O'NEILL,

In 1644 the possibilities of the sub-marine were first propounded, while from the very earliest times men have conceived the idea of flying with wings conceived the idea of flying with wings ikke birds. There is no reason what ever to doubt the fact that Archytas of Tarentum, about 394 years before the thristian era, constructed an automa-ton pigeon that would fly. Turning to other latter day inventions, as they are generally regarded, it might be men-tioned that switch-back railways were constructed more than 100 years ago, and looping the loop was a sensation in Paris in 1933, while roller skating which came up as a new invention about 40 years ago was being indulged in by our interfahers as far back as 1829.

Louis G. Michael, a graduate of an agricultural college in this country, has so successfully introduced Amerihas so successfully introduced Ameri-can corn growing methods in Bessara-bia that for the first time in history corn has been cut and shocked accord-ing to methods employed here, while the land was plowed for the next crop with an American tractor. As a result of his efforts the Russian boys of that district are being organized into corn clubs and the peasants are receiving their first lessons in real farming.

A curious tradition says that curios-ity cost us the third eye which we once possessed. The Persians and the Jews of eastern Palestine believe that prior to the time Moses received the law on the tablets of stone the old patriarchs and people in general had three eyes, one in the back of the head. On that eventful day Moses commanded his fol-lowers to turn their faces from Sinal. This they did, but took care to uncov-er the other eye, which Moses comer the other eye, which Moses com-manded henceforth to be forever closed,

As early as 1720, at least, oysters were grown by artificial means in Japan, and long before the descend-ants of the Mayfloweir pilgrims had realized the desirability for oyster cul-ture the Japanese had grasped the sit-uation and provided for an enlightened administration and utilization of oyster grounds. Old as the industry is in Japan, it has not grown to great importance in itself, the aggregate out-put being valued at less than $250,000 a year. a year.

George Jefferson, a farm hand near Middleton, N. Y., who had been warned soveral times by his employer not to smoke while working around the farm buildings, is suffering from severe-burns received as the result of a cow's kick. While the man was passing a cow in the stable the animal kicked him, striking matches he had in his hip pocket in such a way as to ignite them. His clothes were set on fire and there were severe burns over a large part of his body.

A Russian specialist in agriculture, on a recent visit to fruit canning plants in California, expressed sur-prise that no apricot marmalade was made at the canneries, and said that there is an immense demand for this product in Russia. He also gave it as his opinion that much of the dried fruit that is being shipped to Russia from France as a French product is in reality American fruit, repacked in French cartons.

In some of the college settlements there are penny savings banks for children. One Saturday a small boy arrived with an Important air and withdrew two cents from his account. Monday morning he promptly returned the money. "So you didn't spend your two cents," observed the worker in charge. "Oh, no," he replied, "but a fellow just likes to have a little cash on hand over Sunday."

The walls of the Brighton (Eng-hand) workhouse are adorned with wa-ter color drawings by a former inmate Claude Cooper. The works are well executed, and for the most part rep-resent Sussex scenery. Cooper, who is about 60 years old, has done them all from memory. He recently received a grant from the Artists' society.

In Dazed Condition, Unable to Find His Way.

Winnebago, Neb., June 16 .- Lyle Baardsley, the 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Beardsley of this place, was found yesterday in a dazed and helpless condition in a slough just south of town. unable to help himself and exhausted from a semi-conscious struggle to get out of the mire. It was found that he had been shot in the head, apparently by some careless hunter. The bullet penetrated only a small portion of the skull and the attending physician thinks the boy has a chance for recovery. Wilbur Williams, an employe on the rallroad grade, observed the strange figure struggling around in the slough figure struggling around in the slough and hastened to the spot, thinking at first it was a wild animal of some kind. When he found it was an in-jured boy he hurriedly took the little fellow to the Jensen drug store. Dr. C. E. Young, of the agency, was called. The physician found that the bullet had entered at the crown of the head, and that it passed out about one and a half inches from where it entered. Pending a more complete investigation as to the extent of the concussion, it is stated to be uncertain whether the boy will recover.

of Scribner, will be a candidate next year for the democratic nomination for governor. Volpp is a banker, and served term in the state senate. He desired be the democratic standard bearer to be the democratic standard bearer last year, but was induced to step aside in the interest of Morehead. The latter gave it out when he first ran that he did not desire the office a second term. Volpp was induced to stand aside in 1912 by the promise on the part of the wet leaders that he would receive their support in 1914. At that time they were most concerned in getting all were most concerned in getting all other wets out of Morehead's way, be-cause the dry democrats had but one candidate in the field. Volpp's friends, urge that the Third district has not had a governor since Poynter, of Boone, was elected in 1898 and that the demwas elected in 1898, and that the dem-ocrats of this district, which is over-whelmingly wet, will give Volpp a very large vote.

CONVICT OBJECTS TO COMPULSORY SYSTEM FOR PRISON CHAPELS

Raises Constitutional Question and Makes Appeal to State Supreme Court.

Lincoln, Neb., June 14.—Chief Jus-the Reese, of the supreme court, has been appealed to by George St. Clair a convict at the state penitentiary, to say whether he is compelled to obey a rule of the prison that all convicts must attend Sunday chapel services. This rule is in vogue in all prisons St. Clair is a former traveling man who was sent up for stealing a bolt of silk from a Lincoln merchant. He has steadfastly refused to attend chapel and when he persisted in this has been punished by being put in the dark cell. St. Clair says that the rule is an wastion of his constitutional liberty and wants the chief justice to say whether it can be enforced. The mat-ried to the judge by Warden Fenton The supreme court decided years ago that the reading of the bible in the public schools was permissible if no comment were made upon what was read. St. Clair relies upon a provision in the constitution which declares that all persons have a right to worship according to the dictates of their own considences, and no person shall be compelled to attend, erect or support and place of worship against his con-sent. ITCHING AND BURNING fberia, Mo .- "I was troubled with scalp eczema for about five years and tried, everything I heard of, but all of no avail. The doctors told me I would have to have my head shaved. Being a woman, I hated the idea of that. I was told by a friend that the Cuticura Remedies would do me good. This spring I purchased two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and one cake of Cuticura Soap. After using one box of Cuticura Ointment I considered the cure permanent, but continued to use it to make sure and used about onehalf the other box. Now I am entirely well. I also used the Cuticura Soap.

"The disease began on the back of my head, taking the form of a ringworm, only more severe, rising to a thick, rough scale that would come of when soaked with oil or warm water, bringing a few hairs each time, but in a few days would form again, larger each time, and spreading until the entire back of the head was covered with the scale. This was accompanied by a terrible itching and burning sensation. Now my head is completely well and my hair growing nicely." (Signed) Mrs. Geo. F. Clark, Mar. 25, 1912.

London and Its Lumber.

London is the most conservative city in Europe, if not in the world. It loves its lumber. You may still see those notices attached to lamp posts which announces "Standing for Four Hackney Carriages," or whatever the number may be, though for ten years (in one case, to my own knowledge for twenty-five) no vehicles of any kind have stood there. Perhaps it is as well that these relics should remain; they are a tiny part of our social history. They will probably remain when we are flying to dinner or the theater in omni-aeros. By that time people won't know what "hackney carriage" meant, and there will be discussions in the "Notes and Queries" of the period. For each generation hands down to the next certain nuts to crack.

"Catching Flies Pays Well.

Catching flies is affording a Shreveport (La.) man a profitable and independent living. He sells them to the suit in the supreme court. "The man we expected would file for chief justice of the supreme court," said Mr. Fleharty, "has refused to file this fall so I cannot take the matter into the supreme court of health. His name is Bartsch, and his net revenue from the fly industry for the first two days of a recent week was $24.20. When the health board began offering premiums for the flies, dead or alive, Bartsch purchased about 100 traps and placed them in fly-ridden sections of the city. Then he began making inroads on the health board's exchequer, and so well did he operate that he bore the market price down from 50 cents to 20 cents a quart, for it is by that measure that the board purchases. Bartsch is still working, and he will work as long as the treasury holds out. He finds fly catching pays.

Good Magnet.

Helper-We're going to have a big crowd here, and it'll be some job to keep 'em moving.

Manager-That'll be easy. Take down the rear exit sign, post up the word "Free," and they'll all bolt for it. -Judge.

BEGAN YOUNG. Had "Coffee Nerves" From Youth.

"When very young I began using offee and continued up to the last six months," writes a Texas girl. "I had been exceedingly nervous, thin and very sallow. After quitting) :offee and drinking Postum about a month my nervousness disappeared und has never returned. This is the more remarkable as I am a primary teacher and have kept right on with my work.

"My complexion now is clear and tosy, my skin soft and smooth. As a good complexion was something I had greatly desired, I feel amply repaid even though this were the only benefit derived from drinking Postum.

"Before beginning its use I had suf-fered greatly from indigestion and headache; these troubles are now unknown.

"I changed from coffee to Postum without the slightest inconvenience, did not even have a headache. Have known coffee drinkers, who were visiting me, to use Postum a week without being aware that they were not drinking coffee."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Write for booklet, "The Road to Wellville."

Postum comes in two forms. Regular (must be boiled).

Instant Postum doesn't require boiling but is prepared instantly by stirring a level teaspoonful in an ordinary cup of hot water, which makes it right for most persons.

A big cup requires more and some people who like strong things put in a heaping spoonful and temper it with a large supply of cream.

Experiment until you know the amount that pleases your palate and have it served that way in the future. "There's a Reason" for Postum.
