LOCAL MATTERS

Dan Grady of Neligh was an O'Neill visitor Sunday.

Miss Julia Biglin visited in Omaha several days last week.

Last Saturday Judge Carlon performed the ceremony that united in marriage Ralph S. Stevens and Miss Elizabeth Conard, both of Page.

Charles C. Post and Miss Gertrude Compton, both of Page, were united in marriage at the county court room by County Judge Carlon last Thursday.

All members of Eden Rebekah lodge No. 41, I. O. O. F., O'Neill, Nebr., are requested to be present at the 25th anniversary, Oct. 3, 1913. By order of the Noble Grand.

Tim Murphy of Rapid City, S. D., arrived in the city last Tuesday morning for a few weeks visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Murphy northeast of town.

S. J. Weekes went down to Lincoln last Wednesday morning to attend the annual meeting of the Nebraska bankers association, which is being held in that city this week.

A butcher who cannot convince a buyer that a four-year-old rooster is a spring chicken, or cut a porter house steak from a link of bologna, isn't up to the twentieth century snuff.

Clyde E. Hall and Miss Clara Hawk were united in marriage by County Judge Carlon at the county court room last Saturday. The young people are both residents of Ewing.

D. H. Allen, one of the prosperous farmers and cattlemen of Emmet township, was a caller at these headquarters last Tuesday and extended his subscription to this disseminator of events for another year.

Martin Conway of Dixon, Neb., last week purchased the J. M. Culbert farm of 320 acres, ten miles northwest of this city, paying $10,000 cash therefor. Mr. Conway will move upon the place next spring and plans making extensive improvements thereon.

Mrs. E. M. Merriman purchased the Davis variety store last Monday, taking possession Tuesday morning. Merriman's will live in the rooms over the store, the Davis family moving out last Tuesday to the Cam Tinsley residence. We wish the new proprietor success.

Charles Mohr, son of A. C. Mohr who lived near Middle Branch, in this county for several years, was selected postmaster at Plainview at the election held there last Saturday. Charlie has many friends in Holt county who extend congratulations on his success.

Exchange: "Farmers," said the fair city visitor "are just as dishonest as the city milkman." How d'ye make that out?" asked the farmer's wife. "This morning," said the girl, accusingly, "with my own eyes I saw your hired man water the cows just before he milked them."

An extra stock train was wrecked near Stuart last Monday afternoon, ten cars being derailed, two head of cattle killed and seven injured. The third car back of the engine was the first to go off the track. The wreck was soon cleared away and the line opened before midnight that night.

The automobile races held at Norfolk last week were very successful and were attended by thousands of people. One driver was killed and two seriously injured during the week, which tended toward the success of the meet, for nowadays unless a driver is killed they do not figure races as being very successful. Funny how people will travel miles to see some entertainment in which the performer endangers his life, and the greater the danger the larger the crowds that will attend.

Exchange: The fervent temperance lecturer stopped in the midst of his campaign speech. "My friends," he said impressively, "if all the saloons were at the bottom of the sea, what would be the inevitable result?" And from the rear came the loud and emphatic answer: "Lots of people would get drowned."

Henry Stanton, one of Grattan's old time farmers, is building a commodious residence in this city and will move to O'Neill and take life easy when the building is completed, about November 1st. The house is 24x34 and is being built in the northern part of the city and will be modern throughout.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lyons arrived in the city last Thursday from New Jersey and will spend a couple of weeks looking after business interests here and visiting old time friends. Mr. Lyons says that things are looking far better in this county than he had expected as eastern papers claimed that the hot winds and dry weather had killed all crops in this state.

Levi B. Fuller, who for thirteen years had been a resident of this county, living about eighteen miles northwest of this city, died at the home of his son in York, Nebr., last Wednesday morning and was buried at Gresham, Nebr., on September 18. Mr. Fuller was a splendid citizen and a good neighbor and his death will be deeply deplored by his many friends and acquaintances throughout the county. An obituary notice will be published next week.

The president of the meat packers association, at a meeting in Chicago the first of the week, predicted that porter house stake would be selling at $1 a pound within the next ten years, unless the supply of cattle would be increased in the United States. Most of us have trouble to scrape up the twenty-five cents that we pay a pound for it at the present time and if it should go up to a dollar there would be considerably less meat used by the people of this country.

Omaha Bee, Sept. 23: Mike Harrington is going to open a law office in Omaha. This war horse of Nebraska democracy has resided in O'Neill for many years and his family will still remain there, but Mr. Harrington and R. M. Johnson have secured a suite of rooms in the new State bank building. Mr. Johnson, also from O'Neill, and G. F. Harrington, son of M. F., and who graduated in June from the Harvard law school, will reside in Omaha and will have charge of the local office, the firm still retaining offices in O'Neill.

William Evans of Pleasantview township, was a caller at this office this afternoon extending his subscription to The Frontier. He complimented The Frontier very highly, saying it was the best county paper he had ever seen in the state and that it would be impossible for him to keep house without it. Such words of comment are always very pleasing and rouses the force to attempt to get out even a better paper. In the future Mr. Evans said that many of his neighbors had lost their hogs this fall from cholera and that there was danger of having a hog famine in this county, unless the ravages was stopped.

The Midwest Magazine: The "country merchant" has the solution of the mail order evil at his command. If he will advertise his wares proportionately with the mail order house, make as prompt deliveries, cultivate his territory as thoroughly, and "follow up" carefully, he will be all right. The country merchant who is forced out of business by the parcel post and mail order houses comes mighty near indicting himself as a business failure. He can make his local newspapers equal in pulling effort to the mail order catalogues if he will spend more time studying up on the science of advertising and less time in bewailing "modern tendencies."

By patronizing home merchants you are rewarded by always having good enterprising merchants at home. Patronize them and they will benefit you in more ways than one. You are rewarded by seeing your patronage and the patronage of your influence in building up and maintaining your own town; patronize home merchants, home industry and home enterprise of all kinds in preference to those of any place. Spend your money at home with people who have interest in your town. By doing this the town is kept up, property is made more valuable, conveniences are enlarged and opportunities for financial improvements are opened.

Elmer Merriman has disposed of his bottling works to Fred Faulhaber of Page, who takes possession of the business the first of the month. When Mr. Merriman took charge of the business a couple of years ago it was run down and was hardly making expenses. After he took hold of it he purchased a lot of new machinery and built the business up until now it is recognized as one of the most prosperous bottling works in the state. Mr. Faulhaber has purchased the old Taylor property in the northern part of the city and has moved his family here so that his children could have the advantage of O'Neill's splendid schools! The Frontier welcomes him to O'Neill and hopes that he will be as successful in the business as was his immediate predecessor.

All gossipers and tattlers are bad enough, but deliver us from a woman who tattles, one who from envy and jealousy will attempt to blight the fair name of the woman who has been her companion, by making a house to house canvass, telling a tale here and one there, me thinks, I can see the demon now, as she enters the home of the one she desires to injure by unfolding her story, she commences thus, "Oh, I have something to tell you," but you must not repeat it, it was just told me and must surely be true, it is about Mary Doe, or Jane Roe. Mother says it is awful, and that I cannot go with her any more. You can see the evil in this tattler now. She has made the first thrust, stabbed her young friend in the back with the piece of false news, and thus she makes her rounds from place to place, doing all the harm she can. Reflect about this awful habit of talking too much, and shun a tattler as you would a rattle snake.

A colored man and an Indian stole two horses from a colored man named Dixon in Garfield county last Friday and headed this way. Sheriff Grady was not notified of the stealing until the following Monday, when he also had a horse stealing case upon his hands. It appears that the colored man came on through to Atkinson, having traded the horse he stole in Garfield county to a man named Van Housen, living on Holt Creek. The horse he got from the man in the southern part of this county he sold to Fred Hitchcock in Atkinson last Saturday evening and to make his get-a-way he stole a horse belonging to Paul Roth of Atkinson, which was tied to a hitching post in Atkinson that evening. When the sheriff was notified of the theft of Roth's horse he at once got busy with the wires and finally located the nigger at Dallas, S. D., having in his possession the horse he stole at Atkinson and he was at once taken into custody, and Sheriff Grady left for Dallas to get his man this morning. No trace of the Indian has been discovered. An Indian was arrested at Page Monday, but he was not the right party and he was turned loose Tuesday afternoon.

The Live Stock Market

South Omaha, Neb. Sept. 23.—From the Standard Live Stock Commission Co.

The first of this week brought a record breaking run of cattle for this season. Receipts amounting to 14,140 head on Monday but they seemed to "eat them up" just the same. Cornfed beef steady while range beef was generally 10 cents lower. Butcher stock held steady and stockers and feeders were firm with a heavy demand from country buyers.

We quote:
Choice beef.....$8.30@8.25
Common Beef down to..... 7.25
Good Cornfed cows..... 6.75@7.50
Choice butcher grades..... 5.75@7.20
Canners and cutters..... 3.50@5.70
Veal calves..... 6.25@9.75
Bulls, stags etc..... 5.25@7.00
Good to choice feeders..... 6.80@8.25
Common grades down to..... 6.00
Stock heifers..... 4.75@6.50
The market continues to forge ahead slowly although receipts are heavier than a year ago. Bulk $8.05 to $8.10, top $8.50.

A Pipe Dream.

Every once in a while some cheerful individual remarks to me, "Well now that the paper is out I suppose you can take it easy for a few days," says an exchange. Yes, how delightful it is that a country editor has nothing to do between press days. Business runs along automatically. When paper bills come due money drops off the trees with which to pay them. Subscribers vie with each other to see who can pay the farthest in advance. Advertisers beg for additional space. And the way the news hunts up the editor is pleasant to contemplate. When the paper is out the editor goes to his desk, leans back in his easy chair, looks wise and waits till the next week's press day, when the people line up in front of his office and then file past his desk and tell him all the news of the week. He writes it up in fifteen or twenty minutes and hangs it on the hook. The compositor shake the copy over the cases, say a few mystic words, the type flies into place, and after a few passes by the foreman the forms are ready for the press again, and the editor goes down and deposits some more money in the bank. It is the greatest snap in the catalogue. Now if the editor could only do away with press day his joy would be complete.

We Take Great Pleasure in inviting you to call at our store on Tuesday, Sept. 30th

J. P. Gallagher, O'Neill

Commercial Club Meeting.

The regular monthly supper and meeting of the Commercial Club was held at the Golden Hotel last Tuesday evening and was attended by thirty-two members of the club. After the wants of the inner man had been satisfied S. J. Weekes introduced O. P. Chambers of Dallas, S. D., who was present and who made a short talk upon the subject uppermost in the minds of most people in country towns now-days, good roads. Mr. Chambers told of the Scenic Highway they had built through the Rosebud country and said that they had spent a good deal of money in putting the road in good shape, but that they were being paid by the increased number of tourists who were going through that country, which was the best advertising the country could get. He said that the route from Norfolk to O'Neill and then to Spencer to connect with the Scenic route was considerably shorter than the way the route was now laid out and that if the citizens of this city would mark the road from here to Spencer he would see that the route was listed in the guide that they would have on the press in about a month. He highly complimented the citizens of the city on the improved appearance of the city since his first appearance here seven years ago. He said that it was the best city in this section of the state and that traveling men in all parts of the country were speaking about the beauty and grandeur of our new hotel, which he said was doing much to advertise this city. At the conclusion of his remarks he was extended a vote of thanks by the members of the club.

Dr. G. M. Mullen of Creighton was also present and made a few remarks upon good roads and the wonderful growth made by O'Neill in the past few years. He told of the work done by the citizens of Creighton in improving the roads in the vicinity of that city, and said that the money expended had won for that city twenty per cent of the business that had formerly gone to other towns, on account of the poor roads leading into Creighton. Mr. Mullen said that during the past five months he had visited some thirty towns in Northeastern Nebraska and said that without question O'Neill was growing 300 per cent faster than any other town in this section of the state and that its wonderful growth and the substantial improvements made here were being very favorably commented upon by people in different parts of the state.

The Club instructed the committee upon road marking to mark the road to Spencer as soon as possible so that it would be listed in the guide being published by the Scenic Highway Route, as promised by Mr. Chambers. The road committee was also instructed to get busy and have the road leading to Chambers fixed as soon as possible. The road committee, consisting of Ed. F. Gallagher, Dr. J. P. Gilligan and O. F. Biglin, and J. A. Donohoe and D. H. Cronin were appointed a committee to visit the county board at their next meeting and see about the expenditure of the automobile tax that is collected each year for road purposes.

The matter of a Chatauqua for the ensuing year was taken up and the secretary instructed to write the different Chatauqua companies and see if a Chatauqua could not be secured for the ensuing year without putting up a guarantee and to report back to the Club as soon as possible. It was a very good meeting and more members of the Club should make it a point to attend these monthly meetings if we are going to make the Club a power for good in the up-building of our city and county.

Obituary.

Spencer Advocate: The Advocate sadly chronicles the death of Mrs. Frank Heenan which occurred in the Spencer hospital Wednesday, Sept. 17, 1913.

Agnes Heenan, nee London, was born in Holt county, Nebr., Dec. 20, 1833. She moved to Boyd county with her parents in 1890. She was married to Frank Heenan Jan. 13, 1902. Five children were born to this union two of whom are dead. She leaves a husband, three children, Marie, John and Harold, a mother and father, four sisters, Marie, Bridget, Nora and Margaret, five brothers, Michael, Patrick, Richard, John and Martin.

Mrs. Heenan had been ill for several weeks and had undergone a surgical operation. Her recovery seemed so certain, her closest relatives never realizing her dangerous condition when she quietly passed away with only her husband, mother and Mrs. W. F. Kloke present at the time of her death. Other relatives were telephoned the startling news and when all Spencer knew, sincerest sympathy went out to the motherless young children and lonely husband in their sorrow.

Mrs. Heenan was esteemed in the very highest. She was a lovable woman, possessing an amiable disposition, showing most faithfully the true worth of her character in her devotion to her home and family. In the sad taking away of this brave wife and mother takes away a newly born babe which had come to bless their home and may we, as a sympathizing people extend such help and encouragement as we can.

Funeral services was held at the Catholic church last Saturday at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Frank Heenan is a former resident of this place and is well known here. He is a brother of Mrs. Ed. Graham and Mrs. Anthony Murray of this place. Among the people from here who attended the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. A. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Enright, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Harty and Mike Hanigan.—Ed.
