"HOUSTON"

"Everybody's Wearing Them Now"

JOHN W. HIBER

Jeweler and Optician

The prairie chicken season opened last Monday. Several local sports have been killing chickens since last July and hunters say that there are not any birds within several miles of this city, although they are quite plentiful if you get out far enough.

Miles Welsh of South Omaha was in the city last week visiting relatives and old time friends. Mr. Welsh was formerly a resident of this county, but moved to South Omaha about a quarter of a century ago where he has since made his home.

"How savagely that cow looks at me," said a young woman—a summer boarder—to a farmer. "It's your red parasol, ma'am," he answered. "Dear me!" she exclaimed; "I knew it was a little out of fashion, but I did not suppose a country cow would notice it."

A quarter of an inch of rain fell last Sunday night and about the same amount Monday night. The ground is very dry for fall seeding and we should have a good old-time gully washer to put the ground in good condition for sowing fall wheat and rye.

Exchange: The farmer is the gambler who takes the bitter with the sweet; when everything is lovely his lot is hard to beat. But when things burn to tinder, with pastures bare and brown, would you rather be the farmer or the man who lives in town?

D. S. Hardin of Monmouth, Illinois, who owns the old Jackson ranch northeast of this city, arrived in this city Tuesday evening for a few days visit. Mr. Hardin says that for two months they received no rain in his section of Illinois and that they will have about half a crop of corn in that state.

A "girl" living not far from this city, of rather ancient appearance, was asked why she did not marry. Her reply is practical, if it is anything. She said, "I have some money of my own; I have a parrot that can swear and a monkey that can chew. What need have I of a husband?" Can anyone answer this sensible female?

Montana Jack Sullivan is getting quite a reputation as an umpire. Last Sunday he went down to Battle Creek and umpired a game between Battle Creek and Norfolk that was won by Norfolk in the last half of the ninth, with a score of 1 to 0. Tuesday morning he went to Battle Creek again where he umpired another game.

Corey, the left handed pitcher that put Emmet on the base ball map the past year, is making good with the Columbus team of the state league, which he joined two weeks ago. Since going to Columbus Corey has won all of them. He is not making much of a record as a strike out pitcher but is pitching good consistent ball, holding his opponents down seven and eight hits per game.

C. E. Stout returned last Friday night from his trip to the west. Charles says that Idaho is a great country and that while away has seen all kinds of big game, although, so far at least, he has not boasted about being in the Roosevelt class as a hunter of big game. He says that he had an enjoyable trip and would have liked to remain in that section much longer than he did.

Bruno Jacobs of Star, one of the prosperous farmers of Steel Creek township, was a pleasant caller at this office Monday and ordered The Frontier sent to his address for the ensuing year so that he could keep posted upon the affairs of the county. Mr. Jacobs says they have a splendid corn crop in his section of the county, the fields being as nice and green as they were six weeks ago.

An editor is a cross between early piety and cranky old age. He never swears in the paper without abbreviating a dash. He rolls along like a stone gathering moss until the lumbago strikes into his back. The gathering of wealth has but a faint hope and seadown "might be" in his mind. He lives from day to day in the hope of getting conscience money from his subscribers who owe him several years of subscriptions, but the subscribers sleep well every night while he struggles on and always having something coming.

A. S. Merrill and daughter returned last Tuesday night from a three weeks visit with relatives at Mr. Merrill's old home at Kokomo, Ind. Mr. Merrill's mother, seven sisters and three brothers are living in Kokomo and vicinity and they had a family reunion at which all the members of the family were present. It had been twenty years since A. S. visited the scenes of his youth and he says he had an enjoyable time visiting relatives and companions of his boyhood days. Crops in that vicinity are in splendid condition he says and everything is prosperous.

It takes a woman to show her nerve under the surgeon's knife, but women can display that quality at other times. As an instance: Lately a lady shopper ask to be shown white canvas shoes. The clerk showed several styles, and was able to furnish a perfect fit, going to every trouble to please the customer, who with one of the best pairs on her feet, ask "Now what is the exact size? On being informed of the size, she had the shoes removed with the remark: Well, I am sending away for a pair of shoes and I wanted to be sure as to the size ordered."

The fearless editor may offend and lose a subscriber, but if he is right in the end he will gain five. He will lose an advertiser, but if he is right he will gain two thereby. If he labors not to displease anyone he will please no one. If he tries to ride all the horses in the field he will be unhorsed by each of them. The editor should follow his honest, well-considered convictions, and the man he should labor to please is himself. If he does this with ability and without fear or favor he will have a great following and better support, though he be wrong half the time, then he who trims his sail to every change of the breeze, and without chart or compass, principles or purpose, drifting aimlessly with every shifting tide.

Albert Canady, who lives four miles northeast of Ewing, met with an accident last Saturday afternoon that came near causing his death. Mr. Canady was making sorghum molasses and while inspecting a whiskey barrel he applied a lighted match to the bung hole. The barrel exploded with terrific force, striking Mr. Canady under the chin, rendering him unconscious, in which condition he remained for several hours. An examination of his injuries, after he came to, resulted in finding the jaw bone broken in two places. He was taken to a hospital in Omaha Sunday for treatment. It was a very narrow escape and it will be some time before Mr. Canady will have entirely recovered from the effects of the explosion.

About 12:15 today fire was discovered in the old dilapidated structure just north of the First National bank building and used by Jack Welsh as a warehouse. The fire was extinguished without doing much damage except that caused by smoke. The way the fire started is a matter of conjecture but the supposition is that it was caused from a fire at the rear of the building that was burning up some old papers and rubbish. As the door of the warehouse was open the supposition is that the wind carried one of the papers around the corner of the building and in the door where it ignited some bannana crates and was blazing fiercely when discovered. More care should be exercised in the burning of old rubbish and papers or some day we will have a fire that will not be as easily extinguished as the one today.

Battle Creek Enterprise: T. M. Morris came down from Okaton, S. D., Tuesday to mix pills and powders at the Hoover drug store while the senior partner enjoys a week's vacation. Tom wields the spatula with his old-time dexterity, though the rigors of sun and wind have given him a complexion which is the envy of his Indian neighbors. Mr. and Mrs. Morris have now occupied their government claim near Okaton for a year and find comfort in a five room frame cottage, one of the best in that section of the country. With an abundance of water and some good timber on the place hardships incidental to frontier life are reduced to the minimum and Mr. Morris intends to "stick" for a deed to the place. All are now enjoying the best of health and at present have no desire to return to the busy marts. We're all glad to hear these good reports—along with Tom's musical tee-hees.

DAIRY TRAIN SEPTEMBER 16
Lecturers and Prize Milk Cows of the State Agricultural Farm Here on Above Date.

The milk cow train to be run under the auspices of the state university and the Nebraska dairymen's association in co-operation with the Northwestern and Burlington railroads will travel approximately 1,500 miles and will pass through and make stops of approximately ninety minutes each at sixty-seven towns in the following counties: Knox, Pierce, Madison, Antelope, Holt, Rock Brown, Cherry, Sheridan, Dawes, Sioux, Box Butte, Morrill, Grant, Hooker, Thomas, Blaine, Custer, Sherman, Buffalo, Hall, Perkins, Lincoln, Frontier, Dawson, Gosper and Phelps. This train consisting of a large furniture car containing representative milk cows of the Holstein, Jersey, Guernsey, Ayrshire and milking Shorthorn breeds from the university farm; a flat car where the cows can be exhibited to the public; a baggage car fitted with exhibits from the dairy husbandry department of the university, together with an exhibit of books and reading matter of interest to farmers and dairymen, the use of which is furnished free to the people of the state by the Nebraska public library commission; a lecture car and a combination sleeping and dining car for use of the lecturers accompanying the train, together with the five lecturers and two herdsmen from the university and two representatives of the dairymen's association, will arrive in O'Neill at 5 o'clock on Tuesday, September 16, 1913, and an evening lecture will be given by the lecturers accompanying the train.

The territory through which this train will pass is confined largely to the western half of the state in which the dairy industry is steadily on the increase. From the 67 towns at which this train will make stops there was shipped in the year 1912 of heavy, hand separated cream, 145,578 10-gallon cans from which was manufactured approximately 4,366,000 pounds of creamery butter or about fourteen percent of the creamery butter manufactured in the state for that year.

Creameries located at towns in the territory where the train will make stops manufactured in the year 1912, 1,848,000 pounds of creamery butter. No statistics are available showing the amount of farm or dairy butter made.

As they will have with them some of the prize winning dairy cows from the state farm farmers and all those interested in the dairying business should make it a point to be in the city and hear these men on the dairy business and see the prize winning cattle. Remember the date and be sure and attend.

McDermott-McNichols.

Married, at the Catholic church in this city last Tuesday morning, September 2, 1913, James W. McDermott to Miss Alice McNichols, Rev. M. F. Cassidy officiating, in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives of the contracting parties.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal couple repaired to the home of the brides mother, where a splendid wedding breakfast was served the bridal party and about fifty guests, neighbors and friends who had assembled to extend their congratulations.

The groom is one of Holt county's most energetic and prosperous farmers, son of Mr. McDermott who lives south of this city. He is an ambitious, industrious young man of good habits and has a host of friends in this city and vicinity.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. P. H. McNichols, who lives just west of this city, and has been a resident of the county since childhood. She is a charming young lady of a sweet, winning disposition that has endeared her to a host of friends and acquaintances.

The young couple left on the 10 o'clock train on a wedding trip to Milwaukee and Chicago where they will spend a couple of weeks visiting relatives. The congratulations of a multitude of friends is extended to them for a long and happy wedded life in which the Frontier most heartily joins.
