings.

Miss Mabel Recovering.

J. H. Meredith returned Saturday from Omaha where he and Mrs. Meredith went when they received word of Mabel's injuries. Mrs. Meredith remained with Mabel, who, Mr. Meredith says, is recovering rapidly from her injuries.

The assailant, James Novak, a young man and a linotype operator who had been working on some of the Omaha papers, has not been apprehended yet. It is known, however, that he fled to Chicago. Omaha police officers had about all they could attend to last week owing to the cyclone, but Mr. Meredith said the assailant no doubt would be captured sooner or later.

The young man had been attempting to force his attentions upon Miss Mabel, who had declined to accompany him at various times. Incensed at this he had written a threaten letter to her but she had not regarded it seriously. The young man had been an acquaintance of the family for several years, but the murderous assault disclosed a viciousness of character they had not previously been aware of.

Miss Mabel was removed from the hospital the first of the week and it will not be long until she is fully recovered.

Election Results.

City election passed off peaceably Tuesday. The contest on treasurer and councilman in the Third ward created some interest. In fact considerable campaigning was done by some who interested themselves in the treasurer contest. J. F. Gallagher was reelected by a majority of 20 votes, carrying the First ward by 9 votes, the Second by 34 and losing the Third, which gave Hancock a majority of 23.

The real sensation of the election was the defeat of C. E. Hall, candidate for reelection, by J. H. Meredith, who is elected to the council by a majority of 22.

The other candidates were all running for reelection without opposition.

At the village election Tuesday Atkinson people voted out the saloons, the no license proposition having a majority of 11 votes. It is not regarded as a temperance victory as many ordinarily favorable to saloons took an active part in voting them out because it had been planned to reduce the number of saloons there and the one on whom the lot of the scapegoat was to fall got busy with his friends and helped vote them all out.

Lester Gielish was in town Sunday on his way to Royal, where he went to work in the depot. Lester says he left his parents well at their home-stead in Wyoming.

And Now, Madam, Comes NATIONAL CANNED FOODS WEEK

The Highest Authorities

I had written for perhaps ten years warning American women against canned foods. I said, put them up at home or go without them. I beg them now to use canned foods. We are proud to have them on our table.

MARION HARLAND.

For seasons of natural shortage, for periods, places and times when fresh goods are not available, the canned goods fill a most important place in the modern dietary, and the wholesomeness, palatability and convenience of these products are in most instances unquestionable, and under modern conditions of life they are filling a larger and larger need.

DR. HARVEY W. WILEY.

These canned goods were essential to the subsistence of the troops in the Philippines who were scattered thru the islands and subjected to unsanitary conditions and surroundings. But the general good health of the army there, especially during cholera and plague epidemics, when canned goods were principally used, was primarily due to the variety and wholesomeness of the canned foods.

BRIG.-GEN. HENRY G. SHARPE, Commissary Department, U. S. A.

Canning is the art of preserving a food product in a hermetically sealed container, the preservation being accomplished through sterilization by means of heat. In its highest sense the object is to retain the food in as nearly a fresh condition as possible as to appearance, palatability and nutritive quality, or in the condition in which it is usually consumed. It affords the means of having wholesome succulent vegetables or other products at all times and in places where otherwise the cost or the labor of preparation would be prohibitive.

DR. A. W. BITTING, Food Technologist, U. S. Bureau of Chemistry.

The discovery of canning by heat and development of the industry enables Nature to constantly empty her horn of plenty into the periods and places of destitution, and puts the June garden into the January pantry.—J. A. LEE.

Millions of women in millions of homes will participate. Hundreds of retailers, grocers, jobbers and manufacturers in almost every city and town are making canned fruit, vegetables, fish, milk and meats their sale features this week; we are one of them

A Week of Pure Food the Country Over

Thousands of women who now use Canned Foods will buy their supplies this week; thousands who've tired of canning their own foods will take advantage of it. This week is a climax of the great modern demand for pure food and economy. In Canned Foods today is the realization of this nationwide demand. In Canned Foods Week is the proof of purity. And the proof that the cost of the best of these is within every housewife's reach.

What Dr. Wiley Says

Dr. Wiley, Marion Harland and others are printing their ideas in the newspapers in regard to Canned Foods and their benefits—their cleanliness, purity and food value. See what they say. Look for recipes by University Instructors in Domestic Science. See what the Food Technologist of the United States Bureau of Chemistry says about Canned Foods, of which there are sold in this country $80,000,000 worth yearly. Get these people's ideas on the goodness of Canned Foods, the flavor, the methods of preparation and their health-giving qualities. See, then, if you don't want to USE MORE CANNED FOODS THAN YOU EVER HAVE USED BEFORE.

These are the world's finest low-cost foods. Food can't be prepared any better today.

Cooked in the Containers at 250 DEGREES

Foods sold in cans are picked or procured close to the canneries. Usually not more than four or five hours pass from the time these foods are taken from their natural surroundings until they are sealed in the cans, sterilized at 250 degrees and ready for the market. They retain all their flavor, their natural freshness, their purity and food value intact. You open them in your kitchen as good as the day the containers were filled at the canneries.

And most of these foods are canned by machinery kept immaculately clean. These canneries are like modern kitchens in the great hotels. Even the walls and ceilings are washed and thousands of gallons of hot water are daily used to scour and clean every part of the factory. They are spotless and white and inviting. You will serve canned goods daily, as millions now do, when you fully realize these facts.

TRAGEDY AT NAPER.

Holt County Man Meets Death Trying Role of Bandit.

Butte Gazette, March 28: Clifford Rohr attempted to rob the First National bank of Naper, about 3 o'clock this afternoon. He came in town on horse back and tied his horse to a telephone pole in front of the bank. He immediately entered the building and asked Cashier Erickson to give him the money in the bank. Mr. Erickson informed him that he could not give out money without something to show for it. Where upon the fellow drew a six-shooter and pointing it at the banker said: "I guess you can do so at the point of a gun."

Mr. Erickson then delivered the money into a grain sack Rohr had produced for that purpose.

Miss Vera Erickson, who was assisting her father in the bank, slipped out and gave the alarm.

Jacob Zimmerman, the marshal, and a number of other citizens rushed to the scene. When Rohr saw the men come in he turned the gun on them and fired three shots at them. Fortunately no one was hit.

Zimmerman then shot Rohr in the neck, killing him almost instantly.

Clifford Rohr was a single man about 40 years old, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Rohr, highly respected citizens who reside in Holt county, near Dustin. Clifford had been living with his brother, Richard, on a farm near Brooksburg for the past four years and was known to be demented, at times, but was not thought to be dangerous.

MARSHAL AGED WAR VETERAN.

Naper News: Marshal Jacob Zimmerman, who so boldly faced the robber, is a veteran of the civil war, past eighty years of age, but a man of wonderful physique and iron nerve and, through greatly regretting the tragic occurrence, feels, as does all of our citizens, that he but done his duty as an officer and loyal citizen.

Sheriff Bradstreet was immediately notified and, Coroner Beatty being absent from the county, he and County Attorney Harrington came to Naper to hold an inquest over the body, the verdict of the jury being "that Clifford C. Rohr came to his death from a gunshot wound at the hands of Village Marshal Jacob Zimmerman, said Zimmerman having fired said shot while in the performance of his official duty and in self defense." The body was then taken in charge by Undertaker Vogt and will be held subject to disposition of relatives.

Cronin, until Mrs. Cronin's death two years ago, since which time she has been with her son, John Lorge, at Durant. The remains were taken to Westphalia, Ia., the old family home, for burial. Mr. Lorge went from here to attend the funeral and Mr. Cronin went from Lincoln, the funeral being held Sunday. The remains were laid beside those of her husband, who died thirty-seven years ago. She was eighty-five years of age. Mrs. Lorge had a large circle of friends at O'Neill who will regret to learn of her death.
