MINOR MENTION

Dr. Wilson writes from Detroit, Mich., that he will be home next Sunday.

Misses Lillie Carlon and Rose Grady were in Sioux City Wednesday and Thursday.

Editor Cronin went to Omaha Sunday and is in attendance this week at the annual session of the state editorial association.

Miss Mary Hickey of Chicago arrived in the city last Friday for a visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hickey, north of this city.

C. A. Smith, Burlington agent here for the past two years, has been transferred to the Omaha office, C. W. West supplying the point here for the present.

Seven loads of fine fat hogs from the north country were on the local market early Tuesday morning, eighteen loads in all being brought in during the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wrede moved in this week from the ranch and will make their home in the city. They have rented a house just east of the Galena lumber yard.

A concrete curb is being put in around the court house grounds. Iron rings have been set in the curb on the west side for the accommodation of those who wish to tie horses.

The strike of packers at Sioux City threatens to effect the live stock market to some extent. Shippers here, who have about six carloads in the yards, have been notified not to ship until further notice is received from the commission men.

Married, at Oakdale on May 20 by the Rev. Blakely, Miss Rosa Akert, formerly of O'Neill, and Mr. Roy Bebout, Editor of the Johnstown Enterprise. After a brief visit to their mother here they departed for Johnstown.

George O. Lane of Newport and Miss Norman Tuttle of Stuart obtained license to wed Tuesday. On Wednesday Herman A. Liermann of Amelia and Ada Farley of Atkinson obtained license and were married at the county judge's office.

After a fair opportunity to judge the fine force of charming young women in attendance at the normal, a grayhaired but mentally and critically competent citizen gives it as his opinion that Holt county has the finest lot of girls in the state.

Same Wolf, James Moore and Geo. Devlin returned last Thursday from their trip to Kentwood, La. They were well pleased with the country and each bought a tract of land near the town of Kentwood. Mr. Wolf, we understand, expects to move there this fall.

Col. Barney Stewart came up from Page Monday night, going to Neligh Tuesday. The colonel, who is a perpetual Nebraska booster and authority on all subjects, says the country looks the best this summer it ever did and prospects for bumper crops were never so bright as at present.

A meeting will be held at the old land office building south of the court-house in O'Neill on Saturday, June 14, by the German citizens of this community and county for the purpose of effecting an organization of former soldiers of the German army. Everyone in the county who served in the German army is requested to attend the meeting and join the club.

M. P. Clinton and Miss Margaret McDermott were married Wednesday morning, leaving on the 10 o'clock Northwestern train on their honeymoon which will include a visit to various cities throughout the west. The bride is a daughter of Daniel A. McDermott living a mile south of town. The groom has been a resident of this city the past year and is engaged in the hay business.

The rural route mail carriers of Holt and Antelope counties had a meeting at Ewing last Friday to talk over matters pertaining to the welfare of the service, particularly good roads. An effort will be made to organize the territory comprised in Antelope, Holt, Boyd, Wheeler, Garfield, Rock, Keya Paha, Brown and Cherry counties into an association district and the carriers in this territory will be invited to attend a meeting to be held in O'Neill this fall or winter for the purpose of perfecting the organization.

J. R. Barnett, who figured as one of the defendants in the hold up case last week, the charge implicating him in the robbery being dismissed, was held on a charge of gambling and given a hearing in county court last Thursday. Judge Carlon deemed the evidence sufficient and ordered that the defendant be held for trial at the next term of district court, the bond being fixed at $500. Barnett's attorneys, J. J. Harrington and Hugh

SOME HOG FEEDERS

Have the advantage over others when it comes to the cost of feed. These are the ones who live close enough to O'Neill to get butter milk from the creamery. BUTTER MILK is acknowledged by many of the most experienced hog feeders to be not only the cheapest by far, but also one of the very best of feeds. We have a lot of it at all times. Very good and very cheap—only 25c for a 50 gallon barrel.

MCGINNIS CREAMERY CO., O'NEILL, NEBR.

Boyle, went into court Friday with a motion that the bond be reduced to $300. Judge Carlon sustained the motion on conditions the cash be deposited, which was done and the plaintiff released.

At the meeting of the city council Tuesday evening the matter of completing the meter system on the water works was taken up with the result that Councilman P. D. Mullen was intrusted with a list of water users who have not the meters and Wednesday Mr. Mullen gave notice to these that meters would have to be attached or their water supply would be discontinued. The council is also planning to build water runways at various street crossings where now over flows are experienced during heavy rains, an appropriation of $500 having been made for this purpose.

The first of the week the Board of Education accepted the bid of the O'Neill National bank for the issue of $50,000 of school bonds voted for building a new school house. The bonds are taken less the accumulated interest from April 1 to date of delivery and a premium of $1,100. This was a considerable better offer than bids received from eastern brokers. It was one of the largest financial deals ever undertaken by a local concern and shows that O'Neill has reached a place of commercial and financial importance. The bonds are to be delivered at an early date. Work on the school house commences as soon as the excavations can be made, which are now under way both for the school house and library building. One company has the contract for both these buildings and will build both at the same time.

The O'Neill Post of G. A. R. wishes to return its sincere thanks to the general public for the interest taken in our Memorial Day exercises as manifested by so large an attendance. We also tender our thanks to the ladies who worked so faithfully in preparing for these exercises; to the best glee club in the valley who sang so sweetly; to the nicest bunch of girls from anywhere who so pleasantly and cheerfully performed their allotted parts; to the auto boys who so kindly furnished their cars to give us a pleasant ride to and from the cemetery and around our beautiful city. We would not forget the speaker of the day who gave us such an able and well prepared discourse, nor our mayor who so willingly assisted us in making our last Decoration Day one of the best and pleasantest we have ever enjoyed.

Relic of Past Ages

Ainworth Star - Journal: While Prof Whitford was out at Devil's Gulch, near the Niobrara river a few weeks ago, he made two valuable finds for the geologists of this state, and last week Prof. Harbour and C. H. Eaton came up from the State University at Lincoln, and with the aid of Mr. Whitford and several others they succeeded in digging out of a cliff, eight feet from the top, a skull of an enormous prehistoric animal, also another skull and hip bone about 40 feet further down. The animals, of which these bones were a part, must have been twelve or fifteen feet high. It required two teams and wagons to haul them to Ainworth, where they were properly crated and shipped to Lincoln. One of the skulls and tusks was estimated to weigh eight hundred pounds. They were fine specimens and made a valuable addition to the collection at Lincoln.

Normal and Institute.

The junior normal and county institute convened Monday. The attendance is considerably in excess of last year, there being registered up to Wednesday 162 teachers. The instructors, with subjects they teach, are:

- Minnie B. Miller, O'Neill—Drawing.
- Cecelia Foster, West Point—Grammar, bookkeeping, botany, algebra, reading.
- Emma Snyder, O'Neill—Music, reading, grammar.
- Perole D. Cass, Neligh—Orthography, model school, primary plan, primary methods.
- Lottie Robertson, O'Neill—Mental arithmetic, agriculture, physiology, geometry.
- R. V. Garrett, Scribner—Civics, physics, pedagogy, penmanship, elementary theory.
- F. H. Price, Tilden—Arithmetic, geography.
- C. A. Mohrman, Neligh—United States History, adv. theory.

THE LOCAL W. C. T. U.

BY MRS. C. E. BURCH

We copy the following from the auto biograph of Franklin. It shows what this wise man thought of beer. "At my first admission into this printing house I took to working at press, imagining I felt a want of the bodily exercise I had been used to in America, where press work is mixed with composing. I drank only water; the other workmen, near fifty in number, were great guzzlers of beer. On occasion, I carried up and down stairs a large form of type in each hand, when others carried but one in both hands. They wondered to see, from this and several instances, that the water American, as they called me, was stronger than themselves, who drank strong beer. We have an ale house boy who attended always in the house to supply the workman. My companion at the press drank every day a pint before breakfast, a pint at breakfast with his bread and cheese, a pint between breakfast and dinner, a pint at dinner, a pint in the afternoon, and another when he had done his day's work. I thought it a detestable custom; but it was necessary, he supposed, to drink strong beer that he might be strong to labor. I endeavored to convince him that the bodily strength afforded by beer could only be in proportion to the grain or flour of the barley dissolved in the water of which it was made; that there was more flour in a penny's worth of bread and therefore if he would put that with a pint of water it would give him more strength than a quart of beer. He drank on, however, and had four or five shillings to pay out of his wages every Saturday night for that muddling liquor; an expense which I was free from. At this these poor devils keep themselves always under."

Take Plenty of Time to Eat. There is a saying that "rapid eating is slow suicide." If you have formed the habit of eating too rapidly you are most likely suffering from indigestion or constipation, which will result eventually in serious illness unless corrected. Digestion begins in the mouth. Food should be thoroughly masticated and insalivat-

ed. Then when you have a fullness of the stomach or feel dull and stupid after eating, take one of Chamberlain's Tablets. Many severe cases of stomach trouble and constipation have been cured by the use of these tablets. They are easy to take and most agreeable in effect. For sale by all dealers. Adv. Gilt Edge flour $1.10 at Bazelman's.

RUNAWAY AT FUNERAL

Bride of O'Neill Man Has Exciting Experience on Solemn Occasion.

Omaha News: Four women attended the funeral of Mrs. Alma O. Tilton, Fifteen and Ohio streets, unde difficulties yesterday afternoon. They got started late, their carriage team ran away, they were nearly wrecked in Miller park, but they were not dissuaded from taking part in the funeral procession. They got in a passing auto, caught up with the procession, and accompanied the rest of the mourners to the cemetery.

One of the victims of the wild ride was Mrs. Daniel Canfield of 1614 California street, a bride of a week and wife of one of the pall bearers.

Mrs. Canfield held her three companions inside the carriage while the conveyance swung from side to side of the road.

Upon reaching the west side of Miller park the runaway team was stopped by two soldiers and John Sherry, driver of a bottling works wagon. One of the women fainted as the carriage was stopped. The funeral cortege, just in sight, was stopped. Ralph Kitchen, proprietor of the Paxton hotel, happened along in an auto and picked up the four stranded women, taking them to Forest Lawn cemetery with the funeral procession.

Driver Peter Hansen of the funeral carriage says the women told him to hurry and catch the funeral procession. "I did hurry, but when I tried to check the horses they got beyond control," stated Driven Hansen.

The animals ran nearly two miles, much of the way through a circuitous boulevard and narrowly avoiding collisions.

Live Stock Market Uncertain.

South Omaha, June 3.—Gentlemen: We will not attempt to send our usual market letter today as the conditions are somewhat unusual owing to the strike of the packing house employes at Sioux City. Stock from that territory is coming to Omaha and we have unusual heavy receipts, especially on hogs, here today with a threatening strike of the employes of the Omaha packing plants also we feel that the only thing to do is to send out a warning to the shippers to exercise caution with regard to both buying and shipping of stock for the present.

We are entertaining the Nebraska editors here today so they will have an opportunity to view the situation personally. Standard Live Stock Com Co.
