Freeman Bros. are showing their talking pictures here each night this week to crowded houses. Talking pictures are a novelty in this section and every one is anxious to see them. The Freeman boys have a nice clean show and are deserving the liberal patronage their show is receiving.

Minnie Turner of Phoenix was a caller at this office and ordered The Frontier sent to her address for the ensuing year. She informed us that they have had several good rains in the Phoenix neighborhood the past two weeks and that crops in the northern part of the county are in splendid condition.

A good sized delegation of O'Neill lovers of the fistic game went to Newport last Friday evening to witness the ten round boxing contest between Jack Sullivan of this city and Young Gorman of Denver. The boys say that there was a large crowd present and that the match was one of the most interesting seen in this section of the state for a good many years and that Jack gave a splendid account of himself in the contest.

J. G. Gannon of Pender, Neb., one of the prominent and influential citizens of Thurston county, was in the city this morning and made this office a short call. Mr. Gannon is a brother of William Gannon of Inman and was on a visit at his brothers home. Mr. Gannon says that the corn crop in this county looks better than it does in his section of the state. It has been dry in his section this summer and a good deal more rain is needed to insure a good corn crop.

Thomas McMahon arrived in the city last Sunday night for a few days visit with relatives and friends here. Tom is now engaged in the cattle business in Dewey county, S. D., with his brother-in-law, William Flavin, formerly of this county, and is meet-

GOING TO TAKE A VACATION?

This is everybody's vacation time. The business man, the housewife, the boy and girl—all will enjoy it.

There will be something for everyone—something to amuse, to entertain, to educate, to inspire. The greatest aggregation of talent that has ever been in our midst.

There will be music galore—vocal and instrumental, solo and ensemble; lectures on vital topics—wit, pathos, eloquence; novel entertainment features—playlets, comedies, sketches, illusion and magic; costumed impersonations; illustrated travelogue by a noted traveller, etc., etc.

You have planned on taking a few days' vacation this summer, have you not? Take it during the Chautauqua. You will go back to your work just a little happier and better, a little stronger for the duties of the days and years that are ahead of you, with a little more sympathy and charity for the fellow that is "down and out," a little greater capacity to see and enjoy the sunny side of life, and withal a broader vision of all things human.

See the Chautauqua committee and get season tickets NOW.

ing with success. Tom says that crops are looking fine in his section of South Dakota, that they have had a good deal more rain in the western part of the state this season than in the eastern and as a result everything is looking fine.

Mr. and Mrs. George Uttley, residing two miles south of town, were taken by surprise last Thursday evening by the arrival of Mr. Uttley's mother, Mrs. C. Silverhorn, who was a resident of O'Neill in the pioneer days but who now reside at North Muskogee, Oklahoma. Mrs. Silverhorn expects to make her son an extended visit through the summer months and also expects to visit her daughter, Mrs. Martin Walrath and family at Atkinson. Mr. Silverhorn expects to come north later to spend his summer vacation with his wife and children.

Tom Enright, M. H. McCarthy, Mike Horriky and Frank Pixley went up to Wood Lake last Saturday night and went out to the lakes south of there Sunday morning on a fishing trip. Enright returned home Monday afternoon but the balance of the party did not return until this morning. They did not have very good luck as the fish were too wary to bite at the bait they offered them. If they did not succeed in getting very many fish they did succeed in getting a good ducking and the boys are of the opinion that Horriky is a Jonah, since he made the trip to Lake Andes,

S. D., a few weeks ago.

Judge and Mrs. Dickson and children and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. O'Donnell went up to LongPine last Thursday night and spent the week end at the Amusement Park at that place. Judge and Mrs. Dickson and children and Mrs. O'Donnell and children returned home Monday morning, but Mr. O'Donnell went on to Wood Lake and went on a fishing trip to the lakes in the southern part of the county. He returned home Wednesday afternoon and says they did not have very good luck on their fishing trip as it was so warm the fish did not bite very well. Jim says they had a heavy rain and hail storm at Wood Lake and east of there last Tuesday afternoon, the hail falling for over half an hour and destroying everything in the strip that it covered.

Ben Loucks, for many years a resident of this city and county but who now lives in Oregon, was in the city last Saturday and favored this office with a short call. About a quarter of a century ago Ben and the editor were members of the O'Neill Cornet band and many the good time the members of that organization had during the eight or ten years of its existence. Ben has been a resident of Oregon for the past six years, having moved there from Spencer six years ago. His visit Saturday was the first to O'Neill for twelve years and he said that he noticed many changes for the better in the old town during that time, but found a few of the old land marks left. He left for Norfolk Saturday afternoon where he will visit his brother, Ed, for a few weeks before going to his western home.

A large delegation of O'Neill people went to Inman last Friday and helped the people of that little village properly celebrate the nation's birthday. The ball team went down and crossed bats with the aggregation from Dorsey and went down to inglorious defeat, losing by a score of about 20 to 3. It is said that the score keeper got tired keeping track of all the scores made by the Dorsey boys and quit before the game was finished. About everyone on the O'Neill team was out to see how many errors he could make and the game, on their side, is said to have been a comedy of errors. They say they are going to give the Dorsey boys another whirl and try and redeem themselves. Everybody who went down to Inman report having had a good time, many amusements having been provided for their entertainment.

Last Friday night a little girl fifteen years old, named Jessie Benson, arrived in the city and stopped over night at the Golden Hotel. The next morning she asked where Frank Ellis' place of business was and informed the landlord that she had come here from Iowa to marry him. The authorities were notified and the little girl, who is nothing more than a child, was placed under the care of a family in this city. Wednesday the county attorney filed a petition in the district court alleging that the child was neglected by her mother and step-father and that she came here with their consent to marry Mr. Ellis, which account of the great difference in their ages, Ellis being about 60, it was not for the best welfare of the child and against public policy. After hearing the particulars in the case Judge Dickson ordered the girl sent to the industrial school at Geneva to remain until she reaches the age of eighteen years.

SOUTHLAND JUBILEE SINGERS.

ALWAYS POPULAR

Colored Jubilee Troupes Take Well With Lyceum and Chautauqua Patrons.

"Yes, Jubilee Troupes are always popular with the public. It may be a little difficult to explain the psychological principle involved, but it is there," said a lyceum man the other day. He went on to say that when lyceum committees experience a deficit, they almost invariably call for a jubilee company, or something similar, to help them pay out on their courses, and the beautiful part of it all is that committees are rarely disappointed in their expectations.

As a Chautauqua attraction the jubilee troupe never fails—that is if it be a good one. The Southland Jubilee Singers, which come here during the Chautauqua, was first organized twenty years ago, and reorganized five years later. It is one of the oldest and strongest companies in the Chautauqua or lyceum field.

The Best Medicine in the World

"My little girl had dysentery very bad. I thought she would die. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured her, and I can truthfully say I think it is the best medicine in the world," writes Mrs. William Orvis, Clare, Mich. For sale by all dealers. Adv.

A Good Investment

W. D. Magill, a well known merchant of Whittemound, Wis., bought a stock of Chamberlain's medicine so as to be able to supply them to his customers. After receiving them he was himself taken sick and says that one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was worth more to him than the cost of his entire stock of these medicines. Suprising Cure- of Stomach Trouble.

When you have trouble with your stomach or chronic constipation, don't imagine that your case is beyond help just because your doctor fails to give you relief. Mrs. G. Stengle, Plainfield, N. J., writes, "For over a month past I have been troubled with my stomach. Everything I ate upset it terribly. One of Chamberlain's advertising booklets came to me. After reading a few of the letters from people who have been cured by Chamberlain's Tablets I decided to try them. I have taken nearly three-fourths of a package of them and can now eat almost everything that I want." For sale by all dealers. Adv.

Maeterlinck on the Future.

Maeterlinck in his book called "Le Mort" says of the mystery of the after death that outside of the religions there are four imaginable solutions and no more. These are total annihilation, survival of our consciousness of today, survival without any sort of consciousness, survival with universal consciousness or with a consciousness different from that which we possess in this world.

The Joke on Father.

She had refused him, and he was "all in." "Reconsider, Annie," he begged. "If you don't I'll blow my brains out." "Huh," said Annie, "that would be a good joke on father, for he thinks you haven't any."—Ladies Home Journal.

Descendant of Alexander Hamilton, Revolutionary Patriot, to Appear Here During Chautauqua.

Dr. Harry Otis Pritchard was born just one hundred years after the signing of the Declaration of Independence. It was in a little farm dwelling of four rooms, down in old Hoosierdom, that he first saw the light of day. In discussing his early history a few days ago, he said that he grew to manhood amongst the pumpkins and squashes and looked very much like one of them.

DR. H. O. PRITCHARD.

The name "Pritchard" is Welch and the family tree goes back to Roger Pritchard, a co-laborer with George Fox in the founding of the Friends' church. But there is other blood mingled with the Welch. On the maternal side it is Scotch and goes back to Alexander Hamilton. One paternal line is English and another is Irish. So in Dr. Pritchard we have the blood of Wales, Scotland, Ireland and England. He possesses the characteristic qualities of each nationality: The will of the English, the logic of the Scotch, the humor of the Irish and the piety of the Welch. Indeed, he might well be termed the man of many nationalities.

SEASON TICKET PLAN BEST.

You may go to the Chautauqua with a season ticket, or a single admission ticket you buy at the gate. On the season ticket plan the cost is about half of what it is on the other plan. The season ticket may be used by any member of the family. Besides, the community's interest in a Chautauqua is measured largely by the season ticket sales. The Chautauqua's permanency depends on them.

Matthew Arnold and the Girls.

Of Matthew Arnold as a school examiner a tale is told by a fellow inspector of a class of girl pupil teachers that he asked Arnold to examine for him. Arnold gave them all the excellent mark.

"But," said the other inspector, "surely they are not all as good as they can be. Some must be better than others."

"Perhaps that is so," replied Arnold. "But then, you see, they are all such very nice girls."

Professionally Considered.

"The Declaration of Independence is a wonderful document," said the patriotic citizen.

"Yes," replied the legal expert. "It's one of the ablest documents I ever saw. And the most remarkable thing is that with all the ability it represents, nobody appears to have received a cent for drawing it up."—Washington Star.

Present Troubles.

"Ah, pretty lady," said the fortune teller, "you wish to be told about your future husband?"

"Not much," replied Mrs. Galley. "I've come to learn where my present husband is when he's absent."—Philadelphia Press.

ALVAH AND ADELAIDE LYMAN GREEN.

"A BARREL OF FUN"

Alvah Green, the Original Barrel-of-Fun Man, to Be a Feature of the Coming Chautauqua.

An enthusiastic committeeman recently wrote to Mr. Green's manager as follows: "That Green man of yours arrived as you promised, and sure made good. He's certainly foolish, wise and otherwise, and the title of "A Barrel of Fun" could not be beat." That is just one of the many similar letters that have been received, commenting on Mr. Green's work. It is a notable fact that in all the years of his Lyceum career, not one complaint has been filed with his bureau.

A short time ago, in discussing his work for the coming summer, Mr. Green said there will be two barrels of fun this season. That was just Mr. Green's way of saying that he would be accompanied and assisted by his wife, Adelaide Lyman Green, that versatile artist who achieved fame a few years ago as Adelaide Lyman, at that time a member of the Wilbur Starr company.
